The Toronto lectures are part of a series held throughout the province since the beginning of winter. The series opened in Ottawa. Other towns on the itinerary include Marmora, Sault Ste. Marie, Fort Arthur, Fort William, Kenora, Haileybury, Kapuskasing and Kirkland Lake. The average attendance at the classes last year was 120.

That the lectures bear fruit was demonstrated recently when two prospectors walked into the deputy mine minister's office at Toronto and told how, after attending an earlier course for a week, they had gone out during the recent gold rush in the Sturgeon river district of northern Ontario and staked a number of claims. Then they had come to Toronto and sold their claims for $10,000—which is not bad for a couple of tenderfeet.

The lectures are made as practical as possible; samples of minerals are passed around and the results of chemical tests are shown. Because of the short period of the lectures the department of mines cannot hope to turn out mining engineers, but endeavors to teach some of the rudiments of geology and mineralogy, as well as some of the "don'ts" for tenderfeet in the bush of northern Ontario, where railways are soon left behind and transportation is largely by canoe or airplane.

Esperantists in Drive to Retain Leadership

Paris.—A campaign to counteract the growing popularity of other synthetic languages is being organized here by the headquarters of the International Association of Esperanto.

Special free courses in the language will be offered shortly in many countries of Europe. During two weeks next year a series of lectures will be delivered in the leading capitals of the world for the purpose of explaining the intellectual advantages of Esperanto.

Among international languages which are beginning to rival Esperanto here are Volapuk, Ido, Novial, Perfecto and Basic. The last one, originated by a Cambridge professor, is merely a reduction of English to a minimum vocabulary. It comprises only 850 words, which are supposed to do the work of 20,000 words.

Virgin Forest Will Be Saved in Pennsylvania

Washington.—In acquiring Pennsylvania's Tionesta forest, the government is preserving one of the most famous and interesting remnants of virgin forest in the East as a laboratory for science, according to the American Forestry association.

The 4,000-acre tract, recently approved for purchase by the National Forest Reservation commission, constitutes one-third of the original forest remaining in Pennsylvania, Delaware, New Jersey and Maryland.

It is said to be the largest tract of original forest found between the Adirondacks and the Great Smoky mountains in Tennessee. Tionesta forest is most famous for its magnificent virgin hemlocks. Many of the trees are 500 years old and measure up to four feet in diameter. The forest also boasts what is believed to be the largest sugar maple tree in the United States.

Canadian Legion Will Visit Vimy Battlefield

Toronto, Ont.—If present plans materialize an "army" of 50,000 war veterans will leave from Montreal on June 26, 1935, on a pilgrimage to Vimy Ridge battlefields. Maj. J. P. MacKendrick, secretary of the Ontario branch, Canadian Legion, has announced.

The plan calls for the men to disembark at a French port, travel to Vimy Ridge to attend the unveiling of a Canadian war memorial on July 1, then tour the battlefields. The party will also pay their respects to the king before returning home. The tour will last three and one-half weeks, at an estimated cost of $150 per man.

THE FIRST ORDER

In the House of Representatives at Lansing there has appeared a bill advocating the appropriation of $200,000 to be spent in advertising the state of Michigan in the next year and a half.

The bill as proposed, would help pay the expenses of associations already advertising the state through publicity mediums and has for its purpose a very worthy cause, and one which needs no apologies or explanations.

In a state where in one year 2,348 persons can die of tuberculosis and where experts estimate the number of tuberculosis cases at approximately 20,000, however, it might seem sensible to spend money cleaning up this public health danger before inviting outsiders to expose themselves to it.

There is room for an appropriation from the state, not only for the care and treatment of known tuberculosis persons, but also for the discovery of a more insidious danger—the unknown, hidden, case. At present the volunteer agencies, such as the Michigan Tuberculosis Association which is supported entirely by Christmas Seals, are doing all within their power to carry on this work, but funds are not sufficient for the need. The State Department of Health, too, is doing everything it possibly can within its appropriation, to lessen the number of disease spreaders still unfound.

But more money is needed, and if the state is to extend invitations to the tourists and resort trade on a large scale, it would seem best to put its house in public health order first.

NO NEED FOR WORRY

The United States is still a rich and resourceful country. In spite of depression years we are far from bankrupt as a nation. If you have been concerned about the fast growing debt caused by the huge sums which the government is, and expects to spend for unemployment purposes, then listen to these words of encouragement from a veteran business man whose wisdom deserves confidence: "Don't let thoughts of that debt get you down. I have seen this country come through times fully as difficult as these, though the problems are not the same. We will come through this one. In proportion to our productive capacity, if not in proportion to our population, the present government appears to be no more of a burden than that which confronted a discouraged and crippled nation after the Civil War. There were plenty of people then who said that that debt could never be paid, that the nation was bankrupt. Our resources in men and materials, have never been fully tested. It is still a good slogan to 'Never sell America short'."

Many a present day critic of nudism was probably the first kid during boyhood days to throw off his clothes in full view of the main highway to beat the rest of the gang to the ol' swimmin' hole.

FIGURES SHOW JUMP IN NEW CAR SALES

New passenger car registration recorded in the office of the Secretary of State, show an increase of slightly more than 64% per cent for the first 18 week days of January, 1935, over a similar period for 1934.

The compilation for the 18 days of January, 1934, shows that 5,258 titles for new passenger cars were issued; the total for the similar period in last January was 8,227. The figures afford concrete evidence that automobile factories, working at high gear, with double shifts in some cases, are not mere piling up stock surpluses, but that buyers are making the dealers' cash registers ring with the note that spells benefit for the state as a whole.

SERIES OF BIBLE EXPOSITIONS TO BE GIVEN AT IRONTON

At the house meeting Sunday evening Mr. Pontious announced his intention to give a series of expositions on the plan of salvation as it is revealed in the Bible. One object is to show that the Bible is according to reason and logic.

In the course it will be shown that both sin and holiness is not passive, but exist in the volition; that the fulfilling of the law of God is Love; that love keeps God's law and does not abrogate it; that love for God and intention of evil cannot co-exist in the same heart; that "charity—(love) . . . thinketh (designs) no evil."

The service begins each Sunday evening in Ironton at 7:30 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bennett. The public is welcome.

Each Tuesday evening there is a house meeting at 203 Mason street. Thursday evening the house meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Scott, east of Ironton. Anyone desiring one of these home religious services write Elry Pontious, Charlevoix.

NEW STATE LAW TO AID HOME OWNERS

OPENS WAY FOR NATIONAL HOUSING ACT

Approved State Banks Now Authorized to Make Insured Loans to Local Property Owners

New legislation just approved at Lansing makes the National Housing Act fully effective in Michigan, enabling Charlevoix county for the first time to participate in all its benefits.

Approved state banks will now be authorized to make government-insured loans to property owners on National Housing Act terms to finance realty improvements both in the towns and on the farms and also to make long-term mortgage loans to finance urban homes.

"This legislation removes the last great obstacle to assistance in maintenance and improvement of properties and construction of new homes and farm structures," Raymond M. Foley, state director of the Federal Housing Administration said this week. "There has been a noticeable upturn in construction, improvement, repair and modernization and now that a legal barrier which deprived some from participation has been removed, I look for a further gain in this respect.

Mr. Foley announced the observance of March as Michigan Better Housing Month. Nearly 300 cities, towns and farm communities have been organized to acquaint residents of Michigan with the Better Housing Program and to assist the property-owner in arranging credit where needed for permanent improvements. In many cities house-to-house canvasses are being made. Local committees are urging that definite plans for modernization or entirely new construction be made during March. Two phases of the National Housing Act will be included in the campaign.

"Title I" of the law makes it easier for employed persons to borrow money without security to repair and modernize their present homes and other property. Such repair loans may be for any amount between $100 and $2000, and for 1 to 3 years and sometimes longer.

"Title II" of the law makes it possible for employed persons to borrow money up to a limit of $16,000 on long-term mortgages, to build new homes or to refinance old ones.

In both cases, the money is loaned by banks and financial institutions approved and insured by the government; and by reason of this insurance the terms are the most liberal yet offered in this country in either case.

CONSERVATION DEPT. WEEKLY BULLETIN

A new movie film featuring flowers of Michigan will be added to the Department film loan department next month. It is expected to be available for loan to institutions and organizations by April 1.

Michigan had a population of 31,639 in 1830, according to the census of that date. Wayne county had a population of 6,781.

Two hundred thousand Michigan citizens will be asked to pledge themselves individually to stop useless fires through a campaign planned by the Federated Garden clubs of Michigan, according to Mrs. J. S. Symons of Saginaw, chairman of the organizations' conservation committee.

Public sales of approximately 3,500 acres of reverted tax land in the lower and upper peninsulas of Michigan during February brought a total of $8,413.40 in revenue to the state.

SUNDAY DINNER SUGGESTIONS
By Ann Page

Eggs and butter are again somewhat cheaper but meat prices have stiffened after a temporary easing, though certain cuts offer good value. Green beans, peas and cauliflower are moderately priced.

Good Florida oranges are again available at about the same price, size for size, as navels. Apples, grapefruit and bananas are unchanged in price. Strawberries become more plentiful.

Recent weather has been favorable to salt water fishermen.

STATE SEEKS HUGE PWA PROGRAM HIGHWAY WORK

Road, bridge and grade separation projects estimated to cost $243,916,000 have been recommended by the State Highway Department for inclusion in President Roosevelt's proposed $4,800,000,000 public works program.

This highway program, which was submitted to Dean M. E. Cooley, State Engineer of the PWA, Detroit, extends to all 83 counties and includes improvements on a considerable part of Michigan's 8,855 miles of trunk line roads.

AUTO LICENSE STICKERS WENT ON SALE MONDAY

The secretary of state's office Monday launched its statewide "sticker" rule under which drivers pay half of their license plate cost now and the remainder July 31.

The installment feature is now permanent since the governor signed the Reid bill. However, the limit for driving with old plates is Feb. 28. A new bill in the legislature would cut the limit.

OVER HALF MILLION FISH LICENSES SOLD

Conservation Department Reports New High Record During 1934

More than a half million persons—men and women bought fishing licenses in Michigan during 1934.

Returns received by the License Division, Department of Conservation, from the 1,800 license agents indicate total sales of 523,204. This figure includes the resident and non-resident annual fishing licenses, special non-resident 10-day licenses and the non-resident wife licenses.

It establishes a new high mark for the sale of fishing licenses or hunting licenses in the Department's records. Sales for 1934 were divided as follows:

Resident annual licenses 431,784; none-resident annual licenses 23,973; non-resident 10-day licenses 45,240; non-re-ident wife licenses 22,227; total 523,204.

The License Division has distributed about 650,000 fishing licenses for 1935 and expects sales to surpass those of 1934.

DESIGN HAS ALL THE BEST POINTS OF HOUSE DRESS

PATTERN 9083

Believe it or not, there's a four-point plan of convenience and flattery included in this neatly styled house dress. Let's add them up. First: the bodice may be worn with the contrasting rever, as shown in the larger sketch, or it may button all the way up to a smart point. Second:—the sleeves boast little inverted pleats, jaunty to look at and very comfortable when working. Third: the slenderizing line sweeping down the middle front of the frock ends in another inverted pleat to give the slim skirt adequate fullness. And finally, the patch pockets with their important buttons are both useful and chic!

Pattern 9083 may be ordered only in sizes 34, 36, 38, 40, 42, 44 and 46. Size 36 requires 4 yards 39 inch fabric and ¾ yard contrasting.

SEND FIFTEEN CENTS in coins or stamps (coins preferred) for this pattern. Be sure to write plainly your NAME, ADDRESS, the STYLE NUMBER and SIZE.

Complete, diagrammed sew chart included.

Send your order to Sewing Circle Pattern Department, 232 West Eighteenth Street, New York, N. Y.

TREMENDOUS TRIFLES

By ELMO SCOTT WATSON

SHOT OF DESTINY

IT WAS about as clumsy and unwieldy a weapon as one could imagine—that arquebus which Europeau soldiers carried in the Seventeenth century. But no modern machine gun, rat-a-tat-ting out its swift stream of death, ever affected the course of American history more than an ancient arquebus, away back in 1609.

In that year Samuel de Champlain, founder of Quebec, accompanied a war party of Hurons and Algonquins against their enemies, the Mohawks of the Iroquois Confederacy. They found them on the shores of the beautiful lake which now bears the French explorer's name.

Champlain saw the Mohawks getting ready to shoot their arrows. He leveled his arquebus, which he had loaded with four balls, and aimed straight at one of the three Mohawk chiefs in the forefront of the enemy's line. As the gun roared, two of them dropped dead and the third was seriously wounded. Amazed to see their chiefs killed so quickly, the Iroquois warriors fled.

Champlain could not have realized it then, but his was truly a "shot of destiny." For this was the first contact of the Iroquois with the French and their hatred for these white men dated from that day. It made them allies of the English and in the long struggle between England and France for domination of North America, the aid of such warriors, perhaps the most ferocious on the continent, played a decisive part in favor of Great Britain.

"ON TO RICHMOND!"

EARLY in June, 1861, the editorial column in the New York Tribune declared "THE NATION'S WAR CRY: Forward to Richmond! Forward to Richmond! The Rebel congress must not be allowed to meet there on the 20th of July. By that date the place must be held by the National army."

Composed by Fitz-Henry Warren of the Tribune staff, it was run by order of Charles A. Dana, then managing editor. But, because the "Tribune was Horace Greeley and Horace Greeley was the Tribune," everyone believed that he had originated it.

Day after day it appeared. Soon the whole North had taken up the cry, "On to Richmond!" By the middle of July the government could disregard it no longer.

Gen. Irvin McDowell was ordered to advance with his raw, untrained troops. The result was the battle of Bull Run on July 21 when the Union forces were utterly routed with a loss of nearly 3,000 killed, wounded and missing.

The disaster was a terrible blow to the North. Greeley published a signed statement declaring "the precise phrase 'Forward to Richmond!' is not mine, and I would have preferred not to iterate it." But he was blamed for it, nevertheless. His bitter enemy, James Gordon Bennett of the Herald said that the Tribune editor should be tried for murder because he had sent all those brave young boys to their death. Greeley was so overwhelmed by it all that he was prostrated for six weeks with an attack of brain fever.

Later he rose to heights of editorial influence perhaps never equaled by any other man. But by many Americans he is still remembered as the editor whose slogan precipitated a great disaster to our arms and to our pride.

A LITTLE MORE GRAPE

ON FEBRUARY 23, 1847, Gen. Santa Anna's Mexicans broke through the lines of Gen. Zachary Taylor's American army at Buena Vista and were about to cut off one flank. Then a little battery and a few Kentucky volunteers, commanded by Captains William Tecumseh Sherman and Braxton Bragg, swung into action. For a few precious moments they held up the Mexican advance.

General Taylor, coming on to the field, saw what they were doing. Yanking off his old straw hat which he (the most unmilitary of heroes) wore, he swung it over his head.

"Give 'em h—l, Captain Bragg!" he shouted.

A few hours later Santa Anna's hosts were in retreat. Soon the United States was ringing with the praises of Gen. Zachary Taylor, "The Hero of Buena Vista." The next year the Whigs selected him as their candidate for President. They needed a good slogan for the campaign and his remark to Captain Bragg provided it.

"Elegance" of language was considered very important in that squeamish era. True, Taylor was known as "Old Rough and Ready" to his soldiers, but the Whigs were a bit dubious about the use of "h—l" in their slogan. So the partisan newspapers edited his remark on that historic occasion. They substituted "a little more grape" for that questionable word, meaning that Captain Bragg should blast the Mexican enemy with grape-shot. It was a good slogan. It sent Zachary Taylor to the White House.

WHEN YOU TAKE A LAXATIVE

...use a spoon

It isn't what brand of laxative you take that's so important—it's the form. A liquid laxative can be taken in any required amount. If only a little is needed, you need never take a bit too much.

Doctors favor the easily measured liquid laxatives. Instead of any form that does not encourage variation from the fixed dose. A fixed dose may be an overdose for you—or your child.

Always remember this one thing about constipation: the secret of any real relief is reduced dosage.

Give the bowels only as much help as may be needed, and less help as the need grows less. You will find Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin an excellent aid in regulating the bowels. It contains senna and cascara (natural laxatives) and it will clear-up any bilious, sluggish condition without upset. Delightful taste, and pleasant action. Your druggist has it.

EXPECT BETTER DAYS ON MICHIGAN FARMS

Outlook for More Profitable Business Is Brighter Than for Years

Greater demand for farm products, higher prices for those sold, and a more promising prospect for the present year are some of the encouraging features discussed in the 1935 agricultural outlook for Michigan issued by the economics department of Michigan State College.

Improvement in financial conditions probably contributed most heavily to the increasing use of farm produce, even at the higher prices prevailing. Potato growers, dairymen, and producers of canning cherries had the least share in the betterment of Michigan farm conditions. Increased receipts for produce sold was not an undiluted gain, however, as prices for goods bought also increased.

Some of the uncertainties of returns from crops of corn and wheat crops in Michigan are removed for the farmers who hold crop contracts. The acreage which they have planted or will plant this spring is determined and they will receive benefit payments in addition to the sales prices for their grains. Michigan farmers have a favorable market for soft winter wheat.

Malting barleys are apt to bring a premium as the last crop was short. Maltsters prefer the six row barleys for their purposes. All feed grains were a short crop last year and all available stocks will be cleaned up before harvest.

The last bean crop was only enough for a year's market supply so there should be little carry over. The short crop was caused by drought conditions, however, and large plantings this year will be followed by low prices unless the weather again limits production of beans. Rising prices for ments may lead to an increased use of beans for human food.

Potato growers now face the old situation of low prices for a large crop. Prospects for the 1935 crop are, of course, dependent upon the acreage planted in the whole country. At present, the growers have asked the government to aid them in placing potato production upon a controlled basis. Any regulations adopted for this crop probably will be placed upon the amount of stock marketed and not upon the number of acres of potatoes grown.

Growers of sugar beets are guaranteed parity prices for this year's crop. This will aid Michigan farmers who have a base acreage for beets. Farmers who have never grown beets will not be able to obtain contracts unless former growers refuse to grow enough beets to make up the Michigan allotment.

The future for dairymen appears a little brighter. Prices for dairy products are now improving and storage stocks of milk products are lower than they were one year ago. Feed prices are very high, however, and only first class cows will be able to return a profit.

Poultrymen who have retained their laying flocks should be in a better position than they were in last year. Storage eggs are fewer than for last year, and the numbers of laying hens has been reduced. Demand for baby chicks will probably be better this spring than it was last year.

Unusually large numbers of beef cattle slaughtered last year have reduced the numbers on farms until it appears that prices for beef will be materially higher than in 1934. Normal feed crops next summer will probably lead to competition in buying feeder cattle, and the prices paid for them may be so high as to make the venture very speculative.

Lamb prices probably will be higher, but improvement in the woolen mills will have to occur before prices for wool increase. The numbers of sheep on farms was reduced by removal of sheep from drought areas, and there may be unusual competition for feeder lambs next fall if feed is plentiful.

Owners of brood mares apparently still have an opportunity to make a fair profit for raising good colts. There has been no increase in the numbers of horses on farms although more colts have been raised in the past few years. The decline in the number of old horses has more than offset the greater number of colts.

Export markets for American fruits have remained more constant than for any other class of agricultural products. Production of fruits is increasing, however, and growers of cherries for the canning plants are growing more fruit than the market will consume at a fair price. There appears to be no reason for increasing the acreage of grapes. Benring vineyards will produce a sufficient crop to supply the present market. Two light crops of peaches in Michigan have left the growers hoping for better production this year.

The prospects for a better market for vegetables appear brighter. Stores of canned vegetables have been reduced as a consequent of short crops following the draught. Canneries may offer contracts at higher prices and for larger acreages than last year.

DISTRICT HEALTH UNIT BULLETIN

How to Treat a Contaminated Well

Suppose a sample of your well water is found to be contaminated, what are you to do about it? Here are some suggestions of what you can do if you wish to treat the contaminated well.

During the construction of a well, the materials are contaminated in handling. In many cases thorough pumping of the well will wash out much of all of this pollution within a few days. In other cases it may require weeks and possibly months to to accomplish this result and disinfection of the well may be desirable.

Disinfection usually may be accomplished by pouring into the well a solution obtained by mixing the contents of the 12-ounce can of chlorinated lime (24% available chlorine) with several barrels of water. It is important that this solution reach all parts of the well, particularly the screen. Where the cylinder is located quite deep it may be necessary to remove it to allow the solution to pass and reach the screen. After the solution has remained in the well about thirty minutes, it should be thoroughly pumped out. The amount of water pumped out should be at least twice as much as the volume of solution poured in. The following day a sample of fresh well water should be collected and sent to the State Department of Health for analysis. If this sample and additional samples show safe results the well water may be used. However, if unsafe samples continue it is advisable to request an investigation of the well by a representative of the Michigan Department of Health. (Refer to Bulletin No. 14, State Department of Health.)

But what about wells that have been in use for some time—what is to be done if they are found contaminated? Such wells should be first cleaned by pumping. This simple precaution may result in clearing the water if sufficient water is pumped. Then the water should be resampled. If the water still continues to show contamination, try the method advised above for newly drilled wells or for wells about which recent fixing has been done. If, despite these precautions, there is continued contamination, the only thing that can be done is to disinfect small quantities of the water.

To disinfect one gallon of well water add one teaspoonful of chlorinated lime solution (bleaching powder) and mix thoroughly. A slight taste should be detected. If you do not detect the taste, add a few more drops of the solution until a taste is noticeable. Ten minutes after the solution is applied the water is safe for drinking.

To disinfect a 10-quart bucketful of water, add two and one-half teaspoonfuls of the chlorine solution. However, the method preferred, is the boiling of the water which will render it safe.

Correlative passages to be read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (p.469): "There can be but one Mind, because there is but one God; and if mortals claimed no other Mind and accepted no other, sin would be unknown. BISHOP ACTS SAVE NORTH SANITARIUM

Blocks Repeal of Malt Tax Which Would Provide Funds.

A measure to repeal the malt tax act of 1931, scheduled for approval on general orders in the Michigan senate, has been sidetracked on motion of Senator Otto W Bishop (R) of Alpena.

The original act provided that proceeds from the collection of the malt tax finance erection of a tuberculosis sanitarium in the northern part of the state. The institution didn't materialize. In 1933, the legislature directed the state treasurer to set $250,000 aside, on March 1, 1935, from malt tax collections, for erection of the sanitarium on a site one mile north of Gaylord already chosen by the sanitarium commission and approved by the state department of health.

Senator Bishop pointed out Monday night that, inasmuch as this project was now included in the federal works program as framed for this state, it would be wise to wait and see if all federal plans were carried out. Were anything to slip, the state, with the law repealed which directs the state treasurer to act, would lose its sanitorium altogether. The northern senator favored holding up repeal action until certainty exists as to federal financing for the hospital project.

OF INTEREST TO FARMERS
By B. C. Mellencamp

Fruit Farmers Will Discuss Pruning

All growers of cherries, apples and other tree fruits, will be interested in the announcement, that G. L. Ricks, fruit specialist, and J. C. Kremer, specialist in bees, will hold a very important demonstration at the Eveline Orchards on Friday, February 22nd, at 1:30 o'clock. It will be recalled that the 1933-34 winter season resulted in severe injury to many orchards throughout the county. Last year it was quite impossible to estimate the damage done. Furthermore, it seemed desirable to postpone pruning until another winter had arrived, so that a much more accurate treatment can be given.

At this demonstration, Mr. Ricks will inform the fruit producers of Charlevoix county, the proper way of handling their trees and what might be done to regain their maximum producing ability. All orchardists will be interested in meeting Mr. Kremer, who will discuss the new developments of bees, and more especially, the registration of bees. At the present time, the state is asking bee keepers for a registration in an attempt to raise money to carry on the inspection services. All bee keepers are cordially invited to attend this demonstration, and to have the opportunity of personally discussing some of their bee problems with Mr. Kremer.

Unless there is a reasonable excuse, every farmer interested in fruit, should be present at Eveline Orchards, Friday afternoon February 22nd, at 1:30 o'clock. You cannot afford to neglect the care of your trees, and the matter of pruning is the big problem at this time of the year.

Second Lecture by Mrs. Lydia Ann Lynde Well Attended

The second lecture in the project, "Meeting Your Child's Problems," by Mrs. Lydia Ann Lynde, specialist in child care and training, Michigan State College, attracted a very nice attendance of interested parents. In this lecture, Mrs. Lynde very cleverly discussed the features of the home life and outside contacts that have such an important place, bearing on children's development. Two lectures were given, the first in the Boyne Falls Community Rooms in the afternoon of February 13th, and the other in the Charlevoix high school assembly room the same evening. An attendance of over 80 greatly enjoyed the interesting talk by Mrs. Lynde.

The third and last lecture in this series, will be given on Tuesday, March 12th, at the same locations as the first two. There is no doubt that folks leave these meetings with a much clearer conception of the responsibilities of being parents, and the fact that every day problems that present themselves are not serious, if one will stop to analyze the causes and then take the proper steps in bringing about resolution. This series of lectures has very nicely summarized some of the very common mistakes that are made by parents, and the response shown by the average child. It is hoped that a larger attendance will hear the third lecture which will be even more interesting than the first two.

Plans Made for Continuing the Top O'Michigan Apple and Potato Show

Judging from the interest shown by those in attendance, the success of the 12th Annual Top O'Michigan Potato, Apple and Seed Show has been assured. The meeting was largely devoted to a discussion of what can be done to enlarge the show, and to attract the attention of other interests in this territory, outside of potatoes, fruit and seed. Election of officers resulted in re-election of D. D. Tibbits, Boyne City, as president; Chas. Hegrom, Alpena, vice-president, A. W. Gidden, Gaylord, secretary; N. E. Glasser, Gaylord, treasurer, and the election of B. C. Mellencamp, Boyne City, as business manager.

As added features, it is planned to have a district dramatics contest held in connection with the 1935 show. At the present time, the Michigan State College has a new department devoted to the development of one-act plays suitable for community groups throughout the state. In our show area, it was felt that the county granges and farmers clubs groups would be greatly interested in having their local county elimination contest with the district finals held in connection with the show, and the winner to compete at the state contest held in connection with Farmers' Week. Also, plans are being made to have exhibits representing the field of activity covered by the Home Economics program throughout northern Michigan. There are a large number of different projects now being carried on in the different counties on household furnishings, home management, nutrition and clothing. An exhibit representing the activity in these various projects certainly would be worthwhile, and add a lot to the enjoyment of the district show. Additional publicity will be given as soon as more definite plans can be announced.

DISTRICT HEALTH UNIT BULLETIN

Health Education Essential Today to Protect Mother and Babe of Tomorrow

The progress in modern obstetric knowledge is steadily advancing, together with the gradual improvement in feminine physique. Yet the challenge of the medical profession is that the United States has too high a maternal mortality rate and the general question is what can be done to reduce it.

The modern community is well supplied with skilled physicians, dentists, nurses and teachers. Its hospitals and social services are usually ample. Yet many mothers and prospective mothers are without adequate health education and supervision when they are well; often they cannot command expert medical nursing, but when they are sick, Dr. R. A. Bolt in a recent issue of "Hygeia" stressed the following points to protect the welfare of the young mother and child:

1. The selection, early in pregnancy, of a capable physician who has good judgment and obstetric skill.

2. The cooperation of both parent with the physician in every step of the process.

3. Early, systematic, prenatal care continued throughout the entire expectant period, in which a well trained public health nurse can play a large part.

4. Careful hygiene of pregnancy under the direction of a physician and nurse.

5. Special attention to the nutritional aspect of pregnancy.

6. The best possible care for the new born baby and periodic attention throughout infancy by a capable physician.

7. Prevention of the acute communicable diseases through immunization when possible.

In District Health Unit No. 3, composed of the counties of Antrim, Charlevoix, Emmet and Otsego, there was a total of seven maternal deaths during 1934. This number compares with six in 1929; ten in 1930; four in 1931; eight in 1932 and seven in 1933.

Following are a list of causes resulting in these puerperal deaths in 1934:

Puerperal septicemia 3; puerperal hemorrhage 1; puerperal albuminuria 1; other toxemias of pregnancy 1; other accidents of childbirth 1.

The District Health Department are especially interested in reducing the maternal mortality rate in this area. Some of the maternal deaths undoubtedly could have been prevented had the mother consulted her physician periodically. Through the U. S. Children's Bureau, a survey of 7,537 maternal deaths was made. It was discovered 54 per cent of this vast number had no examination by a physician. Such fatal figures indicate the importance of medical prenatal care with a physician's advice and guidance throughout the expectant period in order that we might make this a safer world for mothers and babies.

LEGION ACTIVITIES
By F. V. Tyler

At the regular meeting, Tuesday evening, plans for the combined 4th of July celebration and Charlevoix homecoming were discussed and considerable progress was made. The committee in charge of the affair for the Legion was appointed by Commander Goss at a previous meeting and consist of Fenton R. Bulow, chairman, Shirley B. Henry, Neal Kemp, Clyde Hamlin and Ray Hamilton. The committee will meet again this week to line up a program which shortly thereafter will be submitted to committees from the Association of Commerce and the city council. The dates for the celebration are still under discussion, some favoring Wednesday, Thursday and Friday and others Thursday (the 4th), Friday and Saturday.

Membership in the post for 1935 has now reached sixty-two, "Capt." Clarde Hamlin now has the edge over "Capt." Charles Martin, but there is no telling yet how the battle of the "Charleys" will finally turn out, as they have a week to go. There will be no post meeting next Tuesday night, but Wednesday night the losing side in the membership contest will put on a "feed."

The post is bailing for another Legion minstrel show, to be held some four or five weeks from now, at a date yet undetermined. This affair will be under the able direction of Harker W. Kirby and will present a new feature—amateur night. The Legion committee for the minstrel show consists of Charles Hamlin, chairman, Oscar P. North and S. B. Carey.

FRESHMAN COLLEGE WINS FROM HARBOR SPRINGS "3"

Charlevoix Freshman College basketball team defeated the Harbor Springs College team on the latter's court Wednesday evening by a 44 to 20 count.

Potter scored 18, W. Kirby 19, Auce 9 and T. Kirby 5 for the local team. Hill and Taylor refereed the contest.

The two teams will meet again on the local court next Wednesday evening.

ASSN. OF COMMERCE ACTIVITIES
By F. V. Tyler

Now that the windows in the information bureau have been washed, the secretary has a fresh outlook on life that should be a beneficial influence on the quality, if not the quantity of this column!

Efforts are being made by the Association to secure Abner E. Larned, state director of the National Emergency Council, as chief speaker at a banquet to be held here on the evening of Thursday, February 28th. The affair will probably be held at the Odd Fellow hall, as negotiations with the Rebekahs for the supper are now in progress. Mr. Larned has been asked to speak on the subject of national recovery, with especial application to the field of community planning and rehabilitation. Mr. Larned is a nationally known personage and highly qualified to talk with authority on this matter.

President Winder has appointed a committee of three, consisting of J. M. Foster, chairman, L. P. Adams and M. A. Levinson to represent the Association for the Fourth of July celebration and Charlevoix homecoming and to confer with the Legion and council committees. It is this committee that will have charge of the important task of raising necessary funds.

A membership drive is planned for the near future and will probably take the form of a contest between the three wards of the city, the losing ward to put on a potluck dinner for the winners.

CHARLEVOIX WINS EAST JORDAN TILT

COMPLETE SEASON WITH A 14 TO 12 VICTORY

Clinch Tip of Michigan Class C Conference Title—Win Eleven of Fourteen Games Played

Concluding their pre-tournament schedule with a 14 to 12 victory over East Jordan here last Friday night, Charlevoix high school basketeers clinched the Tip of Michigan class C conference title for the second consecutive year and subsequently enter the district tournament here Thursday the class C favorite.

The Kipmen barely nosed out East Jordan. They were forced into an overtime period after trailing most of the game. Foster's deuce in the extra session proved the winning count and relieved a situation which was quite unforeseen and decidedly unpopular with a crowded house.

Charlevoix's reserves opened the contest. They were out-scored 6 to 4 in the first period. The regulars went in the second quarter. No scores were made on either side and at the half the count still stood 6 and 4. Pearl's deuce and Carey's free toss gave Charlevoix 3 points, but Quinn's goal kept East Jordan in the lead 8 and 7 in the third period. Charlevoix stepped out in front in the fourth, only to have Jordan tie the count 12-all just as the final whistle sounded.

Two features were outstanding in the contest. They were Charlevoix's fnihure to count from the foul line and Jordan's close following of the ball and tight defense. The visitors blocked the Kipmen's usual fast-breaking plays and hurried them on every shot. Charlevoix made one out of ten gift shots, while East Jordan registered 3 out of 9.

Charlevoix's reserves won the preliminary handily, scoring a 21 to 11 victory.

Team Has Good Record

Friday night's win gave Charlevoix 11 victories in fourteen games, one of the best records in recent years. The team, probably the best balanced Coach Kipke has turned out, showed their caliber at the very beginning of the season. They won their first four games, then dropped two, the first to Grand Rapids Union and the second to Petoskey, the Big Six champions, whom they had previously defeated. Harbor Springs was the only class C team to win over the Kipmen. They scored a 15 to 7 victory on their home court, but Charlevoix evened the count later by nosing out a 22 to 20 overtime victory here.

Following is the season's record:

Charlevoix 21, Pellston 18.
Charlevoix 19, Ellsworth 11.
Charlevoix 20, Traverse 18.
Charlevoix 23, Petoskey 15.
Charlevoix 16, G. R. Union 26
Charlevoix 12, Petoskey, 18.
Charlevoix 20, Boyne City 9
Charlevoix 7, Harbor 15.
Charlevoix 31, Traverse 19.
Charlevoix 33, Mancelona 23.
Charlevoix 23, Boyne City 10.
Charlevoix 14, East Jordan 8.
Charlevoix 22, Harbor 20—overtime.
Charlevoix 14, East Jordan 12—overtime.

The O. E. S. will hold a bridge party on Friday, March 8th, at 8:00 p. m. Everyone invited.—Adv. 9t1.

WEEKLY WEATHER REVIEW

This region sampled a touch of real winter weather Monday following two days of fairly mild temperature. A heavy snowfall, driven by a strong northeast wind and accompanied by near-zero temperature, threatened to block highways and did cause train cancellation north of Traverse City for the first time this winter. The past week saw two touches of sub-zero weather. Last Friday the mercury dipped to 5 below and Tuesday evening to one below. Days, however, have been for the most part bright.

Following are the high and low temperature readings from February 20 to 26, inclusive, furnished by courtesy of the U. S. Coast Guard Station:

NORTHERN MICHIGAN GETS INTO PICTURES

Detzer Film to Be Shown This Week at Traverse City

Northern Michigan will make its first bow in motion pictures on the night of Wednesday, February 27th, when "Car 99," a film based entirely on the activities of Michigan state police, has its world premiere showing at the Lyric Theater in Traverse City, starting with a midnight performance. The picture will be shown on Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

Karl Detzer, Leelanau county writer, is author of "Car 99" which is the film version of a series of Michigan state police stories Mr. Detzer wrote for The Saturday Evening Post. The action is laid in this part of Michigan and the names of the communities involved are kept in the picture.

Officers of the state police and as many troopers as can be spared from the various posts, will concentrate on Traverse City for the opening performance, to see how they look in movies.

PROGRAM OF HOME COMING OUTLINED

ATTRACTIVE LIST OF EVENTS ARE BEING PLANNED

Dates of Celebration Have Been Tentatively Set for July 4th, 5th, 6th and 7th

(By F. V. Tyler)

At a joint meeting of the Homecoming committees from the American Legion, City Council and Association of Commerce held Monday evening, the tentative dates for the Charlevoix County Homecoming Celebration was set for July 4th, 5th and 6th.

This action was taken in order that former residents of Charlevoix could be informed in time for them to plan their vacations so that they will be able to be present for the big event.

A general outline of the celebration was approved by the City Council as outlined by the committees and much enthusiasm and cooperation is already being shown in what is expected to be the biggest affair of its kind ever staged in Charlevoix county.

According to the present outline Wednesday, July 3rd, will be registration day with band concerts in the afternoon and evening. The real celebration, however, will start off with a bang, literally speaking, the morning of the Fourth and will continue through Friday with a huge ox roast Saturday in the downtown district.

In addition to the foregoing efforts will be made by the local post of the American Legion to entertain the District Legion Convention here on Sunday, July 7th, with, if possible, a spectacular exhibition of some of the best Drum and Bugle Corps in northern Michigan.

Another feature of the celebration now being worked out is a bathing beauty contest with the winner being decided by popular vote over a period of sixty days prior to the celebration. Votes to be obtained from local merchants with purchases and possibly by membership subscription to a "Miss Liberty League," the money so raised from the sale of the votes to merchants and members, to be used to defray expenses of the forthcoming celebration.

Meanwhile the public is requested to cooperate in making the Homecoming a success by urging their friends and relatives living in other cities to plan on coming to Charlevoix for the occasion.

MOTHER AND DAUGHTER BANQUET IS ANNOUNCED

Announcement has been made that the annual Mother and Daughter banquet will be held in the Methodist church parlors some time in March. The date and further details will be announced later.

NOTICE!

To the Citizens of the 2nd Ward:

As a long-time resident of this city I will appreciate your support of my candidacy for alderman on the Republican ticket on a basis of experience and familiarity with the needs and best interests of Charlevoix.

In the past I have had the privilege of serving several terms on the council, board of supervisors, park commission, and president of the Association of Commerce four years. I have always taken an active part in the civic affairs of our city.

If elected I will do my best to promote the civic welfare of the city at all times.

SPRING PRIMARY ELECTION MONDAY

WILL CLIMAX UNUSUALLY QUIET CAMPAIGN

Republicans Seek Nomination for Mayor and Alderman of the Three City Wards

The annual city spring primary election next Monday, March 4th, will bring to a climax one of the quietest campaigns in the history of this city.

While a moralty contest exists along with contests for alderman in each of the three city wards, campaigning has been under cover and entirely free from tactics prevalent the past two or three years. In fact, outside of activities of the candidates themselves, there has been little to indicate the close approach of an election.

Inasmuch as contests are among those seeking the Republican nomination, only the names of candidates of that party will appear on the ballot and only in cases where there is opposition for the office. Thus the ticket will be headed by the mayoralty contest between Ernest J. Kihbe and Leonard P. Adams. The names of Ray S. Hamilton for city clerk, Robert E. Rife for city treasurer and H. R. Fowler for justice of the peace, do not appear on the ballot.

The first ward has a contest for alderman between Dan Campbell and Carl Erber. In the second ward Fred E. Cartier and Shirley B. Henrey are opponents and in the third, Thomas Leo Carey, the incumbent alderman, is opposed by Harry F. Hooker, who formerly served as alderman from that ward.

Following is the line-up as it will appear on the ballot:

City Ticket

For Mayor—Ernest J. Kihbe, Leonard P. Adams.

First Ward

For Alderman—P. D. Campbell, Karl Erber.

Second Ward

MASONS WINNERS IN CRIBBAGE CONTEST

Erased Previous Odd Fellow Margin to Win Monday Night

The annual Masonic-Odd Fellow cribbage contest came to a close Monday evening and, contrary to expectations following the seventh and semi-final session, the Masons are the winners.

Trailing by a margin of 434 points, the largest since the series opened eight weeks ago, the Masons Monday night scored 15,649 to 15,465 for the Odd Fellows, giving them a lead of 50 points to close the series. Ivan Holmes tallied 967, one less than a perfect score, for the winners, while Joe Williams with 936 was high Odd Fellow.

As a result of their victory Monday night, the Masons win the "rubber" series and, in addition, take things easy while the Odd Fellows put up a "feed" for them in accordance with the usual custom.

ANNUAL BANQUET DREW BIG CROWD

NEARLY 200 AT FATHER AND SON AFFAIR

Excellent Program Featured by Interesting Address of Dr. F. H. Clapp of Traverse City

The annual Father and Son banquet, held last Wednesday evening at the Methodist church, will go down on the records as the most successful in history. The largest crowd in recent years was in attendance. Slightly less than two hundred tickets were sold and only two or three purchasing tickets failed to attend.

Much credit is due Mrs. Frank F. Bird and Mrs. Clarence Withers, who had charge of the ticket sales. A complete record of purchasers was kept for future reference. By careful arrangement of tables and seating there was sufficient room. No table seated more than the number for which it was originally planned.

Following words of grace by Rev. G. R. Parker, assembly singing was led by Rev. W. W. Hurd during serving. Old college and glee songs were sung from printed sheets at each plate.

Following the banquet Rev. Hurd introduced the toastmaster, Dr. C. J. Winder, who filled the position with ability and mirth. Warren Shapton's toast "To Our Fathers," expressed gratitude for the sacrifices made by fathers of today that their sons might perhaps have better advantages than they had enjoyed. Dr. R. B. Armstrong in a toast "To Our Sons" held up high ideals for the boys on morality, industry and discipline. He spoke with vigor and clearness.

Rev. F. H. Clapp, D. D., now a pastor in Traverse City, gave the last address on the program. His lecture was well named "Apple Sauce." Starting with a clever story about the many and devious meanings of that popular term, he followed with what was really a travelogue told with much wit and humorous descriptions. He described his boat trip on the Mediterranian Sea, his entrance into Egypt, the peculiar manners and customs of the people and finally his visit to the great pyramids and the sphinx nearby. He held his audience intent to the last, closing with a fine moral and religious application.

The Methodist church appreciates the loan of tables from the Congregational church, also the cooperation and assistance of Supt. O. P. North, who was responsible for selection of the boy speaker.

THURSDAY IS DEADLINE 1934 LICENSE

Half-Year Stickers On Sale at Branch Office Here

February 28th, at midnight, is the dead-line for the use of 1934 license plates. The 1935 half-year stickers, as were used last year, are now on sale in the branch office of the Secretary of State.

The sheriff's office reports that there will not be any further extension of time, unless so granted by the state, and all persons found using their cars or trucks, after March 1st without displaying their 1935 half-year sticker or full year's license plates will be liable to arrest. However, permission will be granted to any motorist to drive his vehicle to the branch office for his plates or sticker provided they have the title, etc., with them, and they must display their plates or sticker in plain view before leaving the branch office.

Is your operator's chauffeur's license up to date? It may be called for if you are stopped. Either of these violations bring the motorist under the terms of the Michigan Financial Responsibility Law, which proves very expensive.

COUNTY CONVENTION THURSDAY AT BOYNE CITY

William J. Pearson Endorsed for Appointment to Conservation Commission—12 Delegates Elected

Endorsing William J. Pearson for appointment to the State Conservation Commission and taking a slap at Democratic governmental activities generally, Republicans of Charlevoix county held their spring convention at the gymnasium in Boyne City last Thursday evening.

The endorsement of Pearson and flaying of the Democratic regime were contained in the resolutions adopted by the convention as follows:

"We, the delegates to the Charlevoix county Republican convention, in convention assembled, do hereby pledge our unqualified support to the Republican party, believing it to be established upon principles of democracy, which have made our nation outstanding in the world.

"We deplore the efforts of those misguided fanatics, who through extreme socialism and even communism, are endeavoring to destroy the basic principles upon which this government is founded.

We view with alarm the attitude of the administration at Washington in its apparent disregard of the spirit of the Constitution and pray that the day may speedily arrive when only those ideals in government will prevail that stand for liberty and justice for all; and that the Constitution upon which this nation was founded creating the cradle of American liberty be restored as a Rule and Guide for our future welfare.

"We pray that our distinguished Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg be successful in his efforts to take the profits out of war. We are elated to learn he is favorably considered as our candidate for President in 1936.

"We believe through the leadership of our Governor Frank D. Fitzgerald our State will continue to lead as an outstanding Republican State of the Nation.

"We are greatly pleased that our newly elected Senator of the 29th District, Otto Bishop, has established himself as an outstanding leader in the senate, and is especially in high favor with the present administration at Lansing. We are confident the 29th District will profit greatly during his incumbency.

"We congratulate our Representative Douglas D. Tibbits on being appointed on three very important committees, and look for continued excellent service for his Representative District.

"We unanimously and heartily endorse the candidacy of Senator William J. Pearson for appointment as a member of the State Conservation Commission.

"We appreciate the work of our own County Committee, and believe with the unselfish support of the Republicans of this county, that Charlevoix county will lead the state in keeping Michigan Republican."

Twelve delegates, each entitled to one-half vote, were elected to attend the Republican state convention at Detroit on March 1st, as follows:

You Wouldn't Go Out In A Boat If You Knew It Wasn't Safe?

Of course you wouldn't, unless you are one of those few people who take a chance on a great danger occasionally. Yet how often do you drive your car about town, out into the country or even the length of the state on a long trip, with never a look at your tires. All this time perhaps your tires are in a condition that renders your car unsafe to ride in; for a worn spot, a crack and a weak wall in your casing may result in a sudden blow-out when you are travelling over the road at a high rate of speed. And every motorist knows the danger of a sudden blow-out when travelling at a high rate of speed. The danger is equally as great when a blow-out occurs on the road as it is if you were out in a boat that wasn't safe to ride in.

FIRESTONE'S enviable reputation for building tires of the best quality stands solidly behind every tire that is sold. With full realization of that FIRESTONE builds the best so that when you ride on FIRESTONE tires you are assured of riding on tires which the best of materials and workmanship have been used to construct.

See the FIRESTONE dealer listed below. He is equipped to serve you with from one to a complete set of tires and tubes and you'll find him a courteous dealer anxious to render service that will result in your complete satisfaction.

Mr. Ohman's people moved to Central Lake last fall to the Carpenter house across the railroad track.

Compliments and "orchids" for Com. Wm. C. Palmer for being the lone candidate for commissioner of Charlevoix county. Mr. Palmer is a hustler and keeps up to date as has been attested by many meetings of educational leaders that he has asked us to accompany him to. We opine that some day Mr. Palmer may be on the job as state superintendent of public instruction. Here's hoping.

Prints Gay With Color Now Arrive

By CHERIE NICHOLAS

PLAYING the game of fashion, the next move is to acquire a bright simple daytime wearable frock which has the freshness of the new season in its looks, to wear under your fur coat during lingering snows and departing wintry chill. Later this gay little gown will companion admirably with a chic light wool topcoat in role of a smart springtime ensemble.

If it is your custom to buy ready-mades a casual saunter through leading dress departments will be your budget's undoing, for the new between-season's dresses are not to be resisted. A most exciting feature about the early spring arrivals in the shops is the abundance of frilly ornate neckwear which lends a delightfully feminine air to the new modes.

The woman who likes the fun of making her own simple daytime frocks will find inspiration-plus in the spring fabric displays which in their gay colorings have turned winter into spring within store walls. Walking through the aisles and aisles of fascinating, joyous-looking prints and the rows and rows of voguish linens that flaunt their vivid pensant colorings before enchanted eyes, and the novelty cottons which were never more lovel, no matter how conservative you may have been up to this season in matter of colors and patternings you will throw discretion to the winds and indulge to your heart's content in the giddiest, prettiest, most flattering materials you have known for this many a day.

As to the new prints the arrival of the first robin in your garden is no surer sign of spring than is their appearance on the style horizon. You will be delighted, if bewildered, by the surprising variety of colorful materials that are just as practical as they are good looking.

The three frocks shown here illustrate but a fraction of the perfectly beautiful washable prints that are in good taste now for wear under a coat and for later on when no coat is necessary. These attractive dresses are made up in rayon chalis crepe, in the brightest of contrast colors.

For evenings or office wear or for resort wear with light accessories, the tailored frock to the left, of print in a spaced conventional dot design with its ascot type scarf and cuffs of self-fabric, is both smart and practical. There are no fussy details or tricky places that your iron cannot reach in a hurry, and you probably know that you can wash and iron these chalis crepe frocks with no more special care than fine cottons.

The frock with the two-tone tie will carry you through a day that includes shopping, luncheon, matinee and tea. The lines are becomingly simple, the better to accentuate the beauty of the design of colorful leaves against a dark background. It is easy even for the amateur to work with this crepe it stays so accurately in place as you cut out the pattern, with no frayed or curled up edges as you baste it together.

The print that fashions the dress on the seated figure is stunning. Solid black dots together with white dots that are cross-lined with fine red and black lines stand out boldly against a bright red background. The button fastening and the touch of knife pleating are important style details. As you see from the smart models pictured, you do not have to sacrifice any style points this spring when you look for washable dresses.

TAFFETA TUNIC

By CHERIE NICHOLAS

Taffeta silk for tunic, for blouse, for the frock entire, for trimming touches is the great line and cry for spring. The knee-length tunic-blouse pictured is of printed taffeta in exotic coloring. The skirt is black crepe and the accessories are black, introducing white stitchings on shoes and bag. The hat is a very modish sailor of shiny black straw.

NEW STYLES SHOW GREEK INFLUENCE

The Greek influence on current styles has spread so that now it is to be seen in furniture and clothes as well as in the lines of the feminine figure. The popularity of the flat Greek rear profile has made the figure ideal of the Greeks an established vogue.

The influence of this Greek ideal is to be seen in Matnbocher's recent introduction of a gown modeled on the robes worn by ancient Greek dancers. This flimsy, graceful garment heralds a turn from the "important" gown, with its stiff formality, to the softness of net and tulle. Its straight skirt is short in front and to the ground in back. There is a garland of fruit or flowers around the waist. Very authentically Greek. And very revealing of the state of one's figure. Hips must be slender, small breasts uplifted in youthful silhouette. The flat Greek rear profile was never more important than to this new and slinky molded style.

To complete the picture, a great vogue for classical Greek furniture is predicted for this spring.

New Fur-Lined Slippers Slender as Satin Pumps

The fur-lined slipper is probably one of the greatest joys the modern woman has ever known. And because it is fur-lined, doesn't mean that it is bulky or clumsy looking. Not at all. It is as sleek and slender as the sheerest satin pump or sandal, but the sole of the foot is protected against cold pavements by a thin, but warm, layer of rabbit or sheepskin, fuzzy side footward.

The strapless brassiere is another boon to smart women. For evening it has certainly become an indispensable item in the society woman's wardrobe. Because of its clever construction of the sheerest and most clinging fabric, it stays perfectly in place without the bothersome need of straps over the shoulders.

The "liquid test"

...It ENDS bowel worries for many people

This is a test that tells you whether the system needs a cathartic change. If you have constant sluggish spells or bilious attacks, and laxatives seem to make things worse, it would be wise to try this:

Stop all use of any laxative that does not encourage variation from a "fixed dose" (which may be entirely too large a dose for your individual need). Use instead, a liquid laxative that you can measure and regulate as to dose. As necessary to repeat, take smaller doses, less and less often, until the bowels are moving without any help at all.

Doctors use liquid laxatives, and a properly prepared liquid laxative, containing natural laxative agents like senna and cascara is a joy and a comfort; a real help in establishing regularity. Ask your doctor about this! (Doctors use liquid laxatives.) You can get Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, which is a most dependable liquid laxative, at any drug store.

PROPOSED BILL HURT FARMERS

WOULD LIMIT OUTLET FOR FRUIT AND PRODUCE

Farm Organizations Join to Block Plan Imposing Heavy License for Produce Buyers

Farmers in the Charlevoix area stand to sustain substantial losses in income through a reduction in crop prices, if a bill now being framed at Lansing is adopted by the Legislature, agricultural leaders predict.

The bill under consideration is one requiring an annual $25 license fee (plus a $5 additional charge for each truck) of any person buying fresh fruits and vegetables for resale. The bill carries an alternative of compulsory inspection at a cost of $1 to $3 a load for those not having a license.

If the proposed legislation is passed, those opposing it forecast a serious reduction in buyer competition, a direct result of which would be lower produce prices.

Independent farmers and representatives of the Benton Harbor municipal market clashed with commission men, carlot shippers, and the heads of certain exchanges over the bill at a meeting in Lansing recently.

Opponents of the bill declared that any legislation is bad which makes it more difficult for produce buyers to trade in Michigan than some other state. Such legislation, they pointed out, would put the farmer under the control of a few large buyers, and would eliminate the small out-of-state buyers or trucker who purchases a tremendous volume of fruits and vegetables at certain times of the year. They argued that Michigan should encourage outsiders to buy Michigan produce instead of proposing tariff barriers.

A similar law adopted in 1933 was made inoperative through an injunction financed by the Benton Harbor market. The law soon after was repealed through the efforts of the market's representatives, the State Grange, the State Farm Bureau, and Farm Union officials.

BARNARD LEAGUERS PRESENT PROGRAM

Debate and Other Features Enjoyed Sunday Evening

A special program held Sunday evening by the Barnard Epworth League drew a large attendance in addition to about twenty-five Leaguers from Central Lake.

The program consisted of a devotional led by Rev. Isaac Scherpenisse and the following numbers:

Declamations, "Acres of Diamonds" by Leslie Shapton, and "Mother of Lincoln" by Evelyn Shapton; duet by the Louiselle brothers of Torch Lake with Spanish guitar accompaniment.

A debate was held on the question, "Resolved that no racial group should be denied equal privileges and opportunities." The affirmative team was composed of Dorothy Smith, Wm. Bass and Dixon Warner. Presenting the negative side were Wesley Manley, Lee Shapton and William Parsons. The points of argument were well brought out and the discussion resulted in a decision for the affirmative side. The judges were three visitors present at the program.

The evening was a very enjoyable as well as instructional one for the seventy-five persons present.

If you have tried "everything" and your cough or sore throat still hangs on, do not think you can't get relief. What you need is Thoxine, a real prescription medicine. It does two essential things: First, it relieves throat irritation and your cough stops. Second, it attacks the internal cause of trouble, drives cold and fever out of the system.

This two-way action makes Thoxine quicker and surer and explains its truly phenomenal success. All you do is take a big swallow and in 15 minutes you feel relief or get your money back. Safe, pleasant. No harmful drugs. Only 35c. Central Drug Store and all other good drug stores.

MICHIGAN OUTLOOK BULLETIN AVAILABLE

The 1935 Michigan Agricultural bulletin is now available and can be secured upon request from the office of County Agricultural Agent B. C. Mellencamp. The bulletin touches on domestic and foreign demand, agricultural credit, prices of commodities and services used in agricultural production—farm labor, equipment and fertilizer—and the outlook for Michigan crops and livestock.

It is becoming more necessary each year that farmers make a real study of their business and plan their farming operations with care. The outlook bulletin should be of material help in this connection.

Classy Horn Grilles of Dodge

"My!" said the observant lady, pointing at the chromium-trimmed grilles below the head lamps of the new Dodge—"what a cute way of having the parking lamps!"

But the lady was wrong. Those grilles, so adroitly located that they just "belong" there, serve a different purpose. Behind them are the places for mounting signal horns.

As the attendant put it—"it's one of those three-birds-with-one-stone ideas. It takes the horn from under the hood where it clutters up the engine and wastes part of its loudness; it places the signal where it belongs, out in front; and it afforded the body designers an opportunity to do, at one stroke, something useful and ornamental.

"So, ladies and gentlemen, those louver affairs of the new Dodge are the horn grilles!"

APPOINT TRAFFIC ENGINEER TO PLAN SAFETY

Safeguard of Motorists Aim of New Move by Highway Department

To promote safer driving conditions on the trunk line highway system, which totals approximately 9,000 miles of road, an acting traffic engineer in the State Highway Department was named today by Commissioner Murray D. Van Wagoner.

E. E. Hefron, formerly assistant maintenance engineer, and Lloyd B. Reid, formerly assessment district engineer, is taking over the duties of assistant maintenance engineer. The Department will no longer have an assessment district engineer, since the work in this office has been gradually diminishing.

"With the increasing speed and volume of present day traffic and the resulting growth of accidents and fatalities on the highways," said Commissioner Van Wagoner, "I feel it is of utmost importance for the State Highway Department to take further precautions to safeguard motorists.

"The duties of the acting traffic engineer will be to deal with the problems of safety, traffic signs and signals and other similar measures. As assistant maintenance engineer, Mr. Hefron devoted a considerable part of his time to traffic matters."

THEY'RE SAFE—IN AN ALL-STEEL BODY

—a feature of the big, rugged New-Value Dodge

THE first Dodge car ever built had an all-steel body. It wasn't chance . . . it wasn't "climbing on a bandwagon" that led Dodge to the safety of the all-steel body. It was progressive engineering, the urge to pioneer, to lead and not follow in vital, important automobile improvements.

These Dodge bodies have been tested and proved by owners for over 20 years, everywhere, in constant daily use. Dodge not only pioneered the all-steel body but has constantly perfected it over the years.

So, too, with hydraulic brakes. First introduced by Dodge many years ago, Dodge has constantly developed them. Today, Dodge gives you hydraulic brakes that are long past the experimental stage. For in Dodge you get perfected, dual-cylinder hydraulic brakes—safer, more dependable, more economical than other types.

Now Dodge pioneers again the "Aerglide Ride", in which you speed smoothly along with new comfort, skimming over humps without a tremor or jar, taking the curves safely, without sideway. Another new contribution to motoring ease is "Synchromatic Control", which makes driving unbelievably easy and effortless.

You'll recognize this Dodge as a prize beauty the minute you see it. But you must drive it to see how far ahead of others it is in power and speed, comfort and economy, safety and performance.

During the past several months members of the Charles Dickens Club have been making an extensive study of Latin America. This outline of study entitled "Wings Over South America," has taken the form of a mythical air tour of this great continent.

The meeting was called to order by Mrs. Mildred Webster, president of the Charles Dickens Club. After repeating together the "Collect for Club Women," Mrs. Alta Magor, as leader, presented in a most interesting and charming manner, the music of the various South American countries.

Social Problem

"What are you going to do about Rattlesnake Pete?"

"He's one of Gulch's social problems," answered Cactus Joe. "He has robbed so many banks successfully that we don't know whether to classify him as a racketeer or a malefactor of great wealth."

May Yet Find "Missing Link" in Congo Forests

How would you like to meet an ape with red hair? There is a tradition that such an animal exists in the forests of the Congo, and that it is larger and stronger than the gorilla, but also in some respects more like men. It stands erect and walks like a man—not only occasionally, but always—and its intelligence is nearer to man's than the ape's.

Before we dismiss this story of the red-haired ape as a fantasy we must remember that a great part of the Congo forest is still unknown and unexplored, and that at first many people were sceptical about the existence of the gorilla.

And there is a very circumstantial story of how a red-haired ape was killed by pigmies some twenty years ago. The body was seen by a district official, but when he returned, an hour or so later, to collect the skin, it had been burned by a missionary, who had strongly disapproved of the Darwinian theory, and feared that the discovery of this new species might help to confirm it.

Perhaps a new expedition will find another specimen. That many creatures as yet unknown to science do exist in these mysterious forests is accepted by those who know Africa best.—London Answers.

Four Virtues

Industry, economy, honesty, and kindness form a quartette of virtues that will never be improved upon.—James Oliver.

Now Science Explains Why So Many People Past 40

Feel That They're Slipping Losing Their "Grip" on Things

Many people 'round 40 think they're "growing old." They feel tired a lot . . . "weak." Have headaches, dizziness, stomach upsets.

Well, scientists say the cause of all this, in a great many cases, is simply an acid condition of the stomach. Nothing more.

All you have to do is to neutralize the excess stomach acidity.

When you have one of these acid stomach upsets, take Phillips' Milk of Magnesia after meals and before going to bed. That's all!

Try this. Soon you'll feel like another person! Take either the familiar liquid "PHILLIPS'" or the convenient new Phillips' Milk of Magnesia Tablets.

ALSO IN TABLET FORM: Phillips' Milk of Magnesia Tablets are now on sale at all drug stores everywhere. Each tiny tablet is the equivalent of a teaspoonful of Genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia.

It is recognized as a safe, sure, QUICK way. For it will relieve an ordinary cold almost as fast as you caught it.

Ask your doctor about this. And when you buy, be sure that you get the real BAYER Aspirin Tablets. They dissolve (disintegrate) almost instantly. And thus work almost instantly when you take them. And for a gargle, Genuine Bayer Aspirin Tablets disintegrate with speed and completeness, leaving no irritating particles or grittiness.

DISTRICT HEALTH UNIT BULLETIN

Leading Causes of Death in Charlevoix County During 1934

Among the leading causes of death during the past year, we find heart disease, apoplexy and cancer taking the greater majority. These "old-age" diseases will invariably lead the list due to the wearing out process of some important organ in the body.

Violent and accidental deaths tend to increase with automobile accidents leading as an cause of accidental deaths. One-third of the total automobile accidents occurring in this district were under twenty years of age. Such a toll indicates that more precaution and vigilance is needed in driving if we are to curb this increasing death rate.

The following table shows a comparative report of the ten leading causes of death in Charlevoix county during 1934:

Heart disease 26, apoplexy 21, cancer 17, violent and accidental 8, senility 5, tuberculosis 5, nephritis 4, anemias 3, hernia 2, arteriosclerosis 2.

Health practices have decreased the death rate in communicable disease considerably in the last few years. Mothers have encouraged the use of such preventive measures as diphtheria immunization, vaccination against smallpox and inoculation against typhoid fever and scarlet fever. There were no deaths in Charlevoix county caused by scarlet fever, typhoid fever, diphtheria, measles or smallpox during 1934.

The District Health Department, composed of the counties of Antrim, Charlevoix, Emmet and Otsego, and sponsored by the Children's Fund of Michigan, are vitally interested in lowering the death rate from all preventable diseases. Reducing the incidence of these diseases can be done by visiting your family physician who will discover the cause that produces the condition and who will then recommend proper care and treatment.

Correlative passages to be read from the Christian Science texthook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," hy Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (p. 30): "As the individual ideal of Truth, Christ Jesus came to rebuke rabbinical error and all sin, sickness, and death—to point out the way of Truth and Life. This ideal was demonstrated throughout the whule earthly career of Jesus, showing the difference between the offspring of Soul and of material sense, of Truth and of error."

COCO COD

The Cod Liver Oil That Tastes Like Chocolate

IF YOUR BREATH HAS A SMELL YOU CAN'T FEEL WELL

When we eat too much, our food decays in our bowels. Our friends smell this decay coming out of our mouth and call it bad breath. We feel the poison of this decay all over our body. It makes us gloomy, grouchy and no good for anything.

What makes the food decay in the bowels? Well, when we eat too much, our bile juice can't digest it. What is the bile juice? It is the most vital digestive juice in our body. Unless 2 pints of it are flowing from our liver into our bowels every day, our movements get hard and constipated and ¾ of our food decays in our 28 feet of bowels. This decay sends poison all over our body every six minutes.

When our friends smell our bad breath that we don't and we feel like a whipped hound, don't use a mouthwash or take a laxative. Get at the cause. Take Carter's Little Liver Pills which gently start the flow of your bile juice. But if "something better" is offered you, don't buy it, for it may be a calomel (mercury) pill, which loosens teeth, grips and scalds the rectum in many people. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name and get what you ask for—25¢ ©1934, C.M.Co.

CHARLEVOIX BEST OF CLASS C TEAMS

PELLSTON OUTSTANDING OF CLASS D ENTRIES

Records, However, Only, Complicate Predictions of Tournament Outcome in Upper Class

Some interesting data on class C and D teams which will compete in the district basketball tournament opening here Thursday is provided by season records of these teams, secured by Harry E. Bingham, tournament manager.

Charlevoix has the outstanding record in class C. The team won 11 of 14 games, losing to Grand Rapids Union, Petoskey and Harbor Springs. Boyne City is next with victories in 6 out of 10 games. Harbor Springs and East Jordan completed their season with 4 wins in 10 games.

Scores, however, only jumble the situation. Charlevoix and Harbor were the only teams to defeat Petoskey, the Big Six champions. Harbor was the only class C team victorious over Charlevoix. East Jordan, defeated twice by Charlevoix, forced the Kipmen into overtime and won from Harbor and Boyne City, the latter also a winner from Harbor Springs. Which all goes to show no team has the class C title in their hand and, by repeating past performances, any of the four mentioned can win.

Pellston, the defending district class D champion, has a remarkable season record. They won 12 out of 13 games, largely by top-heavy scores. The one defeat was administered by Charlevoix by the close score of 21 to 18, while Onaway and Rogers City, both class C schools, were defeated by the Pellston team. The Emmet county quintet should repeat their last season's performance at the district tournament.

Ellsworth and Boyne Falls, class D entries, each won 5 games during the past season. The former lost 9 and the latter 6.

"The Kid" Becomes a Catch! Hollywood Beauties Set Caps for Bachelor Jackie Coogan

The man who is considered one of the most eligible young bachelors in Hollywood today was the boy you remember as the pathetic, little, one-gallus waif in Charlie Chaplin's "The Kid," a wistful, appealing little chap who came up to bout the first button on Chaplin's vest!

He is Jackie Coogan who deserted the films after he had made eighteen pictures and returns now for his first grown up role in Zane Grey's "Home on the Range," coming Saturday and Sunday to the Palace Treater.

Now twenty years old, he has grown into a six-foot, broad-shouldered, handsome and athletic young man. And as if that were not enough inducement for Hollywood's younger set of beauties, he is the beneficiary of a trust fund of almost a million, built out of his own earnings during his years of child stardom.

Buried alive! How a lover's kiss wakened from death a young woman already covered with earth. Read about this strange true case in The American Weekly, the magazine distributed with next Sunday's Chicago Herald and Examiner.

CHOOSE DELEGATES FOR G. O. P. MEETING

William J. Pearson, Boyne Falls, chairman; William F. Tindall, J. M. Harris, Douglas H. Tibbitts, Boyne City; A. G. Rogers, Barney Milstein, Howard Porter, East Jordan; Charles H. Emrey, W. J. Gallagher, Floyd W. Ikens, William Withers, Dr. F. F. McMillan, Charlevoix. Mrs. Lota Coulter was chosen alternate from the Charlevoix district.

The county convention, a harmonious affair, honored Mr. Pearson by bestowing upon him the honor of cutting a large cake decorated with Republican symbols and served as part of refreshments following the meeting. John Seiler of East Jordan, favored with two vocal solos, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. G. W. Beehtold.

Harry A. Craig, chosen temporary chairman, acted as permanent chairman of the convention, as did also Mrs. Agnes Lorch of Boyne City, chosen as secretary.

Card of Thanks

Mrs. Emma Ecklund and her children wish to express their gratitude to the many friends and neighbors who showed sympathy and kindness at their time of bereavement. They wish especially to thank the Congregational church for providing a place for the service, and also those who officiated and assisted at the service.

BAND PRESENTED EXCELLENT SELECTIONS

Large and Appreciative Audience at Concert Thursday Night

The Charlevoix high school band presented a concert and solo recital in the school gymnasium on Thursday, February 21st, to a large and appreciative audience.

The concert numbers presented were selected from the 1935 contest list for Class "B" bands and gave opportunity to demonstrate the good tonal qualities and technique of each section of the band. The soloists did exceptionally well and merit much commendation for their excellent work. Those who played solos are as follows: John Block, Esther Lou Fochtman, Ben Gill, James Hiller, Herman Meyer, Leslie Shapton and Warren Shapton.

The drummers Bob Emrey, Bob Fochtman, and Bob Neff worked out an original idea for a drum solo. A train was heard coming into a station whistling and puffing with its bell ringing and was met by the band playing a march. Then the drums took the band down the street to several snappy marches played on the drums. Finally, the band played and gradually died away in the distance.

A brass sextette was also featured with Clare Beattie, John Block, Lewis Greenman, Garvey Pollard, Leslie Shapton, and Warren Shapton as the soloists. The program closed with the playing of "Red and White Loyalty."

A collection was taken for the benefit of the Nursery School fund and netted $8.30.

SOME CHANGES INCLUDED IN CORN-HOG CONTRACTS

Less Reduction Production Meat, Grain; Payments Are Different

Corn hog contracts to be signed by Michigan farmers this year differ in several essential features from the contracts which were in use last year, according to the administrator for the state.

Last year, the corn contract asked that the farmer reduce his acreage 20 per cent below the base acreage grown by him. This year the reduction required is only 10 per cent. The benefit payments made to holders of corn contracts will be 35 cents per bushel on the estimated yield of the land taken out of production instead of the 30 cents per bushel which was paid in 1934.

Signers of Michigan hog contracts are asked to reduce the numbers of hogs grown for market 10 per cent instead of 25 per cent, as was asked last year. The number of litters does not have to be reduced this season if the 10 per cent reduction can be obtained in other ways. Payments for hog reductions are fifteen dollars per head instead of last year's five dollars.

Land owners who quit farming last year and collected benefit payments now will find themselves out of luck because they can not obtain contracts. The benefits of the agricultural adjustment act are for bona fide farmers only.

Payments on hog contracts will be made in two installments this year. Previously, the hog benefit payments were made in three installments. No change has been made in the number of corn payments.

Limitations concerning crops planted upon land taken from corn production have been made less stringent. Any crop except corn can be planted on this land. There are no contract restrictions this year on the number of kinds of livestock other than hogs which the contract holder may own.

ADAMS WINS NOMINATION FOR MAYOR

DEFEATED E. J. KIBBE BY MARGIN OF 17 VOTES

Campbell Victor for Alderman in First Ward, Cartier in Second and Carey in Third

By the small margin of seventeen votes, Leonard F. Adams, a new-comer in city political circles, won the Republican nomination for mayor over Ernest J. Kibbe, veteran second ward alderman, at the primary election Monday.

The three wards of the city cast 1094 votes, the second highest ever recorded in any election in Charlevoix. The huge vote was surprising in view of the icy condition of city streets following Sunday night's storm. Majorities for Adams were given in the first and third wards, with the second going to Kibbe.

Following is the city vote for mayor:

1st Ward	Adams	113	Kibbe	14
2nd Ward	Adams	175	Kibbe	323
3rd Ward	Adams	252	Kibbe	156
Total		540		523

The balance of the Republican city ticket was nominated without opposition as follows:

Clerk—Ray S. Hamilton.

Treasurer—Robert E. Rife.

Justice of the Peace—Horace R. Fowler.

Ward Contests Close

The contests for alderman of all three wards were exceptionally close. P. D. Campbell defeated Karl Erber for the first ward nomination by 9 votes. In the second ward, Fred E. Cartier was victor over Shirley B. Henry by a margin of 68 votes. Thomas Leo Carey, incumbrnt, received the third ward nomination by a majority of 10 votes over Harry F. Hooker, who previously has served the ward as alderman several terms.

The Republican nominees for supervisor, all unopposed were Donald Swinton in the first ward. Frank Partridge in the second and David J. Eckinger in the third.

Two Tickets in April

Winning Republican nominees at Monday's primary election will be opposed by a Democratic slate, headed by J. M. Foster for mayor, at the general election in April.

ZEITLER WINNER SUNDAY SKI MEET

Regional Champion Scored High in Field of Nine Competitors

Despite warm weather that softened the Mt. McSauby ski slide Sunday afternoon, a fine exhibition put on by members of the Charlevoix Ski Club and Petoskey Riders was witnessed by a good crowd.

John Zeitler, who won the regional title recently at Petoskey, scored 156 points for a close victory over Dick Hull, the regional junior champion, who was awarded 154 points. Trailing by the narrow margin of a single point was Phillip Hufford of Petoskey, in third place with 153. Paul Hufford, also of Petoskey, who leaped 80 feet, the longest jump of the day, finished in fourth position with 150 points. Others in their order were: Bob Neff 139, Bob Heise 134, Fred Hardy 132, Stan Withers 118 and Carlton Ager 117.

Weather conditions permitting future ski exhibition will be put on at the slide. Local riders believe that under better conditions longer jumps will be made.

WORK RELIEF PROGRAM SHUT DOWN

DISCONTINUED FOR MARCH ON STATE ORDERS

Projects Held Up Until Complete Re-Investigation of Relief Cases Is Conducted

The work relief program in Charlevoix county was shut down completely last Thursday morning for the month of March or such a longer time necessary for a complete re-investigation of all relief cases in the county.

Notification sent to clients by Don M. Martindill, administrator, Charlevoix Emergency Relief Administration, was, in part, as follows:

"Because of an order received by the Charlevoix County Emergency Welfare Relief from State authority, it becomes necessary to close our works division down for the month of March, until such time as we complete a re-investigation of all relief cases in the county."

In lieu of work relief, all clients were given direct relief orders for the first half of the month and on the 15th of March will receive a similar amount for the last half.

The order closing down work relief has brought a storm of protest from county, city and township officials. Letters condemning the action have been sent to district welfare officials, imploring that some different method be adopted to conduct the re-investigation rather than discontinuing the entire work relief program, thus delaying projects already under way.

Local officials contend, it is understood, that in view of their recent action in pledging $30,000 to finance the county's share of work relief and insure continuance of the program for 1935, that the state welfare administration has not kept faith with the county by shutting down work projects.

What future action will be taken on the matter is not known. Charlevoix county welfare officials are under orders to state authority and have no other alternative than to follow instructions.

CONTRACT LET FOR NEW 66 RELOCATION

Dust-Proof 11.3 Miles in Charlevoix and Antrim Counties

Low bids were determined Friday by the State Highway department on four new highways construction projects totaling a cost of $340,000 to be financed from the $6,452,000 Cartwright grant. Projects and low bids follow:

Charlevoix and Antrim counties—11.3 miles of 20-foot oil aggregate surface on M-66 from East Jordan south, Marsman and Taber, Grand Rapids, $215,317.54.

The oil aggregate surface is a new bituminous mix developed by the department during the past year. It is used on gravel roads and reduces the cost of maintenance from $400 to $500 per mile, annually, as compared with an ordinary gravel road. Its use is primarily for secondary trunk line highways.

KIWANIS MEETING AT MARION GRANGE HALL

CHARLEVOIX WINS DISTRICT C TITLE

ELIMINATED HARBOR SPRINGS AND BOYNE CITY TO ADVANCE TO REGIONAL GAMES THIS WEEK

Pellston Romped to Easy Victories to Annex Class D Title for Second Consecutive Year; Charlevoix Plays Rogers City in First Round of Regional Thursday Night

Keeping pace with their previous record, Charlevoix high school cagers added the district class C basketball title to their Tip of Michigan conference championship as a result of victories in the district tournament which closed here Saturday night.

The Kipmen will represent this district in class C at the regional tournament opening Thursday at Petoskey. Pellston high school's powerful aggregation were the class D winners, successfully defending the district title won last year at Harbor Springs.

Charlevoix Won Two

Charlevoix, the class C tournament favorite by virtue of an outstanding season record, eliminated Harbor Springs and Boyne City in two thrilling games to advance to the regional.

Led by Carey, center, the Kipmen staged an up-hill fight to defeat Harbor. The Emmet county team led 4 and 2 at the quarter and extended their advantage 8 and 2 before Charlevoix began whittling down the count. The Kipmen led 11 and 10 at the half and the score was knotted 15-all at the third intermission. A last quarter drive which netted four field goals to Harbor's single free toss put the game on ice. It was a battle of centers, Carey scoring 10 for Charlevoix and Brower 11 for Harbor.

In the finals Saturday night, Charlevoix defeated Boyne City, winners Friday night in a thrilling overtime struggle from East Jordan, by a 29 to 18 count. Five goals and three free throws gave Charlevoix a 13 to 3 advantage at the quarter. Boyne scored 8 points to Charlevoix's 3 in the second stanza to cut the lead 16 to 11 at the half. Charlevoix maintained a one-point advantage in the third period to lead 20 to 14 at the third quarter and then ran wild in the final period to pile up an overwhelming advantage.

Both teams lost their centers early in the contest. Boyne lost Green in the first period and Carey went out early in the second. Greenman, substituting for Carey, gave a creditable performance before retiring in the final minutes of the game on personals.

Charlevoix's close guarding is indicated by the fact Boyne made but three field goals, scoring 12 of their 18 points from the foul line. Charlevoix tallied 7 out of 12 opportunities. Schwab was high scorer with 9 points. Carey tallied 7 before going out.

Pellston Easy Winner

Pellston, by far the outstanding class D entrant in the tournament, won the title by two easy victories. Using a reserve line-up for the most part, they eliminated Alba by a 33 to 3 score Friday night, and Saturday took the measure of Boyne Falls by a 27 to 9 count.

The tournament officials, Gordon Tubaugh of Cadillac, and Frank Reinke of Rogers City, handled the games in a very satisfactory manner.

There was a good attendance at all games. Class C contests furnished the greatest interest in the tournament, although the Boyne Falls-Mackinaw City and the Boyne Falls-Ellsworth games were close.

Charlevoix's school band played excellently to appreciative audiences throughout the tournament. East Jordan's splendid organization played Friday night.

Meet Rogers City at Petoskey

Five class C teams are entered in the Petoskey regional tournament. At the draw held Monday afternoon, Charlevoix was matched with Rogers City to open class C competition Thursday night. The winner plays Northport Friday night. Gaylord and Lake City meet in the other bracket Friday afternoon.

CUBS WINNER CITY BASKETBALL TITLE

DEFEATED FRESHMAN COLLEGE IN FINALS MONDAY

Eagles Replace Bronchos As Leaders of Baseball League—Much Interest in Ping-Pong Tourney

The Cubs nosed out the Freshman College by a 21 to 19 score Monday night to win the recreational league city basketball championship. It was the final game before disbanding the league for the season.

Vic Smith, scoring 12 of his team's 21 points, was high point man for the winners, while Winfield Kirby was outstanding for the College. The six teams in the league finished in the following order: Cubs, Freshman College, Polar Bears, Indians, Wildcats. An all-city team will be selected by players in the league for later announcement.

As a result of Tuesday night's baseball games, the league leadership, held by Beaudoin's Bronchos since opening of the series, went to the Eagles, led by Pete Hallett. The Bronchos dropped two games during the past week, the first a 10 to 7 defeat by the Eagles, and Tuesday night a 7 to 5 loss to Supernaw's Trojans. The Eagles, winners Tuesday night from the Lions, went into the league lead with 6 victories and one defeat.

Results of Tuesday night's games were as follows: Cardinals 12, Pirates 11; Trojans 7, Bronchos 5; Eagles 11, Lions 6.

The present standings are:

Team	W	L	Pct.
Eagles	6	1	858
Bronchos	5	2	715
Lions	3	3	571
Trojans	3	4	429
Cardinals	3	5	426
Pirates	1	5	285

Following is the schedule for the coming week:

Thursday, March 14—Pirates vs. Eagles, 7:00; Lions vs. Trojans, 8:00; Bronchos vs. Cardinals, 9:00.

Considerable interest is being shown in the pending ping-pong tournament. Director Dean Davenport requests all entries be in this week.

AUTO LICENSE DEADLINE AGAIN EXTENDED

Motorists Have Until March 14 to Get Plates or Sticker

The secretary of state's office Thursday extended to midnight of March 14th the period for which 1934 license plates are legal. The deadline was originally February 28th.

This action was taken after the House of Representatives by a vote of 60 to 14 adopted a resolution asking this extension. Although the Senate took no action it was pointed out by legislators that the sentiment for extension was the same there.

Legislators said in asking for the extension that 10,000 new cars will be put in the next 10 days and they said buyers would retire their old old cars from service rather than buy plates which would be useful for only a few days.

POTATO GROWERS FOR REGULATION

FAVOR WARREN ACT AT GAYLORD MEETING

Over Five Hundred Growers of Top O'Michigan District Hear Plans to Aid Producers

Potato growers on the Northern Michigan potato producing area, commonly known as the Top O'Michigan district, expressed themselves at a meeting at Gaylord on February 27th as being in favor of the Warren Potato Act for the regulation of potato production and of strict enforcement of the present Michigan potato grading laws.

Over 500 potato growers, representing Emmet, Charlevoix, Antrim, Kalkaska, Cheboygan, Otsego, Crawford, Presque Isle, Montmorency, Alpena, Alcona and Oscoda counties, were present at this meeting which was sponsored by the Top O'Michigan Potato Show Association. The provisions of the Warren Potato Act were explained by C. L. Nash, from Michigan State College, and a lively discussion of potato grading regulations was carried on by the growers present.

George Barnard, director of the Bureau of Food and Standards, spoke for the department of agriculture relative to the cooperation which the potato growers can expect from his department. Otto Bishop, chairman of the Senate committee on agriculture, was present at the meeting, together with Representative Frank Priest. Douglas Tibbits, representative from Boyne City and president of Top O'Michigan Potato Association, presided at the meeting.

The discussion of grading regulations among the growers brought out the idea that if any potatoes sold within the state were to be graded, that all potatoes offered for sale should be required to meet the same standards. This discussion finally crystalized in the unanimous adoption of the following resolution which was presented by one of the growers:

WHEREAS the Michigan potato producers have seen other producing centers supplying their home markets, and

WHEREAS it is believed that a part of the reasons for this situation is due to the dumping of off-quality potatoes onto certain markets,

BE IT RESOLVED, THAT it is the opinion of this meeting, sponsored by the Top O'Michigan Potato Association, that Michigan's grading laws should be made effective to all dealers and others selling potatoes on our markets, and to this end we recommend that this organization use its influence to have such a situation brought about.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, THAT a copy of this resolution be forwarded to Honorable James Thomson, commissioner of agriculture.

The road south from the church has been impassable since last week's blizzard. We will all be glad to see spring.

Quite a few of our basketball fans attended the finals on Saturday evening and report an exciting time at these games.

A community meeting will be held at the church on Friday evening March 15th. Pot luck lunch. Everyone welcome.

SOUTH BARNARD

We are glad to hear that Anna May Holmes, who was operated on recently in the Charlevoix hospital, is recovering nicely. She is expected home in a few days.

It seemed good to see John Edward Boss well again after his recent attack of pneumonia. He hopes to have his full strength soon so that he can return to the museling of cream cans, ice cream, butter, etc., at the creamery.

The blizzard of last Wednesday evening caused some of the young people to stay indoors, but several ventured forth through the storm in order to attend the Bible class held at the John Boss, Jr. home. We trust that better weather will greet us this week Wednesday when we convene at the Fred Boss home. Dave Matchett and Eddie Boss say that they are going to take their sleighs and welcome the young people to ride with them. Next week we expect to meet at the Frank Brock home and the following week at the Dick Potter home. Keep these places in mind, young people.

The warm weather and rains remind us that spring is near. It is said that "in the spring a young man's fancy turns to thoughts of those things of which the girls have been thinking all winter." However, when one sees the swains going to Charlevoix and Ellsworth and other towns, he wonders whether or no the young men nowadays, if ever, wait until spring to think such thoughts. David Matchett has been seen going to town quite frequently, but he says that he goes to take his sister to and from school, but we are inclined to think that "The Town Beautiful" has other attractions.

The winter season is a time when farmers become socially acquainted with their neighbors. Recently Mrs. John Potter and Mrs. Howard Davis were guests at the Battema home, while last week Wednesday found their two families at the old Klooster homestead. This latter home also entertained the Ralph Klooster family on recent Sunday and Monday.

A few days ago found the Ralph Klooster and the John Edward Boss families enjoying a beefsteak repast at the Ed. Boss rendezvous. Last Sunday evening the Ed. Boss's wended their way to the Frank Matchett home. Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Potter called on the Ed. Boss's on Thursday afternoon of last week. Within the past fortnight the Dick Potter's have been visitors at the Bolhuis, Robert Matchett, and Clyde Smith homes. Mr. and Mrs. George Klooster of Ellsworth called on Mr. and Mrs. John Lawrence Boss last week Wednesday.

In spite of snow-filled roads there was a very good attendance at church last Sunday. The pastor preached on the text, "God is departed from me, and answereth me no more," basing his sermon on the experience of Saul when he had disobeyed God several times. The theme was "One can close his ears too long to the voice of God." Next Sunday the minister expects to preach on the topic, "Ashes," as this will be the first Sunday after Ash Wednesday. We hope the roads will be plowed out by Sunday. Last Sabbath two women, mother of nine and six children respectively, walked about two miles through the snow to get to church; one of these mothers had to climb three or four steep hills to get there. We admire such loyalty and interest. If everyone was as loyal to the church, how our churches would grow, but not all seem to have the same love for the Saviour. But let us think of His love for us as manifested on Calvary!

Amazing NEW INVENTION

20% MORE STARTING POWER

If You Want Your Car Equipped With The Best--- Then Buy Firestones . . .

More and more motorists are learning every year the importance of having their cars equipped with high quality tires. They have learned that it is false economy to install a set of inferior quality tires. Such tires do not give the service that is expected of them and in the long run are many times more expensive. Their construction of lower grade materials and not of the best workmanship is such that they quickly become worn and show the defects of faulty construction often after having driven only a few hundred miles. Naturally such tires, while very often the purchase price is attractive at first, turn out to be more expensive in the end. They have to be replaced long before it was expected they would when they were first purchased. That is why more and more motorists every year are buying the best quality of tires they can when they decide to re-equip their car with new rubber. The motorist who selects FIRESTONE Tires never takes a chance on the service he will get, because into the construction of a FIRESTONE Tire only the best quality of materials and workmanship go. The manufacturers of FIRESTONE Tires realize they have a reputation for building high quality tires that they cannot afford to jeopardize which they would if they were to manufacture tires of less than the best quality. That is why they manufacture the BEST of tires which every year are giving thousands of motorists all over the country more and more service than they ever expected. That is why more and more motorists are turning to FIRESTONES when they buy new tires.

We are prepared to equip your car with from one to a complete set of new FIRESTONES. We'll be glad to make an examination of your present tires and to show you just what their condition is. Drive in tomorrow—ask us to check over your tires and see if you need new "rubber" now.

Abandoned Fort Turned Into National Monument

Fort Jefferson, Off Florida, Has Glamorous History.

Washington.—Fort Jefferson, an algamboned fortress on one of the tiny Dry Tortugas isles off Florida, recently turned over by the United States navy to the National Park service, has a history that is "at once glamorous, tragic, and futile," says the National Geographic society.

"The Dry Tortugas lie some sixty miles to the west of Key West, like an afterthought to the main Florida Keys," continues the bulletin. "These isolated isles are nothing more than seven low lyers of wind-swept shell and coral sand, sparsely covered with small bay cedars and palms, encircled by dangerous reefs, and uninhabited—except for a few faithful lighthouse keepers, and thousands upon thousands of nesting sooty and noddy terns.

"The fully fifty-foot brick and stone walls of Fort Jefferson, on Garden Key, once earned for it the nickname 'Gibraltar of America.' Long obsolete as a means of defense, the hoary stronghold now has become a national monument by Presidential order.

Futile Military History.

"Despite its resounding nickname, however, the dilapidated and decaying Fort Jefferson has played a futile part in military history. Built in 1846, it was supposed to guard the ship lanes between Cuba and Florida, but even before it was completed the vast citadel was agreed to be a military mistake. It was garrisoned, however, early during the Civil war and held by federal forces throughout the conflict, serving as a prison after 1865.

"No enemy gun ever poured shot and shell into its barracks. A Confederate gunboat sailed cautiously within range in 1861, but it was frightened away when the commander of the fort trained upon the warship his full complement of guns—scarcely a dozen of which were loaded!

"Although it never figured in a military action, the grim old stronghold is no stranger to horror and death. Within its moated walls yellow fever suddenly appeared in August, 1867.

"All officers, including the surgeon, died, and for a time direction of medical affairs rested with a prisoner. This was the unfortunate Dr. Samuel A. Mudd, who had been imprisoned at the island fort because, when awakened in the dead of night, at his Maryland home below Washington, he had set the broken leg of a stranger who turned out to be John Wilkes Booth, assassin of President Lincoln. Doctor Mudd courageously tended the sick and dying until he, too, was taken ill. He recovered, and, because of his heroic efforts, was granted a full pardon.

Used in War With Spain.

"Fort Jefferson was finally abandoned in 1873, although it was temporarily reoccupied by American troops during the Spanish-American war. Since 1900 it has been a ward of the Navy department. As a national monument it will be open to visitors. Already a force of relief workers has cleaned up part of the courtyard and is installing quarters for those who come by boat or plane and wish to remain overnight. Fort Jefferson is one of the least-known bits of American domain, because under navy rule it was closed to all visitors, and not even airplanes were permitted to fly over it.

"The Dry Tortugas possess a great many attractions for fishermen and naturalists. More than 400 varieties of fish abound in the clear waters off its enveloping reefs, and Bird Key has long been a national bird and turtle refuge.

"The Dry Tortugas owe the last part of their name to Ponce de Leon, who discovered the Islands in June, 1513. Tortuga is Spanish for turtle. The famous explorer captured 170 of the reptiles there to replenish the larder of his ship. In 1565 that sturdy Elizabethan, Capt. J. Hawkins, homeward bound from a profitable voyage in forbidden Spanish waters, visited the islands. He loaded his pinnace with birds of species that still breed there by thousands, took the flesh and eggs of great sea turtles, and set down in his log notes that read like a page from Robinson Crusoe."

Non-Freezing Lake Gives Farmer Idea

Geneva, N. Y.—Farmer Dell had a great idea.

The farmer's inspiration came from a peculiarity of Seneca lake, one of the state's most famous beauty spots.

The lake seldom freezes, despite the fact that surrounding waters are sheets of ice. Only in the most severe cold spells will the lake develop more than skim ice.

Farmer Dell's idea, as he later admitted, was to fill the radiator of his automobile with Lake Seneca water, and save the cost of purchasing non-freezing agents.

To his surprise, the water which would not freeze in Lake Seneca turned to ice so quickly during a zero cold wave that the radiator burst in several places.

Plan to Explore Stratosphere by Rockets

Professor to Use Projectiles to Go 150 Miles.

Roswell, N. M.—Rockets equipped with automatic recording devices will be shot into the stratosphere to a distance of from 10 to 150 miles from the earth's surface from an especially constructed 60-foot tower near here this spring in scientist's latest attempt to penetrate the secrets behind cosmic rays, light rays and radio waves.

The experiments will be the culmination of months of work on the part of Dr. R. H. Goddard, head of the department of physics at Clarke university, Worcester, Mass., who expects they will yield data of great value to science. One immediate beneficiary would be radio broadcasting.

The tower is rising in a shallow valley 25 miles from Roswell. In the meantime Doctor Goddard is carrying out preliminary experiments on a farm four miles from here, aided by a staff of assistants.

The Guggenheim foundation is financing the unique tests. Roswell was selected for the site of the experiments because of unique atmospheric and climatic conditions.

The type of rocket to be used is 12 feet long and approximately 2 feet in diameter at its widest point. It is equipped with a parachute designed to be released at the highest point of its flight.

There is no danger of the rocket causing injury, Doctor Goddard believes, as he calculated it will return to the earth almost vertically, and its flight will be under control from the tower at all times. The tower site is 15 miles from the nearest settlement.

Advantages of the rocket ascensions over stratosphere balloon flights lie in the fact that balloons, to rise beyond 14 miles, must be of such great size and at the same time such light weight that construction dangerous to passengers results, according to Doctor Goddard. He pointed to the fatal outcome of the 72,000 feet stratosphere ascension of three Soviet Russians.

The date of the projected tests will depend on the results of ground experiments now being conducted here.

"There is a long period of testing before any practical results are certain," Doctor Goddard explained. "We will probably spend several months in the laboratory before any test will be made."

775 U. S. Planes Are Now Equipped With Radios

Washington.—A recent survey by the bureau of air commerce shows that there are 775 radio-equipped airplanes in commercial and private operation throughout the United States, whereof 345 are owned by the scheduled air lines, 246 installed in private planes, 135 in ships used by individual firms for business purposes and 49 in craft employed for air taxi and charter flights. Government-owned aircraft, such as that operated by the army, navy and bureau of air commerce itself, many of which carry radio equipment, was not included in the survey.

A considerable increase in the employment of airplane radio among private owners during the coming year is anticipated as a result of developments that have been under way for some time with the "homing" radio compass. This device enables an airplane pilot to tune in either on Department of Commerce airways radio stations and course beacons or on regular radio broadcasting stations and fly directly toward them from any point of the compass.

Moon Looks Like Green Cheese, Asserts Expert

Washington.—Sweethearts may find romance in the moon, but it's just another piece of green cheese to Dr. Harry Burton, astronomer at the naval observatory.

Doctor Burton views the moon through a 26-inch telescope. He said the celestial body is made of pumice and volcanic ash.

Explaining why he thought the moon looked like green cheese, the astronomer said its upper quarter is full of holes, which are really extinct volcano craters. This part resembles Swiss cheese.

Near the center and the lower half of the orb, he said, the surface is smoother and a darker green. This is caused by the setting sun, and shadows cast by mountains. To Doctor Burton it looks like green cheese mold.

Find College Students' Honesty Nearly Perfect

Delaware, Ohio.—Ohio Wesleyan university students are "almost perfect" in the matter of honesty, believes Charles Hamilton, Y. M. C. A. president.

The "Y" has been selling examination books at a cost of one cent each. The books are placed on a table and students asked to drop their pennies in a box nearby. Although several thousand books have been sold, an average of only one in 100 is unaccounted for, Hamilton said.

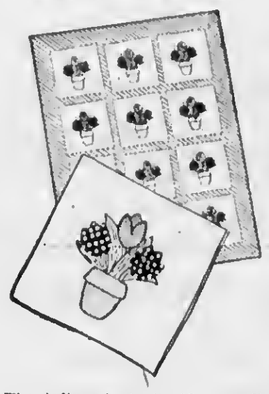
Fortune in Stamps Is Revealed in Waste Paper

Burlington, Wis.—An old receipt bearing a canceled stamp blew against the feet of Jay Land here and he picked it up. Trying to trace its source, he discovered that it came from a bale of paper which a junk man had taken from an old express office in a neighboring town.

Land bought the bale for 75 cents. It contained many more stamps of the Civil war period. He already has sold $150 worth to dealers and has made one rare find that may be worth as much as all the others sold.

Tulip Has Won Popular Favor

By GRANDMOTHER CLARK



The tulip adapts itself so well to applique and quilting designs that it is made use of quite frequently. This combination, showing the entire potted plant, gained popularity immediately after it was released. Tulips in bloom always form a beautiful color scheme, and this tulip pot is also brilliant in prints and green applique. These stamped blocks are 18 inches, and twelve are required for a quilt about 75 by 97 inches. If you use a nine inch border and four inch strips between blocks. Strips and border widths can be changed to make a quilt any size.

Send 15c to our quilt department for one of these stamped blocks, No. 96F, and the stamped applique pieces ready to be cut out. Work this up and see what a beautiful quilt can be made of this design. A set of six blocks will be sent for 75c, postpaid.

Date Palm Cultivation Increasing in America

Date palms are grown as ornamental trees in California, Florida, and Bermuda. Their leaves are used by Christians on Palm Sunday, and by Jews celebrating the Passover. Dates are not only eaten as such, but are made into jams, jellies, date butter, and vinegar. Date sugar, obtained from the sap of a closely related species, is an important commercial product in the East Indies. Date-palm meal is obtained from the stem of another related species growing in southern India.

Iraq furnishes almost 95 per cent of the dates imported into the United States. In 1933, the United States imported 47,392,841 pounds of Iraq dates. About 30,000,000 of these were shipped direct from that country, the rest trans-shipped through several countries of Europe. The United States imports small quantities of dates from Arabia, Algeria, Persia and Turkey, and also grows dates in the Southwest, particularly in the Coachella and Imperial valleys of southern California, and the lower Salt and Gila river valleys of Arizona.

In these gardens grow over a hundred varieties of dates. Some are used chiefly for cooking, others for eating. Some are dry, not sticky, while others "candy" on the tree. Preferred are the Asherasi variety, probably the best dry date; and the Deglet Nour, a very sweet, soft, melting date. Its name originally meant "Date of the Light," referring to the unusual translucence of its deep, golden-brown flesh.—Bulletin of the National Geographic Society.

WHEN THE DOCTOR SAYS YOU HAVE "TOO MUCH ACID"

Health, your doctor will tell you, is based on a delicate balance in the system between alkalinity and acidity. Modern day habits, especially the foods we eat, destroy this balance by creating excess acids. Watch for acid danger signals!

Guilty of these Every Day Habits?
Eat Too Much
Smoke Too Much
No Exercise
Late Hours

In the mouth acids attack enamel, bring tooth decay and bad breath. In the stomach they attack delicate linings and bring sick headaches, indigestion, gas and constipation, and often chronic disorders.

Neutralize excess acids at once with Milnesia Wafers—original Milk of Magnesia in tasty tablet form. One Wafer before bedtime, and the whole digestive system, from mouth and gums to intestines, is kept sweet and clean and clear of these harmful acids. Thousands of physicians now recommend Milnesia instead of old fashioned liquid Milk of Magnesia.

Economical, too! Each Milnesia package contains more Magnesium Hydroxide than all other liquid forms.

ELECTION GIVES GOP CONTROL OF HOUSE

Republicans Named in Four Districts at Primary Monday

Republicans apparently have control of the Michigan house of representatives again as four candidates, racing under the G. O. P. banner, built up comfortable leads over their Democratic opponents in Monday's election to fill vacancies resulting from the Hotel Kerns fire.

Apparent victories in the four districts—Sanilac, Tuscola, Second Genesee and Midland-Gladwin districts—give the Republicans a 51-49 majority in the low state house.

CRIBBAGE BANQUET EVENT OF MONDAY

The annual "feed" which follows the Masonic-Odd Fellow cribbage series, will be an event of next Monday evening at the I. O. O. F. hall.

The Masons, winners of the eight-game series closing last Monday night, are the honored guests with the Odd Fellows, the losers, in the role of host. Prizes to individual high scorers during the series will be awarded.

CONSERVATION DEPT. NOTES

Because the lookout at Ludington coast guard station was keen of eye, a doe deer has been saved from drowning in Lake Michigan. The deer, probably driven into the water by dogs, was floundering in the lake near the south breakwater when spied by the man in the tower. Due to the high ice barrier the deer was unable to reach shore.

Being captured by man — his hereditary enemy—apparently was an enjoyable experience for a certain wild buck deer in the Cusino Game refuge, Schoolcraft and Alger counties. The buck has been taken nine times since December 30th.

Feed the birds! This is the advice of the Game Division, Department of Conservation, to every sportsman's group and individual in the state who is interested in conservation. Ground-feeding birds are now faced with a shortage of food in many places.

Passing the 10,000,000 barrel mark in oil production for the first time in its history, Michigan during 1934 became more firmly established among the leading oil production states east of the Mississippi river, says a report of the Geology Division, Department of Conservation.

Approximately 12,600 square miles of Michigan have been aerially photographed, says the Geology Division, Department of Conservation. About 75 per cent of the photos taken have been assembled into mosaics, photographs of which are made on request, and sold to the public.

Double Career Hard Problem for Film Star

"One career at a time," is the slogan of Elissa Landi, Paramount star, who is currently featured with Cary Grant in Paramount's "Enter Madame," Saturday and Sunday at the Palace Theater.

Miss Landi, who is both actress and author, with four published books to her credit, has recently made a resolution to leave writing strictly alone while working on a picture and vice versa.

"I tried mixing them once," she admitted to Director Elliott Nugent. "While I was working in 'Sign of the Cross' I found I had a lot of spare time. So I tried to do some work on a book I was writing at the time. Later I had to do it over again, it was so bad."

With four books published, Miss Landi was working on the fifth when she started work in her present picture, and has a sixth in mind. But she will not pick up a pen until the picture is finished.

In "Enter Madame," Miss Landi, as a temperamental opera-singer, discovers that she cannot pursue a career and keep her charming husband at the same time. The husband, Cary Grant, has to leave her to bring her to this realization, but when she discovers the true extent of her love she throws over everything else to win her man back again in an amusing climax.

Elliott Nugent directed "Enter Madame," which features Lynne Overman, Sharon Lynne, Adrian Rosley and Paul Porcasi in the supporting cast.

A "Spook Chaser" explains how he evicts spirits from haunted houses. Read this unusual illustrated article in The American Weekly, the magazine distributed with next Sunday's Chicago Herald and Examiner.

SMELT DIPPING LEGAL AFTER FIRST OF MARCH

"Runs" Not Expected Until Later in Month, However

The season for dipping smelt in streams or portions of streams designated by the Director of Conservation opened Friday, March 1st, announced the Fisheries Division. It is not expected, however, that any smelt run will occur until in late March.

Smelt may be taken with hand nets between the dates of March 1st to May 31st. The Director of Conservation is empowered to designate the streams or portions of streams where smelt may be taken.

Hand nets not more than five feet in circumference with or without handles may be used in the waters designated open to dipping for smelt.

A list of the designated open waters is now in the hands of conservation officers. Several additional streams have been added to the list this year in view of the continued spread of the smelt in waters tributary to the Great Lakes.

TRUCK LOADING LIMIT EFFECTIVE MARCH 1ST

State truck loading restrictions scheduled to go into effect March 1st will not be enforced until the spring "break-up" begins Murray D. Van-Wagoner, state highway commissioner, announced today. Normally these restrictions are in effect from March 1st to June 1st. The state highway commissioner is given discretionary power to set the time to meet road requirements.

Mrs. Lydia Ann Lynde Again Visits County Next Tuesday, March 12

Do your children quarrel over the dishwashing? Are they careless and forgetful? Do they suck their thumbs and bite their fingernails? These and many similar problems will be discussed at the third and last meeting of the two child study groups that have been functioning in the county under the direction of the local county agent.

Mrs. Lydia Ann Lynde, who is the child training specialist for Michigan State College, has been leading the groups and assisting parents with their individual problems. This will be the last opportunity for parents to hear this national authority.

The Boyne Falls group will meet at the community room on Tuesday afternoon, March 12th, promptly at 2:00 o'clock. The Charlevoix group will meet Tuesday night, March 12th, at 8:00 o'clock in the high school assembly room. Similar to the first two meetings, the Charlevoix P. T. A. is holding their monthly meeting. They again invite and urge parents to attend their monthly meeting.

These lectures have been exceedingly helpful, and have considered topics that exist in practically every home. The problems of raising children are so very and far reaching in effect that it has been a delightful privilege to have Mrs. Lynde in the county. All parents are most cordially invited to attend these last two meetings. Remember the date, Tuesday, March 12th.

Northern Michigan Potato Growers Discuss Proposed AAA Program

Undoubtedly, the most important potato meeting ever held in Northern Michigan, took place last Wednesday at Gaylord, where approximately 400 potato farmers and other interested persons, met to discuss the proposed AAA program. C. L. Nash, from the Michigan State College, Representative D. D. Tibbits, Senator Otto Bishop, Mr. Barnard of the State Department of Agriculture, and Fred Hibst, manager of the Cadillac Potato Exchange, were present and expressed their views regarding the proposed legislation. Mr. Tibbits acted as chairman of the meeting.

It was highly gratifying to note the interest that the potato growers have in this program, and the knowledge of the situation as it exists today. The discussion largely hit upon the reasons for the present price condition. The growers freely mentioned the fact that lack of enforcement of the present grading laws was largely responsible for the present demoralized markets. Mr. Wing of Alba, read a resolution requesting more enforcement of the present laws, a copy of which was sent to the Commissioner of Agriculture.

The Warren Act which has already been proposed to Congress was carefully read and analyzed by Mr. Nash. This act would make potatoes a basic commodity. It would be operated without any processing tax. It would depend for its success-ful operation on limiting sales of potatoes yearly by means of establishing, and a farm allotment. Each state would have this allotment, then each county, and finally each producer. Up to the allotted sale, farmers would be finished taxed. To prevent farmers from putting on the market additional stocks of potatoes, a tax of 75c per 100 lbs. would be levied on the quantity of potatoes in excess of the allotment. Of course, this would be prohibited in most years. The growers were greatly in favor of this new act as indicated by the ballot held at the conclusion of the meeting.

Apparently, this program will be carried out, and soon enough to include the 1935 production. Further details in regard to this program will be made public as soon as available.

Corn-Hog Sign-up Taking Place This Week

The 1935 corn-hog program is now under headway. The first procedure is to sign-up the application blanks, which by the way, are very simple in the case of those who signed up last year, but not so simple in a case who desire to sign up for the first time.

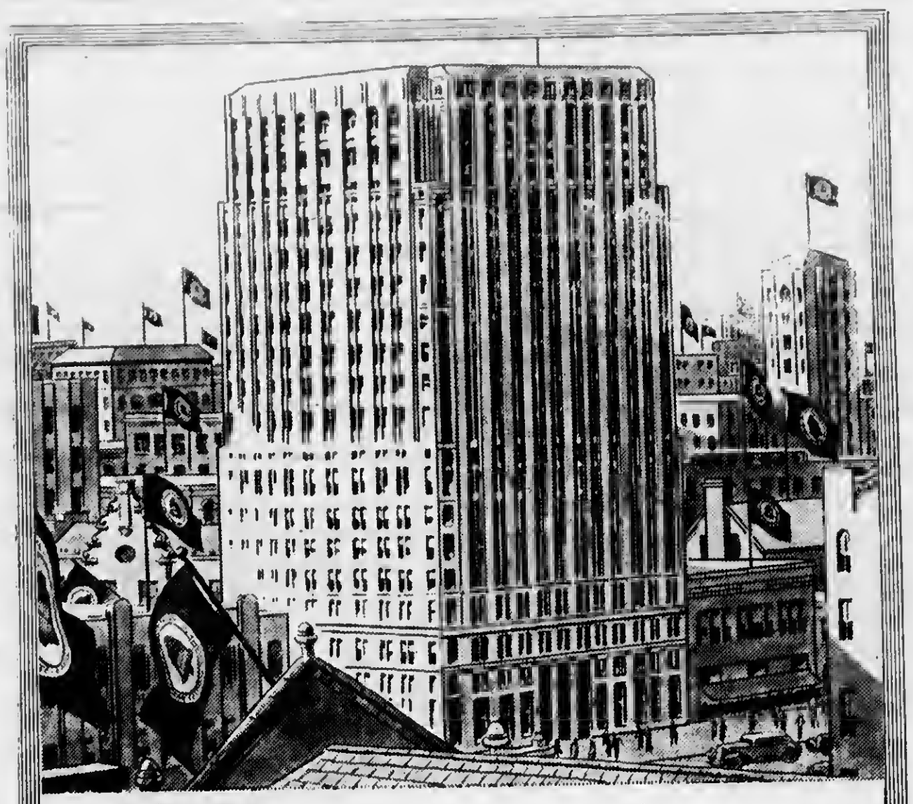
The following schedule of meeting places is being carried out this week:

Monday, March 4, Barnard Grange hall, all day; Tuesday, March 5, Marion Center Grange hall, all day; Wednesday, March 6, East Jordan Community Building, all day; Thursday, March 7, Horton Bay I. O. O. F. hall, all day; Friday, March 8, County Agent's office, Boyne City, all day.

It is expected that all of the farmers who were in the program last year will continue this year. As a result of hog prices reaching parity, the payments this year to the cooperatives are only 40 per cent of last year, but the reduction necessary is only 10 per cent, where it was 25 per cent. The 1934 program resulted in the payments of something like $5500.00 in Charlevoix county. This year the payments of course are considerably less.

U. S. railroads carried 432,950,000 passengers in 1933, as against 1,234,862,048 in 1920.

It requires 15.2 pounds of coal to move a railroad passenger-train car one mile.



The Homes of a Michigan Citizen

LET us examine him on several points that distinguish a good citizen from a bad one:

Does he pay his taxes? . . . During the past ten years he has paid a total of $32,332,175.31 taxes into State and Federal funds. Last year he paid $2,670,873 to Michigan.

Is his home an eyesore? . . . He has 356 homes distributed over the great State of Michigan. Many of these he built himself and owns—substantial buildings in good taste, each an asset to the neighborhood and standing on grounds that he always keeps neat. Where less space is required, he rents a home. Large or small, it is always adequate to the needs of the community it serves.

What sort of customer is he? . . . Each year he buys huge quantities of Michigan products—copper and furniture, poles, automobiles, iron, stone, labor.

How does he treat his employees? . . . With fairness and consideration. There are seventy-three hundred of them, both men and women, and they all say that he is a good man to work for. He pays them $12,000,000 in wages annually; this month he is paying them one million dollars, most of which will be spent and circulated throughout Michigan.

What does this Michigan citizen supply to his community? . . . Telephone service. And in supplying that service, it is his aim that the improvements of the past shall continue; that the service shall be rendered with efficiency, economy and courtesy; that always there shall be available for his fellow-citizens of Michigan a telephone service that is as fine as any in the world.

SUNDAY DINNER SUGGESTIONS
By Ann Page

The best news possible for the opening of Lent is that salt water fish is plentiful and moderately priced. Eggs too, are popular substitutes for meat and their price has declined ten cents a dozen in the past week. The third most popular Lenten food is cheese—and its price is low in proportion to its excellent nourishing qualities.

Meat prices continue to rise with no hope of lower prices for from six months to a year. Regardless of religious practice fish, eggs and cheese are good foods to choose because they are among the cheaper foods at present.

Oranges, grapefruit and strawberries offer the best fresh fruit values; and green peas, beans and cauliflower the best green vegetable values for this week.

Here are three menus made up of seasonable foods adapted to different budget levels:

Low Cost Dinner
Veal Stew with Vegetables
Cole Slaw
Bread and Butter
Lemon Snow Custard Sauce
Tea or Coffee Milk

Medium Cost Dinner
Veal Birds with Sausage Stuffing

Banana Cream Pie

Very Special Dinner
Fruit Cup
Brown Chicken Fricassee
New Potatoes
Cauliflower au gratin
Shredded Lettuce French Dressing

Officials of the secretary of state's office refute the belief of many, that only financial stringency dictates purchase of stickers. Two common reasons which oftener explain stickers; some car owners intend to buy new cars prior to August 1st, final date for use of stickers; some firms with fleets of cars, prefer holding 50 per cent of their license money until it is actually necessary to spend it, as a matter of business principle. With most commercial firms, though, desire to prevent a false impression dictates purchase of full plates, regardless.

Improvements on Leland Harbor, Mich., estimated to cost $60,000 for new work and $1,000 annually for maintenance were recommended by Maj. Gen. Edward M. Markham, chief of army engineers. In a letter to Rep. J. J. Mansfield, chairman of the house committee on rivers and harbors, Markham said that wrecked outer portions of the old piers should be removed, and new piers 360 and 450 feet in length, be constructed converging from the shore to an entrance 50 feet wide, and the dredging of an entrance channel six feet deep and 40 feet wide be undertaken.

THEY'RE SAFE—IN AN ALL-STEEL BODY

—a feature of the big, rugged New-Value Dodge

THE first Dodge car ever built had an all-steel body. It wasn't chance . . . it wasn't "climbing on a bandwagon" that led Dodge to the safety of the all-steel body. It was progressive engineering, the urge to pioneer, to lead and not follow in vital, important automobile improvements.

These Dodge bodies have been tested and proved by owners for over 20 years, everywhere, in constant daily use. Dodge not only pioneered the all-steel body but has constantly perfected it over the years.

So, too, with hydraulic brakes. First introduced by Dodge many years ago, Dodge has constantly developed them. Today, Dodge gives you hydraulic brakes that are long past the experimental stage. For in Dodge you get perfected, dual-cylinder hydraulic brakes—safer, more dependable, more economical than other types.

Now Dodge pioneers again the "Airglide Ride", in which you speed smoothly along with new comfort, skimming over bumps without a tremor or jar, taking the curves safely, without sidesway. Another new contribution to motoring ease is "Synchromatic Control", which makes driving unbelievably easy and effortless.

You'll recognize this Dodge as a prize beauty the minute you see it. But you must drive it to see how far ahead of others it is in power and speed, comfort and economy, safety and performance.

PATTERN 1799

Anything you do with this design is smart, and you can do many things with it. Don't you like it as it is, made of a crisp, fresh little cotton? Now think of it in navy blue dotted voile with pleated net frills. Could anything be more charming? A surplice front is always one of the most becoming things a woman can wear, and the big revers make this one doubly flattering. The sleeves are as graceful as can be, and the well-proportioned points at the front and the back of the skirt do the most astonishing things for the figure when it is a bit large.

Pattern 1799 is available in sizes 34, 36, 38, 40, 42, 44 and 46. Size 36 takes 4¼ yards 36-inch fabric. Illustrated step-by-step sewing instructions included.

A new and spectacular landmark has commenced to take form at San Francisco's harbor entrance. It is the south tower of the Golden Gate bridge that, with its twin on the Marin side of the Golden Gate, will support the world's greatest suspension span. Already the first sections of tower steel, some of the units of which weigh 70 tons, have been erected and approximately 1,500 tons of fabricated material are on the loading platform on the south pier fender in readiness to be erected. Photograph shows the south tower of the Golden Gate bridge. In the distance can be seen the north tower on the Marin side.

When a truck thundered down on the lad, Mrs. O'Brien, forgetting herself, leaped out, thrust him from the path of death and was struck herself. TREMENDOUS TRIFLES

By ELMO SCOTT WATSON

SHE WROTE A BOOK

IT APPEARED first as a serial in an unimportant newspaper in the National Capital. She was paid $300 for her story of some 200,000 words—a little better than a hundredth of a cent a word. The first book publisher to whom she submitted her novel turned it down. But in March, 1852, a Boston company brought it out in two volumes. The first edition and then a second were exhausted within a month. Within six months she had received $10,000 in royalties.

By the end of the year 295,000 copies had been sold. For years it was an American "best seller" and established a record which no other novel came near touching. It has been translated into almost every language on earth. The copyright ran out long ago but it is still on the lists of more than a score of American publishers who sell about 5,000 copies annually.

A play based on the book was produced in the summer of 1853 and it ran for 77 years—that is, it was always being performed somewhere during that time, mostly by several companies. It had the "longest run" in theatrical history.

Although it is now admitted that the book was an exaggerated and distorted picture of the conditions which it portrayed, it helped bring on the greatest civil war in history which cost over $3,000,000,000 and took the lives of more than 700,000 men.

The book was "Uncle Tom's Cabin" and the woman who wrote it was Harriet Beecher Stowe.

A PINCH ON THE LEG

THEODORE ROOSEVELT wanted to be renominated for governor of New York because it was a stepping stone to the Presidency. Senator Thomas C. Platt, Republican boss of the Empire state, had other ideas. T. R. had antagonized Platt's Wall Street friends and the boss decided that the vice presidency, then regarded as the graveyard for all political ambitions, was the place for the Rough Rider.

Platt tried to make Roosevelt promise that if the New York Republican caucus indorsed him for the job, that he would not decline it. Reluctantly T. R. agreed, then added: "But I shall certainly urge them to name some one else."

At this point, Frank Platt, the boss's son, interrupted, "All right, but I'll pinch you, if I see any signs of your getting up and declining!"

In the caucus, Roosevelt did speak emphatically against his candidacy for vice president and urged that it be given no support. Then he sat down on the speaker's platform. Several of his close friends gathered about him and pleaded with him to decline. For a moment he wavered. Then young Platt pinched him on the leg and whispered, "Remember your contract with the senator!" So Roosevelt kept faith with the boss and against the advice of his friends rose and accepted the nomination.

But the joke turned out to be on Platt after all. He thought he had "shelved" Roosevelt by making him vice president. McKinley died from an assassin's bullet and T. R. went to the White House—sent there by a pinch on the leg!

CAKES AND WINE

THE tea which was "served" at the famous Boston Tea Party one December night in 1773 is commonly regarded as the most important beverage in Revolutionary war history. But something should be said for the cakes and wine which were served by Mary Lindley Murray in New York one August afternoon in 1776.

Washington had just been defeated at the Battle of Long Island and, by a masterly maneuver, had led part of his army safely across the East river. General Putnam's 4,000 Continentals were also retreating but it seemed certain that Sir William Howe's quick movement would cut them off.

So confident was Howe that when his companion, Governor Tryon, suggested they stop at the home of Robert Murray, a Quaker merchant, whose wife was a Patriot sympathizer, and banter her about the rout of her "rebel" friends, the British commander willingly agreed. Mrs. Murray and her daughters were charming. They gave Howe and Tryon and Sir Henry Clinton and Lord Cornwallis a warm welcome. The wine and cakes the women served were excellent. For two hours the British officers lingered.

During those precious two hours, Putnam and his Continentals were swiftly marching. By the time Howe took up the pursuit again, Putnam's 4,000 were safely out of reach. They joined Washington and the next day helped him fight the Battle of Harlem Heights, the only Revolutionary battle won by the Americans in what is now New York city.

A CHILD'S LAXATIVE SHOULD BE LIQUID

(Ask any doctor)

For your own comfort, and for your children's safety and future welfare, you should read this:

The bowels cannot be helped to regularity by any laxative that can't be regulated as to dose. That is why doctors use liquid laxatives.

A liquid laxative can always be taken in the right amount. You can gradually reduce the dose. Reduced dosage is the secret of real and safe relief from constipation.

The right-liquid laxative dose gives the right amount of help. When repeated, instead of more each time, you take less. Until bowels are moving regularly and thoroughly without any help at all.

The liquid laxative generally used is Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. It contains senna and cascara, natural laxatives that form no habit — even in children. Its action is gentle, but sure. It will clear up a condition of biliousness or sluggishness without upset. Every druggist has it.

EDITORIAL

FAVORS "BILL" PEARSON

The following article is tuken from the Cheboygan Observer:

"We learn through a lot of valuable sources that Bill Pearson, of Boyne Falls, former senator from the 29th district of Michigan, our district, is to be appointed by the governor as a member of the State Conservation Commission in place of Commissioner Titus, whose term of office expires April 1st. That will be good and acceptable to Cheboygan conservation minded people, because Mr. Pearson possesses a keen knowledge of conservation as learned through his varied out-of-doors experiences and his life long northern Michigan contacts, and we imagine he can give to the job an attention and an interest that will materially add to our general conservation program. We must confess that we are happy to learn that Mr. Titus, the Traverse City story writer is to be relieved of his job. Harold Titus writes a wonderfully interesting piece of fiction, and those who know him best like the man, but he brought into the conservation department some prejudiced ideas that have been very narmful, und founded simply on sentiment and not upon facts. To him can he laid the state's present beaver problems. It has become a serious problem, and we can now expect to see it corrected. To him we attribute our failure to get a drive along the shore of Lake Michigan through the Wilderness Park. He would make it virgin, but still he would allow people to drive half way through the park and then turn around and drive out the way they came in, as though that would lessen the wild life contact. He has deprived northern Michigan of this opportunity to connect up a scenic drive that could not be surpassed once it was made possible. He has been responsible for other things that have not contributed much toward the public's acceptance of conservation as it should be. With him out of the picture, we should now come to realize that we must have constructive, understanding men at the head of Michigan conservation matters instead of sentimental dreamers and fiction fanciers. What reads pretty and sweet in books and story paper don't always click with practical experience."

HINTERLAND TALES

When a sort of hectic flush mounts to the cheek of human endeavor, and when one's plans hit snags and go awry, finding more stops than starts in the course of trying to make headway, the nervous system engages in such a game of quick and aimless bring, that the truth is often difficult to find and pin down. Stories are frequently told without taking the time or going to the trouble to ascertain the facts. Some things peddled out to consumers are so obviously false that one may safely dismiss them without inquiry or investigation. By matching a story with probability one may arrive at a fairly sound conclusion and avoid looking around for corroborative evidence. Dizzy souls prone to circulate what isn't so in order to be sociable will observe the amenities of neighborhood and other relationships by taking the time to capture bottom facts if a floating rumor seems worth repeating. An irresponsible and uncertain state of mind may for ease and convenience be charged to the depression. —Wayne (Neb.) Herald.

FRIENDLY ENEMIES

It is significant that the campaign for school relief now being waged before the legislature is being guided by two men who probably will be the opposing candidates for the office of State Superintendent of Public Instruction at the spring election.

The present incumbent, Dr. Paul F. Voelker, submitted the plight of the schools to a non-partisan Educational Planning Commission; and the Commission has reported that $25,000,000 is needed in addition to the primary fund in order to grant tax relief where it is needed, and to place the poorer school districts on a satisfactory basis for service to their pupils.

The work of the planning Commission, in turn, has been powerfully influenced by the dynamic personality of Supt. M. R. Keyworth, who now heads the school system of the City of Hamtramck, but who has had a wide experience in the smaller communities of this state. In fact, it can be said that the major planks of the Voelker program are largely the products of Dr. Keyworth's fertile brain and long years of close association with Michigan's public schools. And it is likewise true that much of Dr. Voelker's apparent success in securing wide appraval for the program now before the legislature is due to the assistance of Dr. Keyworth, both as chairman of the legislative committee of the Michigan Education Association, and as a recognized leader of public thought who is as welcome in the councils of farmers' organizations as he is in Wayne county.

The school question is not a partisan question, but is a subject that requires decision on its merits. We believe Dr. Voelker has been correct in seeking bi-partisan support for his program, and that the cooperation which Dr. Keyworth has so generously rendered to his probable adversary this spring is sufficient evidence that both are being guided by motives of the very highest type.

Their joint conclusions are worthy of most careful consideration. Incidentally we are pleased to note that Governor Fitzgerald has promised just that.

ROADS AND TOURISTS

Michigan's share of the 4800 million dollar public works projects to relieve the unemployment situation has been placed at $325,000,000. Governor Fitzgerald has already ordered A. R. Clancy, chairman of the State Planning Commission, to proceed to Washington to see that we are given our share of this huge sum whenever the administration starts slicing the melon. With this fund it is expected that 150,000 unemployed workers will be given jobs. The hope has already been expressed that many of the temporary projects undertaken by the PWA last year will be discarded for a more permanent program. Because of the fact that 80 cents out of every dollar spent in concrete highway construction goes to labor it would seem that this type of relief work should head the list. More super highways for Michigan will entice more visitors here during the summer season. It is but natural that people seeking recreation will search out the lines of least resistance by riding over easy roads. Improved highways will bring thousands of new visitors to Michigan during the warm weather months.

FEED AND SEED LOANS

Congress will shortly make available to farmers in drought and storm-stricken areas the sum of $100,000,000 for feed and seed loans for the current year 1935. Loans will be limited to those who are cooperating directly with the Agricultural Adjustment Administration crop-production control program. Loans in amounts not exceeding $700 will be made to distressed farmers bearing an interest rate of five and one-half per cent. Before securing a loan the borrower must produce satisfactory evidence of his inability to borrow from other sources. First liens on growing crops and livestock chattel mortgage notes as security for loans will be acceptable to the government loan agencies. Fees in connection with these loans shall not in any case exceed the sum of $1.00, which must be paid by the Farm Credit Association. Fine and imprisonment is provided for any person found guilty of charging a fee for assisting an applicant to secure a loan.

TRAGEDY OF DIVORCE

In this melting pot of ours, where all the races of the world are thrown together into a heterologous mass, with various social custom—in some instances aurestral in character, with climatic conditions of an extreme nature, with the land poor in chemical substances in some localities and rich in others, with plains and mountainous country, with wide open spaces affording no diversities and with cities seething with intensive activity, with poverty on one hand and abundance on the other, with opportunities beckoning yet constantly shifting, it is not surprising upon reflection that our social system, so far as our marriage and divorce problems are concerned, is chaotic and to a degree carries with it an inherent tendency towards the promotion of criminal lives if not as a direct cause, at least in the encouragement of antisocial, vicious practices.—Dr. Carleton Simon in "Divorce and Its Relation to Crime."

FRIEND OF EDUCATION

Because of the fact that Governor Frank D. Fitzgerald is pledged to a program of state economy, embracing even our public school system, democratic orntors at the state convention in Detroit would make it appear that Michigan republicans are committed to a carefully laid plot of destruction and chaos in our public educational structure. Nothing could be farther from the truth. During successive republican administrations the growth and well-being of the schools was so close to party principles that the rapid extension of our school facilities often challenged our good business judgment. It took us several depression years to fully realize the necessity for economy. Much as we may dislike, continued stressing of the need of economy will be necessary until our economic storms have subsided. Mr. Average Citizen knows too well that there is a bottom to every pocketbook. Educational leaders must be brought to the same understanding. The preservation of our public schools is too sacred a thing to become a political football. Beware of those who would attempt to bring it inside that dangerous circle.

CHILD LABOR

Twenty of the thirty-six states necessary have given approval of the proposed child labor amendment to the federal constitution. Under such an amendment congress would be empowered to regulate or prohibit the labor of persons under 18 years of age. To oppose government regulation of the lives of our young people does not mean lack of vital interest in their welfares. Placing a too heavy burden on the young is an indictment against civilization. That must not be tolerated. But to grant absentee control of such far-reaching proportions is to place in the hands of bureaucracy a power unthinkable. To prevent abuse of parental authority, or to allow women and children to become serfs of greed, is the chief duty of the state. To delegate such grave responsibility, even to the most benevolent of governments, would amount to a confession that democracy has failed.

Help Kidneys

Don't Take Drastic Drugs

Your Kidneys contain 9 million tiny tubes or filters which may be endangered by neglect or drastic, irritating drugs. Be careful. If functional Kidney or Bladder disorders make you suffer from Getting Up Nights, Nervousness, Loss of Pep, Leg Pains, Rheumatic Pains, Dizziness, Circles Under Eyes, Neuralgia, Acidity, Burning, Smarting or Itching, you don't need to take chances. All druggists now have the most modern advanced treatment for these troubles—a Doctor's prescription called Cystex (Siss-Tex). Works fast—safe and sure. In 48 hours it must bring new vitality and is guaranteed to make you feel 10 years younger in one week or money back on return of empty package. COULD NOT DO HER HOUSEWORK

WHEN everything you attempt is a burden—when you are nervous and irritable—at your wit's end—try this medicine. It may be just what you need for extra energy. Mrs. Charles L. Cadmus of Trenton, New Jersey, says, "After doing just a little work I had to lie down. My mother-in-law recommended the Vegetable Compound. I can see a wonderful change now."

Pain Passes Off

When your head aches; when Neuralgia tortures you; when Muscular Pains make you miserable—take a Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pill.

Mr Smith is one of millions who have found this easy way to prompt relief. He says:—

"Before my child took Coco Cod she only weighed 80 lbs. Now, in two months' time, she weighs 105½ lbs. and she has not been ill since."

The Cod Liver Oil That Tastes Like Chocolate

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE— WITHOUT CALOMEL

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

If you feel sour and sunk and the world looks punk, don't swallow a lot of salts, mineral water, oil, laxative candy or chewing gum and expect them to make you suddenly sweet and buoyant and full of sunshine.

For they can't do it. They only move the bowels and a mere movement doesn't get at the cause. The reason for your down-and-out feeling is your liver. It should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily.

If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas bloats up your stomach. You have a thick, bad taste and your breath is foul, skin often breaks out in blemishes. Your head aches and you feel down and out. Your whole system is poisoned.

It takes those good, old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." They contain wonderful, harmless, gentle vegetable extracts, amazing when it comes to making the bile flow freely.

But don't ask for liver pills. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Look for the name Carter's Little Liver Pills on the red label. Resent a substitute. 25c at drug stores. ©1981 C. M. Co.

REPUBLICAN CANDIDATES CHOSEN

STATE CONVENTION NAMES SLATE FOR APRIL

Harmony Prevailed at Detroit As Delegates Support Administration's Selections

The Republican party of Michigan in convention Friday at Detroit, nominated Justices W. W. Potter and Nelson Sharpe to succeed themselves as members of the State Supreme Court.

The convention also nominated, without opposition, Mrs. Esther Marsh Cram, of Flint, as regent of the University of Michigan.

Former Attorney General Paul W. Voorhies presented Attorney David H. Crowley of Detroit, administration supporter, for the second regency nomination, but he met the unexpected nomination of Thomas Clancey of Ishpeming. Crowley was nominated, however.

Clancey received the unanimous support of the Upper Peninsula delegations.

On motion of Clancey the convention cast its ananimous vote for Crawley.

Former Gov. Wilbur M. Brucker presented the name of Morris R. Keyworth, Hamtramck superintendent of public instruction.

He was nominated without opposition.

Wynand Wichers, president of Hope College was named as the party's nominee to the state board of education without opposition. His name was presented by John J. Smolenski of Grand Rapids.

Clark L. Brody of Lansing and Wm. H. Berkey, of Cassopolis, were nominated to be candidates succeeding themselves as members of the state board of agriculture. There were no names entered in opposition.

Howard C. Lawrence, of Ionia and Grand Rapids was re-elected chairman of the State Central Committee without opposition. Mrs. C. L. Barbee was named vice chairman.

EARLY CHICKS NEED CAREFUL BROODING

Regulate Brooder Stoves Before the Chicks Are Put in Houses

Best profits from the laying flock means that the pullets must go in the laying house early in the fall and be mature enough to produce eggs during the period of high prices, and the early hatched chicks needed to produce such pullets must have proper brooder house temperatures.

Several types of brooder stoves are satisfactory if they are operated as recommended by their manufacturers. Coal burners are the most common in Michigan and, when used, certain precautions should be taken before fires are started. The stove itself should be placed on an ashestos pad or in a box of sand. The stove should be placed so the door can be reached and the ashes removed easily.

Brooder stoves should be fired and regulated at least 24 hours before any chicks are placed in the house. Temperature controls on the stove may be out of order, and any other troubles should be corrected before there is any chance of chilling or overheating valuable chicks.

Ideal brooder temperatures are 90 degrees Fahrenheit one inch above the floor at the edge of the hover and 70 degrees in the house outside the hover. These temperatures can be reduced as the chicks become older.

JORDAN SMELT JAMBOREE BEING PLANED

Expect to Hold 3rd Annual Event Around 16th of March

Committees are working hard on the plans for the third annual Smelt Jamboree, which will be held probably about March 16th.

The Chamber of Commerce has complete charge of the coronation and program and the Jordan River Sportsmen's Club will handle the banquet.

The C. of C. committee appointed to take charge of affairs is, Dr. E. J. Benner, chairman; Ed. Rahling, Percy Penfold, E. E. Wade and Walter Garneil. President George Beechtold and Vice-President Clarence Healey are also doing their share to help out. George Secord again has charge of the publicity end of it.

Joe Bugai heads the Sportsmen's Club committee in charge of the banquet.

It is planned to again have many outdoor notables of the state present, and that another gala day will be in store for East Jordan.

The first inquiry regarding this year's Jamboree came Tuesday from Elkhart, Ind., from a group of people who have never attended our Jamboree as yet.

The advertising stickers will be out this week.—Charlevoix County Herald.

AUTO FIGURES SHOW INTERESTING TRENDS

The year 1934 saw more than a million passenger automobiles on the highways, again, according to complete tables just compiled by the Secretary of State's office on automobile registration figures. In 1933, total passenger car registration had dropped below the million mark for the first time since 1927, when there were 999,915 cars licensed. The total for 1934 was 1,027,064; for 1933, only 956,784 were licensed. The year 1929 still marks the high tide in passenger car registrations, with 1,220,848. There were approximately 2,000 more trucks on the highways in 1931 than for the year previous; trailers jumped to the highest number in the state's history with a better than 13,000 increase over 1933's previous record of some 79,000.

MICHIGAN APPLIES FOR TOTAL 8,500 PROJECTS

More than 8,500 projects costing $1,240,038,508 have been submitted by Michigan communities to the state planning commission. Less than 1,000 more projects will be submitted, a commission inventory indicated. Proposals for street, highway and bridge construction contributed $105,925,380 to the total up to March 1st.

PROFIT MAY BE FOUND IN NEW TYPE OF BEAN

Displacing Some of White Variety Seems Advisable

Shifting some of the Michigan navy bean acreage to the production of light cranberry beans is recommended by the farm crops department at Michigan State College if the grower can obtain good seed and will take the proper precautions in harvesting his crop.

Cranberry beans have been a popular garden bean for some time and have been sold under various names. Terminal markets quote prices now on two classes, dark and light cranberry beans. The light type is more popular and sells for the best price at present.

The bean itself is somewhat longer than the common white bean and is larger. The under color is pinkish tan and there are spots or blotches of dark red. The vines grow large and spread more than ordinary white beans.

Yields of the cranberry beans have not been as large as of the Robast bean in trials at the College. Prices now are about $5.00 for cranberry beans and $2.50 for navy beans so the lighter yield is more than compensated for by the higher price. Yields of cranberry beans will average about 70 per cent of those of navy beans.

Plantings should be made as near June 1st as possible.

DISTRICT HEALTH UNIT BULLETIN

Scarlet Fever—A Disease of School Age

Scarlet fever is caused by a streptococcus that thrives in the noses and throats of persons known as carriers. This organism is present in nose and throat discharges and does not live long outside of the body. When a person acquires scarlet fever, nothing noticeable develops for a period of from two to five days. After this period of time, he may have a fever, sore-throat, frequently nausea and vomiting and within a day or two a rash, which appears on the neck and chest. When any of these latter symptoms occur, your family physician should be consulted in order to determine the seriousness of the patient.

Scarlet fever is a serious disease to acquire. About one to two per cent of all cases die of the disease. Those who do recover very frequently do not regain their full health. The organs most readily attacked by this disease are the kidneys, the heart, the glands and the sinuses and the ear. This means that scarlet fever leaves a trail far greater than is shown by the death record.

Ninety-five per cent of the cases of scarlet fever in Michigan occur in children under fifteen years of age. We can readily see, therefore, that it is a disease of school age. The incidence of this disease occurs in the late winter and early spring; again making this disease important from the standpoint of the conduct of the schools."

During 1934, 157 cases of scarlet fever were discovered and reported to the District Health Dept., composed of the counties of Antrim, Charlevoix, Emmet and Otsego. This number has been greatly reduced in comparison with 1933, when 328 cases of scarlet fever were reported to this office. Proper and adequate defense against this disease is difficult because the mildness of the infection prevents the cases from being recognized as scarlet fever.

You may obtain additional information or literature on scarlet fever or any other communicable disease by calling at the District Health Department, Charlevoix, or communicating with your county nurse, Miss A. W. Colley.

HEAVY TRAPPING FAILS HALT INCREASE WOLVES

Predators Definitely on Gain Says Conservation Department

In spite of the fact that more than 4,300 coyotes and 280 wolves were killed by state trappers during the past six years in Michigan, both species of predators were reported to be increasing rapidly in the upper peninsula when the trapper system was discontinued December 1st, according to the Department of Conservation.

The kill of 1934, records show, was greatly in excess of that of any previous year. Figures for the past six years as tabulated by the Division of Field Administration, are as follows.

Wolves killed: 1929, 37; 1930, 47; 1931, 59; 1932, 60; 1933, 30; 1934, 53, total 286. Coyotes killed; 1929, 602; 1930, 665; 1931, 561; 1932, 411; 1933, 638; 1934, 1029, total 4306.

TRAVERSE BOOSTER FUND TO AID REGION

Will Use $25,000 for Highway and Resort Promotion

The entire Grand Traverse region will profit by the $25,000 activities fund recently raised by the Traverse City Chamber of Commerce as the program of events which will be financed from this fund is designed to attract tourists and resorters to all of Northwestern Michigan.

Much of the money will be spent on the promotion of state highways leading into and through this part of Michigan, both in an effort to secure additional trank lines and also in improving those already established.

Another portion of the fund will be spent on publicity and advertising for Traverse City and the surrounding counties and in exploiting the various summer lures and attractions to be found throughout this portion of the state.

The fund was subscribed entirely by Traverse City business men.

OUTSTATE DRIVERS SHOULD GET PLATES

All Adjoining States Have Not Recognized Michigan Sticker

Orville E. Atwood, secretary of state, has advised car owners expecting to drive outside the state, to equip their cars with full year 1935 plates, if possible, rather than merely with stickers.

While all states have been advised of Michigan's sticker system, in states requiring only rear plates, police officers are attracted only to the rears of passing cars. The sight of a 1934 plate there, has already resulted in some Michigan drivers being stopped until the stickers on the front windshields may be inspected. In any state, delay, loss of time and inconvenience may result from the use of a 1934 plate. Atwood had previously warned drivers against taking their cars out of the state, with neither new plates or stickers, during the current extension until midnight March 14th, for old plates.

NORTHPORT COPS REGIONAL TITLE

PETOSKEY WIN B AND PELLSTON CLASS D CROWN

Charlevoix Eliminated by Northport in Regional Semi-Finals 26 to 23 Last Friday Night

Northern Michigan will be represented in the state basketball title race by Petoskey in class B, Northport in class C and Pellston in class D as the result of victories by these schools at the regional tournament which closed Saturday at Petoskey.

Petoskey, the Big Six champions, defeated Manistee 23 to 16, Northport trounced Gaylord by a 32 to 20 count, while Pellston nosed out the narrowest of victories over Onekema, the 1934 regional champions, by a 20 to 19 score.

All of the favored district champions with the exception of Charlevoix ran true to form in winning at the regional. Charlevoix was eliminated in the semi-finals Friday night by the crack Northport team in the fastest and closest-fought contest of the Petoskey tournament.

Charlevoix Erratic

Northport's superiority over Charlevoix was in marksmanship. Trailing until the final period, they staged a courageous rally to emerge the victor. From a standpoint of floor play, Charlevoix ran circles around the Leelanau team only to see their shots rim the hoop not only from the field, but inumerable times from the foal line. An observer counted 23 misses on field shots and the records show the Kipmen muffed 9 opportunities on gift shots.

Charlevoix maintained a winning margin until the fourth quarter. They led 8 and 6 at the quarter, 14 and 19 at the half and 20 to 18 at the third intermission. In the final session Dechow's score tied the count and followed with another to lend 22-20. Foats sank a free throw and Craker a goal to put Northport ahead 25 to 20. Pearl scored a gift shot for Charlevoix and Boarisseau one for Northport. Carey's goal brought the count 26 to 23 as the game ended.

Score by quarters:

Charlevoix gained the semi-finals by winning 22 to 7 from Rogers City in a first round game.

The basketball activity in Charlevoix will be brought to a close with the annual inter-class tournament which will be held in the near future.

CRIBBAGE BANQUET EVENT OF MONDAY

Captains Chosen for 1935-36 Series and Prizes Awarded

The annual cribbage dinner, given by the Odd Fellows for the victorious Masons at the close of the winter series, was an enjoyable event Monday evening at the I. O. O. F. hall. The excellent dinner was served by members of the Rebekahs.

Plans for the 1935-36 series occupied a part of the evening and resulted in the choosing of Milo Todd as Odd Fellow captain to succeed John Geer, and Ray Ashdon as the Masonic captain succeeding Will Bellinger. S. O. Sorensen was retained as secretary-treasurer of the club. Next winter's series will be ten games instead of eight as in previous years. Milton Block and Edward Goldstick were chosen to promote interest in the next series.

Fred Bergman, acting as master of ceremonies, presented prizes to the high and low scorers of both lodges during the series just closed. Awards for high score were presented Inge Geer of the Masons and Floyd W. Ikens of the Odd Fellows. Awards for low went to Elliot Lewis and Fred Gill.

ANNOUNCEMENT!

To the Voters of the City of Charlevoix:

In announcing my candidacy for the office of mayor of Charlevoix at the general election April 1, on the Democratic ticket, I desire to take this opportunity of refuting reports in circulation that I do not care for the office and, if elected will not give the position the time and consideration necessary.

Unless my purposes and intentions were not sincere, I assure you my name would not be on the ballot. I place my candidacy before you on the merits of my experience as an alderman, my activity in all civic affairs in the past, and a positive promise that I am under no political obligations and am not seeking the office for any purpose other than the best interests of Charlevoix citizens as a whole.

Your consideration is solicited and will be greatly appreciated.

JOSEPH M. FOSTER.

Some folks enjoy an outing of any sort; but others are a bit more selective. We refer to the group who find sport in weekly journeys to Big Sand Bay. It seems that due to some quirk of fate, their jaunt is intercepted in the neighborhood of Little Sand Bay. Neighbors in the vicinity were roused by strange sounds permeating the stillness of a certain Friday evening recently. Upon investigation we determined the origin of the commotion. It seems that while traveling at a moderate rate of speed, the front left wheel of Ford No. 1 detached itself and plunged into the lake. Ford No. 2, with other members of the party, set out in quest of the missing wheel. However, Fords do not take kindly to the water and this one was hardly an exception, so it became imbedded in the lake and the combined efforts of four of our town "huskies" were to no avail. What was accomplished by the four who remained on the spot, while the others summoned the Coast Guards, will make history. Their axes resounded through the forest some whispered: "Are they blazing a trail?" No: They were building a fire which illuminated the country for miles around. While it is not generally known, we are in a position to say that their refreshments had a most exhilarating effect. Luckily, all turned out well, and with the exception of the feminine element, the experience was thoroughly to the liking of all. This does not entirely cover the story, but we can't just go on and on.

This is the time of year when tires must be depended upon to hold your car in the road. With the sun getting stronger each day, melting the snows and leaving the roads wet and slippery, tires must be the kind that can be counted on to hold your car in the road. Then, too this is the time of year when the weather is constantly changing—from a thaw the thermometer suddenly goes to below freezing, or from freezing to a thaw, in either case rending the road wet and slippery or icy and slippery.

Because of undependable road conditions you should have your car equipped with tires that will meet either of these conditions. The deep, heavy tread of FIRESTONE gives you this dependability and protection that you need at this time of year. The tread on FIRESTONE tires is built to meet the changing condition of road surfaces. No matter what the road surface is like, FIRESTONE holds your car according to the dictates of your "wheel." Perhaps the tires on your car were driven all last summer and this winter. If so, in all probability they need replacing now. Then may be suggest that you try a set of FIRESTONES. You'll find them to be of superior quality, made of the best possible materials and with only the finest workmanship. They'll give you plenty of good reliable service and that is what every motorist expects.

Drive in to the dealer listed below. Ask to have your tires examined. He will be glad to check them over and give you a reliable report of their condition.

Many Cape-Suits, Many Cape-Coats

By CHERIE NICHOLAS

PREFIX the word cape to suit, coat or ensemble and you will be speaking in terms of smartest fashion. A tremendous vogue is predicted for the perfectly stunning cape-suits, cape-coats and cape-ensembles which are so dramatically lending their fashionable presence to the spring style panorama.

The three models pictured were shown at the fashion revue recently presented by the Chicago wholesale market council. Seeing that they speak louder than words as to the new spring fashion trends, we are passing them on to you via illustration.

This trio of smart modes is style-revealing from any number of viewpoints. Firstly the group bespeaks the versatility of the new caped costumes—a coat to the left, one of the very new waistcoat effects in the center, a simple, youthful two-piece suit to the right, each of which is styled with a cape.

A most interesting feature in regard to the tailored suit on the figure seated is the narrow skirt which exploits a slit headline, a detail which is considered tres chic for street wear. But wait until we tell you of the breath-taking color scheme of this charming tailleur! The cloth of which it is made is in the new blue called "delphinium," handsomely trimmed with a wide bordering of choice fox fur, and here is the big part of the story. It is dyed in a harmonizing darker blue "tropez"—a perfect symphony in blue even to the girlish off-the-face hat, the brim of which is smartly lifted at the edge. Fur dyed in exotic colors to match the materials it trims is one of the thrilling adventures which fashion is making this season.

Of more than passing interest, too, is the pointed turnover collar on the jacket which gives a decidedly youthful aspect to the neckline. The graceful fur-bordered cape has likewise gone pointed at the back to below the waistline in compliment to the collar.

In regard to the model centered in the group, the handsome moire brocade which fashions it is one of the interesting novelty weaves which emphasizes the fact that fabrics were never more varied and fascinating than they are for the new season. It is also said that we are entering into an era of color the likes of which we have not known for years and the green-gold tone of the moire brocade for the caped waistcoat together with the beige of the skirt goes a far way to verify the statement. This compose of two striking colors also confirms reports that during combinations distinguish the majority of costumes this season. Note the rope braidings of self-fabric which collar the throat and girdle the waist, which is a trend in current fashion that is chic to the 'nth degree.

Contrasting the color-glory of the cape-suits shown, enter the handsome topcoat of black cloth to the left in the illustration. It is an aristocrat among spring coats, the sort in which best dressed women find appeal. The wide banding of superb silver fox adds greatly to its distinction. The cape lits snugly which is a noteworthy detail to keep in mind, as it is in keeping with the prevailing vogue. It is also well to remember when selecting your new spring coat that silver fox is one of the very smart first-choice furs this season.

WHO REMEMBERS THOSE LONG AGO ASAFETIDA BAGS?

Webster's dictionary defines asafetida as a "feled gum resin of various Persian and East Indian apiaceous plants. It is used as a medicine, and it has a strong odor and taste of garlic."

Mr. Webster is kind in his definition, as anyone who ever has worn one of the oldtime asafetida bags, so common to the last generation, will testify.

Scarcely 25 years ago, before children were reared on "bottled sunshine," sun lamps, violet rays and other modern scientific devices, asafetida bags were as much a part of rural school equipment as the copybook and speller. In fact, they were more quickly recognized when the wearer entered those hot, steaming one-room schools on a mid January morning.

It always seemed that one of the tragedies of life was the fact that the prettiest girl in the room wore an asafetida bag. It made her a marked person, and only a strong personality undoubtedly kept her from developing an inferiority complex. With the arrival of spring each year she was saved, as a diet of "yarbs" and sassafras tea replaced the obnoxious bag she wore around her throat.

The agonies she must have endured in her mother's quest for health are unimaginable, and, indeed, her own children now owe science an undying vote of thanks for discoveries which eliminated the use of asafetida, at least in its most obtrusive form.

Possibly the one thing lacking in these modern air-conditioned schoolrooms, where germs and disease are banned, is the old familiar smell of asafetida "which has a strong odor and taste of garlic." Granting that the scientific inventions of today are applied successfully with less wear and tear on the human body and disposition than the methods used in the last generation, yet may it not be that something of sentiment still lingers in the memories associated with its old uses?

Perhaps it is not too remote a suggestion that when the modern mother applies the "bottled sunshine" to Junior and Mary she sighs and possibly wishes for a return to those good old days when she wore an asafetida bag.—Boston Herald.

DARK ACCENTS

IN CHERIE NICHOLAS

With the pastel costume, dark accessories are considered good style. The outfit pictured shows what can be done with this theme. A cloth frock in a subtle soft pastel green is artfully contrasted with a scarf of plaided taffeta in rich deep green and golden yellow. Note the mulish calf bag which perfects the color scheme in that its dark green calfskin is enhanced with a diamond cut-out bar of gold finished metal. Or if you prefer to think of this costume in tones of blue the gown of pale blue would call for the scarf in navy and a lighter blue taffeta with thin white lines in its plaided design. The calf bag of course would be in navy. Which reminds us that the widespread flair for navy extends to footwear and that all the leading hosteries are making a big display of navy blue shoes.

SPRING FASHIONS ARE INTERESTING

Rare color combinations, unique types and arrangements of trimmings, and tricky fabrics are doing their best to attract women's attention to the new spring fashions. The alliance of tomato red and chartreuse is one of the most arresting of the colors that you'll see but no more impressive than the use of red and yellow. A woolen jacket costume of a porous, honeycomb woolen appears in the chartreuse shade but adds a stomacher of the tomato colored crepe.

One evidence of the discard of the red and yellow rule is a yellow knitted frock trimmed with bright red buttons. These buttons fasten the shirtwaist front, the composition of which they are made being duplicated on the red leather belt. A silk scarf that is striped with alternating bands of the two colors is tied carelessly around the neck.

Brown Woolly Tweed Now Combined With Taffeta

Tweed and taffeta meet today on a common footing. Marcelle Dormoy combines them in a coat adequately named "Riviera" in a brown woolly tweed with a scarf collar-tie in solid brown taffeta.

The coat is three-quarters, flaps open in front from where the taffeta makes a crisp bow near the throat. It has that wide back flare that is so good now, and the sleeves are rather baggy but close in around the wrists.

Jenny contributes a smart redingote in black faille worn over a dress in white silk pique.

Chamois Colored Shoes

Smartest among the new sports shoes now being shown for resort wear are chamois color, trimmed with brown, with black or white. They can be worn with all light clothes.

LEGION ACTIVITIES
By F. V. Tyler

We hear that the project for the improvement of the Legion Home building has been okayed and work should start shortly. This will mean developments in the basement of the building that should make for more room and greater efficiency in the handling of banquets and social affairs. The kitchen, for one thing, will be moved downstairs. Also, the installation of a shooting gallery is likely.

Contract was signed by the post this week with the John B. Rodgers Producing Company for a pageant, depicting in several episodes the history of Charlevoix, which is to be the principal feature of the Charlevoix combined Fourth of July celebration and homecoming this year. This pageant will probably be staged on the south field and will occupy a stage some 200 feet in length. All three towns in the county will cooperate in this pageant and the cast will be drawn from their citizens. As much as possible, the descendants of those persons who figured in the early history of this region will be given parts in the production representing such personages. There will be work for everybody on committees of one sort or another. There will be three performances under the direction of an able supervisor furnished by the Rogers Company and if those selected for the work give their best to it, this should be the outstanding event in Charlevoix for many years.

Contact has been made with Charlevoix people in the southern part of the state with regard to the homecoming and it is likely that we will receive 100 per cent co-operation from them, judging from the way the proposal has been received by them.

TIME SALES OF CARS SHOWING IMPROVEMENT

Percentage of time or contract sales of passenger automobiles throughout the state, is rapidly creeping up on cash sales, records of the Department of State show. Contrary to the general belief, when the percentage of time sales shows a gain, more cars are being sold, records show. This is because, in times of stress, most of the cars sold are to those able to pay cash; as men return to work, they buy cars, generally on a contract basis, automobile dealers' experience shows.

MICHIGAN POPULAR WITH VACATIONISTS

Conoco Travel Bureau Reports Tourists Spent $3,463,776 in State

The popularity of Michigan as a Mecca for automobile vacationists from all parts of the country is indicated by a report just released by the Conoco Travel Bureau, a branch of Continental Oil Company and America's largest free travel service. According to the report 84,189 Travel Bureau tourists post more than $3,463,776 in this state last year.

It was also revealed that motor travel throughout the entire United States was unusually heavy during 1934. Hotels, tourist camps, restaurants and many other types of business took in more money from tourists than during any other year since 1929. The Bureau supplied detailed trip services to 969,485 vacationists, a figure 41 per cent greater than the organization's total for 1933. Statistics also show that Travel Bureau tourists spent in excess of 40 million dollars while they were away from home.

The Conoco Travel Bureau is an organization maintained by Continental to provide motorists with up-to-date information on North American roads, routes, hotels, cottage camps, scenic and historical attractions plus any other data likely to make vacation trips pleasant and profitable. More than 400 carefully trained men and women are employed in the Bureau's central offices at Denver, Conoco's 22,000 service stations act as field branches. It is predicted that one and one-half million vacationists will rely on Travel Bureau assistance during 1935.

OPEN TRAPPING SEASON BEAVER THIS SPRING

Lower Peninsula Season Extends from March 17 to 31

The conservation commission has declared on open spring season on beaver in both the upper and lower peninsulas in an effort to improve trout streams.

In the upper peninsula the open season will extend from April 1 to 15, and in the lower peninsula, north of townline 16 and in Mecosta, Montcalm and Newaygo counties, the open season will extend from March 17 to 31, inclusive.

The commission designated Elk lake in Antrim and Grand Traverse counties and Torch lake in Antrim and Kalkaska counties, as pike lake fishing grounds.

FIRE WARDENS WILL GO ON DUTY ABOUT APRIL 1

Michigan's 1935 fire force, consisting of approximately 135 towermen and 135 fire wardens, will go on duty in the forest fire zone of the state between April 1st and April 15th. The men were selected by competitive civil-service examinations conducted at the respective district Conservation headquarters offices in the fire zone of the state during February.

CONSERVATION DEPT. NOTES

Otter are reported increasing in most of the northern parts of the state, according to the Department of Conservation. Some complaints of damage to trout due to otter have been received from the northern part of the lower peninsula.

Wayne county may have the largest population, but to Roscommon county in the north central part of the lower peninsula goes the honor of having the greatest percentage of sportsmen in Michigan.

Of the 83 counties in the state Roscommon ranks high in the proportion of hunters and fishermen who purchased licenses, to the population. Wayne county is lowest.

Isle Royale has been called by some scientists "The riddle of the north" and the "land of 10,000 Indian mines," according to the Department of Conservation. Copper was mined by prehistoric aborigines on Isle Royale and many traces of their operations are to be found today.

More than a quarter-million pounds of noxious fish were removed from game-fishing waters under Michigan's jurisdiction during 1934, records of the Fisheries Division, Department of Conservation show.

Manistee coast guardsmen were called out on two occasions recently to rescue deer driven into the water by dogs. Ice barriers in both cases kept the deer from finding an avenue of escape until guided by the coast-guardsmen.

POOR FEEDS CAUSE PARALYSIS OF EWES

More Hay and Grain and Less Roughage Prevent Trouble

Reports of cases of paralysis of sheep in Michigan reported to the animal husbandry department at Michigan State College have been found to be caused by improper rations used because feed supplies have been scarce.

Some flocks have lost one-fourth of their members, and only a few animals have been affected on other farms. No cure is known for the trouble after it appears but changes in the ration will prevent its occurrence. Flocks which have been affected should be given different feed.

Legume roughages or other forage rich in calcium will prevent the trouble if included in the winter rations. Ewes fed bean pods, straw, or timothy hay may be affected by the paralysis unless some grain is included in the ration.

Do You Hate To Meet People?

SOME OF US ARE SO BASHFUL that whenever a new face appears before us we mentally duck away! Maybe it isn't shyness so much as simply not realizing how very interesting new acquaintances can be.

Some people are shy about new foods too. One family we know has had pork and beans every Saturday night for ten years, and they see no reason for changing!

How much more interesting life—and dinner!—would be for that family with a new kind of meat, a vegetable prepared some other way, a new style in dessert. New foods—new faces—brighten our days and help make living an exciting game.

Look through the advertisements in this newspaper today for new ideas in foods. They're here, in abundance . . . recipes, tried and tested . . . favorite platters of favorite people . . . exotic dishes from exotic lands.

The advertisements bring you up-to-the-minute news of many things. Read them regularly. Form the habit of getting the most out of life—and the most for your money.

This is the season for roof fires, Chief Chas. Marshall has pointed out. With furnaces still going and sunshine drying out the roofs an epidemic of shingle fires is almost certain the chief stated. Friday morning's sunrise sky was filled with an unusual light and unusual things noticed by many local early risers. When the sun came up it brought with it a pair of very noticeable sun dogs, one on each side. At the same time a rainbow appeared over the northern horizon, very distinct to those who witnessed the sunrise. To old weather prophets these phenomena probably have some weather significance.

PEARSON IS SLATED FOR STATE POSITION

Governor Fitzgerald Says He Will Make Appointment April 1

Governor Fitzgerald last Thursday informed a delegation representing Traverse City women's clubs that he will appoint former State Senator William Pearson, of Boyne Falls, to the conservation commission to succeed Unrold H. Titus, of Traverse City.

The delegation, headed by Mrs. Leon Baker of the Friendly Garden clubs, opposed the appointment of Pearson and urged the governor in a conference to re-appoint Titus in recognition "of his outstanding work for Michigan conservation."

The governor said, "I am above board on this proposition, and I feel it is only fair to tell you now that I will appoint former Senator Pearson April 1. While I recognize the fine work of Mr. Titus, I also recognize that Mr. Pearson fathered much of the present conservation policy and he is a true woodsman."

Mr. Pearson is one of the best known and most popular political figures in this district. Born in London, Canada, on May 10, 1860, he came to Charlevoix county when he was 24 years old and taught school for three years.

He has always been interested in farming and lumbering and had potato warehouses at Boyne Falls.

Mr. Pearson served four years as sheriff and four years as register of of deeds in Charlevoix county. During the 1909 and 1911 sessions of the state legislature Mr. Pearson was representative from Charlevoix county. In 1922 he was elected state senator from this district over George W. McCabe.

CHILDREN'S CLINIC SOUGHT FOR NORTH

Would Erect Children's Clinic at Traverse City State Hospital

Sen. Felix H. H. Flynn, R., Cadillac, Tuesday revealed plans for erection of a $75,000 Children's Clinic building on the grounds of the state hospital at Traverse City.

His announcement came when he introduced a measure in the senate which will authorize the state hospital commission to lease ground and enter into contracts with the Children's Clinic for power, heat, food and other facilities.

The clinic, according to Sen. Flynn, will be provided under the fund set up by Sen. James Couzens several years ago. It will be erected for the Children's Fund of Michigan on the grounds of the Traverse City state hospital and adjacent to and connected with the Munson hospital.

The clinic which is to be established will be the first in the northern part of the lower peninsula, he said, and will handle cases from the Muskegon-Bay City line north to the Straits.

It is planned to bring to the clinic specialists in children's diseases and also to create a post-graduate teaching center in conjunction with the University of Michigan Medical school. They would construct a small building at their own expense. The out-patient work would be carried on at Traverse City.

The high peak of railroad mileage in the U. S. was 254,251 miles in 1916, or 6,656 more than exists today.

DODGE ECONOMY BRINGS ORDER FROM SOUTH POLE

Byrd Expedition Operator Intercepts Broadcast . . . Sends World's Longest-Distance Order 9,000 Miles To Detroit

EVERYWHERE motorists are switching to the economy of the big, powerful, New-Value Dodge. But imagine the surprise when this radio message, from far-off Little America, reached the Dodge factory, from Radio Operator Clay Bailey, aboard Admiral Byrd's flagship. Mr. Bailey wirelessed:

"Picked up radio description last night of new Dodge that does twenty and more miles per gallon of gas. You can place my order now. Please have Coupe awaiting me Boston on our return to States. You can take in and sell my old Dodge now. It was a damned good car. After months of roughing it in this sea and ice that new 'Aniglide Ride' will certainly feel swell. Dodge has always been the finest riding and driving and most economical car I have ever driven—and I've handled 'em all." (Signed) Clay Bailey, Radioman U. S. N.

Right back flashed the Dodge answer to the returning explorer: "Will have new Dodge awaiting you."

Throughout big America, too, the sales response to this new Dodge is the most sensational in history. Never before has any car, so low-priced, given such clear-cut supremacy in dollar-for-dollar value. And remember, with all his 95 basic advancements, the big, New-Value Dodge delivers for just a few dollars more than lowest-priced cars.

Slip That Assures Perfect Frock Fit

PATTERN 2099

An axiom for ice grooming when every well-dressed woman knows by heart is that no frock can fit any better than the slip that's worn beneath it. That's why it is so important to have an abundance of trim slips in your wardrobe. As you see by the illustration, this model wraps around at the back, and can be perfectly adjusted to the figure by the belt which fastens in front. Result: no lumpiness or wrinkles to spoil the lines of your smartest frocks! And the fact that the back skirt is double makes the slip shadow-proof and long-wearing as well! Washable silk crepe or sateen or one of the lubbable rayon materials would make up well in this design.

Pattern 2099 is available in sizes 34, 36, 38, 40, 42, 44 and 46. Size 36 takes 3¼ yards 39 inch fabric. Illustrated step-by-step sewing instructions included.

Send FIFTEEN CENTS (15c) in coins or stamps (coins preferred) for this pattern. Write plainly name, address and style number. BE SURE TO STATE SIZE.

Address orders to Sewing Circle Pattern Department, 243 West Seventeenth street, New York City.

Mussolini Shouts Defiance at Europe

1.—Italian reservists answer call to colors. 2.—Narcotics valued at $15,000 were seized and nine Chinamen arrested in a raid by narcotic agents at San Rafael, Calif. 3.—John Edward Bradley of Altadena, Calif., announced by President Roosevelt as winner of the Mount Rushmore Memorial inscription competition.

Huge Army Now Ready, Says Il Duce

Eight Million Men Can Be Put in Field

Premier Mussolini hurled defiance at Italy's foes with the announcement that he could place 8,000,000 under arms, and chancelleries of Europe were thrown into a furore.

War preparations have been going forward steadily, with conscripts arriving at mobilization centers as shown above. Five thousand men have already left for Italian Somaliland where trouble threatens with Ethiopia.

Mussolini's statement was seen as a warning to Germany that although a force might be engaged in the Ethiopian border dispute, Italy was prepared to brook no Nazi interference with Austria. European newspapers have freely predicted trouble between the reich and Italy, and some have thought that Hitler might be planning to take advantage of the dispatch of Italian troops to Africa to attack Italy in the belief that its defenses were thus weakened.

The signed communique stated: "However, it must be remembered that by virtue of recent laws Italy can mobilize thirty-seven classes, numbering eight million men, between the ages of eighteen and fifty-five."

His brusk communique was issued as the transport Leonardo Da Vinci headed additional troops from the Pehritan division at Messina, Sicily. The Leonardo Da Vinci, delayed by bad weather at Messina, sailed for east Africa at night with 116 officers, 1,200 infantry and artillery troops, and 380 skilled workmen. Loading of materials on the Aralda was begun at Naples. The supply ship sailed the following day.

Mussolini said the modernized, military organizations of Fascist Italy can rush thirty-seven classes into uniform should war come. Intensive recruiting is provided for in new Fascist law involving military training for all citizens between the ages of eighteen and fifty-five. While troops are being sent forward from Italy, prospects of future trouble was somewhat lessened, observers claimed, after Sir John Simon, British foreign secretary, declared to the house of commons that Italy was still bound by treaty to respect the territorial rights of Ethiopia. He said that all the trouble was caused over indefinite boundaries.

Wins Prize in Rushmore Competition

Writes Text for Huge Monument

John Edward Bradley, Altadena, Calif., who won the prize for the best inscription to be placed on the Mount Rushmore National Memorial, is shown above. The heroic Black Hills monument to four immortal Presidents will be completed in 1937, according to A. E. Demaray, associate director of national parks.

Last year the sculptor, Gutzon Borglum, put finishing touches on the majestic countenance of George Washington, and completed that of Thomas Jefferson, author of the Declaration of Independence.

On passage of an interior department bill now pending, congress will have appropriated $245,000 of the $250,000 authorized. Meanwhile private contributors have donated only $145,000 of the $250,000 expected from them.

PIG TO PORK BARRELS

On a brisk October day in 1637 a pig belonging to Mrs. Sherman, a good wife of Boston, wandered into the garden of a wealthy and wrathy gentleman named Capt. Robert Keayne, who killed the wandering porker. Mrs. Sherman sued him for damages and lost—in a gentleman's court. She had done a lot of talking, so Keayne sued her for defamation of character. He won again—also in a gentleman's court.

Then there was a turmoil. Boston rocked with indignation—that part of it composed of the common people. They were in the majority, but very much in the minority, so far as their part of the government of the colony was concerned.

The case was carried to the legislative assembly then known as "The Great and General Court." It was composed of the governor, magistrates and deputies from the several towns but the magistrates, who were gentlemen, although outnumbered, held the balance of power. No wonder, when they had made a rule which said that no act should pass unless approved by the majority of magistrates!

Mrs. Sherman's pig became the symbol of fair play and equal representation for the common people. The controversy raged for seven years. The upshot of it was that, instead of having a single legislative body controlled by a select group as the magistrates desired—or by a majority vote of all, as the deputies desired—Massachusetts got an assembly of two co-ordinate branches. Thus was instituted the system of checks and balances in government which was later incorporated in the provisions for our national congress and in virtually every legislature in the land.

So Mrs. Sherman's martyred pig, after a century and a half, found an appropriate sepulcher—in a branch of government often noted for "pork barrel" legislation!

SODA JERK

Once it was an apothecary's shop; then it became a pharmacy; then a drug store. Now it's a place where you can buy anything from a postage stamp to a "New England Boiled Dinner." It all came about through this chain of events:

Rev. Joseph Priestly's chapel in Leeds, England, was near a brewery. Rev. Priestly was a dabbler in chemistry and he experimented in utilizing the gas that came from the brewery vats. This led to his devising a method for impregnating water with incombustible gas, then called "fixed air." When he moved to Birmingham he became very unpopular as a republican in politics, a non-conformist in religion and a chemist who mixed up strange brews. A mob burned his house and laboratory so he sought refuge in Northumberland, Pa., where he continued his experiments.

They interested a Philadelphia physician, Dr. Philip Syng Physick, and he prevailed upon Townsend Speakman, a druggist, to prepare some carbonated water for his patients. When the patients rebelled at drinking it, Speakman said: "I'll just add some fruit juice to make it taste better."

He did, and there and then—1807—the soda water business was born. Other druggists followed Speakman's lead. More and more people began to enjoy the new beverage. So the soda fountain became a great American institution at which millions of dollars are spent every year. It altered the apothecary's shop from a pill emporium to a meeting place for a drink which cheers but does not inebriate.

WINDOW WITH A VIEW

Stop in West Liberty, Ohio, and they'll tell you to be sure to see Donn Piatt's castle, a turreted mansion which that soldier, editor and master of epigrams and epithets built at a cost of $80,000. Visit this castle and they'll take you to a little room, eight feet square. In one of the towers and tell you this story:

James Whitcomb Riley was a close friend of Piatt's and a frequent visitor to the castle. One autumn morning the Hoosier poet stood in this little room and looked out the window. Before him unrolled the panorama of the fertile fields and gently-sloping hills of Logan county. Now it was covered with a blanket of frost shining in the morning sun. From the barnyard down below there came up to his ears a medley of sounds—the gobbling of a turkey, the crowing of a rooster, the clucking of a hen.

For a moment Riley stood absorbed in the scene, then turned, seized a pencil and began to write. What he wrote is today one of the best-loved poems in American literature. It begins:

"When the frost is on the pumpkin and the fodder's in the shock
And we hear the kyouck and gobble of the strutlin' turkey cock."

SCIENTIFIC WONDER

Heat into sound is an amazing transformation accomplished by scientists. The warmth of a hand held near the device makes it emit a low growl; lighting a match a few feet away draws a snarl for an answer. The invention can be adjusted so that it is sensitive to a burning match 40 or 50 feet away.

Constipated?

The doctors say . . . Use liquid treatment

Here is the soundest advice anyone can give on the subject of laxatives. It is based on medical opinion. We want you to have the benefit of this information no matter what laxative you may buy:

The secret of real relief from constipation is reduced dosage. You can't regulate the bowels unless you can regulate the help you give them. That is why doctors use a liquid laxative; the dose can be measured to a drop.

Avoid laxatives that you can't cut down in dosage; especially those that seem to require larger doses than when you began their use.

Under the doctor's care, you usually get a liquid laxative. The right liquid laxative gives the right kind of help, and the right amount of help. Smaller and smaller doses—until you don't need any.

The liquid laxative generally used is Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. It contains senna and cascara—natural laxatives that form no habit.

LOGIC

Logic applied to many problems of the merchant fails to solve them, for logical reasoning is often faced with a mass of evidence which will break the grip of the most powerful mind, leaving the man doubtful and unable to act.—Philip Cabot.

American railroad employes now total 970,893, as against 2,022,832 in 1920.

FEDERAL POWER SALES

Before the administration goes further in its proposal to eliminate holding companies it needs to look after its own pet holding company: The Tennessee valley authority, incorporated in Delaware to operate in Tennessee and adjoining states.

The United States district court has ruled that TVA has no legal authority to sell surplus power at retail. Several Alabama cities were trying to get loans from the public works administration to build distributing systems that would be connected with the hydroelectric plants on the Tennessee river. The TVA was established under the powers of the federal government to provide for national defense and conserve natural resources. The project supposedly involved forestation, flood control, prevention of soil erosion and the manufacture of fertilizer and nitrates. The power necessary to carry out this program was to be furnished by Muscle Shoals dam and other dams to be constructed. Extra power presumably could be sold at wholesale to existing utility companies for retailing by them. It was thought that the low cost of creating this hydroelectric power would result in lower rates and thus attract industries to the Tennessee valley district.

Efforts of the Tennessee authority to sell power directly to the consumer, however, suggest that the defense and conservation basis of the project is secondary with established utilities. In the district court decision which has called a halt pending appeal, the judge commented: "I have never been able to see that the United States had any right to go into a retail business."

Just why the government should spend the taxpayers' money in a scheme to lower electric rates in a particular district has never been clear. Especially is it obscure since the president of a privately owned utility company in the Tennessee district has declared that his firm would match any rates the TVA might offer if given the same concessions accorded the federal company: (1) A very low tax rate, (2) special freight rates, (3) the privilege of writing down the cost of dams and (4) the free use of the mails.

The district court's decision probably will be carried to the supreme court. The case will be more important to the average citizen, especially to the millions who work for or have invested in utility companies, than the gold clause cases.—Grand Rapids Press.

Eight cents of every dollar of their earnings are set aside each year by U. S. railroads to pay their tax bill.

TEACHERS ARE LOYAL

Due to a crusade being carried on by a great newspaper chain, which has the earmarks of a circulation campaign, the nation is being frightened into believing that wholesale teaching of Communism is being carried on in our schools. We should not be so easily deceived. It may be true that in the dense centers of population Communist propaganda has appeared in the public schools, but out in the rural section of the nation there is but little cause for alarm.

It is easy enough to start a story along Main street that the head of the local school is encouraging, if not actually assisting in this un-American practice, but follow that story to its natural conclusion and in almost every instance its falseness and cruelty will be proven. The men and women in charge of the schools out in these sections are among our most patriotic citizens and to deliberately charge them with subversion of their oath of loyality is most unfair. The American school is one of the great bulkwarks of human liberty; to destroy the faith of the people in those who are engaged in teaching the young would be an irreparable mistake. With such faith destroyed chaos is near.

The tax bill of America's railroads runs above $1,000,000 every day of the year

NOT AN EASY TASK

The many bills relating to taxation that have been introduced in the legislature reveal the alertness of the people generally to the importance of this problem. Where he formerly complained about the tax burden from habit, the taxpayer is examining the problem from the point of view not only of reducing taxes but of adjusting the tax machinery so that there will result a more equitable distribution.

There is no longer any argument that changes in the tax system are needed to lift the heavy burden borne by the farmer, home owner, storekeeper and small industry, and to place a fairer share of it upon other groups of citizens, many of whom, although best able to pay, have with the possible exception of the sales tax escaped direct taxation. The real question concerns how this is to be done.

Taxation is a complicated subject. It is no new phenomenon that those with the widest experience in tax matters and the most comprehensive knowledge of the subject frankly admit they do not know which is the best system to adopt, while those with limited experience and more superficial knowledge are sure they know exactly what is wrong and what should be done about it.

In view of the complexity of the problem the average citizen needs to rid his mind of the idea that some simple formula will solve all the taxation ills that burden and badger the taxpayer. And in view of Governor Fitzgerald's "no new tax" program let the legislature step carefully, too.

Organizations that work for the common good are rarely without appreciation in any community.

NO NEW TAXES!

Governor Fitzgerald continues to warn the legislature that unless his program for state economics through consolidation of various departments meets with legislative sanction there will not be sufficient state funds available for public aid. Nor will he allow himself to be swerved from his campaign promise to the people of "no new taxes." The responsibility rests squarely with the lawmakers and not with the governor as to what happens to our educational institutions during the coming two years. Mr. John W. Taxpayer is going to applaud the governor for the stand he is taking, no mistake about that. In past years the humble taxpayer has been promised during campaign time drastic relief from tax burdens, only to have those promises broken. It would be a reflection on his intelligence to believe he will not continue to support any man who insists that campaign promises are a solemn pledge to the people that must be kept.

Teachers may be paid on the basis of what they know but what they are is much more important.

LIQUOR LAW CHANGES

The legislature has been asked to make a number of changes in existing state liquor laws, including raising the minimum age limit from 18 to 21 years. While copied to a great extent from Quebec and Ontario systems for liquor control, many sections of the Michigan law were of a pioneer nature which through application may be found in need of revision. When the present laws governing liquor were enacted it was not expected, even by those who favored repeal of prohibition, that perfection could be reached by a single bound. Rather it was believed a certain experimentative period was necessary in order to produce the results desired. From time to time it will be found practical to make changes in the law if it is to continue to meet popular approval from the people. Under the watchful eye of Chairman John S. McDonald, of the Michigan Liquor Control Commission, changes will be recommended by the commission as rapidly as necessity demands.

AN APPOINTIVE JUDICIARY

The action of the State Bar Association in recommending an appointive judiciary meets our hearty approval. This proposal is based on sound experience right here in Michigan, where the great majority of our circuit and supreme court judges are, as a matter of fact, appointed under the present system and usually are returned by the voters for succeeding terms.

It is only in counties such as Wayne that the amendment will have any far reaching effect, and reports on political conditions in that county are such as to justify the rest of the state in taking action to preserve the courts from any suspicion of being subject to manipulation by the political machines of either of the two major parties.

We are also glad to see that directors of the Michigan State Farm Bureau recommending this forward step to their membership.

HUEY AS AN AID

Political prophets see in Huey Long's presidential candidacy and crazy program a force for sound conservatism in the next presidential election. It is predicted that a third party looking for the rawest left-winger will pick the flamboyant Huey. New Dealers will necessarily pull back from the Long extremity, and division of the radical and near radical vote will give the majority to the republicans if they have the sense to unite on a middle course.

PROPOSED SHORT WEEK

One must keep in mind the idea that the thing to avoid as we struggle toward a normal condition is the business failure. We cannot afford to enact laws that will drive large numbers of important enterprises into bankruptcy. Our strength as we fight for recovery lies in the number of businesses that can be kept going, that can be made to survive. The more failures there are, the more concentrated becomes industrial ownership, and that is the thing from which we are trying to escape. Let us keep the 30-hour week in prospect but let us avoid errors in forcing it upon the country too soon.—Sioux City Journal.

MAKERS OF WAR

If we fail utterly to curb the munitions industry, let us resign ourselves to continued programs of arming boys with guns to defend the country against foes our industrialists have armed with like guns; with gas masks to defend themselves against the gases our munitions makers have made and sold to other lands and with steel helmets to protect the heads of boys against shrapnel and shells our profit-hungry manufacturers have sold to our possible foes. —Senator Gerald P. Nye.

IF YOUR BREATH HAS A SMELL YOU CAN'T FEEL WELL

When we eat too much, our food decays in our bowels. Our friends smell this decay coming out of our mouth and call it bad breath. We feel the poison of this decay all over our body. It makes us gloomy, grouchy and no good for anything.

What makes the food decay in the bowels? Well, when we eat too much, our bile juice can't digest it. What is the bile juice? It is the most vital digestive juice in our body. Unless 2 pints of it are flowing from our liver into our bowels every day, our movements get hard and constipated and ¾ of our food decays in our 28 feet of bowels. This decay sends poison all over our body every six minutes.

When our friends smell our bad breath that we don't and we feel like a whipped coward, don't use a mouthwash or take a laxative. Get at the cause. Take Carter's Little Liver Pills which gently start the flow of your bile juice. But if "something better" is offered you, don't buy it, for it may be a calomel (mercury) pill, which loosens teeth, gripes and scalds the system in many people. OF INTEREST TO FARMERS

Treat Those Grubs

The cow business in Michigan suffers several losses each year from a preventuble source. Rapidly rising prices of butterfut, milk, beef, and even hides are encouraging better practices, and many livestock men are wondering about the effect of the "Ox-Warble," or "Rub-in-the-back," they are notiring on their cattle on a production of these saluble commodities.

Grubs in the buck of an animal do decrease the capucity of thnt animal to produce. As much as 10 per cent to 15 per cent losses may result in the milk und butterfat production of dairy animals. The cost of control is so smull that Michigan livestock men who have grub cuttle are wnsteful. The grub lives only in cattle in Michignn and ull of them grow through the winter in the animals. They must emerge through the skin and reach the ground, to develop into flies and produce eggs for next year's grubs. The eggs are laid on the hind kgs of the nnimal, and the young grub wanders inside the unimal for several months after entering the skin on the leg where the eggs were luid.

The best treatment consists of treating the grubs us soon as they appear, with non-poisonous washes or ointments. The grubs may be squeezed out by hand, but it is fur simpler, and more pleasunt to use the treatment suggested. In treating, the scnb is removed from the bump, and the ointment pressed into the smnll hole there in the skin. This results in the immediate death of the grub. Among the remedies that mny be used in all probability, the Gusanol preparation is the best that we know of. This is a product made by the Cooper Company, and is now available in the county ut the Charlevoix nnd Boyne City Co-operative Companies. A 50c bottle will treat your herd severul times nnd eliminate this undesirable condition. More complete detuils are available upon request.

Majority of Farmers in Corn-Hog Program Continued for 1935

The past week has seen the sign-up campaign completed for this year's program. Five different meeting places were scheluled last week. It is assumed that those who did not attend one of the meetings are not interested in continuing the program this yenr.

The pnyment plan is somewhat different than last year. In fact, the pnyments to the farmers uverage about 40 per cent of the 1934 plan. On the other hand however, only a 10 per cent reduction is necessary, while in 1934 it was 25 per cent.

This yenr in a case of those who were in the progrnm last year, it has been a very simple task. In a case of a new contract signer, it is just as difficult ns it was the year before, and requires the securing of a lot of information relative to the farm business in 1932-33. As a result, only threo new co-operators were secured for the program.

34 Farmers Keeping Farm Account Records

As far as the farm account projert is concerned, the 1934 year is passed history. In this work, March 1st is the beginning of the new year. Thirty-four Charlevoix county farmers have been keeping un uccurate account of all receipts and expenses pertuining to the farm itself. In addition, there are approximately 20 farmers who are starting a furm neeount book for the first time. This work is very closely supervised hy the county ugent who starts ench new man with his book, provides for a farm visit once during the year, and who assists in the checking of the books at the end of the year.

It is too enrly to determine the furm returns, but it is safe in saying that they will show up to better advantage than the previous year. The state records show clearly that the 1932 year was the low point in this depression, with 1933 slightly improved, und 1934 better yet.

Within a short time some additional publicity will be published in regard to the results of last year. Also, a list of names will uppear soon.

Enjoy a feast of oranges this week. Both Florida Valencias und Californiu navels are at their cheapest nnd best. Serve them at ench and every meal, eat them between meals and at bedtime. They'll help cure that attack of spring fever.

Apples, too, and grnpefruit are attractively priced. Lemons are much cheaper than they are in summer.

Vegetables with few exceptions are low in price. Green and wax beans, summer squash, green pens, and spinach invite the careful shopper's attention. Asparagus is getting within the reach of ordinary pocketbooks. Bunch carrots are parliedarly uttractive.

Meals made up of vegetables served with eggs, fish or cheese are attractive and nourishing. Meats are even higher than last week, with herf highest and lamb and poultry offering fairly good values.

LATER RULES GOVERN WHEAT CONTRACT LAND

Payments Depend on Use of Acres Taken from Grain Production

Some chunges in the regulations uffecting the handling of land tuken from wheat production in Michigan must be observed by furmers who collect benefit payments from the agricultural adjustment administration, according to the state administrator.

Acres tuken from wheat production may be seeded to any grass or legume, except Sudan gruss, which is to be used for pasture, cut for huy, or cut for seed. Reed canary grass is not included by nume among the grasses in this classification but it is presumed thnt it may be planted and used for pasture, hny, or seed.

Emergency forage crops can be planted and used for pasture, hay, or roughage. They can not he cut for seed. Sorghums, soy beans, nnd Sudan grass, as well as others, nre included in the class of plnnts which can not be grown for seed on contract nrres.

The land upon which wheat benefit payments are to be pnid may be planted to forest trees, summer fullowed, or permitted to lie idle if such use does not result in excessive washing of the soil.

No basic crop may be planted upon wheat contract acres except thut any small grain other than wheat may be used as a nurse or companion crop for seedings if such small grain is cut for hay, clipped and allowed to lie on the ground, or pastured down before the grain is matured. Pending legislation may make potatoes a Basic crop so their planting upon contract acres will not be permitted if the bill in Congress passes.

Pasture lnnd or meadows seeded prior to the yenr 1935 can not be included ns contract acres. Waste land, areas never cultivated, or eroded land can not he placed under contract. Contract acres must be an average sample of the cultivated land upon the farm.

DISTRICT HEALTH UNIT BULLETIN

Infant Mortality by Cause in District Health Unit No. 3

A higher percentage of deaths occur in the first month of life than in any other period in the "under one" age group. Of the 54 infant deaths during 1934 in District Health Unit No. 3, composed of the counties of Antrim, Charlevoix, Emmet and Otsego, 34 died under one month of age or 54 per cent of the total infant deaths. Some of these causes are preventable; others have not yet been brought under control. However, it is agreed that if we are to have strong well babies, it becomes necessary for the expectant mother to have proper supervision during pregnancy and that it is important that she have good obstetrical service. The health of the expectant mother, toxemias of pregnancy, prematurities and injuries at birth—all factors which markedly affect the life and future health of the newborn—are in turn influenced materially by prenatal service.

The 54 infant deaths in 1934 in this District classified by cause are as follows: Pneumonia 12, premature birth 11, other diseases of infancy 5, other general diseases 4, congenital malformations 3, diarrhea and enteritis 3, disease of thymus gland 2, congenital debility 2, cerebral hemorrhage 2, injury at birth 2, heart disease 3, hernia 1, other disease of stomach 1, whooping cough 1, accidental death 1, syphilis 1. Total 54.

During the year 1934, the infant mortality in our four counties increased over that of 1932 and 1933. This increase, for the most part, is probably due to a lack of proper food supply for the baby, as we are finding an increase of under-nourished children. The infant mortality rate for 1932 was 51.0; the infant mortality for 1933 was 50.1 and for 1934 the rate was 53.1.

It is important that mother be properly informed and fully appreciative of the significance of breast feeding as a life-saving measure. The chances of a breast-fed baby surviving the first year of life are much greater than those of the bottle-fed baby. If children, however, because of physicial deficiencies of the mother must be artificially fed, the significance of clean pasteurized or certified milk must be stressed. If you have any feeding problems, consult your family physician who will aid you in your baby's proper diet. A physical examination once a month by your family physician is recommended; if this is impossible, bring your baby to a well baby clinic conducted in your community.

Correlative passages to be read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (p. 197): "The less that is said of physical structure and laws, and the more that is thought and said about moral and spiritual law, the higher will be the standard of living and the farther mortals will be removed from imbecility or disease."

WINDER IS NAMED HOUSING CHAIRMAN

MEETING TO EXPLAIN PROGRAM FRIDAY NIGHT

Committee to Direct Campaign Will Be Named at Session to Be Held at Court House

Organization of a comunity campaign to stimulate the federal better housing program will be started here Friday evening, March 22nd, by Dr. C. J. Winder, who has just received word that he has been named Charlevoix chairman for the federal housing administration.

A civic committee to work with Dr. Winder in directing the campaign in this city will be named at a meeting to be held at 8 o'clock in the court house. The meeting is sponsored by the Charlevoix Association of Commerce, of which Dr. Winder is president.

William L. Johnson of Petoskey, representative in fifteen northern Michigan counties of the FHA, will outline the program.

All bankers, builders, contractors, supply dealers, electricians, plumbers, painters, carpenters and others connected with the building industry are invited to attend Friday night's meeting.

The primary duty of the civic committee will be to give residents of this city complete information relative to the opportunities offered them under the FHA setup to borrow funds for improving and repairing their homes.

It is planned to conduct a house-to-house canvass of Charlevoix to determine how many homes would undertake repairs or alterations if they could get financial assistance. The survey will be made by persons selected for the work by the county emergency relief commission.

The federal housing administration is attempting to stimulate the building trades and increase employment through encouraging a nation-wide program of house repair and improvements. To assist the home-owner, loans may be easily obtained at banks, the government securing the banks' commitments. The cost to the home owner is not to be in excess of $5 per year for each $100.

The loans are to be repaid in monthly installments that may be extended over a period of five years. From $100 to $2,000 may be obtained, depending, of course, on the credit record of the applicant and the value of the property.

Only persons with an income of at least five times the amount of the monthly installments they would be expected to pay will be granted loans.

WEEKLY WEATHER REVIEW

Harbingers of Spring! The robins are singing, the crows on their northern flight. These statements aptly describe the weather for the past 7-day period. Of the unusual, last Saturday's temperature of M degrees provided a new high mark for March and the Kansas dust accompanying ruin the same afternoon made work for the window washer. This article is not aimed to forecast the positive arrival of Spring, even though weather conditions would indicate as much.

Following are the high and low temperature readings for the period March 13 to 19, inclusive, furnished through courtesy of the U. S. Coast Guard Station:

CITY BAND WILL PRESENT CONCERT SUNDAY

Varied, Interesting Program With Features Numbers Planned

Sunday evening, March 25th, at 8 o'clock, the Charlevoix city band will give another concert of the winter series at the high school gymnasium.

The program, planned and directed by Robert H. Magor, will be interesting and pleasing to the audience, as several well known, favorite selections are to be played.

Harker Kirby will play a trombone solo and, as an added treat, a two piano team, Alta Lynn Magor and Samuel Trirkey, will play "Serenata" by Toreughi and the famous "C Minor Prelude" by Ruchmaninoff. The number that has required more rehearsals and hard work from the bandsmen is the thrilling "Orpheus in Hades" by Offenbach, which will be played second on the program. Kreisler's "Old Refrain," operatic selections and marches are also to be played.

This will be a free concert and the public is urged to attend and spend a pleasant musical hour.

SMELT JAMBOREE SATURDAY EVENT

PLANS READY FOR ANNUAL EAST JORDAN AFFAIR

Smelt "Run" Which Started Last Thursday Night Now in Full Swing—Crown Smelt-King

With the Jordan river smelt run in full force again, final plans are practically completed for the handling of the Sportsmen's Jamboree, which takes place this Saturday, March 23rd.

The chamber of commerce and the Jordan River Sportsmen's Club have divided the responsibilities for the "run" this spring, the chamber of commerce handling the Jamboree celebration, and the Sportsmen's Club having complete charge of the river and dipping operations.

The "King" has been selected. This year he is a prominent Grand Rapids sportsman, who has dipped in the Jordan for three years. His identity will not be revealed until the coronation ceremony. Al Warda, who was crowned King Albert the First at the initial Jamboree in 1933, will act as Lord High Chamberlain and administer the oath of office. The ceremony will take place in front of the Temple theater at 5:00 p. m., and will be followed by the parade. The parade this year has been turned over to the school children, with scoutmaster Lester Walrutt and Gerald DeForrest in charge.

The stag smelt banquet will be held in the armory at 6:00 p. m. and, as has been the past custom, men can attend in their dipping togs. Prominent outdoors men will again be present and another good program is being arranged. Already reservations for tickets forecast a sell-out. Immediately after the banquet, the men will go to the river for the dipping.

Dipping is controlled by conservation officers and state police, in cooperation with the Sportsmen's Club. Cables have been strung along the banks of Long and Manhattan islands to keep the crowd back till the signals are given.

SUMMER PROGRAM PLANS OUTLINED

A. OF C. COMMITTEE NAMED FRIDAY NIGHT

Selection of Standing Committees and Membership Drive First Activities to Be Undertaken

Preliminary plans for activities during the 1935 summer season were outlined at an enthusiastic meeting of the Association of Commerce at the I. O. O. F. hall last Friday evening. There was a good attendance and the spirit shown assures cooperation on plans for the summer.

John Lake, prominent Petoskey business man, was the guest speaker of the evening. Mr. Lake told of the activities of the Association of Commerce in his home city and, among other things, made the significant statement that "no city is greater than the activities of its commercial association."

Various members present responded to an invitation for remarks on the topic, "What kind of summer season may Charlevoix expect during 1935." The remarks, without exception, showed a decided optimistic viewpoint.

President C. J. Winder appointed a committee of five, composed of A. L. Livingston, F. E. Cartier, B. F. Sloan, Milton Block and M. A. Levinson, to act as a "steering" committee, select the membership of standing committees responsible for the direction of activities the coming year and to lay plans for a membership campaign to be started in the near future. This committee will report at the next meeting.

The business session was preceded by an excellent banquet dinner served by ladies of the Rebekah lodge.

NURSERY SCHOOL REPORTS STATUS

SUFFICIENT FUNDS TO CARRY BALANCE OF YEAR

Contributions from Various Sources Are Outlined in Report Which Also Covers Details of Project

With the American Legion making good on the pledge of one hundred dollars to the school feeding fund, local contributions have now totaled enough to assure the continuing of the project for the remainder of the school year.

With this fact in mind, a survey of the food project is therefore desirable at this time. Most of the food is furnished by the county emergency welfare commission, also the workers necessary for the preparation and serving. Local organizations are responsible for furnishing supplementary foods to provide a complete meal.

Contributions for this purpose have come from the following: PTA committee card party $27.92; faculty play $26.38, PTA committee Christmas dance $25.89, Shakespeare Club $12.00, Charles Dickens Club $12.00, American Legion $100, for lunches sold $63.65, or a total of $337.84. Of this amount $211.14 has been expended, leaving a balance of $126.70.

Food purchased includes bread, butter, milk, fruit, beans, vegetables and sugar. Other items such as bibs, table paper, tooth brushes, combs and dishes have also been purchased. Meat, potatoes, rice, cheese, milk, butter and sugar is furnished for the most part by the welfare.

A total of 7,109 meals have been served, averaging 84 per day at a cost to the local fund of 2.77 cents a meal. Nine large loaves of bread are now being baked daily. A few donations of food have been received, largely from mothers of nursery school children.

Providing conditions continue as in the past, the balance of funds available, plus income from meals sold, will be sufficient to carry on for the remainder of the year.

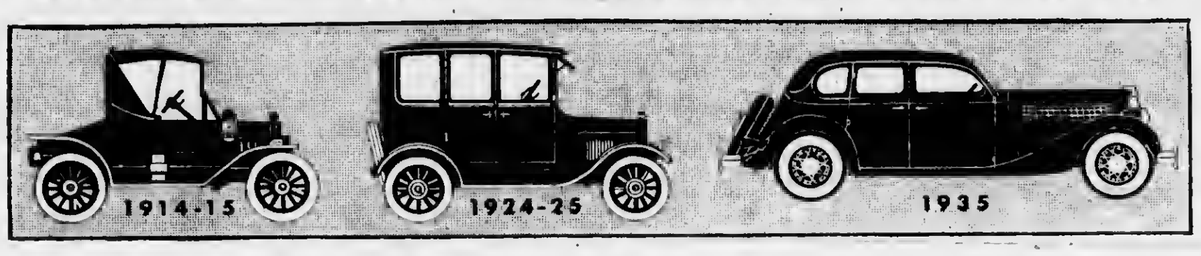
We are in A New Automobile Era!

Cars built since 1931 have twice the power and speed of ten years ago!



Continental offers you better lubrication for modern cars —an *Alloyed Oil with twice the film strength of other oils!

★ Alloyed by the Patented Germ Process

Just as the metallurgist adds small amounts of other metals to make special alloy steels, so we add small quantities of concentrated oily essence to highly-refined, paraffin-base motor oil. This Germ Processing, discovered and patented by Continental scientists, gives Conoco Germ Processed Motor Oil lubricating qualities no other oil has.

IT'S hard to realize how improved cars of the '30s are over those we drove ten years ago. We are in a new automobile era! Power and speed have almost doubled in a decade, with little increase in motor size.

Increased power has brought enormous increases in bearing pressures and crankcase temperatures. In making motor parts that will stand up under these severe conditions, car manufacturers have turned to new alloy metals of extra strength and durability. For the same reason, you must have oil with enough extra oiliness and film strength to protect your motor under extreme pressures!

Yet motor oils generally have no more oiliness and film strength now than they had ten years ago. New refining methods have recently come into use to make oils free from carbon and sludge. But these new refining processes have actually lowered instead of increased oiliness and film strength!

There is one exception—Conoco Germ Processed Motor Oil. It, too, is free from carbon and sludge troubles, as its users know after millions of trouble-free miles of driving. But more important, Timken machine tests prove that the new Germ Process* puts into this oil 2 to 4 times the film strength of any straight mineral oil! That extra film strength protects your motor under the most extreme pressures and heat.

Germ Processing gives other valuable advantages. Because Germ Processed Oil penetrates and combines with metal surfaces, a "Hidden Quart" stays up in your motor and cuts down starting wear. Germ Processed Oil gives longer mileage with greater motor protection, as proved by the famous Indianapolis Destruction Test.

Plain mineral oils were all right ten years ago—today they are becoming obsolete. Say "O.K.—Drain"—fill with Conoco Germ Processed Motor Oil and drive with the comfortable assurance that your oil meets your motor's needs!

Age-Old Memories Stir Merry Laughing Spring

Moonlight falling in pearly, ghostly radiance over the hill in Hardscrabble forest touches candleberry and sweet fern with opalescence and mirrors age-old stars in the fern-lipped bowl of the Laughing Spring.

The Spring, which finds something funny in its age-long life, chuckling constantly at some eonic joke, remembers the coming of the Ice age, its imprisonment under the ice sheet, and the herds of mastodons migrating through the valley after it. It remembers when wild animals were dominant along the Hudson, and the timid coming of Red Men from the West, spying out the land, liking it away from bear, deer, moose and wolf.

At its lip white settlers stooped to drink, listening for war-whoops. It remembers the Dutch, the English, Continentals marching past to the battle of White Plains, and boys of the Neperhan marching away to the Civil war.

Hunters, hobos, pursued men and women, hikers, lovers, have all visited the ancient fountain, but still the Spring is the youngest and merriest thing in all the Hardscrabble forest, for it still remembers how to laugh. —New York World Telegram.

TREMENDOUS TRIFLES

By ELMO SCOTT WATSON

STARS AND STRIPES FOREVER

IN NAPLES, ITALY, in 1896, John Philip Sousa read a three-day-old copy of the Paris edition of the New York Herald. In it was a brief dispatch saying that David Blakely, manager of Sousa's famous band, had dropped dead in his office. That meant that the bandmaster must assume all the responsibility for the arrangements of his next American tour.

Hastily cancelling the plans that he and Mrs. Sousa had made for a visit to Sicily, he booked passage on the first ship for America. As he paced the deck of the S. S. Teutonic, saddened by the news of Blakely's death and his mind filled with the burden of the task ahead, an uncanny thing happened.

Sousa became aware of the rhythmic beat of a playing band—just an imaginary band that was making music in his mind. Throughout the voyage across the Atlantic, that invisible band kept on playing, playing. Never for a moment was it silent and it always played the same tune! He tried to think of other things but the theme of the melody echoed and re-echoed in the back of his brain. Psychologists today might claim that this was "compensation" . . . the reaction of a creative mind after a severe shock.

But whatever the reason for it, Sousa made no attempt to set the tune on paper while he was aboard the steamer. When he reached New York and found that mystical band still playing on and on, he could resist it no longer. He sat down and in a few minutes had recorded the all-too-familiar measures of that composition. In his spirited autobiography, "Marching Along," Sousa has written the fact that not a note of that tune has been changed from that day to this. It was the "Stars and Stripes Forever," known all over the world today and the most beloved of all the compositions of the "March King."

PIGS IS PIGS

"PIGS is pigs" and they're also trouble-makers. No less than twice did they seriously affect the diplomatic relations of nations and once they almost brought on a war.

In 1841, Monsieur de Saligny was French ambassador to the Republic of Texas. One day, a pig belonging to an Austin hotel keeper named Bullock, strayed into M. de Saligny's garden. One of the ambassador's servants chased the pig. Whereupon Bullock proceeded to horsewhip the servant.

De Saligny insulted Bullock and Bullock—insulted—de Saligny with the result that the ambassador demanded his passports and left the country. Diplomatic relations between France and Texas became strained and it required an apology from President Lamar of the Lone Star Republic to restore peace.

More serious was the pig incident that troubled the peace between England and the United States a few years later. On one of the tiny San Juan Islands in Puget Sound lived an American and an Englishman. One day the Briton shot one of the American's pigs and a furious quarrel resulted. But they finally agreed to settle it in court.

But which court—British or American? Despite the treaty of 1846, boundary lines were none too clear, especially on this little island. So the dispute grew worse over the matter of jurisdiction. Civil officers were drawn into it, then the military. Troops were mobilized and it looked like war. By this time the pig was forgotten in a controversy involving citizenship, boundary lines and international law.

Eventually it was settled by arbitration—with no less a person than the German emperor acting as arbiter in a dispute that started over a pig!

"HE SHOT AN ARROW—"

THE capture of the important Spanish fortress of San Lorenzo by Sir Henry Morgan, the famous English buccaneer, was not due to his expert generalship as much as it was to a strange chain of circumstances over which he had no control.

In his command were a number of pirates who had fought well for the cause. One day, during the siege of the fortress one of these men was pierced in the side by an arrow. The cutthroat pulled it from his flesh vowing to send it back to the Spaniards as fast as he could. He had no bow but, in his anger, he used the one weapon he had . . . his musket.

Wadding cotton around the end of the arrow, he crammed it into the barrel of his gun, took aim and fired. The missile went sailing over the fortress wall and was lost from view. It was merely a gesture of revenge. No one dreamed of the consequences.

But the cotton was kindled by the powder which in turn set fire to the thatched roof of a building inside the fortress. The Spaniards were frantically trying to get the flames under control when the creeping fire reached the powder magazines. They exploded, bursting part of the walls, and Morgan rushed in to capture the stronghold.

Discovery May Lead to Victory Over Cancer

The growth of the human infant, the chick in the egg, bacteria and the toad can all be represented by the same mathematical equation. Dr. Norman C. Wetzel, associate professor of pediatrics at Western Reserve University Medical school, told the National Academy of Sciences.

Proper interpretation of this mathematical equation of growth, Doctor Wetzel said, eventually might lead to conquest of cancer, since cancer was a growth problem—a situation in which body cells grew without restraint. The equation, which is what mathematicians call a second degree differential, represents the relation between item production and growth, he added.

Four factors, he found, were involved in growth. One encourages growth, a second retards or inhibits growth, the third is the net external work of growth. He calls the fourth the "coefficient of inertia growth." In cancer, Doctor Wetzel said, it was evident that the factor which retarded growth was not operating.

He urged that medical science embark on a study of the influence of various hormones, vitamins and the like, with a view to filling them into their proper places in the equation of growth.—David Dietz, Scripps-Howard Science Editor, in the Cleveland Plain Dealer.

County 4-H Club Council Selected

The newly selected 4-H Club Council met last Friday with the following members present: Wesley Jolliffe, Carleton Smith, Melvin Somerville, Mrs. Margaret Hurd, Mrs. Louis Bathke, Mrs. Leden Brintnall, and Mrs. Floyd Liscum. This group selected Wesley Jolliffe, Charlevoix, and Mrs. Louis Bathke, Bay Shore, as president and secretary, respectively.

The discussion that took place largely centered around plans for the Achievement Day, which will be held at Charlevoix, Friday, April 26th. An entirely different type of program will be presented this year which we feel will be of more interest to all friends of the 4-H club program.

For the first time, it is possible to make premium awards to the club members who are finishing the clothing, handicraft and hot lunch projects. The committee feels that the cash awards to be made should be used for the clubs rather than individuals. In connection with these plans, some 10 club members will be selected to attend the Gaylord Club camp with their expenses paid, as well as two club leaders to supervise the activity of the Charlevoix county delegation.

To assist in carrying out plans for the Achievement Day, Mrs. Louis Bathke was selected to handle the style review, Wesley Jolliffe to be in charge of the boys' exhibit, Mrs. Sarah Blake in charge of the girls' exhibit, and Mrs. Margaret Hurd, chairman of the program committee. With this organization back of the Achievement Day plans, don't fail to mark down the date, and plan on hearing the program and seeing the fine exhibits.

Jordan Valley Creamery Sponsors Meeting

Great plans are being developed for the big dairy meeting to be held Monday night, March 25th, at 8:00 o'clock in the East Jordan high school auditorium. It is a well known fact that before higher prices can be obtained, that the quality of the product should receive much consideration. The average citizen is as particular about the kind of butter he uses, as any other food product. Considerable emphasis will be devoted to the production of quality cream.

G. Malcolm Trout, assistant professor in dairy manufacturing, Michigan State College, will be the main speaker, and will discuss how to improve the quality of cream, which in turn means higher quality butter. He has had considerable experience in the manufacturing of butter, and is well qualified to handle this discussion.

An added feature will be the movies. Three films have been ordered for this event. They are: "Quality Milk," "A Tale of Two Bull," and "Milk for You and Me." One of these films will give you a good laugh.

Every dairyman in the county is cordially invited and urged to attend this meeting. Remember next Monday night, March 25th. See these fine movies, and hear a real talk.

Radish Seed Growers Hold Annual Meeting

The membership of the Northwestern Michigan Radish Seed Growers' Association held their meeting in the Marion Center Grange hall last Tuesday afternoon. Arlo Wickersham, the president, presided over the business session. The election of officers for the new year resulted in the re-election of Arlo Wickersham as president, D. E. Ingalls, vice-president, and B. C. Mellencamp, secretary and treasurer. The secretary gave a brief report of last year's business and outlined two prospective members, the accomplishments of this small group of radish growers and the plans for the future.

This year approximately 90 acres will be grown by members of this seed organization. There are ten new members who are assisting themselves with this program. Each farmer will follow specific recommendations, and will take their own chances in having the seed sell at a profitable price. No contracts are entered into and as a result the seed is always retained by the grower. Thus far, the prices received have exceeded any contract price obtained in the county. So it is hoped that as this organization grows in strength and prospers, that greater returns will come back to the producers of high quality seed. Plans now formulated call for the production of certified seed this year. Everything possible will be done to improve the quality of seed.

NEW MINISTER HERE TO AID WITH SERIES OF HOUSE MEETINGS

John Street, a young student from Anderson College and Seminary, returned from the south part of the state with Mr. Pontius to assist for a time in the house meetings being conducted in the community.

The Tuesday night services at 204 Mason Street will be in charge of Mr. Street. Thursday evening the house meeting will be in charge of Wesley Manley.

Sunday evening Mr. Pontius will continue the course of Bible exposition at Ironton, at the home of Mr. Bennett. All the meetings begin at 7:30. A cordial invitation is given to everyone to attend all these services.

ABOUT 4,000 DRUNK DRIVERS GET INSURANCE CANCELLED

Automobile drivers of the state are continuing to be placed under the financial responsibility act, which requires mandatory revocation of a driver's license for three years, unless financial responsibility to meet damage claims up to $11,000, is proven by deposit of cash, securities or insurance policies. One of the most interesting trends developed thus far is that of the some 5,000 drivers who have run afoul of the act, about 4,000 are drunk drivers, who generally have their insurance cancelled as the result of their conviction. These drivers are often unable to get further insurance, and relatively few of them can show financial responsibility in any other form.

FITZGERALD PROMISES TO CROWN CHERRY QUEEN

Governor Frank D. Fitzgerald has announced he will spend the entire three days of the National Cherry Festival, July 17, 18, and 19, in Traverse City as guest of the festival.

Among his other duties in connection with the festival the governor will crown the National Cherry Queen on July 18, the second day of the event. He will also appear in various other places during the program.

The contest to select the queen of the National Cherry Festival from among the beautiful girls of northern Michigan will be held some time in June, as usual.

CHRIST EPISCOPAL CHURCH

Rev. Edward S. Doan of Petoskey, will hold a vesper service at Christ Episcopal church next Sunday afternoon at 5 o'clock. Sermon subject will be, "What Do Heaven and Eternal Life Mean From Christ's Own Thinking and Teaching." The public is cordially invited to attend.

MEMBERSHIP CAMPAIGN SPONSORED BY LOCAL W. C. T. U.

Plans for observing the Frances Willard Centenary in 1939 have been launched by the National Women's Christian Temperance Union which includes a five year educational program (1935-1939).

This organization has adjusted itself to the new day with new, up-to-date methods, and enlisted trained workers who are producing reliable and scientific temperance material.

Every year the local unions campaign for new members to keep their ranks filled. Last year a gain amounting to over 700 new dues paying members per week was reported.

The Seedtime and Harvest Membership Campaign of 1935 was discussed at the meeting of the local union held last Friday with Mrs. Walker Miles. Any union paying state dues by June 1st on a larger membership than the previous year will be known as a Fruitful Union. Individuals who secure one or more new members will he known as Gleaners.

All members who can are asked to pay their own dues and enlist their friends in the cause so thnt Charlevoix Union may qualify.

Without a local union there is usually little if any temperance work done in any community especially among the young people and children and the women who see the need of instruction along these lines are urged to align themselves with this organization.

Baxter Relief Corps will serve a 15c tea at the Ben Nowland home, Carpenter avenue, Friday, March 22. —Adv. 12t1

Strong Appeal in Braided Rag Rug

By GRANDMOTHER CLARK

Braided rugs appeal to many rug makers because the work is simple and requires no tools. They, however, are not as durable as the crocheted rug, owing to the fact that the braided strands are sewed together, and for this reason we advise to sew with a strong waxed thread.

The above "Tin Wheel" rug measures 35 inches and requires about 4 pounds of cotton rag rug material. The center section has a black background and the 3 section design is white. The outer circle and inner center are of hit-and-miss mixed colors.

Cut strips 1½ inches wide. Fold edges under and then fold again to make a strip about one-half inch wide. Use three strips in braiding.

Start in the center and sew 8 rows of braid around, keeping work flat. Start next row on opposite side of where the previous row ended. Work around, changing colors for 9 rows, as illustrated. To change color sew strips of new color desired to the ones in use. Start again at different place for 8 outside rows, then sew on the last row separately. This rug has 26 rows.

If you are interested in making rag rugs, send 15c to our Rug Department for book No. 25, which contains 26 rugs in braiding and crochet. Instructions are given with each rug, also directions for braiding and crocheting rugs and how to prepare your rags into strips to get the best results.

GREEN CANARIES

Little Dorothy had a canary at home, and one day she went out to tea with her mother. In the room was a cage containing a pair of bright green little birds. Dorothy kept looking at them and presently asked:

Army Presses Forward to Crush Rebels

Troops Capture Town After Battle in Mud

Scenes such as this took place in Athens when insurrectionists attempted to overthrow the Greek government. The rebels under the alleged leadership of ex-Premier Venizelos were reported to have suffered heavy losses in engagements with loyalist troops.

The Greek government reported that they had recaptured the town of Seres, northeast of Saloniki, after a hard fight, and were pressing forward to crush the last vestiges of the rebellion. A heavy artillery bombardment drove the insurgents from their positions with heavy losses, it is said.

Tension increased in Europe as Bulgaria and Turkey massed troops on their frontiers, although they insisted their action was only as a protective measure. Turkey has 80,000 men stationed near the Greek and Bulgarian boundaries, and preparations have been going on for more than a month, it is said. France has ordered a destroyer to proceed to Athens to protect French property, and Great Britain has also ordered a battleship to speed to Phaleron bay.

Venizelos is reported as ready to flee from Crete, headquarters of the revolutionists, and seek refuge in Alexandria, Egypt, and the Jugoslavin government has acceded to a request of Greek authorities to hold Gen. Nicholas Plastiras, veteran Greek revolutionary leader, if he should attempt to cross into Greece by way of the Jugoslavia frontier.

PWA SCHOOLS

Ten Millions Spent in 38 States, Ickes Reports.

Washington.—More than $10,000,000 worth of school buildings have been completed in 38 states with the aid of PWA loans and grants, Secretary of the Interior Ickes announced. Hundreds of additional school are being constructed and will be ready for occupation by fall. Ickes said this program was woefully inadequate.—He held out hope for approval of a $650,000,000 school building program this year, if congress approves the President's work-relief program.

Champion Lady Lumberjacks of the Northwest

Champions, and real ones! Each one is six feet two inches in height, and can they fell trees! They are Miss Ruth Hoerschgen (left) and Miss June de Graff (right), both of Cutabio, Idaho. They were pictured after they had won the "Lady Lumberjacks" championship at Dalles, Ore., by felling a sixteen-inch tree in 1 minute 50 seconds. The girls undercut the tree with an ax, and then felled it with a crosscut saw. Their feat further disproves the old term of the "weaker sex" and the ancient's contention about "woman's place is in the home."

TRUE GHOST STORIES

By Famous People

Copyright by Public Ledger, Inc, WNU Service.

By WINNIE LIGHTNER
Actress

"SLEUTH gusts of wind are dreadful to me," confessed Winnie Lightner. "They bring to me the ghost of a man who was always fleeing from the wind, a man who one night, in the middle of a vaudeville skit, confessed to me that he was a murderer.

"From the day this man, who was called 'Shoe,' joined our company, gusts of wind seemed to sweep across the theater whenever our company played.

"This man had a habit of entering doors suddenly, as though he had come on a run—propelled by a power greater than himself—and of slamming doors behind him so that windows rattled.

"We always knew when he arrived through the stage entrance because of the slamming of doors and a rush of air which seemed to sweep across the stage and to rush down the halls and through the dressing rooms.

"He never left a door open behind him. It seemed that, almost without his help, doors slammed behind him. People in the company who crossed his path declared that he seemed always to walk in a wind; and that when he would rush away from them, they all agreed that the wind would seem to die away as if it followed him, and that, moreover, the sweet odor which seemed to fill the wind which followed him would die out, too.

"Every one around him grew to dread and fear his presence.

"One night, when he was to give one of the poor little lines against which I was to crack my silly little jokes and smart comment, I was suddenly terrified at his intensity.

"He was to say, 'You wouldn't go back on a chap like me, would you?'

"Instead, a sudden swish of air filled with a strange unpleasantly sweet odor blew across the stage, he shuddered and, brandishing his arms before me, cried in terror-stricken tones:

"'You wouldn't go back on a murderer like me, would you?'

"Then he flew off the stage with a great slamming of doors and the rattling of stage fixtures.

"I don't know what comments I made on the stage. I was completely baffled until a few hours later, when the police telephoned me to say that a man who worked in my company had killed himself, and that I should come to identify the body.

"Shoe had made a full confession. It seems he had killed his young wife in a sudden burst of fury over some trifle and had buried her in the garden of their small home on the outskirts of an Illinois town. He then fled. No one had missed them, because they were a strange couple, who made no friends.

"After his confession they found her grave. Across their little garden, police reported, was a wide row where the trees and the lilac bushes and the grass were pressed flat toward the east, as though a great and continuous wind had been blowing across that place for many days and nights.

"The thing that impressed me about his confession was the final sentence. It read: 'The wind blew all night.'

"That's why I don't like to hear the wind at night. Can you blame me?"

By LAWSON ROBERTSON
Olympic Coach

LAWSON ROBERTSON remembers a weird and ghostly happening at a motor cycle race in 1912.

"The night before the race," he narrated, "the racers met at Brighton Beach, N. Y. They had come from all parts of the country. There was a circuit of motor cycle racetracks—one in Buffalo, one in Brooklyn, St. Louis and Newark. The men met at Brighton Beach for a jolly get-together dinner before their race in Newark.

"Before the dinner Arthur Chappell lit a match, gave it to John Albright to light his cigarette, then to Eddie Hasha to light his and then raised the same match to his own cigarette.

"He jumped from his chair so abruptly that he startled every one around him.

"'I'll throw cigarettes on one match,' he exclaimed. 'I'd give anything not to have done that.'

"During the race something went wrong with Albright's motor cycle and Albright, Hasha, and six spectators were killed."

Menus Are Endless

The menus in French are endless; the variety is overwhelming. The basic foodstuffs are abundant in this land. It is simply a matter of knowing how. And savoir faire applies to your French chef. He takes such a lowly worm as a snail, or such a croaking amphibian as a frog, or such a slimy snake as an eel, and delivers a plat de resistance that makes your mouth water.

Plan Carefully

When having electricity put into the home, have fixtures placed with a view to a combination of service and attractive arrangement. So often the general effect of a room is lovely, but when one desires to read or sew it is next to impossible to obtain a good light for these purposes.

DIPLOMATIC IMMUNITY

Immunity from the law is granted to members of the diplomatic corps, their secretaries and servants resident in London. A pedestrian run down by an embassy car is powerless to take action unless the diplomat waives his privilege.

CONSTIPATION Can be Helped!

(Use what Doctors do)

Why do the bowels usually move regularly and thoroughly, long after a physician has given you treatment for constipation?

Because the doctor gives a liquid laxative that can always be taken in the right amount. You can gradually reduce the dose. Reduced dosage is the secret of real and safe relief from constipation.

Ask your doctor about this. Ask your druggist how popular liquid laxatives have become. The right liquid laxative gives the right kind of help, and the right amount of help. When the dose is repeated, instead of more each time, you take less. Until the bowels are moving regularly and thoroughly without any help at all.

The liquid laxative generally used is Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. It contains senna and cascara, and these are natural laxatives that form no habit—even in children. Your druggist has it; ask for—

ARE YOU MISERABLE?

Mrs. Laura Edie of 1380 Cleveland Ave., S.W., Canton, Ohio, said: "I seemed to be sick all over. My appetite was affected, I lost weight and strength—a good night's rest was rare—and I felt exhausted all the time. A few bottles of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription gave me the much needed relief from this suffering." New size, tablets 50c. Write Dr. Pierce's Clinic, Buffalo, N. Y., for free medical advice.

FEEL TIRED, ACHY—"ALL WORN OUT?"

Get Rid of Poisons That Make You Ill

IS a constant backache keeping you miserable? Do you suffer burning, scanty or too frequent urination; attacks of dizziness, rheumatic pains, swollen feet and ankles? Do you feel tired, nervous—all unstrung?

Then give some thought to your kidneys. Be sure they function properly, for functional kidney disorder permits poisons to stay in the blood and upset the whole system.

Use Doan's Pills. Doan's are for the kidneys only. They help the kidneys cleanse the blood of health-destroying poisonous waste. Doan's Pills are used and recommended the world over. Get them from any druggist.

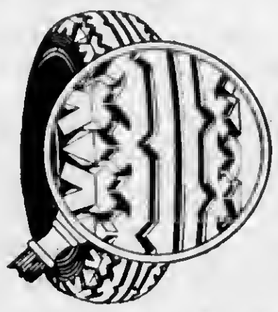
Trade In Your Worn Tires for Safe Gripping Non-Skid Firestone Tires

LIBERAL trade-in allowance—now—on all Firestone High Speed and Heavy Duty Tires!

Why take a chance on worn, smooth, uncertain tires when you can buy Firestone non-skid safe, proven tires at lowest prices.

Firestone Tires are designed to grip the road. The non-skid tread is thick, tough and gives 25% longer non-skid safety.

Glen Schultz only last month set a new world's record in climbing Pike's Peak, in 16 min. 47 sec. His top speed was 78 miles per hour—negotiating many hair-raising turns where a skid or a tire failure meant death.



The Firestone tread is designed with angles and projections to give the maximum traction and non-skid. Firestone Gum-Dipped Tires hold all world records on road and track for Safety—Speed—Mileage and Endurance.

It's that kind of stamina that makes Firestone Tires safe and economical for you.

That's why race drivers use Firestone Tires. They won't risk their lives on any other make.

No tire in the world has the Firestone endurance. That is because Gum-Dipping, the patented Firestone process, transforms the cotton cords into tough, sinewy units. It means that the liquid rubber penetrates every cord and coats every fiber, assuring protection against internal heat. Two Extra Gum-Dipped Cord Plies under the Tread, give 56% stronger bond between tread and cord body.

Don't buy cheap tires that are only made to sell. Don't risk your life on wet, slippery pavements these October days—Use the same precaution race drivers use. Trade in your old tires—We will give you a liberal allowance on Firestone Tires—the safest tires in the world.

SUNDAY DINNER SUGGESTIONS
By Ann Page

Both butter and eggs are a little cheaper and according to market authorities they have probably reached their low for this season. Bulk American cheese has not advanced in price though packaged cheeses are considerably higher.

Lamb prices are much lower than they were but the drop is regarded as merely temporary. Beef forequarters too are somewhat cheaper, but other meat prices remain steady.

Apples, oranges and grapefruit are unusually attractive in quality and price. Most vegetables are fairly high; but green beans, carrots, parsnips, turnips and potatoes are all reasonable.

Weather has been favorable for salt water fishing, but very bad for fresh water fishing. Consequently seafood is plentiful and moderate in price and fresh water fish scarce and high.

Here are three menus made up of seasonable foods adapted to different budget levels:

Low Cost Dinner
Lamb Stew with Dumplings
Shredded Carrot Salad
Bread and Butter
Tapioca Cream
Tea or Coffee Milk

Medium Cost Dinner
Braised Chuck of Beef
Mashed Potatoes Carrots and Peas
Bread and Butter
Lemon Snow Coft Custard
Tea or Coffee Milk

Very Special Dinner
Stuffed Celery
Roast Lamb Browned New Potatoes
New Aspuragus
Orange and Onion Salad
Rolls and Butter
Charlotte Russe
Coffee Milk

The Cod Liver Oil That Tastes Like Chocolate

IF YOUR BREATH HAS A SMELL YOU CAN'T FEEL WELL

When we eat too much, our food decays in our bowels. Our friends smell this decay coming out of our mouth and call it bad breath. We feel the poison of this decay all over our body. It makes us gloomy, grouchy and no good for anything.

What makes the food decay in the bowels? Well, when we eat too much, our bile juice can't digest it. What is the bile juice? It is the most vital digestive juice in our body. Unless 2 pints of it are flowing from our liver into our bowels every day, our movements get hard and constipated and ¾ of our food decays in our 28 feet of bowels. This decay sends poison all over our body, every six minutes.

When our friends smell our bad breath (but we don't) and we feel like a whipped tornado, don't use a mouthwash or take a laxative. Get at the cause. Take Carter's Little Liver Pills which gently start the flow of your bile juice. But if "something better" is offered you, don't buy it, for it may be a calomel (mercury) pill, which loosens teeth, gripes and scalds the system in many people. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name and get what you ask for—25c. ©1934, C.M.Co.

USE RIGHT FEEDS TO START CHICKS

Cheaper to Begin With Proper Ration Than to Correct Later

It is much easier to start chicks well by giving them proper feed than to repair damage done by improper rations according to the poultry department at Michigan State College.

Chicks may be fed as soon as they are taken from the incubator or hipping box. Commercial mashes are entirely satisfactory when made by a reliable manufacturer and most of those sold in Michigan are products of firms which have a high reputation acquired through years of good business practices.

A satisfactory mash can be made at home by anyone who will buy the feeds and mix them properly. The mixture recommended by the College is composed of 36 pounds coarse ground, yellow corn meal; 20 pounds bran; 20 pounds ground oat groats or ground oatmeal; 10 pounds dried milk; 5 pounds 50 per cent protein meat scraps; 5 pounds alfalfa leaf meal; 2 pounds steamed bonemeal; 1 pound salt; and 1 pounds codliver oil.

Chicks can be started on this mash and kept on it until they are placed on the laying house or the mash can be changed after the chicks are eight weeks old by reducing the dried milk to five pounds and replacing it with five pounds more of corn meal. A scratch feed of equal parts cracked yellow corn and wheat should also be given.

Whole milk is an excellent feed for chicks and the dried milk in the mash can be reduced one-half if skim milk or buttermilk is fed. Water and milk dishes must be kept clean. Green feed must be given if chicks are confined. Grit and shell can be provided in convenient hoppers.

Every fourth pound of bituminous coal mined in America is consumed by U. S. railroads.

The Message Must Go Through

CREWS of men, along a gale-blasted road in Michigan, toiled in drifted snow, battling against a lashing wind. All about them broken poles—casualties of the storm—lay sprawled on the ground amid tangled copper wires. And every wire was heavily burdened with the telephone's arch-enemy—sleet.

At the first warning of this enemy, mobilization begins. Word is flashed through every department. All hold themselves in readiness. Repair trucks, fully manned, rush to the damaged area and the telephone storm troops go into action.

During such emergencies there can be no waiting for good weather; there can be no thought of cost or comfort in the work of restoring service promptly. The messages of Michigan subscribers must go through!

But it is not only in emergencies that the work of safeguarding the service is carried on. It is a year-round job. Millions of dollars are spent annually for new and improved equipment. Day by day rigid inspection and maintenance go forward.

Outdoors, patrolmen examine every foot of Michigan's aerial cable once a year. All long distance cable is tested regularly with the galvanometer, an instrument which can instantly detect a flaw and, even on a cable miles in length, locate that flaw almost to the foot.

Indoors, constant tests are made of all the intricate machinery of the modern central office. And the search for improvement moves steadily on, an endless search for equipment that shall be still more sturdy, still more efficient.

Neither trouble nor expense can be considered in the task of keeping open Michigan's copper lanes of speech; for today, as in the past, the guiding principle is the tradition which demands—fair or stormy, day or night—that the message must go through.

WILL SEND 1200 TO HOMES IN ALASKA

FERA About to Try New Kind of Social Experiment

A new social experiment—transplanting 200 families and 100 hardy single laborers to Alaska from northern drought areas in Michigan, Wisconsin and Minnesota—has been announced by FERA.

The group of about 1,200 persons will sail from a Pacific coast port May 1st for new homes on 8,000 acres of public land in the Manatusca valley of Alaska.

The summer will be devoted to clearing land on the 40-acre homestead tracts allotted each group. Laborers will work in gold and coal mines and operate a cooperative creamery.

Relief officials emphasized the group already has been selected from the relief rolls. They said the project will cost approximately $500,000.

The migration, if successful, will be followed by additional movements of groups from the United States.

Persons sick with tuberculosis in the Northern Area are now forced to seek treatment—meaning staying away for a long time—from 180 to 100 miles away from home—too far, many times, for even occasional visits by friends and families.—Michigan Tuberculosis Association.

"Matter" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Christian Science churches throughout the world on Sunday, March 24th.

Among the Bible citations is this passage (James 1:17): "Every good gift and every perfect gift is from above, and cometh down from the Father of lights, with whom is no variableness, neither shadow of turning."

Correlative passages to be read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (p. 322): "The sharp experiences of belief in the supposititious life of matter turn us like tired children to the arms of divine Love. Then we begin to learn Life in divine Science. Without this process of weaning, 'Can-t thou by searching find out God?'"

"Wings in the Dark," Exciting Aviation Film, Stars Loy and Grant

No matter whether you're interested in aviation or not—whether you can tell a plane's type by the noise it makes in the sky or whether you're unable to tell an aileron from a wing—you have a stirring, dramatic treat and an hour of thrills, chills and grand comedy in Paramount's "Wings in the Air" awaiting you. The picture, starring Myrna Loy and Cary Grant, opens at the Palace Theater Saturday and Sunday.

Although the plot of "Wings in the Dark" is based on an aviator's unwavering work for safety in the air through the perfection of "blind flying," the picture is so replete with drama, suspense, heart-tugging romance and novel and original slants that it sweeps you along on a wave of enthusiasm for its sheer entertainment value.

James Flood, the man who discovered Myrna Loy, does full justice to his beautiful protegee by his direction of "Wings in the Dark." And Roscoe Karns, Hobart Cavanaugh and Dean Jagger prove excellent foils for the stars by their acting of the principal featured roles.

SPRING ELECTION MONDAY, APRIL 1

THREE BALLOTS TO BE GIVEN TO VOTERS

Election of City Officials, State Officers, School Commissioner and Circuit Judge Are Issues

Monday, April 1, brings the biennial spring election. Before Charlevoix voters will be the selection of city officials, eight state officers, circuit judge of the 13th judicial district, county school commissioner and a decision on one amendment to the state constitution.

Of closest interest, perhaps, is the city election. Two tickets are in the field again this year and candidates will bring to a close an active campaign. If interest manifest may be taken as an indication, Monday's vote will be one of the closest on record.

Heading the city tickets are Joseph M. Foster, former first ward alderman, the democratic nominee, and Leonard P. Adams, republican nominee at the March primary. Contests exist for practically every ward office.

Following is the complete line-up:

City Ticket

For Mayor—Joseph M. Foster, D; Leonard P. Adams, R.

Clerk—Ray S. Hamilton, R.

Treasurer—Robert E. Rife, R.

Justice of the Peace—H. R. Fowler, R.

First Ward

Supervisor—*E. E. Cross, D.; Donald Swinton, R.

Alderman—P. D. Campbell, R; Charles Hamlin, D.

Constable—George Haggard, R.

Second Ward

Supervisor—*Frank Purtridge, R.; Percy J. Moran, D.

Alderman—F. E. Cartier, R.; William F. Meyers, D.

Constable—Glenroy Ikens, R.

Third Ward

Supervisor—*David J. Eckinger, R; Alonzo Powers, D.

Alderman—*Thomas Leo Carey, R.; Harry Gebeau, D.

Constable—Oscar Nelson, R.

*Present office holder.

William C. Palmer, present county school commissioner, is the unopposed republican nominee.

There should be no hesitation on the part of voters in regards to selection of circuit judge for the 13th judicial district. Judge Parm C. Gilbert of Traverse City, incumbent republican nominee, has stamped himself one of the most able jurists in Michigan during his twelve years as circuit judge of the district of which Charlevoix county is a part. He has gained the recognition of state officials and has the backing of attorneys throughout the district. His opponent on the democratic ticket is John H. Fleming, Belloire attorney.

Five Parties in State Race

Four parties have complete tickets and a fifth a partial ticket in the state election, which will see the republican party in a strenuous attempt to follow up its victories of last fall's election and the democrats equally as eager to hold their fast-fading foothold in state politics. Other parties are the socialist, farmer-labor and commonwealth.

One Amendment

There will be one amendment, aimed to eliminate the recount scandal following the last November general election. The amendment follows:

"Sec. 4. In all cases of tie vote or contested election for any state office, except a member of the legislature, any recount or other determination thereof may be conducted by the board of state canvassers under such laws as the legislature may prescribe.

"The section of the Constitution which would be altered or abrogated in the event of the adoption of this proposed amendment is as follows:

"Sec. 4. In case of two or more persons have an equal and the highest number of votes for any office, as canvassed by the board of state canvassers, the legislature in joint convention shall choose one of said persons to fill such office. When the determination of the board of state canvassers is contested the legislature in joint convention shall decide which person is elected.

"Under the present Constitution, recounts in contests for state offices are conducted by the legislature. This amendment if adopted, will permit the board of state canvassers to conduct any recount in all cases of tie vote or contested election for any state office, except a member of the legislature."

WANTED

Names of former Charlevoix county citizens, now living in other parts of this state or in other states, and their correct addresses, if possible. Turn them in to the Secretary of the Charlevoix Association of Commerce or to the Charlevoix Courier office.

These names are desired by the pageant committee of the Charlevoix Fourth of July-Homecoming Celebration so that these out-of-towners may be contacted and invited to the celebration early enough for them to plan their vacations accordingly. Turning in these names at an early date will greatly assist the committee in its work.

UNITED CHURCHES EASTER MESSAGE

PASTORS EXTEND PRE-EASTER CALL TO ALL

Little Traverse Bay Ministerial Association Join in United Regional Lenten Message

Following the example and the suggestion of one catholic and two protestant clergymen in Harbor Springs, the Little Traverse Bay Ministerial Association by unanimous vote, is extending the following message and exhortation to the public:

"Interested as we all are in the social, business, and intellectual life of this region, still, we realize that the moral and spiritual life of the people is our choirest asset. There is no substitute for this. As pastors in this territory, we are anxious to help foster a deeper religious life in all our people, hence we make this appeal in sponsoring a 'Church Loyalty Movement' in every family, protestant and catholic alike.

"None of us would care to live in a churchless city. Every thoughtful person values the work of the church. However, many accept the benefits of the church to society, without accepting any religious responsibility themselves, not even attending the services of the church. As we approach the Easter season, we, as pastors, would like to suggest to respective congregations an effort on their part to secure the more faithful attendance of irregular church goers.

"As a mere matter of loyal citizenship, as well as a recognition of the Christian Sabbath, we would like to suggest to every family in our constituencies attendance at every church throughout this entire pre-Easter period. The church helps men in their religion. Religion helps men in brave living. Brave living is desperately needed these days—as in all days!"

NAVIGATION TO ISLAND OPENED MONDAY

Marold II Takes Over Charlevoix-Beaver Island Mail Route

Making its initial trip on the earliest date in recent years, the Charlevoix-Beaver Island mail boat Marold II took over the route to St. James on Monday, supplanting airplane service which has served the islanders since late in December.

Lack of the usual heavy Lake Michigan ice floes and early spring break-up have accounted for resumption of boat service at this unusual date. The Marold II was not the first boat to make the crossing, as the freighter Rambler completed a round trip last week.

RECORD CITY PAY-ROLL IS APPROVED

TOTAL OF OVER FORTY THOUSAND PASSED MONDAY

Arrival PWA Funds Allowed Clearing Accrued Obligations—Oakley Hammond New Assessor

With the transfer of sewage disposal revenue bonds completed and the $79,000.00 PWA funds deposited to the city's credit in the First National Bank of Petoskey, the council Monday night cleared up indebtedness accrued since the project was started many months past.

A payroll aggregating $40,118.08, probably one of the largest ever passed, was approved for payment. Included was a total of $32,434.22 from the sewage disposal fund. An item of $11,634.84 repaid the city general fund for money advanced on the project to date. Periodical estimates now past due were met, also an approximate $5,000 payment on the plant site, formerly the Wilbur property, and a bill of $3,000 for engineering. The city also wiped out $2,650.40 in local improvement bonds and interest as well as meeting some annual and other semi-annual salaries of city officials, which are annually payable on the last payroll of the outgoing administration, and a $3,000 note for money borrowed.

Monday night's session was the last regular meeting for the outgoing city administration. An adjourned meeting will be held Thursday evening, April 4th, to clean up unfinished business and canvass the vote of next Monday's election.

Included among other items of business disposed of Monday night was approval of John Zeitler's bid of $78 for removal of buildings on the Washburn property now under lease by the city.

Mayor L. S. See appointed Oakley J. Hammond as city assessor to succeed S. M. Rose. The appointment was unanimously confirmed by the council.

The council voted to instruct the city health officer to take necessary steps to revoke the licenses of milk dealers failing to live up to the provisions of the state law and city ordinance covering their operations within the city.

Provisions for keeping equipment of the city fire department in good conditions were provided by an order for purchase of 300 feet of new 2½-inch hose and 100 feet of 1½-inch hose. The city will take advantage of the cooperative purchasing plan of the Michigan Municipal League.

HAYES TOWNSHIP MAN HELD SERIOUS CHARGE

William Bailey Pleaded Guilty to Statutory Offense Monday

William Bailey, 33, single, is being held for sentence here on a statutory charge following his plea of guilty upon arraignment before Judge Parm C. Gilbert at Traverse City, Monday afternoon.

Bailey was arrested Sunday by Sheriff Floyd W. Ikens after his employers, prominent Hayes township farmers, found him criminally assaulting their seven year old daughter when they returned home from church. Judge Gilbert deferred sentence for further report.

HOUSING PROGRAM OUTLINED FRIDAY

OPPORTUNITIES AFFORDED EXPLAINED AT MEETING

Appointment of Local Committees and Campaign to Create Activity Is in Progress

Representatives of the building trade and other interested persons heard the opportunities afforded by the Federal Housing Act for home repairs, improvements and new construction at a meeting in the court house last Friday evening.

Dr. C. J. Winder, recently appointed county chairman by the federal housing administration, conducted the meeting and introduced William L. Johnson of Petoskey, regional field representative in fifteen upper Michigan counties, who outlined the Federal Housing Act.

Mr. Johnson explained how Title I of the Act permits employed persons who can show good credit rating to borrow money without security to repair and modernize their present homes and other property. Such repair loans may be for any amount between $100 and $2,000, and for 1 to 3 years and sometimes longer.

Title II of the Act makes it possible for employed persons to borrow money up to a limit of $16,000 on long-term mortgages, to build new homes or to refinance old ones.

In both cases, the money is loaned by banks and financial institutions approved and insured by the government. Both the Charlevoix State Savings Bank and the Charlevoix County State Bank have been approved.

It was revealed by Mr. Johnson that a house-to-house canvass would be conducted in Charlevoix under the FERA to ascertain the number of persons planning home improvements. Also a local committee to boost the campaign through publicity will be formulated.

The National Housing Act, by stimulating home repairs, improvements and construction, will remove to a great degree present unemployment in the building trades, it was shown.

BOYNE SMELT "RUN" IS NOW IN PROGRESS

Most Successful Dip in History of Even Made Sunday Night

Boyne City's annual smelt "run" opened Sunday night with one of the largest dips ever taken from Boyne river, according to reports from sportsmen attending the event.

In the neighborhood of 1,500 persons were on hand for the first dip at 10 o'clock. One Boyne dealer is said to have sold 15,000 fish and still had 25,000 in reserve. Individuals dipped anywhere from a half to three bushels, according to reports.

Dipping will continue nightly during the duration of the "run" at 10 p. m. and 2 a. m.

The climaxing event of the Boyne smelt "run" will be a banquet Thursday evening, March 28th, at the Wolverine hotel.

GOOD RESORT SEASON IS PREDICTED

TOURIST & RESORT ASSN. GET MANY INQUIRIES

Vacationists Show Great Interest in Michigan, According to Report by Hugh J. Gray

West Michigan can look forward to a busy summer if inquiries for touring information is any true indication. According to Hugh J. Gray, secretary-manager of the West Michigan Tourist & Resort Association over 7000 inquiries were received at the recent state display held at the Greater Michigan Exposition in Detroit which closed Sunday night. "They lined up—blocking the aisle in front of the display—from the time the exhibition opened at one o'clock until it closed at eleven each night. Representatives from the four tourist associations were kept busy giving information on fishing, on resorts, on where to rent cottages, on where to buy cottage sites, on hotels and highways. Over 200,000 pieces of member literature were distributed and over 7000 direct inquiries were received. Attendants reported unusual eagerness for vacation information," said Gray.

The new State of Michigan display created much favorable comment. It will be shown in Grand Rapids at the Greater Grand Rapids Exposition to be held in the Civic Auditorium April 24-27, at Chicago Boat and Sports Show May 5-12, followed by Louisville, Ky., South Bend, Indianapolis, Pittsburg and various other places during the year. Requests for the use of the display are already coming in from leading department stores throughout the district.

Mr. Gray further states that inquiries from newspaper and magazine advertising are far ahead of last year and resorts are reporting many reservations.

TWO TICKETS NAMED FOR HAYES ELECTION

Proposal for Sale of Spirits Also Special Issue Next Monday

Monday's spring election in Hayes township holds promise of being an interesting affair.

Two tickets, each with a complete slate of nominees, are in the field, together with a special proposition to decide whether sale of spirits in addition to wine and beer will be permitted for consumption on the premises within the township. The line-up of candidates for township offices is as follows:

Ticket No. 1—Supervisor, H. C. Stephens; clerk, Zula Struthers; trensurer, Hazel Evers; highway commissioner, George O'Brien; overseer of highways, John Srigley; justice of the peace, William Hair; member board of review, M. K. Chew.

Ticket No. 2—Supervisor, F. C. Burnett; clerk, Fred Willis; treasurer, David Smith; highway commissioner, Grant Furgeson; overseer of highways, Fred Yahr; justice of the peace, Gilbert Ferris; member board of review, T. J. Smith.

The proposition on sale of spirits directly affects The Austin. The management, it is understood, proposes to organize a club and the sale of spirits would be limited to club members only.

TUBERCULIN TEST PROGRAM PLANNED

DISTRICT HEALTH DEPT. TO CONDUCT CAMPAIGN

Schedule for Charlevoix County Begins Next Monday, April 1; Second Test May 6, 7, 8

Tuberculin testing will again be carried on in this county by the District Health Department, comprised of the counties of Antrim, Charlevoix, Emmet and Otsego during the months of April and May.

The following schedule in Charlevoix county has been arranged for this program:

Monday, April 1—Morning at Boyne Falls and Hetrick school; afternoon at Elm Ridge and Beechwood schools.

Tuesday, April 2—Morning at Bay Shore, Murray and Maple Grove schools; afternoon at Norwood, Clark and Barnard schools.

Wednesday, April 3, 9 a. m.—East Jordan schools.

Wednesday, April 3, 11 a. m.—Charlevoix schools.

Reading of tests from the above schedule will be made April 4th and 5th. The x-ray schedule for Charlevoix county has been set for May 29th and 31st.

Following the tuberculosis testing all positive reactors will be given an x-ray by the Michigan Tuberculosis Association. These x-rays are financed entirely by the sale of the Michigan Tuberculosis Christmas Seals.

During the '90's and even during the World War, tuberculosis was running for the most part with little control.

Today it is still a deadly important item in the nation's bill for life, responsible for 75,000 deaths in the United States, and in 1933, for 2,348 deaths in Michigan alone, but—its mystery is rapidly being blown away and its chief henchmen, ignorance and the unknown case, are backing into corners for their last fight.

The tuberculin test and x-ray, two of the newest additions to a scientific family of tuberculosis fighters used in the District Health Department and Michigan Tuberculosis Association's constant campaign against the disease, are finding tuberculosis early enough so that it can be cured.

Before their advent, early tuberculosis was almost unknown. The disease was hardly ever discovered before the time-worn symptoms of continued fatigue, a prolonged cough, temperature in the afternoon, and so forth, appeared. By that time, it is known today, tuberculosis is in its final stage—infectious and a killer—the adult type.

But waiting for symptoms is not only no longer necessary, it is dangerous and foolhardy, according to the Michigan Tuberculosis Association. By taking the tuberculin test and—if necessary—having an x-ray film made of the chest, anyone can make sure about tuberculosis.

Among Michigan school children, one out of every six tested is infected with tuberculosis germs. He is x-rayed, and of every five x-rayed one is found with infection in the lungs of some type. One of every 132 x-rayed has the deadly, dangerously infectious, adult type of tuberculosis.

Formerly, adult type tuberculosis was the only sort known. But when the tuberculin test and x-ray began discovering hidden secrets in chests and bodies that were never before suspected, another type was found, called the childhood type. It is neither infectious nor deadly and its successful treatment is relatively simple.

The tuberculin tests and x-rays

FAIRVIEW-BANKS

Springtime is in the air.

Farmers have started their spring work.

Guy White of Central Lake, was a caller in this locality Monday afternoon.

Gerrit Bolhuis of Ellsworth was in the neighborhood the past week cutting buzz-wood.

H. J. Timmer is re-shingling his residence and Mr. Kuiper finished shingling his tool-shed and garage Wednesday.

"Up in the attic, under the eaves; wonderful treasures are hid away." This came true when the old roof of shingles was taken off Mr. Timmer's residence Saturday morning, and a couple copies of newspapers of March, 1910, were found, on top of the plate, below the roof boards. One was a copy of the Farm Journal, and by comparing this copy of 25 years ago, and that of 1935, we certainly noted the difference, in the paper, also in the advertising. Among others we found this: "Automobiles—Overland, Model 38, runabout, without top or windshield, $1,000; model 41, without top or shield, $1,400; model 42 with top and windshield, $1,500." And that was supposed to be a bargain at that time!

There will be no more trips to Big Sand Bay via ice. Our few days of warm weather created that condition and, while we're happy to welcome the first symptom of spring, we regret that our escapades in that direction have ended.

DISTRICT HEALTH UNIT BULLETIN

Are Your Children Protected Against Smallpox?

It is 1935 years since Jenner discovered how to prevent smallpox. Yet more than 44,500 cases of this disease were reported in 44 states in United States during 1930. These cases are the price paid for our failure to make vaccination universal.

Since 1930, smallpox has been decidedly decreased in this area. The following table shows the incidence of this disease since 1930 in District Health Unit No. 3, composed of the counties of Antrim, Charlevoix, Emmet and Otsego:

Cases—1930 52, 1931 3, 1932 0, 1933 0, 1934 0.

This decline during the last four years may be attributed to the fact that 4,664 children have been vaccinated by the District Health Department since 1930. Vaccination is the only security against smallpox. Every child should be vaccinated before he is one year old and again in early school years. The protection given by a successful vaccination lasts about 7 years.

Smallpox is one of the most easily caught diseases. It is not limited by age and may attack any susceptible person. It is to a certain extent a seasonal disese, the larger percentage of cases occurring in the spring.

Vaccination is a safe and simple protection. The doctor, to apply the vaccine, slightly pricks the skin or makes a single scratch on the arm. The vaccine is prepared under careful control of the U. S. Government and is free for distribation at the District Health Department, Charlevoix. In a few days, if the vaccination takes, the skin becomes red and swollen. This spot must be protected from dirt and should not be touched. If your children have not been vaccinated, it is advisable to see your doctor or attend a clinic in your vicinity to make sure they are safe. Every epidemic of smallpox proves that a recent vaccination is a complete protection.

SUNDAY DINNER SUGGESTIONS

By Ann Page

Canned vegetables are suggested in preference to fresh this week since most fresh vegetables are scarce and quite high. Most fruits too are a little higher, but apples, oranges and grapefruit still offer good values. Bananas are cheaper.

Seafood is again plentiful and moderate in price. Lamb and chucks of beef continue to be the best meat buys. Eggs and butter maintain their lows of last week. Get out some of your favorite recipes that call for eggs and enjoy them while eggs are at their cheapest and best.

This week finds spinach, celery and radishes the best values in succulent vegetables. Potatoes and yellow turnips are still cheap and bulk carrots and parsnips inexpensive.

Here are three menus made up of seasonable foods adapted to different budget levels.

Low Cost Dinner

Chuck Steak Mashed Potatoes
Canned Corn
Bread and Butter
Bananas in Lemon Gelatin

Medium Cost Dinner

MOTOR LAW OFFENSES ON FILE IN LANSING

Motorists of the state may be largely unaware of the fact that the secretary of state is building up a central file of records of all convictions of violation of motor vehicle laws, which will be invaluable in the future for ascertaining a quick picture of the record of every driver in Michigan.

Any person who has been involved in a serious accident, or who has been convicted of any offense resulting from the ownership, use, maintenance or operation of a motor vehicle, will find his name "flagged" in this file.

MICHIGAN POTATOES

While Michgan potntoes go begging at 40 and 50 cents a bushel, according to bieulities, Maine and Idaho tubers continme to command market prices two and three times as high with the demand strong. And this in face of an almost unprecedented raise in the prices of all foodstuffs. Perhaps an answer to this discrimination is to be found in the failure of many Michigan growers to market their produce with the sanc care shown by their competitors. For years these growers have been dumping their crop on the market regardless of looks or quality.

Housewives are not porne to voice irritation when the bushel of potatoes brought to her door and so highly praised by the grower is far from possessing the quality claimed It is but mnural that following several such mistepresentations she is to be found in the market place asking for foreign grown brands at excessive prices. Until such time she can be assured of not being subjected to further deceptive sales methods local growers will be unable to recapture the home market which has been rapidly slipping from tlheir grasp. Prompt recognition and proper corrective measures will go far to remedy the present situation.

BACKING DOWN, BUT STILL DANGEROUS

Tuberculosis!

During the '90's, a horrible thing. During the early 1900's, still unvanquished. During the World War, the conqueror, viciously sapping soldiers' strength.

Today it is still a deadly important item in the nation's bill for life, responsible for 75,000 deaths in the United States, and in 1933, for 2,348 deaths in Michigan alone, but—its mystery is rapidly being blown away and its chief—henchmen, ignorance and the unknown case, are backing into corners for their last fight.

The tuberculin test and x-ray, finding cases of tuberculosis early enough so that they can be treated successfully, were brought to Michigan with funds derived in the annual sale of tuberculosis Christmas Seals by the Michigan Tuberculosis Association and its affiliated societies.

One of the first aims of the Eighth Annual Diagnosis Campaign which will open April 1st, will be to draw attention to the dangers of tuberculosis and the all important program of disease fighting financed by the tuberculosis Christmas Seal, and carried on the year around.

Such a campaign, its source and its purpose, deserves your support.

THE FINAL TEST

In the end the American people will judge every leadership bidding for their suffrage, whether it bears the mark of conservatism or of liberalism, by this: Is it proposing bravely to bend to human use the full powers of this economy of science, technology, and power of production, or does it ask them to take a coward's refuge in a policy or repressing, restricting, and reducing its maximum productive capacities? And they will insist that a leadership promising an economics of plenty shall be definite, concrete, and specific in its program. Glamorous promises couched in abstractions will not be enough. If the future were to be determined on the basis of promises, the demagogues can beat the statesman at the promising game and day hands down. Events have given to both the Democratic and Republican parties an appointment with destiny. If they miss this appointment, some new and more realistic party will meet it.—President Glenn Frank, University of Wisconsin.

EDUCATIONAL KEYSTONE

During the period of economic stress, education is trying to hold the gain it has made over the years. Its troubles, hardships and dangers are pressing and real. In all the complicated problem of maintaining educational standards, a fundamental fact must be kept in the foreground; namely, that the teacher is the keystone of the whole educational structure. Whatever the difficulties, whatever the economies that are forced by the depression, the teacher should be the last and the least disturbed. "A good teacher, proud of the calling, enjoying the respect and admiration of the community, free of unnecessary financial worries," has properly been called "the heart of education."

ALL ABOARD

Three hundred Michigan Farmers' Union members will journey to Washington to spend the week of March 9-14 in sight-seeing and letting Congressmen know there is agreement among a lot of rural folks concerning the Farmers' Union pet theory of farm mortgage financing. Evidence of returning prosperity to the farm is seen in the Pullman elegance with which the trek to the national capital is to be made. Coxie's army rode "Shanks' horses" on that famous pilgrimage, the Bonus boys took to trucks and the open highway, but note of that for our rural neighbors who will travel as befits improved financial circumstances. Perhaps it is not too much to ask while they are urging Congress to pass the Frazier-Lempke bill, providing farm mortgage refinancing at one and one-half per cent, that at the same time they sound a plea that the distressed home owner in town be given a similar break in government solicitousness of the public welfare. Dwellers in city, village and hamlet, who have no organized voice, will appreciate this good word in their behalf.

STATE SCHOOL SUPPORT

Charges that Governor Fitzgerald is ignoring pre-election promises of adequate state support for Michigan's public school system, is being voiced in his campaign for re-election hy Paul F. Voelker, superintendent of public instruction.

Any subtle attempt to place the this matter will not be taken seriously by the average citizen. Throughout his entire public career he has been an outstanding champion of the public school. He is fully aware of the financial difficulties which the schools are facing, but is not going to be stampeded into promises of support beyond the ability of the state to meet through present state revenues.

To the extent which economies in state government are effected will the schools benefit. His program of "no new taxes, live within present revenue, make the tax dollar do increased service," is more likely to appeal to the burdened taxpayers of Michigan than any political inference of broken campaign pledges.

WHY A LAW?

A bill requiring purchase of Michigan beet sugar hy heads of state institutions has been introduced in the legislature. Why is it necessary to governor in an unfavorable light in pass a law compelling officials to "Buy At Home"? Isn't it a matter of plain common sense for officials paid through taxes to support as far as possible the taxpayers from whom they receive their wages? An examination of the expenditures of almost any branch of government activities reveals startling violations of this theory however and it was because of those violations that the law was suggested. Public opinion can regulate these expenditures. Home products should be used and increased loyalty to home products would benefit the state.

THE IDEA SPREADS

At each session of the legislature the railroads are confronted with threats of legislation hurtful to their interests. In the past they have succeeded in killing off most of it, but whether they can long continue doing so is a moot question. For many years the railroads have preached the hardest kind of restriction for competing transportation. They have proposed taxation, regulation, everything which they thought might tend to cut down development of buses and trucks.

In the campaign for restriction the railroads went to their employees and set them onto the thighway competition with speeches and propaganda. Now the employees propose legislation which would limit trains and hire more men. They have the idea that if railroad management wanted restriction for their competitors that restriction of certain practices by the railroads would be a very good thing for labor. It would appear the railroads have put themselves in an embarassing position hy their own inconsistencies.

PURCHASING POWER

In discussions of the depression, one seldom hears reference to the need to increase year hy year the purchasing power of the masses—of the wage earners, skilled and unskilled, and of the middle class. Least of all does one hear it from the industrialist. Yet on its application depends the continued health and expansion of industry as a whole.

The only hope of continued expansion of our industries lies in increasing the buying power of our present population, or if one not much larger. In no other way can we absorb the value of goods and services that is constantly increasing through the use of improved machinery and processes.—Edward J. Mehren in World Digest.

In the use of tuberculosis surgery —the latest effective scientific maneuver against the disease—Michigan stands first in the United States. Seventy-seven per cent of Michigan patients receive the new surgery.—Michigan Tuberculosis Association.

IN POOR TASTE

True friends of the public schools are viewing with growing indignation the efforts begin made to throw the fate of the pending school legislation into the political pot as a campaign issue for the forthcoming elec- of superintendent of public instruction. The repeated misrepresentations of the attitude of Governor Fitzgerald have been a major part of this program.

There can be no doubt that Governor Fitzgerald stands squarely in favor of providing a minimum program of $68,000,000 for financing the grade schools and high schools of the state, and his insistence that this total should be realized out of a proper combination of state and local taxes can in no sense be construed as a denial of the program.

No better guarantee of the sincerity of Governor Fitzgerald's support of the schools could be had than the fact that Maurice R. Keyworth, the outstanding exponent of additional state aid, was the Governor's own personal choice as candidate for superintendent of public instruction. Dr. Keyworth has left no room for doubt in anyone's mind as to the out and out advocacy of the non-partisan school relief bills now pending at Lansing, and at the same time he has clearly indicated his full confidence that Governor Fitzgerald will support a suitable program.

Under the circumstances it seems to us to be in decidedly poor taste for those who, according to their professions of interest, should be devoting their whole time to the advancement of this program, to be dividing their activities in an attempt to discredit the Governor and Dr. Keyworth for purely political purposes. It seems clear to us that the manner in which the opposition campaign is being conducted is the best evidence that the interest of the schools will best be served by placing in the superintendency a man upon whom both the Governor and the public can rely.

ASSN. OF COMMERCE ACTIVITIES
By F. V. Tyler

Working committees for the Fourth of July-Homecoming celebration at Charlevoix are in the process of formation. The pageant committee has called a meeting of committee heads for Friday evening, April 29th, at the Hotel Charlevoix.

People of the county are requested to turn in to the Secretary of the Charlevoix Association of Commerce or to the Charlevoix Courier the names of Charlevoix people that they know are living in other parts of the state or in other state and, if possible, their correct addresses. This will enable the homecoming committee to get in touch with these former Charlevoix county residents and invite them to the homecoming. The work of contacting them should commence as soon as possible, so as to give them a chance to plan their vacations to take in the three days of the celebration. Some of these people subscribe to the various weekly papers of the county and their names appear on the mailing lists, but many of them do not take a local newspaper and there is no way of finding out who they are unless their names are turned in by friends who know them and where they are.

OF INTEREST TO FARMERS
By B. C. Mellencamp

Home Economic Ladies to Meet Again This Week

This week Thursday and Friday, March 28th and 29th, the leaders of the Home Economic Groups will meet Miss Taylor for another lesson. The ladies on the west end of the county will meet at the usual place on Thursday the 28th, at 10 o'clock, and the other group will meet on Friday in the assembly room in Boyne City, also at 10 o'clock.

No doubt some plans will be made for the County Achievement Day which is scheduled for May 8th. It will be necessary to select the location for this event, and to select committees to handle the program. Last year at East Jordan, over 250 interested ladies attended this event. One hundred seventy-five enjoyed the splendid dinner put on by one of the extrusion groups in that area.

There are over 200 ladies who are participating in this splendid program. Indications point to the largest number of finishers that we have ever had. Already, many of the groups are raising money for the purpose of sending delegates to the Farm Women's Week, which means as much to ladies as does Farmers' Week mean to the men folks in the county.

New Potato Program Not Yet Annnunced

Without a doubt, many farmers are wondering about the potato plans for this year. At this time, it is impossible to give any definite information, but everything points to the acceptance by Congress of the above mentioned plan. This plan will make potatoes a basic commodity, there will be no processing taxes, and there will be no allotment payments back to the farmers. This plan merely conrerns itself with the production of potatoes that will be sold. It will limit the production to a point where potatoes may be sold at a fair rea-onable profit.

Therefore, I would like to suggest that all farmers put out about the same acreage that they have in the past. In as much as there will be no acreage reduction, the number of acres will not cause any particular trouble with a farmer signing the agreement. As soon as the definite plans are available, they will be announced through the columns of this paper. But in the meantime, make your plans as you would if you had not heard of this program. However, I would not suggest that an increase in acreage be contemplated.

Over 30 Farm Account Books Closed Last Week

This year 30 farm account books have already been closed, and there are four or five others that will be closed within the next few days. Many of these farmers now have kept records for six years, and they have a very fine knowledge of all of the factors that enter into the farm business. Without a question, this project has helped considerably in given cases in re-adjusting the farm operations, in making changes, all of which have made the farming unit more efficient, and increased the gross income.

Mr. Berg, Mr. May, and Mr. Elwood, from the Farm Management Department, with the assistance of the county agricultural agent, spent last Wednesday at Charlevoix, and Thursday at Boyne City. Appointments were made with all of those who had farm account books, and the response was highly gratifying. Usually, it takes about one and a half hours to check in each book and to train for the inventories in the new book. At a somewhat later date, a complete list of names will be printed of those who are continuing the project, as well, as some 20 new beginners who have already started their new book.

MICHIGAN DEPT. OF STATE WEEKLY BULLETIN

In contrast with former sessions, the present legislature has before it a relatively small number of measure which would affect automobile owners. Two such measures have been passed in the senate and sent to the house committee on roads and bridges, which has thus far not released road bills of that body. The two senate measures would provide: that hearses and ambulances would be classed as passenger cars, thus to be licensed at the rate of 35 cents a hundred pounds; that the present 60-day allowable extension for the purchase of license-plates after January 1st, each year, would be reduced to 30 days. Power of extension rests with the Secretary of State.

The senate taxation committee has not acted on a proposal to increase the State gasoline tax from 3 to 4 cents a gallon, the added collections to go to the primary school fund.

Orville E. Atwood, Secretary of State, points to the fact that checks for refunds of gasoline taxes paid on the purchase of fuel used for other than highway purposes, are now abreast with current claims. At one time, several months ago, the state was as much as six months behind on these refunds, which are made through the auditor general's department. At Mr. Atwood's request, John J. O'Hara, auditor general, ordered Gust T. Hartman, his deputy, to bring this work up to date; as many as 20,000 checks a day were prepared, as the result of the effort.

Governor Frank D. Fitzgerald's monthly radio report to the people of the state will be delivered from the executive office, Friday, March 29th, from 6 to 6:15 p. m., over a circuit of stations including the Michigan Radio Network, WJR, WWJ and WJHK. The address is regarded as important, it being likely that the Governor will comment on the status of his legislative program.

AT THE MOVIES

"Clive" Due Here

"Clive of India," Darryl F. Zanuck's first million-dollar production for 20th Century Pictures, comes to the Palace Theater Saturday and Sunday with Ronald Colman starred in the title role.

Richard Boleslawski was borrowed from M-G-M to direct this powerful drama, which W. P. Lipscomb and R. J. Minney came all the way from England to Hollywood to adapt for the screen from their stage hit of the same name which ran over a year in London.

The story, which traces the rise of Robert Clive from a $25 a year clerk in the East Indian Company to the conqueror of a nation, stresses the private life of England's greatest hero and the part his lovely wife played in his triumphs and defeats.

Loretta Young is cast as the wife, Lady Clive, while Colin Clive, Francis Lister, C. Aubrey Smith and Cesar Romero are prominent among the seventy-two principals in this Joseph M. Schenck presentation. Others who play important roles are Montague Love, Lumsden Hare, Ferdinand Munier, Gilbert Emery, Etienne Girardot, Robert Greig, Ian Wolf, Mischa Auer, Ferdinand Gottschalk, Wyndham Standing and Doris Lloyd. "Clive of India" is released through United Artists.

CHEESE FOR HOME USE EASILY MADE ON FARM

At certain times of the year there is extra milk on many farms where only a few cows are kept. An excellent way to conserve this extra milk for later use is to make it into cheese. American cheese, properly made, can be stored for months, and so, at practically no cost, can provide valuable food for the family.

In a new Farmers' Bulletin, "Making American Cheese on the Farm for Home Consumption," H. L. Wilson, of the Bureau of Dairy Industry, U. S. Department of Agriculture, shows how to make American cheese in small sizes suitable for family use.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE— WITHOUT CALOMEL

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

If you feel sour and sunk and the world looks punk, don't swallow a lot of salts, mineral water, oil, laxative candy or chewing gum and expect them to make you suddenly sweet and buoyant and full of sunshine.

For they can't do it. They only move the bowels and a mere movement doesn't get at the cause. The reason for your down-and-out feeling is your liver. It should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily.

If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas bloats up your stomach. You have a thick, bad taste and your breath is foul, skin often breaks out in blemishes. Your head aches and you feel down and out. Your whole system is poisoned.

It takes those good old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." They contain wonderful, harmless, gentle vegetable extracts, amazing when it comes to making the bile flow freely.

But don't ask for liver pills. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Look for the name Carter's Little Liver Pills on the red label. Resent a substitute. 25c at drug stores. ©1931 C. M. C.

FARMERS JOIN UP WITH LOAN ASSN.

MANY SUBSCRIBE FOR STOCK IT IS REPORTED

Announcement by Wm. F. Johnson, Secretary, Shows $7,000 Absorbed in This County

Farmers of Charlevoix and Antrim counties have subscribed more than $7,000 in stock of the Charlevoix National Farm Loan Association, according to Wm. F. Johnson, secretary-treasurer of the association. This stock has been subscribed to the extent of 5 per cent of the federal land bank loans made through the association.

The association covers the western part of this county and one township in Antrim, but there is another association that covers all of Charlevoix county, the Springvale association, of which Ben R. Gardner of Boyne City is secretary-treasurer.

Where more than one association embraces the same territory, a farmer wishing to obtain a Federal Land Bank loan joins one or the other of these associations, but can not join more than one and obtain a loan on the same farm. He may, however, if he has another farm, join another association if he wishes and obtain a loan on the other farm in the other association.

The total amount of Land Bank loans to any one borrower is limited to $25,000, except on special authority from the Land Bank Commissioner.

The law and regulations are the same for all associations.

"The fine thing about the National Farm Loan Association," said the secretary-treasurer, "is the fact that it is a local cooperative organization. Every shareholder is a part of the association and the loan he gets is obtained through the help of his neighbors. His neighbors are partly responsible for the repayment of his loan, and he is party responsible for the repayment of every loan made to any other member."

This is true of interest installments and also of installments on principal, he said, although principal installments are suspended for the time being, but must be resumed after July 11, 1938, Mr. Johnson indicated.

"It may not be fully realized by all members, particularly the newer members, who have obtained loans since the emergency lending program of the Farm Credit Administration was started in 1933, that our own association is part and parcel of a chain of cooperatives that have subscribed for more than $14,266,000 in stock of the Federal Land Bank of Saint Paul.

"Our own share in the federal land bank is equal to the amount of stock that our local members have subscribed in our local national farm loan association, which was $7,805 up to a short time ago.

"Our association indorses the mortgage of each of its members and becomes liable for its payment. The member's stock is held by the association as part of the collateral to his loan and as each loan is made, the association buys stock in the federal land bank equal in amount to that of the new mortgagor. This association stock is held by the federal land bank as collateral to our association loans in addition to the security of the mortgages.

"It is this close tie-up of all members with each other that makes it so necessary that delinquencies be avoided, because to whatever extent anyone fails to meet his obligations, all the others suffer."

DISTRICT HEALTH UNIT BULLETIN

Whooping Cough Morbidity on the Decline

Whooping cough may occur at any age, but is preeminently a disease of childhood. It is highly contagious and is most severe in old people and young children. The younger the child the more dangerous is the disease. Mothers should do all in their power to prevent their children from contracting whooping cough just as long as they can. Fifty per cent of the deaths from whooping cough or its complications occur in children under one year of age, and ninety-five per cent of the deaths from whooping cough are in children under five.

The incidence of whooping cough in Charlevoix county has been greatly reduced during the past year in comparison with cases reported since 1930. There were 55 cases reported in 1930; no cases were found in 1931; 14 cases were reported in 1932; in 1933, only one case was reported and in 1934 no cases were reported. These statistics have been made available by the District Health Department, composed of the counties of Antrim, Charlevoix, Emmet, and Otsego.

No child should be allowed to go through an attack of whooping cough without intelligent care and attention by a physician. A favorable result in whooping cough depends upon three main conditions: the nutrition of the child; the ability to obtain a sufficient amount of sleep and rest and careful and skilled attention to complications, if there are any. There are also strong indications that a new pertussis vaccine has been developed which is of marked value when given at the proper time. With proper treatment, the suffering of the child can be greatly reduced, the cause of the disease shortened and the dangers from complications lessened.

CONSERVATION DEPT. NOTES

Private labor impressed by conservation officers to fight forest fire during 1935 will be paid 20 cents an hour, the same wage rate as during the past year, the State Conservation Commission has decided.

Michigan ranked third among the states of the Union in the number of hunting licenses purchased during 1933, according to a comparative report just issued by the United States Bureau of Biological Survey.

The aggregate of land of all classes held by the Department of Conservation is approximately 2,430,000 acres and of this amount about 890,000 acres are being developed with a view to forest management.

CCC workers of the Emergency Conservation Work camps in Michigan have planted approximately 16,300,000 forest trees on approximately 27,000 acres of cut-over land.

Declaring that an emergency condition prevails due to the numerous reports of damage being caused by beaver to private land-owners and public fishing waters, the State Conservation Commission at its March meeting authorized a 15-day spring trapping season on beaver, the first spring beaver season in years. The Commission fixed the open season on beaver in all of the counties of the upper peninsula from April 1 to April 15, inclusive, and in certain, designated counties of the lower peninsula from March 17 to March 31, inclusive.

We cordially invite the public to our service and reading room.

"Reality" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Christian Science churches throughout the world on Sunday, March 31st.

Among the Bible citations is this passage (I Kings 8: 57,60): "The Lord our God be with us, as he was with our fathers: let him not leave us, nor forsake us. That all the people of the earth may know that the Lord is God, and that there is none else."

Correlative passages to be read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (p.275): "All substance, intelligence, wisdom, being, immortality, cause, and effect belong to God. These are his attributes, the eternal manifestations of the infinite divine Principle, Love. No wisdom is wise but His wisdom; no truth is true, no love is lovely, no life is Life but the divine; no good is, but the good God bestows."

MORE JOBS

Because 80 per cent of the money expended for concrete highway construction goes to labor it is to be hoped the present legislature will pave the way for Michigan's participation in the government's return to the Post Road plan for the construction of federal highways. Michigan's share will be $3,800,000. The state has twelve months, beginning with June 1st, to match this sum for a gigantic road building program totaling more than seven and a half million dollars.

Not only does the Post Road plan cut the cost of highway construction in half, but it coincides with President Roosevelt's effort to improve the unemployment situation which has grown more acute in recent months. In his address to Congress on proposed public works for the current year, the President laid down certain broad principles on which he wished the program to be based. Among them were: That projects be determined on the basis of the amount of direct labor they would provide; that the highest possible percentage of the money spent go into pay envelopes; that the work produce things that would be of definite public usefulness; that the projects be of a type that would not compete with private endeavor. Those principles, if carried out, would put the public works program on a great deal sounder foundation than the government relief agencies and efforts have been able to boast so far.

BEING HELPFUL

During a recent visit to Michigan Secretary Wallace took occasion to speak touchingly about the care and consideration the beet sugar industry is receiving from Washington. According to Mr. Wallace no other major crop under the tender ministrations of his department has received such sympathetic adjustment aid as has this industry.

This will come as somewhat of a surprise to Michigan's delegation in Congress, who recall the hostile attitude taken by the department of agriculture last year when the fight to save this important part of Michigan's farm program was being waged. At that time the former Iowa farm boy was credited with the statement that the process of beet sugar making was too expensive of operation and therefore should be terminated. That his past convictions have undergone such sweeping change since the big republican farm vote in Michigan last November would indicate that even the braintrusters themselves are beginning to doubt their infallibility.

TIME IS FLEETING

After having observed almost a dozen different legislatures in action, it was Governor Fitzgerald's opinion that the present body of solons could accomplish all that would be useful and adjourn in ninety days from the time they first convened.

He still holds that view, and the people of the state are rapidly coming to the conclusion that he is right.

There is nothing worthwhile before either House that cannot be completed within the time suggested by the Governor. If the members cannot get together and function promptly, it will be better for the state if they adjourn and permit the Governor to assume leadership in a special session called to complete whatever important business that may remain.

Our idea of a good slogan for Lansing, right now, is: "Get the boys out of the hotels in time to vote at the spring elections."

WHOSE MONEY?

Of interest to Michigan taxpayers is the charge made by Cong. Frank E. Hook, democrat, that Governor Fitzgerald is attempting to steal credit for giving jobs to the jobless with funds for relief furnished by the democratic party. The complaint of the Ironwood representative clearly reveals how far the nation has gone in its carousal down "spend-thrift lane." It might be well to inquire of Cong. Hook if the money furnished belongs to the democratic party, or does it happen to be money contributed by the taxpayers of the nation regardless of party? The Upper Peninsula man's plaint is indicative of the loose talk being indulged in these days, even by those who know better.

COME AGAIN

(By the Christmas Seal Doctor)

Here is a second set of questions, by the Christmas Seal Doctor, still trying to disturb you about yourself. How much do you really know, or realize, about your habits and the way they are affecting your body machinery? Ask yourself:

"How much is midnight subtracted from 7 a. m.?

"How far is this newspaper from my eyes?

"What does my pint of milk a day add to my body?

"Why that 'morning after' feeling at 4 o'clock in the afternoon?"

Perhaps the first and fourth, don't fit your situation. If so, fine! But can you honestly say: "MY pint of milk"? And how about your eyes? —Michigan Tuberculosis Association.

BUILDING BOOM AHEAD

The Michigan Better Housing campaign, which got under way early in the month and which will continue for five weeks, apparently has aroused statewide enthusiasm and interest, judging from reports being received daily at Lansing.

Hailed as predicting a building boom for this spring, its benefits promise to invade the tiniest communities and the farms as well, definitely stem the terrific depreciation of private property that has gone on for five years and start an era of new construction and property enhancement.

A major object, however, is return to employment by private industry of that one person in three now on the relief rolls who has formerly associated with the building trades and capital goods.

Yearly pay envelopes normally handed out by U. S. railroads to their employes exceed 2½ billion dollars.

To the

Electors of Charlevoix

Charlevoix citizens will go to the polls on Monday, April 1st, to cast their vote for city, county, district and state officers.

While it should not detract from interest in the election generally, the selection of a mayor to head Charlevoix's city government the coming year is a paramount issue and one deserving critical attention.

If for no other reason than to avoid mistakes made in the past, voters should scrutinize very carefully the qualifications of the candidates. The office of mayor is not one which should be granted to any and all who perhaps think they are fitted to assume its duties and responsibilities. The mayor should be elected upon the merits of his qualifications—qualifications gained from past experience, civic activity and enterprise. His selection would be a reward for past endeavors which bespeak the ability of the seeker.

No one can refute the statement that there is a glaring contrast between the two candidates for mayor. One has served the city as alderman. He has been prominent in the activities of the Association of Commerce—a citizen whose endeavors have stamped him as one with the interests of Charlevoix at heart.

Careful scrutiny fails to reveal any such recommendation for the other.

This advertisement was prepared and is paid for by supporters of the candidacy of Joseph M. Foster for Mayor.

OWN LESS LIVESTOCK VALUE IS INCREASED

Farmers Reduced Herds But Mere Veluable Animels Left

Althoagh the namber of sheep, swine, and cattle has been reduced on Michigan farms the past year, the valae of the animals is 10 per cent more than the larger amount of livestock was worth January 1, 1934, according to Verne H. Church, agricultaral statistician.

Michigan farmers cat their herds of cattle 4 per cent in 1934, and the state now ranks seventeenth in the namber of these animals on farms. Most of the reduction in the state was made by selling calves or yearlings. Earmers are feeding 15 per cent fewer steers than they had in the yards one year ago.

Dairymen redaced the namber of their milch cows only 1 per cent from the 902,000 head Janaary 1, 1934, which was the highest namber ever owned in Michigan. Heifers kept for herd replacements were 8 per cent less than the number being carried at the last yearly report date.

Sheep have been redaced 3 per cent in nambers in the Michigan farm flocks, and 14 per cent fewer feeder lambs are being fitted for market this winter. Michigan is second in rank on nambers of sheep owned when compared with states east of the Mississippi, and is fifteenth in the nation.

The estimate of 518,000 hogs on Michigan farms January 1, 1935, indicates a reduction of 19 per cent in nambers in one year. The state had the greatest namber of hogs in 1923 when 1,150,000 were owned here.

For the first time in years, there has been no decrease in the namber of horses on Michignn farms. Numbers of this animal were maintained by heavy shipments from other states as well as by an increased namber of colts raised in the state.

BASE BEET TONNAGE ON AVERAGE YIELDS

Michigan Farmers Given Chance to Plant Allotment Acreage

Every chance will be given Michigan sugar beet growers to produce the tonnage allotted to the state by permitting them to plant sufficient acreage to grow that amount with average yields, according to John E. Dalton, chief of the sagar section.

Reports will be made by processors in Michigan of the number of acres ander contract on March 10th. If nn insafficient namber of acres has been contracted to produce the allotment, the acres ander contract will be increased.

Additional contracts will be offered to growers who have already taken their fall allotment bat who are willing to grow more. If the namber of acres is still too low, contracts will be offered to new growers. This will give farmers who have produced beets regularly the first chance to obtain contracts.

Michigan's allotment of acres is fairly high and affords farmers an opportanity to grow a crop at a remanerative price. The benefit payments to be made apon beets are based apon giving the farmer a parity price for this crop. This means that the income from the crop will be as mach as that obtained in good years of the past.

Most Michigan sugar growers have already signed contracts. Extension workers at the Michigan State College who have attended preliminary meetings say that the contracts on sagar beets are the most popular of any offered in Michigan.

MARY BREWSTER CIRCLE PARTY ENJOYABLE

Birthday Affair Last Friday Afternoon Was Unique

The Mary Brewster Circle of the Congregational Ladies' Aid Society was hostess at a delightful birthday party given in the church parlors last Friday afternoon. The party was an invitation affair with nearly one hundred fifty present.

Each table represented a month of the year and decorations were in keeping with that period. Guests were seated according to the month in which their birthday anniversary occurred and under this plan tables seated from three to fifteen persons. Each table had a different program in keeping with the month represented. One portrayed a June wedding, another an Independence celebration for July.

The party was proclaimed a very enjoyable affair by those privileged to attend.

PLANT GRASS SEED EARLY IN SPRING

Plants Must Get Start Before Summer Drought Halts Growth

Seeds for lawns which are to be planted or replanted this spring should be sown as soon as possible after the ground thaws and settles, according to the landscape gardeners at Michigan State College.

The best time to sow grass seed is in late Aagust or early September hat most people do not plant the seed then and the next best chance to get a good lawn or to improve bad places in old lawns is to make the seeding early. Fall sown seed has a chance to become established before winter and is ready to start growth in the spring. Plantings made in early spring get root growth enough to resist summer droughts.

For Michigan, the best grass is Kentucky blaegrass on lawns which are moderntely fertile, well drained, and exposed to the sun. Chewing's red fescue is a grass adapted for shady lawns or those lacking in fertility. Redtop may be used on the poorer soils in a mixtare with the others bat it does not form a turf and will be smothered by other varieties on good soils.

Many varieties of bent grasses will make ideal lawns if the soil is good, there is a plentiful supply of water, and the owner will devote plenty of time to caring for the lawn. Rough bluegrass is a variety suited to shaded locations.

Relief Administration to Line Up County Support on Project

The state relief administration has authorized the continuance of the state-wide garden program inaagurated last year. Ben Desenberg, supervisor of this project, will meet with administrators and garden supervisors in the varioas districts in the next two weeks to arrange for participation of the counties in this activity, which played a prominent part in the relief program last sammer and fall.

A final report on canning operations in 1934, just submitted by Desenberg, shows a total production of 1,683,890 quart cans from surplus fraits and vegetables raised in individaal and commanity gardens. The major portion of this output was processed by individual families and taken into their own homes for winter consamption.

Sixty-one counties participated in the 1934 canning program, and 37 of them set ap work-relief projects which included 135 canning centers.

Inquiries on the garden program for 1935 shoald be addressed to Mr. Desenberg in care of the State Relief Administration, 609 City National Bldg., Lansing.

TUBERCULIN TEST PROGRAM PLANNED

that discover tuberculosis, while it is curable were brought to oar county by our District Health Department and the Michigan Tuberculosis Association.

The x-rays being made possible by tuberculosis Christmas Seals, the Michigan Tuberculosis Association probably has a longer and more complete record of experience with the test and x-ray than any other volunteer disease-fighting agency in the country. Last year alone, 34,983 persons in Michigan took the tuberculin test. Seven thousand forty-three were x-rayed by the Michigan Tuberculosis Association's portable x-ray machine. Three thousand four hundred forty-nine tests were carried on in this area by the District Health Department during 1934. Two hundred eighty-four were foand to be tuberculin positive, all of which were offered an x-ray. There was a total of 536 x-rays taken in this district last year.

Say officials of the Michigan Tuberculosis Association: "Of coarse, we find more healthy people than sick ones, in the tests. But everyone who takes the test is classified, nevertheless, and he helps just that mach in bringing to an end the drive that won't be finished until all are tested and the last unknown case found."

FARMERS PLANNING TO INCREASE CROP ACRES

Michigan farmers generally are planning on increased crop acreages for the coming season compared with those harvested last year according to the acreage intentions report which was released today by the Michigan Co-operative Crop Reporting Service.

This survey which is made annally by the Department of Agriculture is based upon reports from approximately 2,000 farms throughout the state, and is published in order that growers may make any further changes in their planting programs that they consider advisable. While the prospective acreages of the major field crops indicated for harvest in 1935 are without exception above the areas harvested in 1934, in only two cases—for corn and potatoes—does it seem likely that the 1935 acreages will exceed their corresponding averages for the 5-year period, 1929-1933.

Notice

We will be contracting acreage for Beans, Beets, and Carrots at our factory office starting Monday, March 11th. Holding Company members call and get your contract before April 13th, as no acreage will be held after that date. Applications for contracts through mail not accepted. Contracting parties must call in person at our office and sign their own contracts.

CHARLEVOIX-DETROIT CLUB TO HOLD PARTY

Annual Event Set for May 11—Plan Attendance at Homecoming

A communication from W. A. Carey of Detroit, containing information of interest to local citizens, is published as follows:

"The third annual party of the Charlevoix-Detroit Club will be held on Saturday, May 11th, at the Fischer Branch Y. M. C. A., corner Dexter and West Grand Boulevard near Grand River avenue. It will be in the nature of a "pot luck" and cafeteria service from 6 to 12 p. m.

"Everyone cordially welcome to attend the party any time after 6 p. m. The program committee is working up an entertainment of one hour from 8 to 9 p. m., composed of members of the Club.

"The Charlevoix Club will talk over and formulate plans to support the first Charlevoix Homecoming in July this year. Our committee is in hearty accord to support the American Legion in their plans and we are in hopes that we can get our group together to form a motor caravan from Detroit and combine with the Flint Club so as to arrive in Charlevoix together with colors flying."

CHARLEVOIX JOINS BASEBALL LEAGUE

SEVEN SCHOOLS TO COMPETE FOR TROPHY

Charlevoix Has Scheduled 9 Games to Be Played Between April 26th and June 7th

Baseball has been added to the program of spring athletics at Charlevoix high school for the first time in several years.

At a recent meeting held in Petoskey, a seven-team high school league was organized to play 32 games between April 23rd and June 7th. Charlevoix, Petoskey, Gaylord, East Jordan, Alanson, Harbor Springs and Pellston will compete on a percentage basis for a trophy to be awarded at the end of the season to the team with the highest standing.

Charlevoix will play nine games, according to Coach Ray Kipke. The schedule follows: April 26, Alanson here; May 3, Petoskey here; May 7, Gaylord here; May 10, Charlevoix at Pellston; May 15, Charlevoix at East Jordan; May 18, Charlevoix at Gaylord; May 24, Charlevoix at Harbor Springs; May 28, East Jordan here; June 7, Charlevoix at Petoskey.

Petoskey will play 12 games, Gaylord 8, East Jordan 9, Alanson 9, Harbor Springs 8 and Pellston 9. The teams will pay their own expenses for out-of-town games, it is understood.

Charlevoix started practice at south side athletic field Tuesday afternoon. A group of twenty-five reported to Coach Kipke for the initial session. Inasmuch as baseball is new in local athletic activities, the task of rounding out a team will not be an easy one.

SANITARIUM AT GAYLORD IS A CERTAINTY

Funds Released Last Wednesday for Immediate Construction

The long-awaited state tuberculosis hospital at Gaylord was assured last Wednesday as Governor Fitzgerald announced the immediate release of funds for construction, and the Michigan Tuberculosis Commission, headed by Dr. C. C. Siemons, appointed Dr. Dean C. Burns, Petoskey; Schuyler Marshall, St. Johns; and Paul R. Martin, Lansing, on a committee to begin arrangements for architectural plans at once.

The funds, to be released by the state administrative board, were appropriated by an act of the 1933 legislature.

The hospital, to be known as the Northern Michigan Tuberculosis Sanitarium, will be built about a mile from Gaylord. Construction is expected to begin within a month.

SEE ADMINISTRATION HELD FINAL MEETING

Adjourned Session Thursday Night Cleaned Up Business

The administration of L. S. See, mayor of Charlevoix the past two years, wrote its final records on the city books Thursday evening.

The final meeting, an adjourned session, cleaned up remaining business, canvassed the vote of last Monday's election and retired before the incoming administration headed by Leonard P. Adams. Four present councilmen carry over. They are Arthur Ranger, first ward; F. J. Fessenden, second ward, and J. J. Hallett, third ward, also Leo Carey, re-elected representative from the third precinct. The new members are Don Campbell from the first ward, and Fred E. Cartier from the second ward.

At Thursday night's session an order was placed with a Chicago concern for the printing of 3,000 illustrated booklets for summer advertising purposes. The books will be a reprint of the one previously used. No action was taken following a lengthy discussion regarding purchase of a portion or all of the L. P. Adams property on the east side of Bridge street adjoining the sewage treatment plant site. It is understood additional property is needed for the project.

Approval was given the purchase of portions of two lots adjoining the highway leading to the city auto camp and now in use, although privately owned, for highway purposes. A resolution was adopted to requisition the Public Works Administration for the $21,000 grant due Charlevoix on its sewage disposal project. The funds when available will go into the general construction of the system.

The organization meeting of the Charlevoix city council, first regular session following the annual spring election, was held Monday evening.

Mayor Leonard P. Adams opened his administration with greetings to the council, assured his hearty cooperation in all matters pertaining to civic welfare and requested in return the support of the city's governing body as assurance for a successful administration.

The committees, reduced two years ago from eight to six by combining the duties of some, were retained.

Robert F. Sloan reported on progress of organizing a City Planning Board, recently appointed by ex-Mayor L. S. See to direct Charlevoix's participation in the pending Federal relief program. The council approved the set-up as reported, which includes, F. J. Fessenden, chairman, term one year; J. J. Hallett, two years; C. B. Meggison, three years; Robert Bridge, secretary, four years; Robert F. Sloan, city engineer, five years.

After disposing of routine business, the council adjourned until 4 o'clock Thursday afternoon, at which time applications for beer licenses and a special assessment matter will be brought up.

MICHIGAN ROAD SHARE TWENTY-THREE MILLION

Will Be Spent on Highways from New Federal Relief Bill

The United States Bureau of Public Roads assured the state highway department that a least $23,000,000 will be available to Michigan from the $4,880,000,000 work relief bill which has passed Congress.

Murray D. Van Wagoner, state highway commissioner, revealed that he has been requested to go ahead with plans for construction in every county of the state pending passage of the work relief bill.

The allocation is divided into $13,000,000 for roads and $10,000,000 for grade separations.

PATROL BOAT TO SAIL FOR ISLE ROYAL SOON

BEAVER MANAGEMENT IS PLANNED

SPRING TRAPPING FIRST STEP IN PROGRAM

Removal of Old Beaver Dams and Stream Improvement Will Follow in Short Time

An entirely new form of wildlife management is being instituted by the Department of Conservation for the purpose of regulating beaver and trout relations in Michigan's streams.

The plan is known as the beaver-trout management program, drafted along lines recommended by J. Clark Salyer, formerly of the Institute for Fisheries Research and now of the United States Bureau of Biological Survey. The State Conservation commission has placed Glen W. Bradt of Michigan State College in charge. Bradt has been assigned to the Fisheries Division to carry on the work.

Special attention to the trout phases of the program will be given by a representative of the Institute for Fisheries Research, J. W. Leonard, who will work with Bradt.

Michigan's beaver-trout management plan has as its objective the establishment of a proper balance in the supply of beaver where they occur in trout habitat. It is based on the studies of Salyer, who declared that trout habitat conditions, on many streams, in the long run, are adversely affected by the presence of beaver and beaver dams.

In his report Salyer stated that since beaver are a valuable natural resource they should be managed as such, but that the supply of beaver should be regulated so as not to interfere with trout and trout habitat.

Establishment of a 15-day spring trapping season was the first step of the Department of Conservation toward reaching a solution of the beaver-trout problem. While the Department believes that beaver dams should be removed entirely from certain streams and reduced to a proper minimum on others, it makes it plain that not the slightest intention of exterminating beaver is entertained.

On the contrary, says Fred A. Westerman, chairman of the Department beaver-trout committee, the Department wants to achieve an optimum supply of beaver where conditions will permit.

The beaver-trout program calls for a co-ordination of every field agency involved and will necessitate the cooperation of conservation officers, fire wardens, towermen, refuge keepers, fisheries representatives, forest supervisors, and CCC technicians in charge of lake and stream improvement.

It aims at a reduction of beaver by means of spring trapping. The advisability of continuing the spring season next year and succeeding years is to be ascertained by the results of the current spring season. Immediately after the close of the spring trapping season unwanted beaver dams are to be removed from trout streams. This will be done in a careful manner, so as to give the beaver pond a good flushing and distribute the heavy accumulation of silt, which is detrimental to trout spawning, as widely as possible downstream. Where it is necessary to live-trap beaver for removal, the beaver will be liberated on one-trout lakes and non-trout streams.

Practically all abandoned dams and all occupied dams on trout streams, known to be more than four years old, will be removed regularly

WILL FEED HOPPERS A POISONED RATION

Campaign to Begin Before Move From Sod Lands to Crops

Grasshoppers are going to be fed well in Michigan this year but the ration to be furnished them will discourage the insects from all future troubling, according to the entomology department at Michignn State College.

Observations made in the field last year indicate that some hoppers will be present in all areas where they were found last season and greater numbers will occur in new places where poison bait was not used. Success in poisoning grasshoppers depends upon putting out the bait before the hoppers have grown much.

At least part of the poison required in Michigan will be supplied by the federal government and it is possible that some of the other materials in the bait will be furnished.

"The Nation's Reading Habit." Every member of your family will enjoy the many interesting articles in the bigger and better American Weekly, the magazine distributed with next Sunday's Chicago Herald and Examiner.

You Can't Go Wrong On Firestones---Try Them When You Next Need Tires . . . . .

There's a surprising lot of difference in tires. Many of them look at first glance as though they would give ample service, but when put on the car and placed in use, they fall far short of rendering the service that was expected of them. That's because they were made of an inferior quality of material and perhaps with less than standard workmanship.

This is not the case with FIRESTONES, with their extra quality of materials and perfect workmanship combining to produce a tire that you just can't go wrong on. Firestone laboratories carefully test the materials that go into these tires before they are used, to make certain the tire will emerge from the factory line 100 per cent perfect. Only the best and most skillfull workmanship is used in the construction of a FIRESTONE tire—so, when these tires are offered you with the assurance that you will get plenty of service from them, your dealer is acting with absolute confidence. For day in and day out that is the experience enjoyed by thousands using FIRESTONES.

This is the season and now is the time to see that your car is equipped with tires that enable you to handle your car with perfect confidence. The deep heavy tread of FIRESTONE will bring your car to a sudden stop the moment you apply the brakes, or hold your car in a true line on the road no matter how slippery.

Drive in to a Firestone dealer and have him show you one of these sturdy tires. Note the construction and see if you don't agree that it is all that a tire should be. The Firestone dealer listed below is at your service at any time and will be pleased to serve you.

SUPERVISORS ORGANIZE FOR YEAR

The county poor commission was granted a supplementary appropriation of $4,000, which, at the present rate of expenditure, is expected to last two months. The previous appropriation at the October session was $12,000.

A change in the auditing committee was adopted. The committee, formerly composed of supervisors from Charlevoix first ward and Hayes township, will now be the chairman of the board and chairman of the finance committee.

The board adopted a resolution supporting a bill now before the state legislature which seeks a return of $4,000,000 of sales tax money to the counties. Charlevoix county would receive $19,475.42 if the bill becomes law. The board also favored Senate Bill No. 75 which would make the state responsible for one-half payment of mothers' pensions. Opposition was voted to any legislation cancelling delinquent taxes.

The board acted favorably on a recommendation from the sheriff's department for employment of a motorcycle patrolman for county highways during the summer. The officer will go on duty May 1st.

SHAKESPEARE AND DICKENS CLUB ENJOYED FINE MUSICAL PROGRAM

A joint meeting of the Shakespeare Study Club and the Charles Dickens Club was held Tuesday afternoon on the softly lighted stage of the gymnasium, the Shakespeare Club entertaining with a musical program under the direction of Mrs. A. J. Stelter and Mrs. Marguerite Swinton.

The history of many well known dances was given, dances by school children following each history. The Morris dance, a minuet, a modern tap dance and a Juba dance were very much enjoyed.

A trio and a double trio furnished three vocal numbers. Throughout the program two pianos were used, many fine numbers being furnished by students of Mrs. Swinton and Mrs. Stelter. The final number was a lovely Viennese waltz by Janet and David Livingston.

At the close of the program little sweet pea nosegays were given to everyone present with compliments of Mrs. Stelter.

LEGION ACTIVITIES

By F. V. Tyler

First bugle and drum corps practice of the year, Tuesday night, showed that the boys haven't forgotten how to do their stuff. Only a few sour notes. However, we might have a better attendance next Tuesday night. Weekly meetings of the corps between now and Memorial day should put the outfit in pretty good shape.

A committee was appointed to get prices on street flag decorations and report at the next meeting—also to contact the merchants and get those who have not already done so to purchase street flags. Three flag cluster combinations for electric light poles are very attractive and, in view of the special features of the coming year, might be well worth consideration of the city council.

A PWA project, contemplating the re-decoration of the Legion Hall and some structural changes, including re-shingling of the roof, has been approved and work should start shortly. Further details later.

BURNING PERMIT NECESSARY STARTING FIRES

"Get a burning permit." This is the injunction issued by the Department of Conservation to all persons planning to start fires in the open for the removal of brush or slash when the ground is not covered with snow.

Anyone clearing land, removing quick-grass roots and doing clean-up work is reminded that state law requires that they obtain a permit to start a fire for any of those purposes when the ground is not covered with snow. A permit may be issued by a conservation officer, fire warden and towerman and at the district headquarters offices.

BRONCHOS LEADING BASEBALL LEAGUE

DEFEAT EAGLES TO BREAK EXISTING TIE

Each Team Has Three Remaining Games—Plans for Outdoor Team Completed

Three games remain to be played by each team of the recreational indoor baseball league before the wind-up of the winter schedule, according to Dean Davenport, director.

As the result of a 6 to 4 victory over Pete Hallett's Eagles, the Bronchos, led by Lyle Beaudoin, now lead the league with 14 wins and 3 defeats. The victory broke a tie of several weeks standing. The Bronchos must win games from the Lions, Pirates and Cardinals to take the championship. A defeat would give the Eagles a chance to tie providing they win all their remaining games.

Remaining games scheduled follow:

Thursday, April 11—Cardinals vs. Eagles, 7; Trojans vs. Pirates, 8; Bronchos vs. Lions, 9.

Tuesday, April 16—Bronchos vs. Pirates, 7; Eagles vs. Trojans, 8; Lions vs. Cardinals, 9.

Thursday, April 18—Lions vs. Trojans, 7; Bronchos vs. Cardinals, 8; Pirates vs. Eagles, 9.

Present league standings are:

Team	W	L	Pct.
Bronchos	14	3	823
Eagles	13	4	745
Lions	7	10	412
Pirates	7	10	412
Cardinals	5	12	294

The indoor league will be supplanted by an outdoor city baseball team, which is already organizing. The first practice session will be held Sunday, April 14th. Under new management and with new talent to draw from, it is expected Charlevoix will have a strong team in northern Michigan competition. The spring and summer schedule of games will be announced as soon as completed.

METHODIST EPISCOPAL CHURCH

W. W. Hurd, Pastor

April 14th, "The Lesson of the Palms."

The Club meets this week Thursday at the church. The teachers from the public school will be hostesses.

The mid-year quarterly conference is set for May 15th. There should be considerable attention to the church business, in preparation for the reports to be given at that time.

One copy of the receipt chart, which the members have been calling for, has been posted on the church bulletin board. This gives first the number, then the name, then the amount paid up to March 1st. This covers every "envelope number" as yet given out. There are a few numbers yet for personal use, if anyone wishes same.

See notice elsewhere for the services of Holy Week. Elaborate Good Friday service, and beautiful play Easter evening.

EASTERN STAR ENTERTAINED NEIGHBORING CHAPTERS HERE MONDAY

One of the outstanding Eastern Star affairs of the winter was a special meeting held here Monday evening.

Charlevoix Chapter No. 72 entertained about 250 Eastern Star members from neighboring cities at the Masonic Temple. Mark Chapter of East Jordan was presented the "traveling gavel" and will assume the entertaining role in the near future.

A short program given following the business meeting consisted of two readings by Miss Freda McMillan, and two vocal solos by Mrs. Archie L. Livingston, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. A. J. Stelter.

Delightful refreshments were served.

CHARLEVOIX COUNTY'S FIRE TOWERMEN NAMED

DISTRICT HEALTH UNIT BULLETIN

How Prevalent Is Tuberculosis in Charlevoix County Today?

Tuberculosis is probably as old as man. Several of the mummies found in the tombs of Egypt show clear signs of the disease and there is mention of it as far back as written history reaches. A Greek doctor, Hippocrates, four hundred years before Christ, named the disease "phthisis," which means "wasting." He described it well but little more was learned about it for about two thousand years, when it was found that "tubercles" are always found in connection with phthisis. Another century and a half rolled by before Laennec, a young Flemish doctor, explained how tubercles form and how they damage the lungs, even before there is any wasting of the body. Today we call the disease tuberculosis because it is more accurate than the old and hopeless word phythisis or consumption.

Most of the plagues that once wiped out civilization of lives are no more. But tuberculosis has never given civilized man peace. Slowly, however, this old enemy is being pushed to the wall. Thirty years ago there were about three times as many deaths from this disease as occur today. We now know enough about it to stop its spread and to cure it.

At the present time, sixty-six active cases of tuberculosis are registered with the District Health Department; 303 contacts and suspects are also known. During 1934, ten cases of tuberculosis were hospitalized from Charlevoix county. The hospitalization cost has decreased approximately $2000 since 1931, which is an indication that this disease is being discovered in its early stages whereby sanatorium care is not required.

During the Michigan Tuberculosis X-ray Survey last June in this district, which comprises Antrim, Charlevoix, Emmet and Otsego counties, 536 X-rays were taken. Of this number, 19 were found to have active tuberculosis, and of this number seven were newly discovered cases. Such a diagnosis indicates how important it is that we discover these cases while it is in the early stage of tuberculosis, and thus have a better chance to conquer the disease.

The annual tuberculin testing program is being carried on in our county this month by the District Health Department and will be followed by X-rays the latter part of May. X-rays are taken only at the request of physicians at the District Health Department.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCH
205 Clinton Street

Sunday morning service, 10:45.

First Wednesday of month, 7:45 p. m.

Reading room Saturdays, 3 to 5 p. m.

We cordially invite the public to our service and reading room.

"Are Sin, Disease, and Death Real?" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Christian Science churches throughout the world on Sunday, April 14th.

Among the Bible citations is this passage (Ephesians 4:17,18): "This I say therefore, and testify in the Lord, that ye henceforth walk not as other Gentiles walk, in the vanity of their mind, Having the understanding darkened, being alienated from the life of God through the ignorance that is in them, because of the blindness of their heart."

Correlative passages to be read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (p.297): "Sickness, sin, and death are the vague realities of human conclusions. Life, Truth, and Love are the realities of divine Science. They dawn in faith and glow full-orbed in spiritual understanding."

Robert Hitchins, Sir Philip Gibbs, Lowell Thomas, Katherine Newlin Burt—read their stories in "This Week," magazine in next Sunday's Detroit News.

Though the U. S. has only 6% of both the world's land area and population it contains 31.2% of the world's railway mileage.

SHOW GREATER FAITH IN DAIRY BUSINESS

Herd Owners Invest Cash in Butterfat Production Test

Orgnnization of two new testing associations in Michignn is attributed by the dairy department at Michigan State College to the growing faith of dairymen in better days for their industry.

The groups which have recently completed plans for obtaining exact records on their dairy herds are in Gratiot and Missaukee counties. In addition to the two new dairy herd improvement associations, there is an increasing membership in associations already established.

DEPARTMENT OF STATE NEWS BULLETIN

Supplementing reports of increased collection of automobile license plate collections, recently published, Orville E. Atwood, secretary of state, points out that on March 31st, there were a total of 696,160 cars on the highways, equipped with either 1935 license plates, or half year permit "stickers."

While this was less, by 330,904 cars, than the total number licensed in 1934, the total number of cars licensed for operation on highways, by March 31, 1934, was less than for the preceding year, by a margin of 602,744 cars. The disparity between the number of cars registered in early spring and the total number registered in the same year, is accounted for by cars whose owners do not purchase plates or stickers until warmer months, together with the sales of new cars in the heavy sales period of each spring and early summer.

The gross increase in collections from the sale of license plates and stickers for 1935 registration, exceeded, on March 31st, the collections for the same period last year, by $2,671,974.35.

Issuance of operators' and chauffeurs' licenses under the provisions of the 1931 act of the legislature which requires renewal of these licenses every three years, has been a benefit not only to the state at large, through its treasury, but to the local communities in which the licenses have been issued, records show. From May 1, 1931, when the act became effective, until January 1st, last, the counties of the state have received $319,851.30, from collections, under provisions of the act. After deductions for returns to counties, and costs of enforcement and collection, the bulk of collections go to the state police for the maintenance of the state's highway patrol system.

SPRING BRINGS "LIVE POWER" TO NEWSPAPER ADS

Timed to the movement of real spring weather northward, Standard Oil Company's new 1935 "Live Power" advertising campaign opens the week of April 15th in weekly newspapers and smaller dailies throughout the southern and central parts of its territory, and in northern districts the week of April 28th.

Motor oil ads are to carry novel illustrations, the first one showing Tom Thumb service men swarming over a car to give it attention at all necessary points. Gasoline ads are to tell in the lively news style that readers find and like in the editorial columns of their local papers the special merits of products and the straight facts regarding them. The gasoline ads in the smaller dailies and the weeklies are to be specially made for them so as to take advantage of the known fact that such newspapers are read with marked interest, thoroughness, and confidence.

"We again rely on newspapers to carry our message to the public," Allan Jackson, vice president in charge of sales for Standard, declared on releasing the campaign, "for we never have found any other medium so satisfactory in presenting the many phases of our story directly and effectively."

Two "modern weapons" used to fight tuberculosis in Michigan are the tuberculin test-x-ray clinic, making possible Early Discovery of the disease and tuberculosis surgery, point the way to Early Recovery.—Michigan Tuberculosis Association.

SUNDAY DINNER SUGGESTIONS
By Ann Page

Fruits come to the fore this week with bananas ahead in price and quality. Fresh pineapples are plentiful and cheap, strawberries much lower than last week and rhubarb, though not really a fruit, is now half its recent price, outdoor grown rhubarb supplanting the hothouse variety. Oranges, grapefruit, lemons and apples are all low in price.

Tomatoes though a fruit, are classed as a vegetable and they are now within reach of most food budgets—and so is asparagus. Among the greens mentioned last week is broccoli rabe, a green with tight buds and an occasional yellow flower. Cooked like spinach, it combines the flavors of dandelion and broccoli. It is cheap, as are the other greens—including dandelions, collards and mustard.

Butter and eggs are both somewhat higher, and meat prices are no lower and no lower prices are expected in the immediate future.

Here are three menus made up of seasonable foods adapted to different budget levels:

Low Cost Dinner
Brnised Brenst of Lamb
Mashed Potatoes Dandelion Greens
Bread and Butter
Rice Pudding
Tea or Coffee Milk

Medium Cost Dinner
Celery Radishes Green Onions
Baked Half Ham Mashed Potatoes
Green Peas

AT THE MOVIES

"The Mighty Barnum" Is Coming to Town

P. T. Barnum, self-styled "Prince of Humbugs," comes back to a hearty life Saturday and Sunday at the Palace Theater, in the person of Wallace Beery, who plays the matchless showman in Darryl F. Zanuck's production of "The Mighty Barnum," for 20th Century Pictures.

The screen play, which maintains the comedy mood best suited not alone to Barnum's extruvagant exploits, but to Beery's most popular type of characterization as well, was written by Gene Fowler, famous biographer, and Bess Meredyth, one of Hollywood's ablest scenarists.

Adolphe Menjou, Rochelle Hudson and Jnnet Beecher are also importantly cast in this Joseph M. Schenck presentation which Walter Lang directed for release through United Artists.

Morrison Gets His First Lead in "One Hour"

Joe Morrison, youthful tenor, who first introduced the song, "The Last Round-up," plays his first leading role for the screen in the Paramount film, "One Hour Late," coming Wednesday and Thursday to the Palace Theater.

Morrison has been in but two films since he arrived in the film city. Although it is unusual for a newcomer to draw a leading role right off the bat, Paramount, who has Morrison under a long term contract, is giving him feature leads at once.

In addition to Morrison, the film features Helen Twelvetrees, Conrad Nagel, Arline Judge, Toby Wing, Edward Craven, Raymond Milland and Gail Patrick. The film was directed by Ralph Murphy.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE— WITHOUT CALOMEL

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

If you feel sour and sunk and the world looks punk, don't swallow a lot of salts, mineral water, oil, laxative candy or chewing gum and expect them to make you suddenly sweet and buoyant and full of sunshine.

For they can't do it. They only move the bowels and a mere movement doesn't get at the cause. The reason for your down-and-out feeling is your liver. It should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily.

If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas bloats up your stomach. You have a thick, bad taste and your breath is foul; skin often breaks out in blemishes. Your head aches and you feel down and out. Your whole system is poisoned.

It takes those good, old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get those two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." They contain wonderful harmless, gentle vegetable extracts, amazing when it comes to making the bile flow freely.

But don't ask for liver pills. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Look for the name Carter's Little Liver Pills on the red label. Refuse substitutes. 25c at drug stores. ©1931 C. M. Co.

MAN NOT ALWAYS HELD ENEMY BY WILD CREATURES

There was once a time of universal friendship, or at least mutual tolerance, between man and the animals, declares Dr. Walter Hough, curator of anthropology of the Smithsonian Institution. "This situation is contrary to the theory that in the early days there was mutual antagonism between men and the lower creatures, causing a "tooth and claw" relationship.

"There are still remnants of this original 'Eden' in isolated parts of the world," states Doctor Hough, who has been tracing the method by which man domesticated animals. The trail of most of the domesticated animals leads back to central Asia. There, Doctor Hough believes, early man had a temperament especially adapted to inspire friendship and confidence among his fellow creatures.

"Observers in new countries," Doctor Hough says, "have recorded with surprise the lack of fear by animals. . . . There still remain in remote parts zones of peace, where animals are unaccustomed to fear. One such zone was found in Tibet by naturalists of the British Mount Everest expedition. . . . Another instance was called to my attention by a member of our own staff, who observed the lack of fear among the animals during his exploration of St. Lawrence Island, Alaska.

"The above leads to the generalization that domestication is not the province of cruel and fear-engendering men. Domestication came about in zones of peace and was accomplished by peaceful men through kindly methods. The coming together of such fortuitous circumstances as animals suited for domestication and men of the peaceful, patient type undoubtedly was found in Asia, where our domestic animals originated."

Good Health Important Factor in School Work

All fathers and mothers wish so hard for the success of their children in their school work. Yet in spite of all their sacrifices and efforts they may actually though unknowingly be responsible for Johnny's or Betty's having trouble in school. But if that is the case only a few simple changes in the home will bring about immediate improvement. What time is it when Johnny and Betty go to bed? Children should rise and retire regularly, and they should have from seven to nine hours sleep every night. Another important item is to be sure their beds are comfortable, their sleeping garments loose and their bedrooms well ventilated. Still another important thing for mothers to remember is that children who rise early enough to dress, eat a proper breakfast slowly and get to school on time without hurrying will have better digestion and thus have a more pleasant day at school. For that matter, all three meals should be well balanced and if the child is allowed to "snack" just after coming home from school it should be light, so as not to spoil the evening meal. Too many movies also have a tendency to pull down school grades and may affect youngsters' eyes and prevent them from studying.—Pathfinder Magazine.

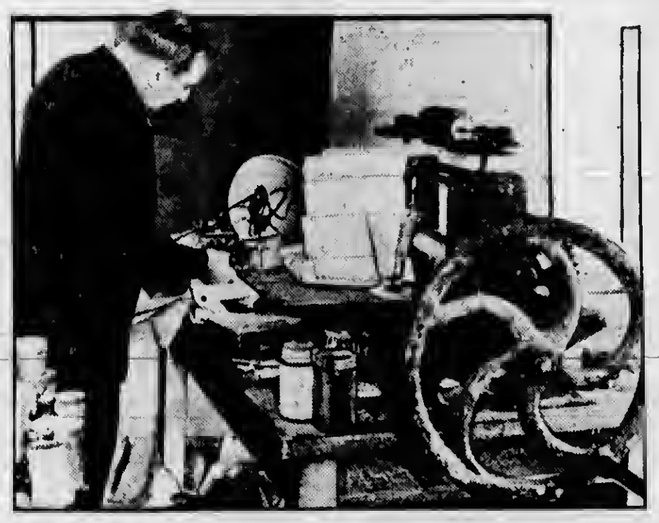
White Russian Army Trains in Jugoslavia

Counterfeiting in Shadow of Sing Sing



In the shadow of the grim walls of Sing Sing prison, secret service men raided a counterfeiting plant that has been flooding the country with bogus $10 and $20 bills. The picture shows the press and other equipment.

Remnant of Tsar's Army Drills Daily

In the Jugoslavian city of Belice reside most of 100,000 White Russians who found a refuge there following their defeat at the hands of the Bolshevists. Thirty-thousand of them comprise the White Russian army, a pitiful remnant of the forces that once defended the Czar of all the Russias from invasion.

They retain their old manner and uniforms and train daily, as meticulously as though they were still in their once mighty land. They form the remnants of what was known as the "White Guardmen," led by Baron von Wrangel, who died in 1929. Following their defeat they escaped to Jugoslavia where King Alexander, recently assassinated, offered them refuge.

They live in long wooden barracks, and work in a kind of voluntary labor camp on the estate of Baron Gutiman, also an emigre. Their children are raised in the manner of the pre-Bolshevist Russia, wearing the uniforms of their glorious cossack regiments. The above picture is one of the first to be made of the army.

Interested in New Deal

H. G. Wells, noted English man of letters, is visiting the United States to get a close-up view of our New Deal in operation. He is pictured as he arrived at the White House where he lunched with the President.

The author reiterated his prophecy of a year ago when he predicted that the world was heading for another war by 1940.

Wells, when questioned regarding England's prosperity, said: "There is tremendous unemployment in England. England's prosperity has been greatly exaggerated. It is a false prosperity and there may be a crash at any time." He strongly criticized the idea that unemployment could be solved by taking women out of jobs.

Secret Operation Proves Success

Sidney Eisenberg, eleven years old, of Lewiston, Pa., is now able to take light nourishment after an operation in which her stomach was moved from her chest back to where it belongs.

The case has been kept a secret, all doctors, nurses and attendants of the hospital being pledged to withhold publicity until after the operation. Doctors hail the operation as entirely successful and predict a rapid recovery.

The case is not quite as serious as that of little Alyce Jane McHenry whose recent operation aroused the interest of the entire world.

TREMENDOUS TRIFLES

By ELMO SCOTT WATSON

ORDERS ARE ORDERS

SIR FERDINAND GORGES was a colonial promoter and his greedy eyes looked across the sea into the uncharted territory of the New world. His dreams were concerned with colonization. Twice he had sent expeditions, only to meet disaster on the way.

The earl of Warwick agreed to be Sir Ferdinand's partner. Both gentlemen had heard rumors of a group in Leyden who were eager to be sent into America. This group had already purchased and manned the Speedwell and were also buying the large three-masted vessel named the Mayflower. The two titled schemers thought that here was a ready-made colony for the taking. The rewards were worth risking a fortune.

Sir Ferdinand placed his own captain on the Mayflower. The man was one Mr. Jones, an ex-pirate. His patron had rescued him from jail and he was ready to take orders. The Mayflower left London late in July, 1620, with Captain Jones and a rowdy crew of his gathering.

They were to meet the Speedwell, out from Leyden, and then the two boats were to proceed to Virginia—or so their passengers thought. The ex-pirate had other orders from his master. Twice the Speedwell sprung a leak and twice put back for repairs. Members of her crew later confessed that they had deliberately caused the damage because they knew the vessel was headed for the hardships of New England.

Finally, in September, the Mayflower sailed. After a perilous trip land was sighted but it was not the Virginia coast that the passengers' patents had promised. The Pilgrim leaders insisted that Captain Jones take them southward but he refused and headed for the dangerous waters of Cape Cod. Sir Ferdinand's orders were orders!

TREMENDOUS STOMACH ACHE

FRANCE was passing through a political upheaval after the fall of the Second Empire during the Franco-Prussian war of 1870. The Monarchists were determined to rule, but there was strong sentiment for a republic.

The national assembly which would decide the issue, was almost evenly divided, with a slight edge in favor of the Monarchists. The vote was to be taken on June 30, 1875. As the roll of the assembly was called the whole atmosphere was tense with excitement, for the balloting was very close.

There was no sound in the chamber but the grave voice of the president. He called the name of Monsieur Leurant. There was no answer. Surprised faces turned toward the chair of that deputy. It was vacant.

The absurdities that interfere with politics were operating to prevent his response. Deputy Leurant had a stomachache that morning, a bad one. He managed to sit through the preliminaries, suffering with the griping pains of colic, but finally he could stand it no longer.

The president called his name in vain. Leurant's vote would have been for the Monarchists as he was known to be unswerving in his devotion to this form of government. While he was absent, the assembly was deadlocked, 352 to 352. Finally, as was constitutionally provided for in such emergencies, the president cast his vote . . . in favor of the Republic.

France might still be a monarchy, if it hadn't been for this stomachache.

LITTLE GADGETS—BIG MONEY

KING GILLETTE, looking at the nicked chins of American men and counting up the millions of hours they spent in stropping their razors, devised a safety razor with replaceable blades. His profits are said to have been $2,500,000 a year for several years.

B. F. Sturtevant devised a wooden shoe peg which was much cheaper and just as satisfactory as nails. It made $6,000,000 for him.

Hyman Lipman made $100,000 out of other persons' mistakes. He put a rubber tip on the end of a lead pencil so they could rub out their errors of spelling, grammar, etc., and start over again.

Samuel Kisehbaum, a tailor, had managed to save $120. He invested the whole amount in a new gadget—a hook and eye arrangement for dresses. Within a few years his $120 had grown to $12,000.

Jeremiah Geary, a plumber, sold his shop and invested the proceeds, $600, in a gas mantle. That investment paid big dividends—$500,000, so it is said.

Joseph Glidden, a farmer, may or may not have been the first to think of twisting short pieces of sharply-cut wire at regular intervals around other strands of wire, but he made $1,000,000 out of his barbed wire business. Later he invented a new type of farm gate and within two years it showed a profit of $150,000.

Invent a little gadget that the public wants and make big money out of it—if you're lucky!

WHEN YOU TAKE A LAXATIVE

...use a spoon

It isn't what brand of laxative you take that's so important—it's the form. A liquid laxative can be taken in any required amount. If only a little is needed, you need never take a bit too much.

Doctors favor the easily measured liquid laxatives. Instead of any form that does not encourage variation from the fixed dose. A fixed dose may be an overdose for you—or your child.

Always remember this one thing about constipation: the secret of any real relief is reduced dosage.

Give the bowels only as much help as may be needed, and less help as the need grows less. You will find Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin an excellent aid in regulating the bowels. It contains senna and cascara (natural laxatives) and it will clear-up any bilious, sluggish condition without upset. Delightful taste, and pleasant action. Your druggist has it.

THOSE WHO LABOR

Who is the worker? I answer this question by saying that all who engage in productive activity are workers. Not every form of activity, even if it brings in some return to the person engaged in it, is work. It is work only when it is productive of things that are of value to others, and of value not simply in a particular case but when that kind of activity is generally of service. Those who live upon the work of others without rendering a return are parasites of one kind or another. The man who lives upon interest, dividends or rent is, so far as that includes what he does, a parasite. There is something intellectually and mortally, as well as economically, topsy-turvy when honor, esteem and admiration go to a section of society because its members are relieved from the necessity of work. To believe otherwise is to believe that those who subtract from the real wealth of society instead of adding to it are the highest type. Everybody assents to this statement in practice, but in fact the attention given in this country to the rich just because they are rich, proves that we do not live up to our theoretical belief.—Dr. John Dewey.

WHOSE MONEY?

"I have watched the use of investor's money to make the investor believe that the efforts of government to protect him are designed to defraud him."—Franklin D. Roosevelt, as President of the United States, in a message to Congress on the public utilities bill.

Political hocum! Who put up the money for the 50,000 copies of President Roosevelt's message on utility holding companies ordered by Congress? Who puts up the money for the support of the mails through which this message will be franked under congressional privilege? Is any member of the administration spending his own money for the dissemination of propaganda against the utilities, or is he spending the taxpayers' money?

In courts of equity a plaintiff must come to the bar with "clean hands." If President Roosevelt or any member of his administration is to complain of propaganda, whether financed by investors' money for their own protection or in any other way, they might, to advantage, cease conducting propaganda at public expense for their pet legislation.

Because government propaganda costs its authors nothing and must be paid for by the taxpayers, more of it is sent to every newspaper and magazine office in the United States than of all the publicity of all other types issued by all private businesses in the country. It is the wastebasket's best friend.

VOELKER'S DEFEAT

The defeat of Paul Voelker, superintendent of public instruction, in the recent election can be laid directly at the door of his insistence and agitation for an amount of school aid money in excess of the amount that Gov. Fitzgerald believed would be adequate, and at the same time spells the final defeat of the $25,000,000 school aid bill recently passed by the House. Mr. Voelker had a very prominent part in making a political issue out of the amount of school aid money to be voted and in his enthusiasm he failed to reckon the tone of the voter. Gov. Fitzgerald accepted the challenge and has insisted that even if the legislature passed the twenty-five million measure that he would veto it. The governor has won a signal victory.

More than that, there is every satisfaction in the expressed desire of Gov. Fitzgerald to protect Michigan's school system and render financial assistance within the means of the people. The governor's attitude in the school matter is akin to that of Rep. Brown as expressed by the latter to his audience here last Friday evening. No one who heard Mr. Brown could doubt his loyalty to the public schools, and his recommendations for the distribution of financial aid, or an equalization of school aid money, carries with it a soundness of purpose that cannot be questioned.

In the meantime, Supt. Voelker's cargo of over zealous optimism has run amuck,—and "a-plenty."—Harry Izor in the Durand Express.

PIONEER SPIRIT LACKING

A contributor to a current magazine does not see satisfactory solution of relief problems in the way work relief is carried on. There may be no better way to handle it, but the growing spirit of workers to get as much as possible for as little as possible—giving emphasis to putting in time rather than to getting a job done—is not the spirit that overcomes obstacles and develops pride in self-support. The pluck of the pioneer who worked and practiced self-denial and did not give up in the face of hardships should be restored.

SEAL SEEN IN LAKE MICHIGAN NEAR MANITOU ISLAND

Workmen employed on the North Manitou Shoals lighthouse reported seeing a seal frolicking about Lake Michigan at 3:30 Wednesday afternoon, which is not surprising in view of the fact that seals have been reported from several points in Lake Michigan.

It is believed that two or three seals escaped from the Lincoln Park zoo in Chicago and for some time they were seen off the Chicago shore but they are apparently scattering about the lake.

TANKER OPENS STRAITS NAVIGATION THURSDAY

The Gen. Markham, an oil tanker, steamed through the Straits last Wednesday, inaugurating lake traffic 25 days ahead of last season. The Gen. Markham crossed from Lake Huron and started down Lake Michigan for Chicago. The coast guard said the early season was made possible by unusually warm weather and work of the coast guard cutter, Escanaba, which cut a path through the ice from Lake Huron to Lake Michigan last Sunday.

BEAVER MANAGEMENT IS PLANNED

under the new program it is planned. After the dams have been removed satisfactorily a comprehensive program of stream-improvement work will be started to rehabilitate the stream and make it more attractive to and productive of trout.

Streams that have had a long and continued history of beaver occupancy, such as Hudson and Robinson creeks in Roscommon county, Camp Eight, Camp 31 and Messenger creek in Iron county, will be left completely to the beaver as long as the food supplies last. Such streams, according to Salyer, are beyond all hope of recovery for many years to come, due to the permanency of the changes wrought by beaver.

The location of all known beaver dams and their ages are being indicated on county maps by conservation officers. The officers have been invited to recommend dams which, it is believed, should be removed. Administration of the beaver-trout program, which is a permanent management program duly considering the public and private interest involved, will be administered by a committee of Divisional heads consisting of Mr. Westerman, Fisheries; H. R. Sayre, Field Administration, and H. D. Ruhl, Game.

Millinery Stages Varied Program

By CHERIE NICHOLAS

SUCH a bewildering variety of headgear as fashion offers this season! There is positively no excuse for not being becomingly hatted this spring and summer, for it would seem that every known type with a few extras thrown in is answering "present" to the roll call in current millinery showings.

Bonnets! The millinery shops are full of 'em. Every sort of bonnet is represented in the new hat collections ranging from ingenue types to the sophisticated eye-impelling bonnets of Regency period inspiration.

A fine thing about a bonnet is that it shows up the new "bangs" to perfection. The taffeta trimmed bonnet to the upper right in the picture demonstrates this point to a nicety. The ldg bow at the throat is of self-same taffeta as the bow on the bonnet. Milliners are all enthusiasm over the taffeta (plain or plaided) neck-bow and hat "sets" which are selling at first sight. The bonnet to the left is quaint and youthful with flowers and ribbon which make it utterly feminine.

It may be that the roguish pill-box turban goes best with your features. This pert little style of headgear sure gives an up-and-going look to any spring outfit. Atop the curly-curly coiffures hairdressers are now advocating, a pill-box hat declares convincing chic. The model centered below in the group is the perfect complement to a black crepe dress. It is of the mohair black basket weave shiny straw, has two little black bows and flaunts an eyeline veil as most of these diminutive hats.

A fashion which is breathtaking in novelty and daring is the forward-move brim. Narrow at the sides is this type with a startling forward streamline sweep of the brim. To interpret the very quintessence of chic it must be tilted at a rakish angle down over the eyes. The smartness of these forward-brim hats is added unto with novel crown effects achieved via pleats and folds, eccentric peaks and spiral drapes often surmounted with amusing feather fancies or perky ribbon cocardes. Two models of this suggestion are illustrated below in the picture. The felt to the left is olive green with black and olive feather fancy. The finest of ballyhanti straw in navy blue fashions the hat to the right. It has the new down-in-front and up-at-back movement.

The model centered above is a variation of the popular breton sailor. It is very youthful, made of navy taffeta, for you must know that millinery is yielding unreservedly to the taffeta craze which is now on. The pompon is of navy and white ostrich.

If you register in the sailor-conscious sorority it will be worth your while to tour the shops and see what's doing in the way of nifty exponents of this type. In Paris the low crowned sailor of shiny black straw is a big favorite. To wear the new sailors properly they must be saucily tilted over the eyes, with a veil to complete the picture.

Loyal to the beret are you? Well, fashion is willing, providing a very new look is achieved via a subtle drape or a topknot trim or a use of a novel fabric combination and always a little veil for the sake of chic. A matching scarf also adds a roguish note.

QUILTED VELVET

By CHERIE NICHOLAS

Here is a lovely coat to wear to parties. When summer comes it will be just the thing to top your dainty lingerie frocks. It is smart and practical for resort year at any time of the year. Quilted crystelle velvet fashions it, and if you have the proper color urge you will select it in some one or other of the very new medium pastel tones. A big rhinestone pin adds chic worn on the scarf.

Novelty Dress Clasp

Interlocking gold rings form an interesting type of clasp to fasten a wool tunic.

SHOW WIDE VARIETY IN SPRING PRINTS

To the woman who thinks of summer in terms of printed fabrics the new season will provide a perfect orgy. The dresses shown in downtown stores are typical of the new printed fabrics. Many motifs are much less widely spaced than in other springs.

The animal motifs, especially the Scottie print, are here. Break it gently that natty prints are also in the shops. The designs are taken from photographic studies of nuts, and are very effective. Why not? There's a new porcelain clay process which produces the deadest white imaginable and in spite of a great furor over color, this clay-white print is greatly admired. A swing about the shops confirms the report that more prints have been shown this year than last. Certainly, there are more stripes, checks and plaids; and they are often printed. Stripes are just another of the regency touches that seem so desirable at the moment.

Irish Linen Expected to Be Favorite Next Summer

Irish linen has come to the fore as the leading fabric in the Paris fashion picture. Cables from the French capital promise that next spring and summer women will be wearing suits, dresses, hats, shoes, bags and even lingerie of fine Irish linen.

The fact that linen used to crush badly was responsible for its not having been more universally used before. It was always an ideal summer fabric, porous and cool, yet strong and long-wearing. Now, Irish linen has been specifically processed, so that the linens which will be imported for next summer's fashions are as nearly uncrushable as any fabric.

Parasols Come Back

Tiny and colorful parasols made of synthetic straw silk with yard-long handles appear with spring sports and street afternoon clothes.

BREEZY VEHICLE

When automobiles were first introduced to Cape Cod, some thirty years ago, an old sea captain was given a ride in one of the first cars, a high-sided contraption steered by the tiller that preceded the steering wheel.

"Well, captain, what do you think of her?" asked the proud owner and driver.

"Well," answered the captain, his face showing a puzzled look, "she's the first craft I ever seen that has a head wind no matter which way you p'inted her."—Boston Daily Globe.

The close of the year's activities of the Dickens and Shakespeare clubs culminated in a banquet for the members and their husbands Thursday evening, April 11th, at the Masonic hall.

Places were set for about eighty guests at beautifully decorated tables, white predominating for the color scheme, white candles in crystal holders interspersed with crystal bowls of white carnations, stock and snapdragons.

After a delicious three-course dinner served by the Eastern Star ladies, and while the guests were still seated at the tables, a program ensued in which several members of both clubs and their husbands participated.

Mrs. Clair Webster, president of the Dickens Club, opened the program, giving her address in the form of an original poem, in which she gave a resume of the year's work—a trip by plane from Miami through South America with various landings at the most important cities en route, and return; also, extending a word of thanks to the "pilots" for their prolicieney throughout the club year on their trip.

Mrs. Earl Young, president, gave the address of the Shakespeare club, using for her thought, "Awake, America!" She stressed a closer understanding of international relationships and urged the necessity of each individual acquainting himself with those affairs which are of vital interest and importance in our social and economic life.

Mrs. Clinton Cooper, as toastmistress, charmingly and cleverly introduced each of the remaining numbers on the program.

Mrs. Robert Magar and Mrs. Carleton Dean gave a beautiful rendition of two piano duet numbers, "Norwegian Dance" by Grieg and "Dance Styrienne" by Michiel.

A short history of the life of Ethelbert Nevin, the composer of "The Rosary," was given by Mrs. Marguerite Swinton in her usual able and fascinating manner, after which a trio arrangement of this song was sung by twelve ladies from the two clubs, accompanied by Mrs. A. J. Stelter.

A toast to the Dickens club husbands was given by Ralph Price and a toast to the Shakespeare Club husbands by R. F. Sloan. Mr. Price left the men worried as to what state of subordination they may be in within a few years, considering the advance made by women since the Stone Age to the present day. It was suggested now that the women have "clubs" may be a hang-over from the old days when the men wielded the "stone-black-jack" of authority. Mr. Sloan ably responded in a gracious manner and even though they are called "clubs" commended the work of women's organizations and bespoke for the men a more frequent reoccurrence of this happy occasion.

Mrs. Ruth Soule, now of Bellaire, gave two violin solos, "Canzonetta," by Rudolph Friml and "Romance," which were much enjoyed. She was accompanied by Mrs. A. J. Stelter at the piano.

"In Spain," by Di Chiara, was sung by the quartette, composed of Mrs. A. L. Livingston, Mrs. Clair Webster, Dr. Carleton Dean and Edward Edwards, accompanied by Mr. A. J. Stelter.

"Happy Day Are Here Again," with Robert Bridge on the violin, Ralph Price on the guitar, and Mrs. Robert Bridge at the piano, was much enjoyed.

The "Musical Recitation" by a group of the husbands was the cause of much hilarity and it was the consensus of the listeners that some of the men had missed their calling in not being on the stage and in their originality in composing and interpreting music.

The Viennese Waltz was played by Mrs. A. J. Stelter and beautifully interpreted in its poetry of motion in the dancing of Annet and David Livingston.

This concluded the program and made a happy ending of the club year.

REPORT PROGRESS ON HOME COMING

COMMITTEE OUTLINES STEPS TAKEN ON CHARLEVOIX'S PENDING FOURTH OF JULY CELEBRATION

Pageant, Popularity Contest, Ox Roast, Land and Water Sports, Concessions, Etc., Included in Program—Committees to Handle Event Have Been Named

During the last two weeks many more citizens of Charlevoix have become interested in the big event of the year for this community—the Charlevoix County Homecoming and State Centennial, with a mammoth historical pageant of Charlevoix county and Grand Traverse region to be staged each evening, for the three days of the celebration, July 4th, 5th and 6th.

For those who have not followed the progress of the organization and development of plans for the big undertaking, a brief resume is given here, bringing the reader up to the present in the activities and plans for the event and also giving a glimpse of what is to come.

Early in the winter the local post of the American Legion sent a delegation to the city council to determine what their wishes were with regard to the Fourth of July celebration, customarily staged annually in one of the three cities of the county, this year being the city of Charlevoix's turn.

The city council being heartily in favor of such a celebration, asked the Legion to sponsor and take charge of the event as was done three years ago. This the Legion agreed to do providing assistance from both the city council and Association of Commerce was assured. The council also pledged their support and a committee of three was appointed by Mayor L. S. See to meet with the committees from the Association of Commerce and Legion. The council committee appointed was Aldermen F. J. Fessenden, J. Hallett and Leo Carey.

C. J. Winder, president of the Association of Commerce then appointed a committee from that organization as follows: M. A. Levinson, L. P. Adams, Joseph Foster.

The committees from the three organizations met at the court house for organization purposes. Present at this meting was a representative of the John B. Rogers Producing Co., who outlined the services of this company. After lengthy discussion, it was found generally favorable with the committees to stage a historical pageant of Charlevoix county, with the matter of financing referred to the American Legion inasmuch as the city could not extend such credit and the Association of Commerce was not in financial condition to assume the obligation.

The executive committee of the American Legion met the following evening with the representative of the company, and officially contracted for the staging of the pageant. Some of the reasons of this decision were as follows:

Inasmuch as the celebration this year was to be a three-day homecoming event, appealing to former residents of this county to return here from various distances, it would be no more than fair to give them something unusual for their time and expense.

Inasmuch as Emmet county has received much publicity from their winter carnival and Traverse City from their cherry festival, it was thought time that Charlevoix county took an active part in advertising their advantages, and receive whatever benefits that may accrue from such publicity.

Inasmuch as this is the first year of the State Centennial celebrations to be held throughout the state and that the state legislature was to, and since has, appropriated a large sum of money to advertise such celebrations, in other states, it was considered timely that Charlevoix, and Charlevoix county receive their share of such publicity by participating in such centennial celebrations.

And finally it was thought possible that it might tend to begin our regular summer season a few weeks earlier.

The adding of the historical pageant to the already enlarged three day homecoming made the entire program of a size that necessitates the whole-hearted cooperation from the entire community, both locally and in other parts of the county. To

GOOD FRIDAY UNION SERVICES THIS WEEK

Charlevoix Services to Be Held at Congregational Church

The fifth annual Good Friday services will be held in the Congregational church. This union service is supported by almost every protestant church in Charlevoix county.

This year simultaneous services will be held in Boyne City, East Jordan and Charlevoix, but there will be no interchange of speakers. Each community has provided its own speakers.

In Charlevoix the service will begin at 1:15 and continue until about 3 o'clock. According to custom, worshippers may come and go as they choose. This does not interrupt the service as a hymn is sung after each address and all are asked to come or go during the singing.

An added feature this year is the presence of the Atwood male quartette. This group, however, will not remain throughout the service. Those who wish to hear them must be at the first part of the service.

DEATH CLOSES ACTIVE CAREER

JOHN BURNS DIED THURSDAY AFTER LONG ILLNESS

Had Been Resident Here Over Fifty Years—Active in Civic and Business Life of City

Charlevoix lost one of its highly respected and substantial pioneer residents last Thursday night in the death of John Burns, who succumbed to an extended illness at his home on Grant street.

Born August 31, 1851, in Canada of Scotch parentage, Mr. Burns came to this country over 55 years ago. He settled first near Atwood and shortly afterwards moved to this city, where he had since made his home.

Mr. Burns was one of the original owners of the Argo Milling Co., a business connection severed about thirty years ago due to ill health. He afterward engaged in the contracting business, continuing until retirement in recent years. Mr. Burns in past years was very active in local civic interests. He served many years as member and at least one term as president of the village council. He was a member of the local Odd Fellows and of the Congregational church of which he was a deacon from 1901 to 1934, at which time he was elected deacon emeritus.

Mr. Burns was married December 16, 1886, to Miss Mary E. Bell, who survives him together with a son, Cecil, this city; two brothers, James and Milton, and a sister, Mrs. Edward Forsyth, all of St. Marys, Ontario.

Funeral services were conducted at 10 o'clock Monday morning from the Congregational church, Rev. G. R. Parker officiating. Interment was at Brookside cemetery.

Mr. Burns held a high place in the minds and hearts of residents of Charlevoix and his passing is mourned by all who knew him.

TIBBITTS MEASURE A BENEFIT TO CITY

If Passed May Mean Establishment of Nearby State Park

Of great interest to Charlevoix is House Bill No. 473, introduced by Rep. Douglas D. Tibbitts in the House of Representatives at Lansing.

The measure provides for transfer from the state to the department of conservation what is known as the Burns property, located on Bell's Bay on Lake Michigan approximate to the portion of the new scenic highway constructed west from the McKenzie corner.

It is understood that providing the measure passed in Lansing, plans are under way for the establishment of a state park on the tract. Charlevoix would benefit greatly from the establishment of an adjacent state park and every influence used to assist Rep. Tibbitts in passage of the measure would be if importance to this city.

ANNOUNCE AN EASTER PAGEANT NEXT SUNDAY

An Easter pageant will be presented by the Congregational Sunday school next Sunday morning at 10 o'clock under the direction of Mrs. Pearl Nakamy. Parents and friends are invited.

HOUSING CANVASS STARTED TUESDAY

AIMED TO DETERMINE FUTURE LOCAL ACTIVITY

Committee to Direct National Housing Act Campaign Announced by Dr. C. J. Winder

According to an announcement by Dr. C. J. Winder, Charlevoix chairman for the federal housing administration, a canvass to determine the extent of activity to result in this city from opportunities afforded by the National Housing Act got under way Tuesday morning.

The canvass is one of the first promotions of a local committee of which Dr. Winder is chairman, created to direct effort to stimulate interest in the housing program locally through means of publicity and other activities. Other members of the committee are Harry A. Craig, Archie L. Livingston, Robert Bridge, Dr. R. B. Armstrong, Robert F. Sloan and Joseph M. Foster.

Those making the local canvass are A. C. Belding and Mr. Hanna, who are working under supervision of the Charlevoix County Emergency Welfare Commission. They will cover this city in a house-to-house campaign to determine how many home owners will undertake repairs and alterations through the Housing Act financing plan.

"Since the inauguration of the housing campaign in this city, many applications have been made, according to Dr. Winder. Both the Charlevoix County State Bank and the Charlevoix State Savings Bank have already forwarded many applications to the Detroit office of the federal housing administration in Detroit for approval. Indications point to a decided activity in the building trades in this city in subsequent weeks."

The federal housing administration is attempting to stimulate the building trades and increase employment through encouraging a nation-wide program of house repair and improvements. To assist the homeowner, loans may be easily obtained at banks, the government securing the banks' commitments. The cost to the home owner is not to be in excess of $5 per year for each $100.

The loans are to be repaid in monthly installments that may be extended over a period of five years. From $100 to $2,000 may be obtained, depending, of course, on the credit record of the applicant and the value of the property.

Only persons with an income of at least five times the amount of the monthly installments they would be expected to pay will be granted loans.

Firestone

FIRESTONE TIRES STOP YOUR CAR 15% to 25% Quicker

Install a Set of Firestones and Your Tire Troubles are Over . . . . .

It is true that there are many kinds of tires. Some of them look good when first purchased but soon go to pieces when put to the stress and strain that most tires get tbrough driving on all kinds of roads. Others give fairly satisfactory service but the price is more than a motorist should be expected to pay. That is why FIRESTONE truly stands for the peak of perfection in the manufacture of tires. They look good when first bought and still look good after having been driven many thousands of miles. The price of them is low so that anyone who owns a car can easily afford to buy this famous tire. And the most attractive feature of them is that they go on mile after mile, month in and month out, always giving dependable service on all kinds of roads.

The reason is simply this—the manufacturers of FIRESTONE tires have always been determined to produce the best possible tire at a price anyone can afford to pay who owns a car. The knowledge they have gained through the years in their tecbnical departments and research laboratories in tire construction and the tremendous volume of sales they enjoy each year have combined to enable them to fulfill this desire. All of which means just this—when you buy FIRESTONES you buy the best and when you drive on FIRESTONES you get the best service that can be expected from a tire.

After having driven your car during the past winter months don't delay an inspection of your tires. Look for worn and weak spots in the casing. These are the danger signs against which every motorist must guard. Now is the time to install new tires and be prepared for the enjoyable motoring days ahead.

Allies at Odds Over Germany

As the Stresa conferences between Great Britain, Italy and France begin, it is rumored that the former allies are not in complete accord over united action against Germany. According to a statement made by Premier Mussolini's newspaper, Britain is not committed to the Franco-Italian front against Germany despite numerous conferences already held on "the German gesture," Chancellor Hitler's abrogation of the Versailles treaty's military clauses and announcement that Germany has an air force and will have a conscript army.

France is much disturbed over reports that Germany intends to quietly penetrate the demilitarized zone in the German Rhineland, possibly by small garrison detachments or barracks, and is especially anxious that Britain pledge herself to joint action with the other powers.

DON'T VOTE, BUT DON'T NEED TO

French Women Wield Power Without Ballot.

DOROTHY DUNBAR BROMLEY, in the New York World-Telegram.

French women are still fighting for the vote today because Napoleon believed our sex should be treated as minors. You can read that set mind of his between the lines of his gallant letters to Empress Marie Louise. He talks to her as if she were even younger than her years.

She is to be generous in her gifts to the people he designates, she is not to give gold snuff boxes, she is to be pleasant to her family and she is "never to allow anything ambiguous to be said in her presence about France and politics."

Obviously Napoleon gave his "house Louise" very little credit for judgment of her own or for any common sense.

Napoleon had one willful wife, and that was enough for him. Josephine had carried on her intrigues under his nose. But when he paid her in the same coin she had raised the roof.

So it came about that Napoleon wrote into his famous Code Civil, "the wife must learn that she owes obedience to her husband." And, "the wife shall follow her husband wherever she goes." This was a dig at Josephine.

The Code Napoleon has been slightly modified in the course of the years. But even now a French wife can't leave the country without her husband's permission. She can't open a bank account without his o. k., unless she has a business or profession of her own. She can't visit friends or places of which he disapproves. And he has absolute authority over their children and property, unless the marriage contract calls for a separation of their estates.

American women in some of our states are no better off than French women, except for the fact they have the vote. As for that, the French woman would have had the ballot some time ago if the senators of the radical party had not feared that the female vote might strengthen the clerical party.

Since the married French woman is a chattel and since no French woman can go to the polls, American women have been in the habit of condescending to her. But we needn't waste our pity. Ask a Frenchman to make an important business decision and he is as likely as not to put off until tomorrow. He wouldn't admit it, but he will wait to find out what his wife thinks about it.

During the war any number of French women ran their husbands' businesses and factories without a hitch. A Parisian woman of my acquaintance managed her husband's tin factory. When she heard that his outfit at the front could not communicate with headquarters for lack of telegraph wire she got hold of the proper machinery and turned to making telegraph wire.

Napoleon left a lasting imprint on the laws and customs of France. But it would have taken a greater force than the Little Corporal to stay the course of the French woman.

The French woman knows how vain men are. So she never makes a show of power. While she pretends to defer to her husband, she will let fall a suggestion which he will adopt as his own. And if she deceives him she is usually more subtle in her technic than was the willful Josephine. With all her legal disabilities she is happier than the American woman. For she is important in her husband's scheme of things 24 hours of the day.

In the final analysis the French woman makes a business of understanding men. Man is her metier.

COMPLETE LINES OF TRUCK TIRES FOR EVERY TRUCKING SERVICE AT LOWEST PRICES—GIVING LONG MILEAGE AND GREATEST ECONOMY

FIRESTONE pioneered the ship-by-truck movement in 1918, and ever since has consistently led in anticipating every requirement in the design and construction of truck and bus tires for every transportation condition. To accomplish this, Firestone has consistently followed the fundamental principle of its founder and active head, Harvey S. Firestone, "Always to find the way to build tires better than anyone else."

While there are many reasons why Firestone Tires are safer and more economical, there are two reasons that stand out above all others. One is Gum-Dipping; and the other is two extra layers of Gum-Dipped cords under the tread.

By Gum-Dipping, every strand in every cord is soaked in liquid rubber, preventing friction—adding extra strength and long mileage. By having two extra layers of Gum-Dipped cords placed between the tread and cord body, it is practical to use a tread with higher, more rugged shoulders and a deeper non-skid with flatter contour.

All this provides more rubber on the road, giving longer wear, greater traction and quicker stops. These two extra construction features are patented and used only in Firestone Tires. Take a forward step in maintaining schedules and reducing operating costs. Call on the Firestone Service Store or Firestone Service Dealer today.

GOVERNOR SIGNS ADVERTISING MEASURE

Provides $100,000 to Promote State's Tourist Business

Tourists is "a sound investment bound to yield substantial returns to many hundreds of thousands of our citizens," Governor Fitzgerald has approved the Fenton bill appropriating $100,000 annually for Michigan tourist advertising. He said:

"More and more our tourist trade is establishing itself as a chief means of income for an increasing number of communities. They are cashing in on the state's natural beauties and recreational advantages at a time when many of them would be suffering grievously from a diminishing activity were it not for the help of the tourist and resort trade."

LEGION ACTIVITIES
By F. V. Tyler

Bugle and drum corps practice, Tuesday night, was the largest in some time with a very gratifying attendance and performance. Lots of in between practicing should be done, however, as the corps will appear on the streets for the first time this year on May 26th, at Petoskey, the occasion being a meeting of the Lower Eleventh district Legionnaires. Members be sure and turn out promptly at 7:30 p. m., or as close to that hour as practicable next Tuesday night for another good practice. Possibly, we can do a few turns out of doors, if the weather permits.

A joint supper party, at which Kiwanians and Legionnaires will sit down together and enjoy good old army "slum-gullion," will be a pleasant feature of the near future. The date and place will be announced later.

Work is being pushed rapidly on the relief project at the Legion Home. The basement is being completely remodeled and re-decoration of the interior of the entire building is planned.

In the Line of Duty

On a December evening, in a telephone exchange in Northern Michigan, an operator sat at the switchboard. Calls were few. It was the low ebb of the day's work. There was nothing to suggest that soon this quiet office was to be the scene of danger — and resolute devotion to duty.

It began with that dread forerunner of disaster—the smell of smoke. Then, from an adjoining building, came the crackling of flames. Personal safety now obviously lay in abandoning the switchboard. And under the circumstances no one could be justly censured for putting self-preservation first.

The operator stuck to her post.

And the alarm, spreading rapidly through the town, reached three other operators who were off duty at the time. Immediately—volunteers in the face of danger—they hurried to the exchange.

While engines clanged, while firemen fought flames close by, while an adjacent wall collapsed in the heat of the town's most costly and disastrous fire in ten years, these four operators remained steadfastly at the switchboard to handle all the great rush of calls that must attend and combat any public emergency.

This example of calm courage, taken from recent records, does not stand alone. Again and again, in crises large and small, Michigan Bell Telephone employees have proved their high sense of loyalty to public service. Courteous and efficient in the routine work which day by day maintains the high standards of telephone service, they have repeatedly faced emergencies with genuine courage and an unselfish devotion to duty.

It is because of this spirit of service, no less than because of great engineering achievements, that Michigan today enjoys a telephone service unsurpassed in any quarter of the globe.

Interior Almost Completely Gutted by Flames Monday Afternoon

The Lee C. Allard residence on South State street was damaged to the extent of several thousand dollars by fire of undetermined origin Monday afternoon.

The family was absent when the fire started and the flames had gained considerable headway before discovered. The blaze is believed to have started in the basement, as it worked up through the partitions into the upper floor with the result the interior was badly gutted.

A large portion of the furnishings were carried out. The house was covered by insurance.

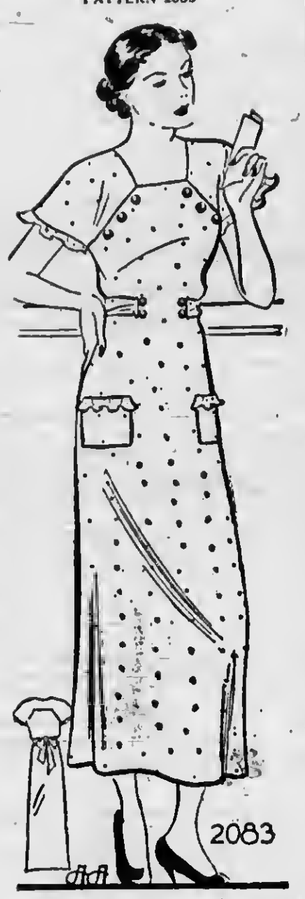
SIMPLE TO MAKE; EASY TO WEAR

PATTERN 2083



When a busy housewife finds a frock as pretty and as simple to make up as the one illustrated, she'll make several of them in different colors—that is, she will if she's very clever. There are only three pieces to the body of this dress, the back, the yoke—cut in one with the sleeves—and the front. Cut them out, sew them up, add the slimming half belt which ties into a perky little bow at the back, and the smart patch pockets, whip frills onto the sleeves and the pockets or omit them altogether—and in less than the time it takes to tell about it you'll have one of the daintiest house frocks you've seen in a long, long time!

Pattern 2083 is available in sizes 14, 16, 18, 20, 32, 34, 36, 38, 40, 42 and 44. Size 16 takes 3¼ yards 36 inch fabric. Illustrated step-by-step sewing instructions included.

SEND FIFTEEN CENTS (15c) in coins or stamps (coins preferred) for this pattern. Write plainly name, address, and style number. BE SURE TO STATE SIZE.

Address orders to Sewing Circle Pattern Department, 243 West Seventeenth street, New York City.

IDENTIFICATION

"What is Crimson Gulch going to do about the crime wave?"

"Plenty," answered Cactus Joe. "We've put a deputy sheriff in the gas filling station. Nobody is allowed to pass without being photographed and fingerprinted to see whether he can be traced to Chicago's rogue's gallery."

Early Aversion

Small John, saying her prayers, had asked blessings on her parents and various other members of the family, at her mother's suggestion.

"Now ask God to make you a good girl," her mother added.

"Please make me a good girl, Lord," Joan continued, "but not too fat, please, not too fat."—Exchange.

TREMENDOUS TRIFLES

By ELMO SCOTT WATSON

WILD STEER, ANCIENT CITY

IN 1911, an Irishman named Pat Lynch roped a wild steer in northwestern Colorado. The animal, crazed by the lasso that was tied to the cowboy's saddle horn, dragged horse and rider over the rim of a great chasm. A sturdy pinon tree grew on the edge of the cliff and the rope caught around this long enough for Lynch to throw himself clear. His horse hung on one end of the lasso and the steer on the other. There they swung like lead toys on a stick. Then, as the rope broke under their combined weights, they plunged into the canon far below.

Lynch, miraculously enough, landed on a narrow ledge. There was no way for him to escape from the smooth walls that rose steep above him, and below was the chasm. There was no room to turn around, but he slowly worked his way along the shelf until at last, dropping a boulder, he realized from the sound that just beneath him there must be another ledge.

Slowly, he slid down and fell into soft sand. All about him were the ruins of ancient cliff houses that no white man had ever seen. The remains of a man-made trail led around a corner of the rock wall and Lynch climbed to safety.

He told his story, but at that time the cattlemen were not interested in the crumbling bits of an ancient civilization. In 1933, however, a small exploring party went into the region to trace the rumors of the years. The government has now reserved this area as the Yampa Canyon national monument and scientists declare that the cliff houses will yield important developments in the history of this continent.

After all, Pat Lynch might have missed his throw, and a slumbering canon might still be waiting for the white men to discover.

SPEEDOMETER

"STEP on it, boy!" And the needle on the speedometer climbs up—up—up—fifty—sixty—seventy—eighty miles an hour!

It wasn't thus back in 1846 when Brigham Young was leading his Mormon colony across the Great Plains to their "Promised Land" in Utah. Then the wagon trains crawled painfully along and eighty miles was a journey of several days instead of an hour.

Somewhere in Nebraska the Mormon leader pushed on to find the best route, leaving the slower-moving wagons behind to follow along the trail which he would mark out for them. One of these parties was in charge of a young fellow named William Clayton.

A long road and weary road it was for the westward-faring homeseekers. Their goal seemed so far distant and their progress so slow that they probably pestered young William Clayton a great deal with their questions of "How far have we come today? How much farther is it?"

So, being an ingenious young man, he devised a way to answer. He measured a mile on the trail that they traversed one day, then marked a wagon wheel at a certain point on its circumference. Keeping his eye on the marked spoke he counted its revolutions to the mile. Next he devised a ratchet that moved a cogwheel, which in turn moved another cogwheel that registered accurately the distance the caravan traveled daily. And that same principle is used in speedometers today.

SLOGANS

IF YOU want to be elected President, get a slogan! Make it short. And if you can include in it the hint of alliteration—fine!

"Tippecanoe and Tyler, Too!" reminded the nation that Gen. William Henry Harrison had won an important Indian battle at the beginning of a war which was none too well-filled with land victories for the American arms. So the Indiana frontiersman went to the White House.

In "Fifty-four Forty or Fight!" was crystallized the dissatisfaction of Americans over a proposed treaty with England, establishing a boundary line in the Oregon country. True, we later compromised on the forty-ninth parallel of latitude, far south of fifty-four forty, but the slogan had already sent James K. Polk to Washington.

Grant's "Let us have peace" has been called "the minimum in expressiveness" but it helped elect him President and during the next eight years that phrase had an ironical sound to the South, suffering under the Reconstruction regime. "He kept us out of war" helped re-elect Woodrow Wilson in 1916 but within one month after he was inaugurated we were in the war.

"The full dinner pail" appealed to enough Americans to make them elect William McKinley. Later they and their sons wanted to "get back to normalcy" with Warren G. Harding and soon thereafter they were willing to "Keep cool with Coolidge."

So . . . "See America First." Find out what phrases will tickle the fancy of its people. Then get a slogan and go to Washington as President!

It's a Season of Plaids and Checks

By CHERIE NICHOLAS

GOES madly on the rage for checks and plaids. Where fashions are at their smartest these animated patternings are flourishing with all their might, both for day and evening wear.

The new plaids and checks are as apt to be "all wool and a yard wide" (more likely fifty-four inches) as they are apt to be of washable synthetics, linens or cottons. In fact among the swankiest weaves going you will find linens done in garish, racy plaids which make up too swagger for words—ever so effective for sports wear.

Then, too, topcoats of gorgeous plaids are going places where they never went before, for women are wearing them during the daytime hours about town and for travel as well as sports. Some have fur collars and some haven't, but they are that good looking or without you will be envying the fortunates who possess them. The girl seated to the right in the picture is wearing a model which is styled with latest details, such as the handcut fringe of self material which trims the wide scarf ends and the wide turnover collar. The predominating colors in the plaid for this coat are brown and beige with a streak of orange in its makeup. The same plaid is striking in tones of reds or greens.

Her companion is wearing a check suit and if you are wanting to get into something decidedly stylish for spring here's your cue and no mistake about it. This one is black and white but if you happen to be in some other color mood, there is a check to satisfy, such as green with gray, navy with white, brown with tiger yellow. Then, too, there are tweed checks galore out on the field of action. They are smart, to be sure, but we must say there is a regular landslide in the direction of the simple little checks as pictured.

It is ever so good style to wear a tweed wool check skirt with a jacket of plain or the reverse. It is smart, too, to top a plaid or check skirt with a colorful suede jacket.

Plaid taffetas for daytime frocks, either synthetic or pure silk are making a grand success of it this season. A shirtwaist dress of plaid taffeta is in the height of fashion. Likewise a one-piece taffeta frock topped with a redingota of wool in navy or black makes an ideal spring costume.

Myriads of simple little morning and informal afternoon frocks choose plaid for their media. The model on the standing figure plays up bias-to-straight effectively. Novel touches such as buttons in alternate colors and little pockets set in on the bias add zest to this mode.

The other dress is interesting, too, in that it is made of a star print—little stars instead of the dotted theme and you can get this material with white stars on navy or red and other combinations. A deep pointed collar of white pique and large white buttons tune into the scheme of things most cleverly.

NAVY AND YELLOW

By CHERIE NICHOLAS

It is good looking, this girlish frock and hat to match, is it not? It is a film-folk fashion and you know it is smart and advance if it originates in Hollywood, as it has. Ruby Keeler wears it. Attention is especially called to it because of its navy and canary color scheme. Navy for the foundational color with either white, yellow or pink is the talk o' town this season. The smart set are carrying out the idea by wearing accessories made of natural toned chamois skin. The dress pictured is of navy wool with accents of canary colored rough-textured crepe.

Turquoise Preferred

The turquoise has the preference among evening jewels, appearing effectively with white crepes and satins and especially with black velvet. Big turquoise buttons trim a black velvet dress cut away in front to show a fan-pleated underskirt of black tulle.

"SKIMMER" NEWEST WHIM OF HATTERS

The "skimmer" is the newest whim of the hatters, with maliness its chief distinguishing charm.

The skimmer is the 1935 version of the pancake sailor which has been with us, off and on, in recent months. Only now it is flatter and crazier and generally more exhilarating than ever.

You clap it on the side of your head at whatever angle best suits your current mood, batten it down with a band around the back or even a hatpin, and then go out and join in a sporting battle with the spring breezes.

There is one redeeming feature about the new skimmers. They have done away with the unsightly elastic bands that decorated last spring's version of this particular style of headgear, and have substituted bands of ribbon or felt or straw to match the hat.

New Silhouette Featured by Alix and Schiaparelli

There is much discussion and some difference of opinion expressed concerning the new draped lines which had their most prominent exponents in Alix and Schiaparelli dresses. These influences, variously reinted to the Hindu, the Persian and the Ihran, are best known in the sari-draped togas familiar in Near East photographs.

The draping is in a soft, statuesque line, swirled round the body in a continuous movement from ankles to head. Several arrivals consider it a significant new silhouette trend, promising more for later season development. Others are inclined to disregard draping, considering it too extreme.

Spring Accessories Matter of Importance to Fashion

Accessories are going to be matters of prime fashion importance this spring for there are "ginger and snap" in the way they are put together. Here is the way one chic Parisian accents a black and white check suit: Yellow straw hat with black band, yellow blouse and yellow chamois gloves, blue cornflower in the buttonhole, black suede bag and gloves.

Lace With Tweeds

Bows of soft lace are being worn with tweed costumes.

WHY SHOP-TALK IS SO POPULAR

Makes for Forgetfulness of One's Self.

One of the last arts to mature in a young society is the art of conversation. At its best, conversation is a kind of impromptu orchestra, each player improvising in perfect harmony, time and tune, tossing the theme from instrument to instrument, the themes developing and changing, discarded or resumed at the caprice of the players. This of course presupposes that the subject of the conversation be impersonal, that it be free to range pretty much over the whole field of human experience. Such conversation is first met with in the form of shop-talk, and the reason shop-talk among people of the same interests or profession (in which is included school studies) is so popular may be that here, perhaps for the first time, we learn how delightful it can be to exercise our minds in company with others to the total exclusion and forgetfulness of our tiresome selves. That is why students talk so eagerly about their school tasks, why business and professional people so madden innocent by-sitters with technical discussions of the minutiae of their trades; why artists, musicians and scholars persecute the public with their passionate dissertations. But there is a stage beyond this, where human interests are broad enough and deep enough to embrace everybody, where the whole of experience is the subject.

"Clever but undiscriminating," "undiscriminating because the past is not alive to them." "Highbrow? Anything rather than that!"—this is a good-natured appraisal of how our sophisticated New Yorkers make it appear to Europeans. The objection to them is that they do not know enough, either about the past or their own country. But the condition is temporary. A passion for learning has sprung up in our land since the war which, given time, should turn out a crop of men and women able to interpret America to Europe as it really is, and not as a glorified Wisecracklana. After the fire of the World war, after the whirlwind of the Jazz decade, after the earthquake of the economic depression cometh the still small voice of the spirit.—"Uncle Dudley," in the Boston Globe.

OF INTEREST TO FARMERS
By B. C. Mellencamp

50 Farmers Keeping Farm Account Records

Of all projects supervised by the extension department in the county, there is no doubt that the farm account work will do as much toward the improvement of agriculture as any that can be developed. In this program, each cooperator has an analysis of his particular farm that means considerable in making the farm more profitable. This service to farmers has been available for several years, and has grown in interest from year.

With 59 farmers keeping accurate records, there is no county in the state that will have more records, nor have as large a percent of those in agriculture keeping records, as this county.

At least 59 farmers will now know exactly their situation and what can be done to help themselves. During the year a representative from the college will visit each of the cooperators, at the end of the year appointments will be made with each farmer at which time the book will be checked in, and then an accurate analysis will be given to each cooperator.

Two Brooder Schools Will Attract Attention of Poultrymen

At this particular time of the year, many folks are interested in baby chicks, and problems of feed, care, disease, and management. As a result of many requests for brooder schools, we are able to announce that two demonstrations will be held on Monday, April 22nd.

The first school will be held at Rudy Korth's poultry farm, located just south of Charlevoix on US-31, at 10:00 o'clock promptly. The second will be held at the poultry farm of Wm. Newkirk, at 2:00 o'clock that afternoon.

It seems desirable to have these demonstrations on farms that have a number of baby chicks to look over. In other words, the demonstration is more practical and of greater benefit where we can see first hand the evidence of proper care, feed and management.

All farmers interested in poultry should attend this demonstration and review the successful practices that are being used by the more successful poultrymen. Bring any questions with you. Let's make this meeting of great benefit to all folks interested.

Dairymen May Apply for Bang's Disease Test

The federal government recently has made it possible for the local dairymen to have the Bang's disease test made on their herd. The government will pay indemnity on those that react if the proper agreement is signed by the chairman and the federal authorities.

This agreement provides, that if a person had his test and his herd is free, that no untested cattle can be included in the herd unless they are placed in quarantine and have a test and found clean. If any dairymen desire this service, get in touch with the county agent personally, or by mail and more details will be given.

AT THE MOVIES

Cantor Prances Among Pyramids

"Kid Millions," Eddie Cantor's fifth annual screen musical extravaganza for Samuel Goldwyn, brings the pop-eyed comedian to the screen of the Palace Theater Saturday and Sunday as a boy Cinderella of the Brooklyn waterfront who becomes the heir to a fortune in buried treasure in the land of the pyramids.

Ann Sothern, Ethel Merman, Block and Sully, George Murphy and this season's crop of Goldwyn girls prance along the Nile with Eddie in this fast-paced, fun-packed tuneful tale of adventure in the harem of the Shiek and the tombs of his fathers.

"Murder in the Clouds," the First National production which is scheduled as the feature attraction at the Palace Theater on Wednesday and Thursday is a melodramatic mystery thriller with a most amazing plot involving the commission of wholesale murder thousands of feet in the air.

The story by two noted magazine writers, Roy Chanslor and Dore Schary, is one of fast and furious action, breath-taking suspense and enough thrills to pack a dozen pictures. It evolves about the secret attempt of international spies to steal the formula from the United States government of a new high explosive, and to obtain which they are willing to commit any crime.

Weird Tales of African Magic

Dr. G. B. Kirkland, former medical officer of Southern Rhodesia, describes the natives' "death spells," mysterious transmission of news, and orgies where frenzied dancers seem to become jackals. Read the article in The American Weekly with Sunday's Detroit Times.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCH
205 Clinton Street

Sunday morning service, 10:45.

First Wednesday of month, 7:45 p. m.

Reading room Saturdays, 3 to 5 p. m.

We cordially invite the public to our service and reading room.

"Doctrine of Atonement" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Christian Science churches throughout the world on Sunday, April 21st.

Among the Bible citations is this passage (Ezek. 18:27): "Again, when the wicked man turneth away from his wickedness that he hath committed, and doeth that which is lawful and right, he shall save his soul alive."

Correlative passages to be read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (p. 23): "Wisdom and Love may require many sacrifices of self to save us from sin.—One sacrifice, however great, is insufficient to pay the debt of sin. The atonement requires constant self-immolation on the sinner's part."

If you can give your son only one gift, let it be enthusiasm.—Bruce Barton.

Pain Passes Off

When your head aches; when Neuralgia tortures you; when Muscular Pains make you miserable—take a Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pill.

Mr. Smith is one of millions who have found this easy way to prompt relief. He says:—"I keep Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills in my pocket and when I get a dull heavy feeling in my head, I take a Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pill and the pain passes off."

DR. MILES' -ANTI-PAIN PILLS-

IF YOUR BREATH HAS A SMELL YOU CAN'T FEEL WELL

When we eat too much, our food decays in our bowels. Our friends smell this decay coming out of our mouth and call it bad breath. We feel the poison of this decay all over our body. It makes us gloomy, grouchy and no good for anything.

What makes the food decay in the bowels? Well, when we eat too much, our bile juice can't digest it. What is the bile juice? It is the most vital digestive juice in our body. Unless 2 pints of it are flowing from our liver into our bowels every day, our movements get hard and constipated and 4/5 of our food decays in our 28 feet of bowels. This decay sends poison all over our body every six minutes.

When our friends smell our bad breath (but we don't) and we feel like a whipped tomcat, don't use a mouthwash or take a laxative. Get at the cause. Take Carter's Little Liver Pills which gently start the flow of your bile juice. But if "something better" is offered you, don't buy it, for it may be a calomel (mercury) pill, which loosens teeth, gripes and scalds the rectum in many people. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name and get what you ask for—25c. ©1934, C.M.Co.

ing of the pageant the Legion took the initial step in becoming financially responsible for the production, depending upon the community for assistance, inasmuch as much of their time and many of their members will be engaged in conducting other phases of the three-day homecoming. In addition to the foregoing the Legion has agreed to turn back to the city advertising fund, any profits accruing from such pageant, to be used at the discretion of the city council, for further summer activities.

Therefore, any assistance given this feature attraction by members of this community, will, if given wholeheartedly, undoubtedly result in added summer activities this season.

The combined committees, as a general committee, have held several meetings during the last few weeks, at the Charlevoix Hotel, the last one being held last Friday evening. During these sessions the following officers and committeemen have been selected by the general committee:

O. P. North, general chairman.
Wm. P. Hicken, vice chairman, historical pageant.
C. B. Meggison, vice chairman, homecoming celebration.
Charles Hamlin, finance chairman.
Miss Florence Gibson, secretary.
Miss Minnie Payton, historical chairman.
S. B. Henry, publicity chairman.
G. O. Haggurd, program chairman.
Neol J. Kemp, grounds chairman.
S. B. Carey, decorations chairman.

Chairmen for the following departments will be selected in the near future:

Concessions, popularity contest, tickets, parade, ox roast, water sports, land sports, amusements, talent, property, costume and police.

Considerable progress has been made during the past few weeks with considerable historical data having been compiled and sent to the producers for translation into scenario form.

A number of locations for the staging of the pageant have been looked over and descriptions sent the producers for their approval.

The Association of Commerce of East Jordan entertained representatives of the general committee and took action pledging their support and the forming of a committee in that city to cooperate with the local committee.

Auto bumper advertising cards have been ordered.

Headquarters have been established in the downtown district, at the Charlevoix Hotel through the courtesy of Doctor and Mrs. C. J. Winder with the secretary, Miss Gibson on duty to furnish information and carry on correspondence.

Permission has been given to place appropriate signs at the hotel. This being good publicity inasmuch as transient patrons of the hotel are from all parts of the state. Suitable literature will be available for these patrons and the public in the near future.

Plans under way call for the contacting of Boyne City, Boyne Falls and St. James to secure their cooperation. Also special invitations to Petoskey and Traverse City will be extended.

When details have been more completely worked out, a mass meeting in the gymnasium may be held, so that all interested may be accurately informed of these plans and progress of all activities.

It is expected that a delegation, possibly headed by Mayor L. P. Adams, will attend the banquet and program of the Detroit-Charlevoix club, to be held May 11th, at Detroit, for the purpose of personally extending invitations to that organization and encournging their plan of forming a motor caravan from Detroit, Flint and perhaps other cities en route.

Later a motor caravan from Charlevoix and Charlevoix county, with bands, the local Legion bugle and drum corps, with banners flying, may make a tour of northern Michigan to advertise the event.

Within a few weeks the popularity contest will get under way for the purpose of selecting "Miss Liberty," the queen of the pageant. This contest may be held in each city in the county, the queen to be selected from the four or five winners. Tentative plans call for the queen and her court, after receiving local honor, to be entertained by the general committee at the Cherry Festival, riding in the parade in that gala event, and hob-nobbing with other queens and state officials on that occasion. Efforts will be made to have Gov. Fitzgerald and other notables here for the occasion.

The high light of the homecoming, however, will be the historical pageant, depicting as it will, the primitive Grand Traverse region before the palefaces came. Then the coming of the French missionaries, and incidents from the life of Father Charlevoix will be enacted. Following this the reign and assassination of "King" James J. Strang, the only king that every ruled in the republic of the U. S., will be portrayed, including the "battle of Pine river." Then the pages of time will be unfolded and scenes will recall the lumbering days of yesteryears and the forming of the resort colonies upon which present Charlevoix is founded.

The foregoing, with the huge parade on the Fourth, fireworks, ox roast, and other numerous events, will make the occasion long remembered in the annals of Charlevoix history.

All it will require of the county communities is work, faith, and cooperation—and the greatest of these is cooperation.

Let's put Charlevoix county out in a prominent place on the centennial map of the State of Michigan.

We can do it—Let's Go!.

One hundred years after their predecessors launched the same movement, the state's temperance leaders have begun new their drive to teach the youth of Michigan and their elders that excessive use of alcoholics does not pay.

Their first victory was passage by the house of representatives of a bill carrying a $25,000 appropriation for temperance education.

W. C. T. U. NOTES

At the W. C. T. U. meeting held last Friday afternoon with Mrs. A. J. Usher, the program leader, Mrs. George Burns, presented the topic, "Building for Total Abstinence."

Ways were suggested in which temperance can be taught in the schools provided the state legislature passes the bill appropriating $50,000 for that purpose. Children's temperance societies, temperance teaching in the Sunday schools, and medal contests were recommended.

The leader also proposed that automobile licenses be granted only to abstainers since many accidents have been caused by only one or two drinks. This requirement was made of railroad engineers many years ago and very materially reduced the number of railroad accidents.

The April ten was postponed until fall. The May meeting will be at Mrs. Hamilton's. The membership drive closes June 1st.

MICHIGAN GETS FIVE MILLION APRIL RELIEF

The state emergency relief administration has been notified from Washington that $5,107,105 will be available for Michigan during the month of April. Of the sum $4,900,000 is for general relief, $75,000 for transient relief, $84,800 for emergency education and $47,305 for college student aid. Coupled with funds raised in the state, the April welfare funds under semi-federal administration will total $6,600,000. Charlevoix county is expected to receive its share of these funds.

After cleaning out the gangsters the government might tackle foolish automobile drivers.

HOMECOMING FINANCES ASSURED

CITY COUNCIL VOTED SUM OF $750 MONDAY

Business Men Lend Fine Cooperation—Plans for Popularity Contest, Other Features

Financial arrangements to meet the expenses of the big opening event of the Charlevoix summer season, the Charlevoix Homecoming and State Centennial, were practically completed Monday evening when the city council passed a resolution to pay bills for the expense of the celebration up to $750.00, the same amount that the local post of the American Legion has obligated itself for the production of the mammoth historical pageant of Charlevoix county, which will be given each day of the celebration, July 4th, 5th, and 6th.

The business men of the city have done equally as well by contracting for or pledging a sum equal to, if not greater, than the above amount, for advertising in the Charlevoix county historical program, now being compiled.

With the financial arrangements in shape work on the advance publicity will get under way with nearly a thousand former residents, friends and relatives of local citizens, to be given special invitation to attend the big event.

Auto bumper cards will be available in the near future and the entire northern part of Michigan will be reached by various methods of publicity.

Plans for the popularity contest are now under way and it is expected that nomination ballots will be out in a week or so. The winner of the popularity contest will be honored as "Queen of the Pageant."

Concession maps of the downtown district are being made and as soon as completed, sites will be placed on sale with first come (with cash), first served, with preference going to applicants who are residents of this county. Care will be taken in the allocation of sites for concessions so that a hot dog stand will not be placed alongside of a restaurant (unless operated by the proprietor thereof) and to eliminate other similar situations.

Friday evening there will be a meeting of all committees and interested citizens at the Hotel Charlevoix for the purpose of reviewing the progress made and outlining the future program and the duties of the various committees.

PATROL BOAT GOES TO LAKE SUPERIOR

Will Visit Moose Colony on Isle—Left Here Last Thursday

The department of conservation patrol boat left winter quarters at Charlevoix, April 15, for Isle Royale where Paul Hickie of the game division and his assistant, Ellsworth St. Germaine of Buraga, are awaiting with 11 live moose captured during the winter months.

Arrival of the patrol boat at Chippewa Harbor will break the winter exile of 22 persons, among them a school teacher and her three pupils. Hickie and St. Germaine have been on the island since late November for the purpose of studying winter moose conditions, live-trapping and feeding the moose in the vicinity of Chippewa Harbor.

Eight of the moose will be transported to Munising and from there moved into the Cusino Game Refuge and surrounding public hunting ground for release. The remaining three will be transported to the Detroit zoo at Royal Oak for exhibition purposes.

Included in the passenger list of the patrol boat are H. D. Ruhl of the game division, department of conservation; Walter E. Hastings, department staff photographer; Jack VanCoevering, Ben East, and Lee J. Smits, outdoor news writers; Dr. Don R. Coburn, pathologist of the department of agriculture and a representative of the Detroit zoo. The passengers were to be picked up by the boat at Houghton.

MASONIC-STAR MEETING WEDNESDAY, MAY 1

Plans have been announced for a Masonic-Eastern Star "get together" meeting to be held Wednesday evening, May 1st, at the Masonic temple. A 6:30 supper will be followed by a program. There will be no charge.

LEASE IS TAKEN ON MOONLIGHT GARDENS

Under Management This Summer of Wexstaff-Willson Wolverines

Moonlight Gardens, popular local entertainment place owned by Mrs. A. T. Jeffery, has been leased for a six-month period by the Wexstaff-Willson Wolverines, a group of northern Michigan musicians.

The opening dance will be held Saturday evening, April 27th, and will be followed by Saturday night dances during the balance of the season and on additional nights to be announced later.

The Wexstaff-Willson Wolverines are in reality three orchestras merged during the winter. The personnel is Ioton Willson and Fitch Tooley of Boyne City, Richard and George Porter of Petoskey, Frank Goldsmith of Goodhart, Bernice and Arthur Wexstaff of Charlevoix. Under the new management the group expect to maintain a high class dance hall at Moonlight Gardens. Mrs. Jeffery will open her connecting lunch room the same evening.

The Wexstaff-Willson Wolverines have proven a popular band as attested by several 1-Hop engagements, including Mackinaw City, Onaway and Boyne City, engagements at Silver-Top ballroom at Afton and school affairs at Ferris Institute, Big Rapids.

Marriage Repeated and Wedding Dinner Before Party of 65 Friends and Relatives

The fiftieth wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh "Dad" Brady, well known local residents, was celebrated Easter Sunday at the home of their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Myers.

Among a group of friends and relatives a wedding ceremony was conducted by Rev. W. W. Hurd in a very humorous way at 4:30 o'clock. The bride wore a bridal veil decorated with white roses. The ring ceremony was performed, using a ring made of lemon peel. Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Smith stood up with the couple. The bride's maid caried bronzed milk-weed pods.

The guests at the wedding dinner, providing places for sixty-five, seated with the bride and groom, were the bride's mother, Mrs. Sarah Ringler, 86, Bellaire; the bride's son, Homer Brady, and daughter, Mrs. W. F. Myers, Charlevoix; the groom's sister, Mrs. Elma Neil, 74, Ada, Ohio; his brother, Fred Brady, 78, a niece, Mrs. Karl Frendeman, and a nephew, Harry Brady, all of Wolcottville, Ind. Other guests included Karl Frendeman, Wolcottville, Ind.; Mr. and Mrs. Orley Friend and daughters, Martha and Dorothy, Mr. and Mrs. Will Friend and son, Billie, George Friend and son, Mervin, all of Bellaire; Mrs. Homer Brady of Charlevoix and M. Roy Brady of Manistee.

The couple held "open house" from 3 to 5 o'clock. They were visited by many old friends from Charlevoix and vicinity. The visitors were served with coffee and cake. Many flowers and gifts were received by the esteemed couple.

FUTURE LOOKS GOOD FOR SEED GROWERS

Grass and Legume Seeds Appear as Good Venture for Farmers

Production of grass and legume seeds by Michigan farmers is pointed out by the farm crops department at Michigan State College as one of the most uniformly profitable farm practices.

This phase of the farm business is especially important now because there appears to be a definite trend toward replacing some field crops with grasses or legumes which will furnish pasture or hay and prevent soil erosion. Michigan seeds have an enviable reputation in the markets of the country and will find a good sale while this reputation is maintained.

COUNCIL APPROVES SEWER DISTRICT

WILL COMPLETE SERVICE IN WEST END

Finances for July 4th Celebration Among Many Items Approved Monday Night

Among many items of business transacted by the city council in regular session Monday night was approval of the Grant and Lincoln sewer district No. 47, completion of which will give sewer service to all residents of the northwest section of the city. The estimated cost of the project, with FERA labor furnished, is $786.50.

The council voted to furnish water and lights necessary at the federal fish hatchery to hatch 75,000 steelhead eggs to be furnished by the U. S. Bureau of Fisheries. This project is sponsored by the Charlevoix Sportsman's Club. The fry, when hatched, will be divided between the Charlevoix and East Jordan clubs for rearing to fingerling stage in their rearing ponds.

The council discussed installation of traffic lights at street intersections of U. S. 31 in the south part of the city and at the corner of Michigan and Dixon. The clerk was authorized to make application for same from the state highway department.

Applications of John J. Waffle and William Driggett for appointment as street commissioner, David J. Eckinger for harbor master and Clarence Coblentz for chief of police were received and placed on file.

The Charlevoix State Savings Bank, Charlevoix County State Bank and First National Bank of Petoskey, were named as city depositories for the coming year.

Financing of Charlevoix's pending 4th of July and homecoming celebration was assured when the council voted to meet expenses up to the sum of $750, the amount requested by the celebration committee.

Plans for parking of the Washburn property, now under lease by the city, were discussed and City Engineer Robt. F. Sloan required to furnish same for approval at the next council meeting.

WINNERS NAMED IN BANK CONTEST

MRS. MILDRED OCHS AWARDED FIRST PRIZE

Hugh Mayne Took Second Prize and Others Who Placed Are Published Herewith

Winners in the Charlevoix County State Bank essay contest on the subject, "What is Federal Deposit Insurance and How does it affect depositors in the Charlevoix County State Bank?", were announced today by Robert Bridge, cashier.

The first award of $50 went to Mildred Ochs; 2nd award of $25 to Hugh Mayne; two 3rd prizes of $10 each to Mrs. Metta E. Wallace and Thelma Swanson; four 4th prizes of $5 each to Christina Withers, Harry W. Ladd, Olga R. Jancha and William F. Myers; ten prizes of $1 each to Vida M. Black, Robert Bergmann, George O. Haggard, Angie Scott, La-Rue Gill, Harry Bingham, Fay A. Bradley, Cornelia E. Bailey, Caroline F. Smith and William C. Palmer. Several of the prize winners are from out-of-town, indicating interest shown in the contest.

The first and second prize winning essays are published herewith:

"Federal Deposit Insurance is a protection which assures payment up to $5,000 immediately available to depositors in the event of bank failure.

"Federal Deposit Insurance has restored confidence to depositors. With the restoration of confidence, the Charlevoix County State Bank, which is the hub of the city's business, will receive increased business, and can better extend financial assistance to its patrons. This eventually will benefit all depositors either directly or indirectly. With increased banking facilities, our city will become a better and more prosperous city in which to live."

Mildred Ochs.

"Federal Deposit Insurance is insurance of bank accounts to and including five thousand dollars by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation created by the Federal Government.

"Funds for this Corporation are from three sources: Subscriptions from the United States Treasury, Federal Reserve Banks and by premiums paid by banks insured in the corporation.

"To depositors of the Charlevoix County State Bank this means: Our money deposited in this institution is absolutely safe as long as our government is financially sound and if this should ever cease to be, our money regardless of where it is, would be worthless."

Hugh W. Mayne.

Mr. Bridge and officers of the bank expressed satisfaction regarding interest taken in the contest and desire to thank all participants.

BASEBALL SEASON WILL OPEN FRIDAY

C. H. S. MEETS ALANSON IN INITIAL GAME

First Contest of 9-Game Schedule Brings Baseball Back as High School Athletic Activity.

The spring baseball season for Charlevoix high school will open at south side athletic field Friday afternoon. Alanson will furnish the opposition in the first contest of a schedule of nine games.

Inasmuch as this is the first time baseball has been made a part of the spring athletic program here in many years, the strength of the local "nine" is a matter of conjecture. There is, however, a wealth of material and a good chance that Charlevoix will have a good club with practice and experience.

Coach Ray Kipke has not announced his line-up for the initial contest. However, a list of candidates and the positions they are being tried out for, has been given out as follows:

Catchers, Kenneth Gellner and Thad Pearl; pitchers, Charles Carey, John Block and Grover Geneit; first base, Edward Radke, Bob Emery; 2nd base, Charles Hebert and Louis Orlowski; short stop, Gordon Cummings and Charles Carey; 3rd base, John Block and Louis Greenman. Candidates for field positions include Frank Kulpa, Leslie Shapton, Bob Livingston, Theo. Jeffery, Harvey Pollard and Bruce Trimble.

The south side athletic field has been improved and placed in condition for the season. The game will be called at 4:00 o'clock.

4-H ACHIEVEMENT DAY NEXT FRIDAY

PROGRAM TO BE HELD AT LOCAL GYMNASIUM

Over 200 Club Members Will Participate in Event—Fine Program Is Announced

(B. C. Mellencamp)

Final plans for the big Achievement Day to be held at the Charlevoix gymnasium, Friday afternoon, at 1:30 o'clock, have been perfected by Mrs. Margaret Hurd, chairman of the program committee. Indications point to the best program ever conducted at the final club event of the year. From 10:00 o'clock in the forenoon until 3:30 in the afternoon, features will follow one another.

No doubt, one of the most enjoyable features will be free movies, beginning promptly at 10:00 o'clock in the Charlevoix Theater. This program will be their regular evening program, and will include a feature play as well as comedy. All club folks in the county are cordially urged to visit the theater.

During the noon hour each school will have their own pot luck dinner, with cocoa furnished free to supplement the cold lunch.

At 1:30 the afternoon program begins with several selections by the Charlevoix Band, followed by community singing. Next, comes the style show in which from 50 to 60 girls will participate, each one wearing the dress that they have constructed, as one of the requirements of the clothing project. This has always been one of the most pleasing numbers on the entire program.

Following this, there will be a short play entitled, "The Elopers," given by the club members of the Murray school. Another play called "Jimmy Germ," given by the Advance school is next in line. Musical selections on the guitar and mouth organ by William Parsons, Charlevoix, will next be enjoyed by the audience.

At this time a demonstration by Miss Eda Zipp and Miss Ethel Brecheisen, both of Bay Shore, on "How to Remove Stains," will be presented as one of the educational features of the afternoon. It will pay you to hear how it is possible to remove paint, iron and ink stains.

Following this Marion Center school will present a short play, called, "The Special Chair." In connection with this play, a special number, "Wait a Minute," will be presented by Mrs. Sarah Blake, teacher of the Marion Center school. Then one or two community songs will be enjoyed, followed by another one-act play given by two boys from the Hilton school, which is a scream.

As the climax of the entire day's activities, awards will be presented to the winners, by A. G. Kettunen, state boys' and girls' club leader. This year, for the first time, medals and pins are to be awarded all club members of the county who have finished their program, also to the leaders who have so faithfully carried the program through.

The exhibits will be of such fine quality and workmanship, that you will certainly not want to miss the opportunity of seeing what has been accomplished by the many boys and girls who have participated in the club program.

Don't forget! Friday, April 26th is the day, and the Charlevoix gymnasium, the place; and 10:00 o'clock the time of the forenoon program.

METHODIST CHURCH OBSERVES EASTER

Four Beautiful and Appropriate Services Held During Week

The Easter season was marked by large crowds and much interest in the four services at the Methodist church.

In the play Sunday evening, the young people portrayed the six characters with accuracy and considerable ability—Harold Newman, as Peter; Iva Howe, as Peter's wife; Herman Myers, as James; Carl Bogart, as John; Marguerite Chew, as their mother; and Marie Ikens, as Mary. The scene was laid during the night before the resurrection.

The regular Sunday service was largely attended, the sanctuary being very beautiful with the many lilies and the Calvary and Cross scene. The choir gave a fine number from one of the great Easter cantatas. Several were baptized and joined the church. About sixty were in atteadance at the sunrise service, when the pastor spoke from the topic, "In the Midst of Death, We Are in Life!"

For the Good Friday service, the church was again darkened, as the world was dark during the crucifixion. The church was crowded, and a very great number partook of the communion in the light of the cross. Mrs. Maude Clement Manns, soprano from Traverse City, and Mrs. Joseph Poquette, violin, from Petoskey, added greatly to the beauty of the service. The illuminated hymns, and the twenty-six great masterpieces, thrown on the screen to illustrate "The John Mark Story," were like a visit to a great gallery. Miss Ikens represented "Mary, Weeping at the Cross," in the beautiful scene to illustrate Mrs. Mann's solo from the Stabat Mater.

Charlevoix high school will have the honor of entertaining the district contest in oratory and declamation on Thursday evening, May 2nd, at 7:30 o'clock.

There are eight schools participating: Petoskey, Cheboygan, Tawas, East Tawas, Mancelona, Traverse City, Benzonia and Charlevoix, winners of their respective sub-districts and thus representing the best speaking ability of northern Michigan high schools.

Charlevoix will be represented by Harold Chew, who gives the declamation, "The American Pioneer," by Franklin K. Lane. This is the first time in a number of years that Charlevoix has taken part in the district contest and it is expected that a large crowd of interested parents and friends of the school will attend.

CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH
Charlevoix and Ironton

The services for Holy Week and Easter were all that could be desired. Thursday evening fifteen united with the church. The fifth annual union Good Friday service went beyond our expectation and many considered the service the best since the union services began. We had the privilege of hearing two newcomers, Rev. Ray Utterback of Central Lake, and Dr. Stewart of the local Church of God. In the evening "The Passion Play," a story of the life of Christ was shown at Ironton to a filled house. The Easter service Sunday morning was a fitting conclusion to the activities of Holy Week. The Sunday chool presented a very good program under the direction of Mrs. Tony Novotny.

Sunday, April 28th, will be "Fishermen's Sunday." The local Sportsmen's Club will be guests. This service this year has been dependent upon possible action at Lansing that would change the opening of the season to the last Sunday in April. The proposed change failed to materialize, therefore our service. All lovers of the angler's sport are welcome whether members of the Sportsmen's Club or not.

When you can't find a room large and suitable enough for your growing S. S. class what would you do? Mr. Young has solved the problem by building the room you want. His class broke sod last week for such a room on the southwest corner of the church.

ONE name comes quickly to mind when you think of "The Universal Car." The description is distinctively Ford. No other car is used by so many millions of men and women in every part of the world. Everywhere it is the symbol of faithful service. . . . That has always been a Ford fundamental. Something new is constantly being added in the way of extra value. Each year the Ford has widened its appeal by increasing its usefulness to motorists. . . . Today's Ford V-8 is more than ever "The Universal Car" because it encircles the needs of more people than any other Ford ever built. It reaches out and up into new fields because it has everything you need in a modern automobile. . . . The Ford V-8 combines fine-car performance, comfort, safety and beauty with low first cost and low cost of operation and up-keep. There is no other car like it.

DISTRICT HEALTH UNIT BULLETIN

Sanitation furnishes one of the least expensive and most profitable forms of insurance.

In our large cities generally, great sanitary progress has been made in the last 25 years. Largely as a result of this progress there has been a marked reduction in city death rates and in sickness rates from the filth-borne diseases.

Rural sanitation is the requirement of the moment. In roral districts, comprising nearly half of the total population of the country and furnishing most of the food and clothing supplies, sanitary progress has been very slow. Soch progress as has been made, has been in scattered spots.

The health conditions of the rural districts and of cities obviously react upon one another. With present facilities for transportation and travel, the residents of our largest cities are exposed to some extent at every meal to whatever unsanitary conditions prevail on the hundreds of farms from which the city draws its food supplies. Rural sanitation must go hand in hand with city sanitation.

Agencies soch as the U. S. Public Health Servier and many of our state boards of health have concluded that lasting progress in roral sanitation may be obtained more economically and effectively through the development and maintenance of a county or district health service. Such units can best carry out an adequate program of health work including sanitation.

The U. S. Public Health Service yearly conducts demonstration projects in rural public health work. In each demonstration project the rural sanitation work is made part of a well-balanced program and in conducted in cooperation with the state and local health authorities. This cooperation is offered on the condition that a full-time county or district health service is established.

As Dr. L. L. Lamsden of the U. S. P. H. Service points out, all the features of health work, such as communicable disease control measures, general sanitation of private homes and public places, malaria prevention, tuberculosis control, goitre prevention, infant and maternity hygiene, school hygiene and venereal disease prevention are carried on by county health departments. These various activities are dovetailed so that every dollar invested may yield the biggest possible dividend in disease prevention and health promotion.

Sanitary and other improvements can be accomplished at a cost much less than the money loss which inevitably results from neglect. That has been proven over and over again.

The water supply of the rarul schoolhouses are tested as well as the majority of the resorts by Dr. A. R. Renwick, District Sanitary Inspector of District Health Unit No. 3. Water containers may be obtained from the District Health Department by those wishing to send in a sample of water from their own well.

INLAND LAKE FISHING CLOSES APR. 30

All inland lakes of Michigan, except designated pike lakes, automatically close to general fishing Tuesday, April 30th. They will remain closed until opening of the lake fishing season June 25th.

Approximately 200 lakes, designated as pike lakes by the Director of Conservation, will remain open continually, without closed season, for the taking of certain species of fish specified by law.

Designated trout lakes, which have been closed to fishing since Labor day, will also be open to fishing May 1st when the trout fishing season again opens in Michigan.

Fish which may be taken legally in designated pike and trout lakes are as follows: Brook, brown and rainbow trout, pike perch or walleye pike, grent northern, grass pike or pickerel, perch, rock, calico and strawberry bass, crappies, maskellange and all non-game species.

The open season for the taking of bluegills, sunfish, white and warmouth bass in all lakes of Michigan comes to a close Tuesday, April 30th, and remains closed until June 25th, opening of the black bass season, when all lakes are opened to fishing again under the law.

PLAN TRANSIENT CAMPS FOR NORTHERN REGION

Establishment of at least six transient camps designed to put several hundred men at work on a variety of projects is contemplated by the state Emergency Welfare Relief administration.

"The new program will take men away from the congested transient centers and give them an opportunity to do constractive work in an environment conducive both to better health and improved morale," Dr. William Haber, state relief administrator, explained.

Each of the projected camps, expected under way by early summer, will have a maximum of 250 men. All are in southern Michigan.

ASSN. OF COMMERCE ACTIVITIES
By F. V. Tyler

Progress of the pageant and Fourth of July homecoming plans has made great strides forward, as will be seen by the article elsewhere in this paper. At a meeting Tuesday night, General Chairman O. P. North appointed William P. Hicken, Clarence B. Meggison, Charles Hamlin and Shirley B. Henry to work with himself as general executive committee. This will enable quick action to be taken by the committee on matters that would not brook the delay incident to calling a general meeting of the county organization.

Among other matters taken up at this meeting was that of liquor dispensing during the three days of the celebration. The new committee voted unanimously to refuse permission to anyone to operate a liquor or beer concession during the celebration period, leaving its sale to the present licensed dealers exclusively.

The Association of Commerce is planning a banquet for the evening of Friday, May 3rd, which will probably be put on by the Maccabee ladies at the K. of P. hall. Negotiations are now being made with a prominent outside speaker to address the meeting that will follow the banquet. Further details will appear later.

DR. MILES' -ANTI-PAIN PILLS-

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE— WITHOUT CALOMEL

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

If you feel sour and sunk and the world looks punk, don't swallow a lot of salts, mineral water, oil, laxative candy or chewing gum and expect them to make you suddenly sweet and buoyant and full of sunshine.

For they can't do it. They only move the bowels and a mere movement doesn't get at the cause. The reason for your down-and-out feeling is your liver. It should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily.

If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas bloats up your stomach. You have a thick, bad taste and your breath is foul; skin often breaks out in blemishes. Your head aches and you feel down and out. Your whole system is poisoned.

It takes those good, old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." They contain wonderful, harmless, gentle vegetable extracts, amazing when it comes to making the bile flow freely.

But don't ask for liver pills. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Look for the name Carter's Little Liver Pills on the red label. Refuse substitutes. 25c at drug stores. ©1931 C. M. Co.

Motorists who know these facts will save money:

Motor oils refined by the usual methods have some oiliness and film strength, but they may form carbon and sludge, which lead to expensive motor repairs.

Other oils may form almost no carbon and sludge, but are so over-refined that they are robbed of oiliness and film strength they need to prevent motor wear.

Germ Processed Oil is refined to eliminate carbon and sludge troubles and then the Germ Process adds extra oiliness and 2 to 4 times more film strength than any mineral oil.*

YOU will save money on repairs and have a smoother running motor if you use Conoco Germ Processed Motor Oil!

The Germ Process—adding concentrated oily essence to highly refined oil—gives it the extra oiliness and film strength so necessary for full protection of high-powered, high-speed motors. No other oil is made by the Germ Process.

Germ Processed Oil cuts down costly starting wear, which other oils fail to do. It is the only oil with the "Hidden Quart" that stays up in your motor and never drains away.

Germ Processed Oil is free from carbon and sludge troubles. It has a lower rate of consumption and gives longer mileage, as proved by the famous Indianapolis Destruction Test.

Say, "O. K.—Drain"—and fill with Conoco Germ Processed Motor Oil.

WEAK AND SKINNY MEN, WOMEN AND CHILDREN

Saved by new Vitamins of Cod Liver Oil in tasteless tablets.

Pounds of firm healthy flesh instead of bare scraggy bones! New vigor, vim and energy instead of tired listlessness! Steady, quiet nerves! That is what thousands of people are getting through scientists' latest discovery—the Vitamins of Cod Liver Oil concentrated in little sugar coated tablets without any of its horrid, fishy taste or smell.

McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Tablets, they're called! "Cod Liver Oil in Tablets", and they simply work wonders. A little boy of 5, seriously sick, got well and gained 10½ lbs. in just one month. A girl of thirteen after the same disease, gained 3 lbs. the first week and 2 lbs. each week after. A young mother who could not eat or sleep after baby came got all her health back and gained 10 lbs. in less than a month.

You simply must try McCoy's at once. Remember if you don't gain at least 5 lbs. of firm healthy flesh in a month get your money back. Demand and get McCoy's—the original and genuine Cod Liver Oil Tablets—approved by Good Housekeeping Institute. Refuse all substitutes. Insist on the original McCoy's—there are none better.

It may attack nny susceptible persons. When smallpox is epidemic, vaccination is widespread.

The following schedule has been arranged in carrying on vaccinations throughout Charlevoix county, beginning, April 29th, which is being carried on by the District Health Department:

SPORTSMAN'S CLUB HAS BIG PROGRAM

REARING POND OPERATIONS START THURSDAY

Consignment of 15,000 Advanced Steelhead Fingerlings Due From Oden—Ponds Will Be Filled

Preparations for a summer program of fish propagation which will equal if not exceed that of former years, has been started by members of the Charlevoix Sportsman's Club.

Volunteer workers are this week cleaning, repairing and putting in shape the Stover creek rearing ponds for delivery here Thursday of 15,000 advance steelhead fingerlings. The consignment comes from the state fish hatchery at Oden and the fingerlings, ranging up to four inches in size, are those hatched at the government hatchery here last year and transferred to Oden for rearing.

The consignment of steelhead will be the first delivery in a program which will eventually fill the rearing ponds to capacity. The Club will soon receive 75,000 Oregon steelhead eggs which will be hatched in the government hatchery. The fry will be divided by the local and East Jordan sportsman's clubs for their rearing ponds. In addition to steelhead, the Club has made requisition with the state and federal conservation departments for the usual number of brook trout.

It will be regretted by local sportsmen generally that no provisions have been made this year for the handling of pheasant eggs. Pheasants last fall were plentiful in this district and additional releases this summer would have insured their continuance.

Council Acted Monday Night on Request Charlevoix Beach Hotel

Application for license to sell beer, wine and spirits for consumption on the premises was approved for the Beach Operating Co., operators of the Charlevoix Beach Hotel, by the city council Monday night.

The council arranged for disposal of hay at the city airport in an agreement with Harry F. Hooker which also provides for mowing of runways during the summer months.

The sum of $200 of an original appropriation of $750 for expenses of the Charlevoix 4th of July and homecoming celebration was advanced by the council to meet immediate expenses. The matter of installing flasher traffic signals on U. S. 31 was referred to the street committee with power to act.

CHARLEVOIX WINS BASEBALL CONTEST

TRIMMED ALANSON 6 TO 5 IN OPENING GAME

Outhit by Visitors But Bunch Blows to Produce Scores—Meet Petoskey Here Friday

Charlevoix opened its schedule in the Northern Michigan high school baseball league here Friday afternoon with a 6 to 5 victory over Alanson in a 7-inning contest.

Although out-hit by a small margin, Charlevoix managed to bunch its blows to better advantage. The local "nine" took the lead with two runs in the 3rd inning after Alanson had scored one in the 2nd. The visitors tied the count at 2-all in the 4th inning, but Charlevoix's 4-run barrage in the 5th stanza put the game on ice. Alanson added two runs in the 6th and another in their half of the 7th, but fell one short of tieing the game up.

"Chuck" Carey turned in a good pitching performance for Charlevoix, striking out 11 Alanson batters. Cellner assumed the other half of the battery. Casey, Alanson hurler, struck out 14 batters and clouted the longest hit of the day, a 3-bagger. Kulpa hit a two base hit for Charlevoix.

RAIN LESSENS FOREST FIRE MENACE

Showers Welcomed by Conservation Officers and Farmers of Region

Temporary relief from danger of forest fires came to the cut-over sections of the region Saturday night when rain fell, wetting down the dry leaves and making it safe for arbutus hunters and picnic parties to go into the woods Sunday.

The rain was also sufficient to freshen up the pastures and aid grain and hay crops of the region which were beginning to show the effects of the two weeks of drought. It was also welcomed by orchardmen whose trees needed moisture.

While the rain was of great assistance in temporarily quieting the forest fire menace more rain is needed throughout the region. The sixteenths of an inch fell between midnight and dawn in more or less of a sprinkle. Conservation officers and farmers are looking forward to a heavy soaking rain which will penetrate deep into the soil.

ACHIEVEMENT DAY A GREAT SUCCESS

MORE THAN THREE HUNDRED ATTEND PROGRAM HERE

Displays of Handicraft Work Were Commendable—County Champions Named for Year

(By B. G. Mellencamp)

Without a question the boys' and girls' 4-H Club Achievement Day held last Friday at the Charlevoix gymnasium was the best ever held in both quality of work exhibited and attendance. Fully 350 folks enjoyed the splendid program put on by the 4-H Club members throughout the county. The day was ideal, the arrangements nicely appointed, and the enthusiasm and interest of the boys and girls keen.

As early as 9:00 o'clock the members arrived, by 10:00 o'clock there were fully 200 club members on hand. At 10:30 when free movies were shown in the basement of the Congregational church, there was at least 250 folks in attendance for this feature of the program.

Promptly at 12:00 o'clock the noon day lunch made its appearance, supplemented with hot cocoa by the extension division. The afternoon program started promptly at 1:30 with a splendid half hour musical program put on by the Charlevoix band under the able leadership of Mr. Magor, band director.

Probably the outstanding features of the program were the style show, one-act plays, a demonstration, and the awarding of the certificates of achievement and county-wide recognition by A. G. Kettunen, state club leader, and Miss Sylva Wixson. Especially was the style show greatly enjoyed. Seventy-five girls appeared in this show wearing the dress that they had completed during the club year. Needless to add the show was all that a style show should include. It was a pleasant surprise to see how well the girls wore the dresses and good judgment used in the selection of material and design.

For the first time in this county all of the boys who started the handicraft project finished one hundred per cent. Fifty-one boys started and fifty-one boys finished. When the exhibit was judged and the reports and stories considered, Mr. Kettunen announced the following club members as being the county champions for the year 1935:

First Year—Jack Urman, Boyne City; Tony Faculak, Charlevoix.

Second Year—Thomas Morrison, Boyne City; Lawrence Ecklund, Charlevoix.

Third Year—Lyle Anthony, Boyne City.

Fourth Year—Robert Breheisen, Bay Shore; Bobbie Straw, Charlevoix.

As an added attraction a wood identification contest was conducted under the supervision of Mr. Kettunen. Out of the 19 boys who entered the contest, Harold Cottrell, Vanderbilt, and Adolph Ecklund, Charlevoix, were the winners and will be delegates to the Gaylord club camp.

In the Clothing Club exhibit there were 11 different group exhibits representing the work of 94 club members who had satisfactorily completed the requirements of the project. The results of the county champions cannot be announced at this time, but will appear in the paper the next issue. In the style show, the following four girls may enter the style show competition at Gaylord: Lorena Hruntnall, East Jordan; Muriel Stevens, Charlevoix; Zoe Burnett, Bay Shore; and Eda Zipp, Bay Shore.

Another interesting feature was the set of posters by the Hot Lunch clubs. These were very cleverly done, and showed very clearly to the audience the nature of this activity. In this competition the Undine school under the leadership of Mrs. Margaret Hurd received first place and will have the opportunity of exhibiting their set at the Michigan State Fair.

It is highly difficult to give you a complete description of the day's activities and the fine collection of exhibits displayed, by the 200 club members in the county. Judging from the enthusiasm and interest of the club members there is no doubt that this activity will be carried on another year with equally good results.

Let us furnish your second sheets, typewriter ribbons, adding machine rolls, scratch pads, ledger sheets. Charlevoix Courier.—22tf.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCH

Sunday morning service, 10:45.

First Wednesday of month, 7:45 p. m.

Reading room Saturdays, 3 to 5 p. m.

We cordially invite the public to our service and reading room.

"Everlasting Punishment" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Christian Science churches throughout the world on Sunday, May 5th.

Among the Bible citations is this passage (Matt. 9: 4, 5): "And Jesus knowing their thoughts said, Wherefore think ye evil in your hearts? For whether is easier, to say, Thy sins be forgiven thee; or to say, Arise, and walk?"

Correlative passages to be read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (p. 404): "Healing the sick and reforming the sinner are one and the same thing in Christian Science. Both the cures require the same method and are inseparable in Truth. Hatred, envy, dishonesty, fear, and so forth, make a man sick, and neither material medicine nor Mind can help him permanently, even in body, unless it makes him better mentally, and so delivers him from his destroyers."

POULTRY

EARLY SEPARATION URGED FOR CHICKS

Experiment Station Expert Favors Segregation.

By Prof. W. F. Thompson, Poultry Husbandman Rutgers University, N. J. WNU Service.

A great advantage to the poultryman will result if his birds are separated as to their inherited trait of early, medium or late maturity.

Students of poultry breed improvement have found ample evidence to indicate that the best producers for the pullet year, other things being equal, are the individuals which start laying early.

For Leghorns this would be between 150 and 175 days of age. Such birds are precocious layers. In every batch of chicks this spring there will be some individuals among the young pullets which will be precocious. There will be some which will not come into laying maturity until from 175 to 200 days of age and there will be still others which are decidedly late maturing.

In preparation for such a basis of selection, every batch of chicks should be toe-marked in such a manner that the date of hatch for every pullet will always be known. One hatch for example, might be marked with an outside left toe-mark; another hatch with an inside left toe-mark, and interhatches with other identifying toe-marks.

Keep Turkeys Away From Chickens, Specialist Says

Blackhead is one of the most serious ailments affecting turkeys, and one of the most common means for spread of this parasite is through chickens. Hence, larger turkey raisers of the state now make it a practice to keep the two kinds of fowl always separated, so that they cannot be on the same ground.

The name is a misnomer, C. M. Ferguson, state poultry specialist, says, for it has nothing to do with the head. It is evident in the bird by spots on the liver and by inflammation of the blind intestine. It causes heavy toll when it starts in a flock, and as yet no known cure has been announced.

Sanitation is the best preventive, along with isolation from chickens. The same organism is found in chickens but seldom causes death in them. The "Billings" method, developed in Montana, is now a common method of rearing poults. This consists in raising the young turkeys on fresh ground, and again fencing off a space on one side of the house. After two months the birds are past the danger period, and then yards are rotated every month.—Ohio Farmer.

Scots Grey and Dumpie

Scotland has two breeds of poultry which may rightly be termed national and both, as might be guessed, by anyone understanding the practical Scotch, are hardy and useful. One is the Scots Grey and the other the Scots Dumpie. The latter fowls are so short-legged as to give them the appearance of being "creepers." That the Scots Grey has considerable antiquity as a breed is evidenced by the fact that the Scots Grey Specialty club founded in Scotland in 1885, has traced it back for more than 150 years. Throughout the years the breed seems to have been noted for laying and table qualities combined with the hardiness necessary for their native climate.

Poultry in Pastures

Wherever there is pasture for cows there is range for poultry. Fowls and chickens in a cow pasture keep it in better condition than when only cattle are running in it. Their own droppings are the best known fertilizer for grass. They spread the manure less evenly deposited by other stock. They destroy flies and other insects which annoy cows and horses at pasture. The farmer or dairyman who keeps what hens and chickens can be handled advantageously with his cows need not send more milk to market than can be sold at the established price.

New-Laid Eggs Important

New-laid eggs are the secret of successful hatches. Although hatching eggs are often kept for a considerable period before beginning their incubation, it is well known that a successful hatch is doubtful if they are more than ten days old and that two weeks should ordinarily be the limit. When held for several days the eggs should be turned daily. Eggs for hatching when shipped from a distance are generally held for 24 hours before "setting."

Slipped Tendons in Chicks

A condition known as slipped tendons is often found in chicks raised in battery brooders. It usually makes its appearance when the chicks are from four to seven weeks of age. The symptoms of slipped tendons are swollen hocks that assume a bluish-green color. The tendons slip out of place on either side of the hock, which often renders one or both legs useless. This trouble seems to be due entirely to defects in the ration.—Wallaces' Farmer.

PUBLIC OPINION

When one speaks of public opinion one speaks of a vague, intangible force, the operations of which sometimes seem to be based upon no fixed principle or upon no universal formula of expression. Yet once in operation, public opinion becomes the mightiest of all forces, which it requires no particular sensitiveness to apprehend. Public opinion has at last begun to express itself in the field of crime. It is not an opinion that impinges alone upon the federal government. If I mistake not the signs, it is beginning to affect all governmental authorities throughout the nation, whether their jurisdiction is great or small. There is a demand for action in each particular jurisdiction, for the most expert co-ordination of which the authorities are capable. These large public expectations should find an unreserved welcome on the part of law-enforcement officials, for there is thus provided an encouragement and a stimulation to such an administration of justice as will meet the needs of modern American life.—Homer S. Cummings, Attorney General of the United States.

Early discovery, cooperation and proper sanatorium treatment, can bring recovery from tuberculosis.—Michigan Tuberculosis Association.

TOO EXPENSIVE

Teaching the advisability of a government engaging in business, someone has dug up and launched this quotation from the noted American genius, Thomas A. Edison: "There is far more danger in public monopoly, than there is in private monopoly, for when the government goes into business, it can always shift its losses to the taxpayers. If it goes into the power business it can pretend to sell cheap power and then cover up its losses. The government never really goes into business for it never makes ends meet, and that is the first requisite of business. It just mixes a little business with a lot of politics and no one ever gets a chance to find out what is actually going on."

U. S. railroads now move a ton of freight an average of 200 miles at an average charge of $1.99 per ton.

WORLD DEPRESSION

One outcome of the depression is a steady increase in the quantity, and a rapid increase in the quality, of the statistics of money and business during the years since the war, with result we are constantly learning more about the nature of the depression.

There was a world-wide business boom under way in the years just before the depression. It seems not unlikely that it was the greatest boom the world has ever experienced, and its vigor goes far toward explaining the severity of the subsequent collapse. In each of the ten leading European nations production was increasing from 1925 to 1929, and in several of them the rate of advance was almost as rapid as that of the subsequent decline. In all countries except France and Germany the greatest volumes of production were reached in 1929. In France alone it was continued until 1930.

In all of the countries except Czechoslovakia the low point was reached in 1932, and recovery began there, although a new low has been reached in Belgium in 1934. By far the best record of recovery has been made by Sweden where production in 1934 was greater than in the previous peak year of 1929. The record of England is almost as good, and there are no others that closely approach these two. The poorest recovery achievements are those of Belgium, the Netherlands, Czechoslovakia, and the United States. All the countries except the United Kingdom experienced greater advances from 1925 to 1929 than did the United States, no other country had so great a depression decline as we did, and at least five among them have had better recoveries.

The passenger cars on U. S. railroads roll up a total travel of nearly 1 billion miles in a normal year.

GETTING TO THE FACTS

One of the difficult problems in the practical operation of democratic government is that of setting forth issues and policies in a rational light where they will command not only the careful and studious attention of public officials, but the intelligent interest of an informed public. The seats of government ordinarily are the center of such a strong inter-play of various forces that it is extremely difficult for the average public official to see clearly. He cannot readily distinguish between what is a candid and disinterested opinion, and what is special interest or personal ambition, and he is likely, therefore, to be swayed, perhaps unduly, by the considerations of politics or the voices of those who for reasons of personal advantage crowd about them.

But how much harder it is for the average citizen, without the special knowledge and information before him that the official commands, and with less opportunity to get the facts, to formulate a fair and unbiased judgment! Perhaps it was this difficulty that Lincoln had in mind when he said, "The true rule in determining to embrace or reject anything is not whether it have any evil in it, but whether it have more evil than good. There are few things wholly evil or wholly good. Almost everything, especially of government policy, is an inseparable compound of the two, so that our best judgment of the preponderance between them is continually demanded."

It may well be added that without thoughtful public opinion, and without a healthy and honest exchange of ideas, the best courses of governmental action cannot be determined. —Herman Roe.

It is said 105 firms in 36 Michigan cities depend wholly or in part on railroad purchases of their products.

PROFITS NOT EXCESSIVE

The Michigan legislature has before it another bill to reduce rates of small loan companies. Most people believe there is little difference between small loan companies and loan sharks. They are mistaken. The loan shark has no restriction except his conscience—and generally he has little of that. The small loan companies are regulated and inspected by the state and operate under state laws.

In cities where less than 10 per cent of the people can borrow from banks, small loan companies fill an important field. The maximum rate they are allowed to charge in Michigan is 3½ per cent a month. Much has been said about this 42 per cent a year. Facts do not bear this out. The average loan of $100 runs for ten months and the average amount of interest collected on this sum is $16.50.

Records of earnings of these companies further dissipate the idea they make exhorbitant profits. In 1932 the Michigan companies earned a net profit of 7.37 per cent; in 1933, 5.29 per cent; and in 1934, 6.62 per cent. This is much different than 42 per cent a year some of their poorly informed critics have cried about.

There are two pertinent considerations in regard to small loan companies. One is that if there were any such profit as some people think, there would immediately spring up competing companies. There is always competition where profits are great. The other thing is, the small loan companies have performed a distinct service to people of limited means. They have furnished needed cash when it could be obtained from no other source. Schuyler L. Marshall in the Clinton County Republican-News.

MODERATION AND THE LIQUOR PROBLEM

The Council of Moderation, Inc., has recently been launched by a group of prominent New Yorkers, including Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler, Col. Theodore Roosevelt, John D. Rockefeller, Jr., and equally prominent women repealists.

The Council proposes a ten-year educational program in behalf of the so-called "moderate" use of alcoholic liquors. The campaign will be carried on by radio, motion pictures, posters, newspaper advertising and the lecture platform.

Such a program cannot fail to be not only dangerous to many thousands of individuals but socially destructive to the people as a whole. This solution of the liquor problem has already been tried and found wanting, and will continue to fail because the habit forming tendency of alcohol is bound to overcome many of those who once begin its use.

Again moderate drinking is a cause of auto accidents, according to the chorus of warning in the last few months by traffic commissioners and scientific investigators. Even a drink or two of beer or other liquors often proves a decisive factor in such accidents.

The only worthwhile education in regard to drinking liquor is to teach its effects physically, morally and socially, not forgetting the habit forming tendency which makes total abstinence the only safe rule.—Press Director W. C. T. U.

COUNTY HOME RULE

Renewal of the sixteen-year fight to procure county home rule in Michigan has made its appearance in the legislature through a joint resolution to submit a constitutional amendment proposal at the next April election. The new proposal is substantially the same as the one defeated last November, except that under any alternative plans of county reorganization drafted by the legislative boards of supervisors would be retained. The new proposal is said to have the support of the various farm organizations.

One of our most common experiences these days is the request for demonstration of the new Master De Luxe Chevrolet by prospective purchasers who own cars substantially higher in price. The basic reason for this eager interest in the new Master De Luxe is to be found, of course, in the car's extraordinary value. The new Master De Luxe is surpassingly beautiful; delightfully comfortable; and one of the finest performers—especially in smoothness and in fast, powerful acceleration. At the same time, Chevrolet's celebrated economy is actually increased. . . Telephone or come in for a demonstration—now.

Come to think of it, haven't we all dual selves? . . . One to acquire and one to bestow: one to work and one to play; one self to provide what the other self needs.

It isn't selfishness to think about yourself. It isn't egotism to strive to impress others. It's just good sense in the direction of self-progress—especially in business . . .

THRIVE WITH '35

Out in the little town of Cozad, Nebraska, lives Fred W. Anderson, known as the "Miracle Merchant." A few days ago Mr. Anderson delivered an address before the Executives' Club in Chicago. In speaking about advertising let us quote a short paragraph from his address:

"There are many other things I could tell you, but I want to talk particularly about advertising. I believe in it. Advertising is so powerful it can change your breakfast food; it can change your place of living, and it can do many things besides bringing people into your store. For, after all, advertising is nothing more or less than a long distance call with the charges reversed. If you do not tell them, how in the world can you sell them?

"You will be interested to know that the average farmer has picked himself out of the depression and is going right along. Whereas he was only getting ten cents a bushel for corn today he is getting ninety. Eighteen months ago he was only getting twenty-two cents for his wheat; today he is getting one dollar. Eighteen months ago he was only getting $2.50 for his hogs; today he is getting $9.50. And so on with the rest of the things he produces. Does that mean anything? The answer to this fast moving age is advertising. Cozad, the little town where I do business, has a population of 1,300, yet last year the total of my business was in excess of $300,000. The answer was advertising—plus service.

THE TACTFUL WAY

A ruler in the Far East who had a dream called in one of his wise men to interpret it. He told the ruler the meaning was this: "All your relatives will die and you will be the last member of your family." The ruler was so displeased that he had the interpreter beheaded.

Calling in another of his wise men, the ruler asked him to give his interpretation, which was as follows: "You will outlive all your relatives." The ruler was so pleased with this interpretation that he rewarded the wise man with a handsome present.

Both interpretations were the same, the difference being only in the way they were given. The exercise of tact has a lot to recommend it and proper use of this fine social quality has eased many a heartbreak and softened many a blow.

BUSINESS

We have always heard a great deal about larger business institutions and how bad they were.

Some of these we believe.

There are some business institutions which are selfish. There are some which are poorly managed. In fact, we think that people ascribe to business men and to large corporations much more ability than they really possess. There are many men in larger corporations who could not long endure even in the smaller communities. One of the features of many great industries is the lack of vision and ability in the leadership of those industries. Many business institutions are so busy keeping themselves going that they have no time to oppress anyone.

Business in the United States is not happy or confident. It is hurried and worried. It hardly knows which way to turn. It does not know whether the government is to become a competitor or oppressor. It cannot make plans for the future. Most of the time it just sits and shivers.

Let it be added in passing, that this is also one of the troubles with America. Give business a sense of confidence, make capital believe it can be put to work with profit and safety, give commerce a helping hand rather than a push downward and the United States will be on its way forward. When capital and industry feel that they can go to work, people will go to work with them.

INDIVIDUAL RESPONSIBILITY

Some of our good theorists say, "We are going to change all human nature. We are going to make everybody feel that he does not need to make any money, that he is just going to join with all society and share everything with all society." It is not my purpose today to dwell upon these socialist or communistic theories, nor quarrel with those who hold them. I am insisting that in this great country of ours, that has made such a wonderful showing in the past, we must work out its future along lines that are in harmony with high ideals and lofty purposes, but not under any system that destroys initiative, that denies within the soul the thrill of success honestly attained; that takes away the sense that every man is after all responsible for the working out of the own contribution to himself, to his family, and to his fellowmen; not under government regimentation, but as a free individual, and a free citizen.

TAXPAYER'S DOLLAR

Judging from the number of investigations being made of the expenditures of state and national officials there is need for the development of an informed and intelligent citizenship.

The state law requires county clerks, city clerks and other official tax-spending bodies to publish a statement of all claims authorized and ordered paid. The purpose of the law is to acquaint interested citizens with the expenditures of the various units to advise them as to just how and for what the tax money is being spent.

It was one of the wisest laws ever enacted from the standpoint of safeguarding public funds and insuring them against waste, extravagance and misuse. When the controlling body knows it must account publicly for every cent it spends and that every citizen is to be given the opportunity of scrutinizing every item of expenditure, there is a natural tendency to be careful and cautious in the appropriation of funds.—Harry Myers in the Lapeer County Press.

SCENIC HIGHWAYS

Because 80 cents out of every dollar spent in concrete road construction goes to labor the State Planning Commission is stressing a system of shoreline roads as relief projects with the purpose of bringing the summer visitor into closer touch with Michigan's more than 3,000 miles of great lakes shores. The planning commission emphasizes the importance of such projects saying in its report:

"The highway plan emphasizes the importance of the development of the recreational resources of the state. There must be attained accessibility to the great lakes shore line, to inland waters, and scenic places in vast areas of the state now deficient in once important resources.

"The highway system constitutes the largest item in all of the geographic regions of the state. This emphasizes two things: The place of highways in the development of the state and its natural resources; and the fact that a type of project creating permanent values is well distributed in the state to provide a large amount of direct labor that can be quickly operative as work projects."

VICTORY

"In every man's life pilgrimage, however unblest, there are holy places where he is made to feel his kinship with the Divine; where the heavens bend low over his head and angels come and minister unto him. These are the places of sacrifices, the meeting place of mortal and immortal, the feats of trial wherein are waged the great spiritual combats of man's life. Here are the tears and agonies and the bloody sweat of Gethsemane. Happy the man, who, looking back, can say of himself: 'Here, too, was the victory'."

JOY

Joy in the possession of what one has earned—though it may be little—has a powerfully sustaining influence, in contrast with eagerness to have much, grabbed without return of due effort, making a show that but thinly disguises lack of merit. Freedom to work and reap reasonable rewards is still held the most precious assurance by the masses everywhere.—E. W. Huse.

POMONA GRANGE IS PLANNING ACTIVITY

At the Pomona Grange meeting held Saturday night at Marion Center, plans for county contests in dramatics and a flower and song festival were outlined by Mrs. Dorn Stockman and B. C. Malleacamp.

A committee from each grange with the lecturer, will meet Tuesday evening, May 14th, at Ironton, to make plans for the contests.

The next Pomona meeting will be held May 25th at South Arm grange hall.

DR. WINDER NAMED CHAIRMAN SAFETY WEEK PROGRAM HERE

By proclamation of Governor Frank D. Fitzgerald, the period between May 12th and 18th, inclusive, has been designated as Safety Education Week.

It is hoped to reach as many people in an educational way during this period as possible in the state.

In conjunction with the proclamation is the appointment by Oscar G. Olander, commission of public safety, of Dr. C. J. Winder as local chairman of activities which will be outlined in the very near future.

TROUT SEASON OPENS ON MAY 1 AS USUAL

The House at Lansing voted last Tuesday to retain May 1 as the opening date for the trout season, but later reconsidered and revived the proposal to open on April 28. This change failed.

A conference committee report recommending that the season open the last Monday in April was defeated by a 47 to 38 vote. Upon reconsideration the measure was tabled. The earlier opening date was sponsored by residents of West Branch, who wanted to hold a trout carnival the week-end preceding the opening of trout season.

Late Tuesday afternoon the House refused a compromise bill proposing to open the season the last Monday in April.

STUDENT EVANGELISTIC MEETINGS CONTINUE

Friday evening, May 3rd, the Student Party will hold a house meeting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Knuckles on the Pete Mitchell place. They are new residents in the vicinity of Ironton and all the neighbors and friends are cordially invited to the meeting.

Each Sunday evening the Student Evangelistic Party holds a service in Ironton at the Bennett home. Attendance has been increasing. John Street spoke at last Sunday evening's meeting. It was a wonderful service.

The regular Tuesday evening service is at 204 Mason street. This meeting has been given to short sermonette, experiences, and praise. Come and enjoy the blessings of the Lord with us.

SALES TAX FUNDS EXCEED LAST YEAR

Sales tax revenues of the state for the fiscal year ending July 1 of this year will aggregate $40,000,000 James E. Mogan, sales tax director, has estimated.

He based his predictions on steadily increasing returns for the first four months of this year. He attributed the increase to better business conditions and more efficient collection work of the state board of tax administration.

Mogan said increased collections are reflected for example in March figures. This year revenues totaled $3,500,000 while in March 1934, they aggregated $3,211,000.

ASSN. OF COMMERCE ACTIVITIES

By F. V. Tyler

Friday evening, May 3rd, at 6:30 p. m., is the time set for another banquet and meeting of the Association of Commerce. While no outside speaker has been engaged, matters of importance—especially the details of the Association's summer program and the further formation of committees—will be taken up. The Ladies of the Maccabees will furnish the supper at the Odd Fellow hall.

The proper manner of choosing a queen for the 1935 cherry festival is a point in dispute and members may be thinking this over and come prepared with constructive suggestions.

Raymond H. Foley, state director of the Federal Housing Commission, has been contacted with the purpose of securing him as a speaker for meeting to be held sometime after May 15th. However, nothing definite is available on this matter as yet.

LEGION ACTIVITIES

By F. V. Tyler

There will be a meeting of the Charlevoix County Veterans Council at Boyne City, on Thursday evening, May 2nd, 1935.

Membership in the local post has now reached the figure 68. Two new members came in Tuesday night.

Bugle and drum corps practice, scheduled for each Tuesday night at 7:30 o'clock, was postponed this week on account of the absence of the bass drummer and several of the other "artistes" or "virtuosos." Next week will see its resumption and it is hoped for a full turnout, as there are only three more practices before we have to go to Petoskey. District meeting there on the 26th.

PEARSON APPOINTED TO IMPORTANT COMMITTEES

William J. Pearson, newly appointed member of the state conservation commission, is chairman of the committee on fish, inland and commercial fishing it was announced when William H. Lontit, chairman, made his appointments.

Mr. Pearson, who lives at Boyne Falls, is also on the committee on game, forestry, game refuges, predatory animal control, law enforcement, fire prevention and control; and the committee on lands, oil, minerals, water power, and land economic survey.

ARBOR DAY OBSERVANCE IS SET FOR 3RD OF MAY

By proclamation, Governor Frank D. Fitzgerald has called upon the citizens of the state to observe Friday, May 3rd, as Bird and Arbor Day.

In a discussion of the value of Michigan's natural resources, the Governor said, "It is my sincere hope that a spirited observance of Bird and Arbor Day this year will intensify the determination of the people of Michigan to protect these valuable natural assets."

School officials are urged to arrange school programs appropriate for the occasion.

"Policeman" Fired

Uncle Sam has one silent but effective policeman who has enforced his ban on picking wildflowers and shrubs in the national parks, but so efficient has this "policeman" become that he has found it necessary to eliminate him at the camp site in Sequoia National park. The "policeman" is poison oak, which is unfamiliar to the average customer visiting the park. So many have the cases of complaint been that the poison oak has been entirely eliminated and weed killer used to prevent its return.

SALE OF MICHIGAN FARMS INCREASING

Buyers Seeking Land Investments, Raise Bids and Down Payments

Land sales by the Federal Land Bank of St. Paul in Michigan nre steadily gaining, it is shown in a statement just made public embracing the sales for the first three months of the year. With 11 farms sold in January, 21 in February, 25 in March and 10 during the first 10 dnys in April, there have been 67 farms sold this year in this state.

"Improved industrinl conditions in Michigan have undoubtedly improved the demand for farms," said President Roy A. Nelson, "for we notice n considerable number of inquiries are coming from the cities. Many of our sales have been to city people seeking safe investments.

"One thing we have noticed about our land sales this spring is that when we reject a thin offer, almost invariably the prospect raises his offer, both as to price and down payment. This was not true a year or more ago and it indicates to us that, although there is no stampede, the market is very firm. We are getting 60 per cent more inquiries than a year ngo."

A four-color portrait of Shirley Temple suitable for framing appears in "This Week" Magazine in Sunday's Detroit News.

EDITORIAL

THE CAUSE

Many times we are horrified at the number of fatal automobile accidents happening over a single week-end. A week ago newspapers reported a total of seven, most of which could have been avoided had simple, ordinary precautions been exercised. What are the causes for this appalling loss of human life, which last year took a toll of nearly 36,000 men, women and children?

A recent study of the leading causes of traffic accidents resulting in death and injury lists show these causes in order of their importance: Exceeding the speed limit. Driving on wrong side of road. Drove off road. There is only one answer—DRIVE CAREFULLY TODAY

OUTLAWING WAR

If there is any honesty in the outlawry of war as embodied in the Kellogg-Briand pact, then the attitude of idealistic young men and women, even if they are not practical enough to suit the older generation, cannot justifiably be criticized. Certainly, it may well be true that a higher patriotism, and the practical patriotism of the future, will be that which, sincerely abhoring war, will lay the ground work for peace in a reasonable public attitude, in all nations of the world, that will make peaceful settlement both logical and imperative. After all, there is no defense for war. The old patriotism of flag waving and sword rattling has had its day.

WHAT DOES IT GAIN—

Through the doors of the executive office at Lansing filters the complaints of the people. They are many and varied—for there has been many things the past few years to distress the average citizen.

Governor Fitzgerald listens to these complaints with sympathetic understanding. But that does not prevent him from looking at the practical side of the picture, consequently he has no nostrums to peddle for the alleviation of our ills. On the other hand he does not hesitate to speak when convinced that citizens of the Commonwealth are being unjustly burdened. In an address before the Genessee Food Council at Flint a few evenings ago among other thing the governor said:

"A group of men in the Nation's Capital have sought to play the part of God in controlling agricultural production. Our industrial organizations [illegible] particularly in Michigan, have startled the Nation by their aggressive efforts to climb out of the depression. Factory wheels are turning again. Men and women are going back to work—Production figures are coming close to the records of other years.

"Yet what good will that do workers if soaring food prices inflicted upon them by a ruinous government quickly take from them the money that comes their way in the pay envelope? Recovery will mean nothing to them if increased buying power does not accompany it. The splendid effort of our industries will be wasted, its benefits to the wage-earners fleeting at best. The working man goes back to his job, filled with a hope he will be able to lay something aside against another slack period. He soon learns it takes all he can earn to meet exhorbitant food prices. It is my hope the merchants of Michigan will find a way to meet this situation, placing the blame where it belongs."

THE GARDEN

Where practical, every family should plan to have a garden this year. Time once was when nearly every household secured most of its summer supply of vegetables from the little plot in the rear of the old homestead. There was good natured, but keen rivalry between householders over which had the best garden in the neighborhood. It was an achievement to have new peas and potatoes for the Fourth of July dinner. Then came prosperity and the family garden became almost obsolete—so handy to order your supply from the corner grocer. There is a real need, as never before, to help out the family income by having a garden this year. Make your garden the best in the neighborhood. Not only will it furnish a source of satisfaction, but it will give you and the children healthful and invigorating labor during the sunny days of the summer months.

WISER LAND USE

Starting in Allegan county its third and largest submarginal land withdrawal project in the state, the federal government is correcting an old mistake that cost Michigan and other timber states heavily in misused land and broken lives. This mistake was the assumption that the plow always must follow the ax, that the settler could plant the land after the lumberman had cleared it.

But in many areas, as it works out, the land is most useful for the trees it could support and for recreational values. With funds from the AAA, the department of agriculture is buying up such lands from the owners, while the state rehabilitation corporation is assisting them to move to productive acres. Then the submarginal district will be reforested, its wildlife protected and the recreational possibilities of the project developed. Towns bordering it should profit from the visitors it will draw. The state and nation are sure to benefit from the wiser land use and from having citizens made more prosperous.—Grand Rapids Press.

STILL A MODERN WEAPON

Almost forty years ago an obscure Italian doctor announced to a world too busy to notice him that he was having remarkable success in the treatment of tuberculosis with surgery.

That doctor was Forlanini, and his method, little changed since he announced it, was known as "artificial pneumothorax"—allowing air to pass into the chest cavity surrounding a sick lung, thereby collapsing the lung so it may rest.

Today, to Forlanini's one operation in tuberculosis surgery have been added others, and intermediate combinations of several, giving new hope to the tuberculous sick. In Michigan, seventy-five per cent of tuberculosis patients receive the benefits of this surgery, the highest percentage of any state in the Union.

Although Forlanini's first announcement of his surgery came forty years ago, its large-scale use in the constant crusade against tuberculosis has been developed within recent years. It and the many different forms it has taken may still be regarded among the "modern weapons to fight tuberculosis," to which the Eighth Annual Early Diagnosis Campaign of the tuberculosis associations called attention.—Michigan Tuberculosis Association.

YOUTHFUL DRIVERS

A survey recently made in a large American city showed that of eighty-four drivers involved in fatal accidents, forty-two, or exactly half, were under thirty years of age, and ten were under twenty years of age. More emphasis must be laid on the training, education and discipline of the youthful driver. This problem presents a real problem to parents and schools.

Education of youthful drivers should be made a prominent part of "Safety Education Week," designated by Governor Fitzgerald for the period of May 12 to 18. The governor, gravely concerned over the increasing number of automobile fatalities, believes that an intensive campaign of education during this special week will result in the saving of many lives. Make this your driving motto: "Drive Carefully Today!"

COUNTY REORGANIZATION

It begins to look as if the legislature would end its labors and go home without making any attempt to bring about county reorganization, which was the cause of a bitter battle at the polls last November. No same person denies that the present system of county administration is faulty. No private business could exist for long if operated on the same basis. Until the day the legislature sees fit to put counties on a basis comparable to private business, there can never be efficient management. There must be a responsible person at the head of the administration to coordinate the work; there must be a more unified system of tax levies and there must be consolidations to make the 1935 government applicable to present-day conditions rather than to those which existed in ox-cart days.

VICARIOUS WAR

Language expresses the traditional wisdom of the race; and this traditional wisdom recognizes a subterranean psychological identity sex and, (in its widest sense) sport. For those who have to stay at home, sex is the equivalent, so far as risk and routine-breaking are concerned, of exploration and war. Moreover, for the inhabitant of a man-made world, a love affair is a genuine contact with the alien forces of external nature.—Aldous Huxley.

DAIRY FACTS

SHOWS HIGH VALUE OF DAIRY FINDINGS

Specialist Summarizes Good Results.

By T. S. SUTTON, Dairy Specialist, College of Agriculture, Ohio State University.—WNU Service.

Summarizing some of the results of agricultural experiment stations in various parts of the country, I find that considerable information of practical value to Ohio dairymen has been uncovered recently.

The Missouri agricultural experiment station has found from a study of proven sires that a sire should have ten or more daughters with yearly records in order to predict the average of future daughters with reasonable accuracy.

Workers at the Illinois station report that while green feed enriches the color of milk, proteins from different sources fed to concentrates did not affect the color.

The same experiment station also finds that soybeans are best cut for hay when the pods are well filled. This conclusion is based on the fact that the highest total yield per acre was obtained by cutting at this time, 44 per cent of the total weight was leaves and 30 per cent was pods. Ohio investigators in Indiana discovered that soybean hay cut when the pods were completely formed, the beans well formed, and the lower leaves turning yellow, is superior for both milk and fat production to hay cut in earlier stages of maturity.

Still other workers in Nebraska have reported some important data concerning the influence of the number of milkings on the production of dairy cows. Analysis of their records show that high-producing Holstein, Jersey, Guernsey, and Ayrshire cows of different ages milked three times a day produced from 20 to 32 per cent more fat and 11 to 15 per cent more milk than do cows milked twice daily. Cows milked four times daily produced from 130 to 137 per cent more fat and from 119 to 120 per cent more milk than do cows milked twice a day.

Herd Tests Valuable to Owners of Dairy Cows

The herd test, says Professor Brownell, New York State College of Agriculture, is popular because it is an economical way to get records on all the cows in a herd. It is possible for members of dairy herd improvement associations to have their records compiled and published in the herd book of the national association. These records are preserved and published in a book each year and serve as an invaluable aid in proving herd sires and in building a sound breeding programe. Provision is made by the association for the voluntary cancellation of registration papers of the low producing purebreds, and to remove them from the herd books to raise the general average quality of the breed. To date, about 11 per cent of the Holsteins tested in the herd test have been weeded out and their registry papers canceled.

Grain Ration

When the pasture grass or green feed is only fair does well to give [illegible] grain and to keep them in flesh and producing well they should have more. A good rule to go by at this time is one pound of grain to every four or five pounds of milk produced, depending upon the breed and the quantity the cow gives. Most grain rations recommended for use with pasture contain about 15 to 16 per cent protein. There are several good pasture mixtures that will give good results.

For a grain ration to feed when the pasture grass is dry and short and when the green feed has lost most of its succulence, one half the pasture ration and one-half of the 20 per cent feed ration may be fed during this period.

Clean Utensils

Be sure that milk pails and other utensils used for milk are washed promptly after using. First: Rinse them with lukewarm or cool water. Second: Wash them thoroughly with hot water and washing soda. Third: Scald and let dry without wiping. Fourth: Set utensils on rack so that they will drain thoroughly. Let the sun shine on them as much as possible.

Remember: Protect cream when you take it to market. Place a wet burlap sack over the can to keep it cool. Tuck the ears of the burlap sack under the can lid tightly. Fill the lid of the can with water. The wet sack acts like a large wick and draws the water down around the sides of the can. Evaporation does the cooling.

Comparing Milk Color

A machine is being developed to compare the color of milk of one cow with others. This will make possible the elimination of cows that produce pale colored milk and select those that give a rich colored milk as demanded by consumers. Breeders will now face the problem of meeting color demand in milk just as they now meet demand for proper breed characteristics, production capacity and individual merit of their animals, a writer in The Prairie Farmer comments.

IF YOUR BREATH HAS A SMELL YOU CAN'T FEEL WELL

When we eat too much, our food decays in our bowels. Our friends smell this decay coming out of our mouth and call it bad breath. We feel the poison of this decay all over our body. It makes us gloomy, grouchy and no good for anything.

What makes the food decay in the bowels? Well, when we eat too much, our bile juices can't digest it. What is the bile juice? It is the most vital digestive juice in our body. Unless 2 pints of it are flowing from our liver into our bowels every day, our movements get hard and constipated and ¾ of our food decays in our 28 feet of bowels. This decay sends poison all over our body every six minutes.

When our friends smell our bad breath (but we don't) and we feel like a whipped tomcat, don't use a mouthwash or take a laxative. Get at the cause. Take Carter's Little Liver Pills which gently start the flow of your bile juices. But if "something better" is offered you, don't buy it, for it may be a calomel (mercury) pill, which loosens teeth, gripes and scalds the rectum in many people. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name and get what you ask for—25¢. ©1934, C.M.Co.

DEPARTMENT OF STATE NEWS BULLETIN

It was a mere matter of routine when the Secretary of State recently filled a request from the Saginaw county prosecutor's office, for a set of the compiled acts of 1929, to replace a set destroyed when Saginaw's city hall burned down early this month. The incident of the request for the books, draws attention, however, to the fact that the bulky volumes are more or less in continual demand today, six years after they were originally published and distributed.

There was some critical comment in the legislature when 20,000 sets of the 1929 compilation were ordered printed, especially in view of the fact that of the previous compilation, that of 1915, some 7,000 sets were sold as waste paper that year, as obsolete. There had, however, been 25,000 copies of the 1915 compilation printed.

Orville E. Atwood, secretary of state, points out the increase in the number of lawyers, governmental officials and federal commissions within recent years, which are factors in the need for greater distribution of the compiled laws and public acts of the state. Lawyers in private practice are the chief purchasers of the books; the price, originally $40, is currently $15 for the four volume set.

In view of the fact that another compilation may not be made for another four years or more, it is believed that there will be no surplus of sets of compiled acts, in the end. The secretary of state will shortly ask the board of auditors for an appropriation of about $2,500 to pay for 1,000 additional copies of the public acts of 1931, of which there are only about 50 left in stock of the department, with requests continuing.

Atwood Would Ease Responsibility Act

Enforcement of the operators' and chauffeurs' registration act throughout the state has brought nearly a thousand revocations of automobiles under the severe financial responsibility act for the more offense of being unlicensed, records of the Department of State show.

While the offense of driving an automobile while unlicensed is a mere misdemeanor, it so happens that one of the many provisions of the financial responsibility act is that anyone convicted of driving an automobile without a license, shall be deprived of his right to drive until he qualifies under the act by filing evidence of ability to meet damage claims up to $11,000.

Orville E. Atwood, secretary of state, believes this act is too severe in this respect. House bill No. 340, now in the house judiciary committee, would remove this offense from the list of those coming under the act. Louis R. Morony, director of the motor vehicle division, points out that public opinion against an otherwise meritorious law, is being aroused because of the heavy and mandatory penalty which is imposed by those convicted of the relatively minor offense of driving a car without a license. Further, because of the requirement that licenses must be renewed every three years, the possibility that drivers may be unintentionally without a license, increases as time passes.

Increase in collections of the automobile weight tax, continues to attract attention in the Department of State. For the first three months of 1935, a total of $8,599,274.15, was collected, showing a gain of about 45 per cent over the collections for the first quarter of 1934, when $5,927,299.80 was collected. Gasoline tax collections did not show a correspondingly large gain, but indications are plain that the use of gasoline will show a measurable increase later, because of the increase in the number of cars on the highways. For the first quarter of 1935, gas tax collections netted $4,234,906; for the corresponding period of 1934, the net total was $4,082,756.12.

CAR WEIGHT TAX MONEY INCREASES

REFLECTS IMPROVEMENT BUSINESS CONDITIONS

First Quarter Receipts to Charlevoix County $20,839.21—Other Districts Listed

A check was received by Charlevoix county Wednesday for $20,839.21 being this county's share of the weight tax collected by the state for the first quarter of the current year.

One-eighth of the weight tax returns is divided equally among the 83 counties, and seven-eighths on the basis of the amount of weight taxes collected. A general policy has been adopted to pay the counties the full amount of their apportionment of the weight taxes as they become due quarterly.

Last year weight tax refunds were held in a majority of cases as an offset against the taxes due the state from the counties. Payments to the counties were made as the counties cleared their back tax indebtedness to the state. The counties, in most cases have improved their indebtedness during the past year.

Improvement

General improvements in business conditions is in part responsible for the increase in weight tax collections this year. Sale of license plates during the first quarter of 1934 was greatly retarded by the pending weight tax reduction, which was passed in March, 1934. A large number of automobile owners waited until after the reduction to purchase their plates, making the second quarter payments considerably greater.

Among the counties in Western Michigan the distribution was as follows; Antrim $19,597.20; Grand Traverse $33,296.38; Benzie $21,948.48; Cheboygan $19,944.62; Emmet $25,672.94; Kalkaska $15,583.76; Lake $16,047.67; Leelanau $18,464.16; Mackinac $17,740.35; Manistee $31,680.45; Missaukee $16,035.10; Wexford $24,523.12.

CUT INTEREST RATE ON NEW FARM LOANS

Make Second Cost Reduction in Borrowing Land Bank Money

Effective April 10th, the Federal land banks reduced to 4¼ per cent the interest rate on new loans made to Michigan farmers through national farm loan associations and to 4¾ per cent on loans made directly by the banks, according to a statement by Governor W. I. Myers of the Farm Credit Administration.

This is the second interest reduction made by the banks recently, the interest rate on new loans through national farm loan associations having been reduced from 5 to 4½ per cent on April 1st, Mr. Myers pointed out.

SUNDAY DINNER SUGGESTIONS
By Ann Page

Lower prices on eggs and butter are here but there is no promise that they will stay. Several vegetables are also cheaper including onions and cabbage, which for several weeks have been prohibitively priced. Asparagus, green peas and lima beans are also more moderate. Potatoes continue to be high. Green beans and spinach are relatively higher, but new beets and carrots are cheap.

All meats but lamb are high, and stormy weather has made fish rather scarce and high. However, fish twice a week will help to keep the food budget in order as it is sure to be plentiful and inexpensive again before long.

It is about time to do any preserving of strawberries, pineapple or rhubarb or combinations of these as they are now plentiful and moderate in price.

Here are three menus made up of reasonable foods adapted to different budget levels:

Low Cost Dinner
Roast Shoulder Pork Milk Gravy
Browned Potatoes New Cabbage
Bread and Butter
Deep Dish Apple and Rhubarb Pie
Tea or Coffee Milk

Medium Cost Dinner
Braised Chuck Roast Potatoes
Carrots Onions
Tomato Salad
Bread and Butter

"Dad, I passed my last exam today!"

Across plains and mountain ranges, hurdling rivers and towns, a human voice speeds along a wire. And so incredibly swift is its flight that even while the words are still sounding in a far-distant room, the voice is flowing into a Michigan home, a welcome guest — and a familiar one.

From a miracle, long-distance communication by telephone has developed into an integral part of every-day American life.

It is the quickest way to relieve anxiety; it is an unequaled means of sending congratulations or condolences; it can reunite scattered members of a family; it can bring together friends who have been parted by the intervening miles.

There is no way of estimating the human value of this modern necessity; for there is no way of measuring the joy and reassurance and satisfaction which—by the mere lifting of a receiver—can be derived from the sound of a well-remembered voice.

It is a tribute to modern telephone service that such long-distance communication by word of mouth is no longer considered something at which to marvel. In a few short years the miracle has become a commonplace. It is now accepted as a matter of course even by those whose memories go back to a day in which long-distance conversation was utterly unknown.

One of the functions of the Michigan Bell Telephone Company is to supply this modern necessity to the people of Michigan; and to supply it at the lowest rates that will adequately provide for the maintenance and improvement of the service.

HOUSING PROGRAM STARTS ACTIVITY

Sharp Upturn in Building Trades Throughout Michigan

Civic activities in the promotion of modernization and home building throughout the state of Michigan, induced by the Federal Housing Administration, have risen to a very high level, according to Raymond M. Foley, state director.

He announced that 443 communities had selected local chairmen for this purpose. Local community committees to promote better housing programs are established on a civic basis through the interest aroused in Boards of Commerce, business groups, and the building trades in general. As a result of these activities, reports are being received from many towns in Michigan on the sharp upturn in building trades and employment. The community groups select their own chairmen.

"In some instances there appears to be misunderstanding of the functions and responsibilities of the local Better Housing committees," Mr. Foley said. "They are not official representatives of the Federal Housing Administration. They are local civic unpaid groups donating their services in co-operation with the Federal Housing Administration's efforts. They are furnished with plans, printed material and assistance from the state Federal Housing Administration office to carry on their campaign. This explanation appears necessary because in a few cases the committees have mistakenly advertised themselves as local branches of the Federal Housing Administration."

SUNDAY DINNER SUGGESTIONS

By Ann Page

Spring fruits and vegetables are at their peak in abundance and much lower in price than they have been. Especially choice are strawberries, pineapples, rhubarb, green peas, stringless beans, asparagus, spinach and tomatoes. New cabbage and onions are in market and somewhat cheaper than they have been. New potatoes are still high.

Both fresh and salt water fish are abundant and moderate or low in price. Poultry is still relatively cheaper than any of the meats but lamb. Butter and egg retails are about the same as last week but may change at any time.

Here are three menus made up of reasonably priced foods adapted to different budget levels:

PROPOSE PLAN TO AID RED CHERRY GROWERS

Marketing Agreement Sent by Secretary Wallace to Processors

A marketing agreement which provides a minimum price to be paid by processors of red, sour cherries to the growers of this fruit has been signed by Secretary of Agriculture Henry A. Wallace and has been sent to the processors for signature.

If the agreement becomes effective by signature of the processors, it will be administered by a control committee, made up of representatives from the processors, the growers, and cooperative marketing organizations. The men who will compose the control board and their alternates have already been named so there will be no delay after the agreement is signed.

DISTRICT HEALTH UNIT BULLETIN

Diseases That Attacked Our Pre-School Children in 1934

There was once a time when mothers believed it best for their children to have all the commonly "catching diseases, as early as possible in life. Now we know that the longer these diseases are postponed, the less likely the child is to have seriously complications and after effects. Even if a case is light, another child may contract a severe and fatal form of the same disease.

The most prevalent diseases attacking our children under six years of age are: Chickenpox, diphtheria, german measles, infantile paralysis, measles, mumps, scarlet fever, smallpox and whooping cough. The majority of these diseases are spread by discharges from the mouth and nose.

The number of preschool children, or those below six years of age, in District Health Unit No. 3, comprising the counties of Antrim, Charlevoix, Emmet and Otsego, who contracted these children's diseases during the past year are as follows:

Scarlet fever 78, whooping cough 7, measles 6, german measles 6, chickenpox 5, mumps 2.

When such symptoms as skin eruption, sore throat, croup, fever, cough or other suspicious symptoms occur, it is best to isolate the child and not allow the other children to come near. No matter how hard a mother tries, she herself may not be able to insure her children against contracting these diseases. There are, however, several things which she can do in the home which will lessen a child's chances of becoming infected.

1. Keep the child away from sick people. 2. Isolate a sick child in the home, and do not allow the other children to come near. 3. Teach the child to wash his hands before eating, and after using the toilet, by having him do this daily. 4. Keep the child in the best health possible, that he may build up a strong resistance against germs.

Through preventive measures, a mother can insure her child's health from diphtheria and smallpox. Immunization with the one-dose toxoid is a protection against diphtheria; vaccination every five years is protection against smallpox.

BURGESS EXTENSION CLUB CHOSE OFFICERS

Made Plans for Achievement Day and New Project Next Fall

At the last regular meeting of the Burgess Homa Management Club, officers were elected and plans made for the new extension program which starts next fall, also for achievement day for club members to be held Thursday, May 16th.

The Club approved a plan to take up "cooperative meetings" in the fall and elected new officers as follows: Leaders, Mrs. George Burns and Mrs. Fred Willis; chairman, Mrs. Orson Cook; secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Otto Kane; recreation leader, Mrs. Andrew Struthers.

Mrs. Burns, leader the past year, was presented with a beautiful gift from the members. The first fall meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Platt Webster.

UNIVERSITY OF MICHIGAN GIVES APPROVAL FRESHMAN COLLEGES

In a general news letter issued by the Extension Division, April 15th, the University of Michigan placed the stamp of its approval on the twenty-one Freshman Colleges under its supervision. Reports for the second semester reveal a healthy tendency to correlate the work of the schools with the needs of the community while, at the same time, a distinct contribution to education has been made in the strictly academic field. This trend toward community needs "is a healthy situation and one that should be encouraged. The Freshman College movement can never justify itself entirely on the basis that a majority of its students will finish four years of college work. The whole movement is experimental and its future is problematical. It contains, however, the elements of a genuine folk school movement. This, it seem to us, is its peculiar mission."

SENEY MARSH SITE FOR DUCK SANCTUARY

To Be First Established Under New Federal Regulations

Michigan has been selected by the Bureau of Biological Survey, Department of Agriculture, for one of the first exemplifications of the new deal for migratory waterfowl in the north central states, according to the Department of Conservation.

A federal waterfowl refuge of approximately 14,000 acres is contemplated by the bureau in the Seney marsh area of Schoolcraft county, once among the finest breeding grounds for ducks and geese in the state, and steps are being taken to reflood the area and establish permanent administrative buildings.

Traverse Wars on Starling

Saturday Traverse City staged open warfare on starlings, killing many throughout the city. Well organized squads of men, combed the city, ficing shotguns at the birds which gathered into flocks as the warfare continued. Several large flocks were seen leaving the city for rural area south.

The greatest satisfaction we can get out of life comes from building bridges—making the pathway of those who follow a little less bumpy.

STATE TO ADVERTISE IN THE NEWSPAPERS

State This Medium Brings Best Percentage of Results

The bulk of the state advertising appropriation will be spent in newspaper advertising, according to the secretary-managers of the four State Tourist Associations. "We have found in the past that newspapers have given us our best results," said Chairman Hugh J. Gray, "and we are charged with spending this fund in a manner to get the greatest return to the state. Metropolitan papers throughout the Middle West will carry the message of Michigan's vacation and recreational joys to the public. The campaign begins immediately and will be carried through the season. We will also use two magazines in the national field and four of the sports magazines."

Governor Fitzgerald recently signed a bill appropriating $100,000 to be spent for advertising each year for two years.

CHANGES MADE GOVERNING BOUNTY TRAPPERS

Bounty Price on Wolves and Coyotes Is Increased to $10

The bounty price on male coyotes and wolves was increased from $7.50 to $10 by the state conservation commission at its April meeting.

H. R. Sayre, chief of the Field Administration Division, reported that little is to be gained by a lower payment on the male of the species. Under commission action all adult coyotes and wolves hereafter command a $10 bounty.

The commission also ordered that bounty trappers must bring the entire hide of a wolf, coyote or bobcat to district conservation headquarters offices for certification after May 1. The scalps will be detached, sealed, and the remainder of the pelts, which are worthless in the warmer months of the year, will be destroyed.

AT THE MOVIES

"Rumba" Rejoins Raft and Lombard in New Dance Movie Triumph

George Raft and Carole Lombard, the sensational stars of "Bolero," repeat that early success on an even more lavish and startling scale in Paramount's "Rumba," at the Palace Theater, Saturday and Sunday.

An enthralling and dramatic love story set to the rhythmic tom-toms of Cuba's fascinating dance rhythms, the picture combines musical innovations, drama and handsomely mounted photography to furnish spell-binding entertainment.

In the supporting cast are Margo, whose superior performance gives promise of better things from this lovely senorita; Lynne Overmann, who turns in a capable interpretation of a flippant press agent, and Monroe Owsley, Iris Adrian and Gail Patrick, all of whom contribute meritorious performances.

Second Clue Club Mystery Drama Is Coming to Palace

Introducing Aline MacMahon and Guy Kibbee in entirely different roles from those usually associated with them, the second of the Clue Club's productions, "While the Patient Slept," First National's latest and most baffling murder mystery drama, is announced as the feature attraction at the Palace Theater, Wednesday and Thursday.

Based on a novel by Mignon G. Eberhart, "While the Patient Sleeps," presents Aline MacMahon as Nurse Sarah Keate, detective fiction's most amazing character, and Guy Kibbee as a small town sleuth.

HOMECOMING PLAN PROGRESSING FINE

SITE FOR PAGEANT SELECTED AT LAST MEETING

Various Local and County Civic Groups Join in Effort — Popularity Contest Nominations In

With only eight weeks remaining before the opening date of the Charlevoix County Homecoming and State Centennial, July 4, 5, 6, the work of the various committees is progressing in fine shape.

Reports from various parts of the state and some from several other states indicate the event is attracting wide interest and without a doubt will draw one of the largest crowds Charlevoix has ever entertained.

Mayor L. P. Adams with a delegation plans to leave Saturday morning for Detroit to attend the annual meeting of the Charlevoix-Detroit Club and personally extend an invitation to the members to attend our Homecoming.

At the last meeting of the General Pageant Committee, held at the Hotel Charlevoix last Friday evening, the site on which the Historical Pageant will be staged was chosen. The location is the new city park on Bridge street just north of the Hotel Charlevoix.

The staging and scenery will be placed at the east end of the park with Round Lake in the background. Seats will be built sufficient to take care of several thousand people. Work on the preparation of the site will get under way soon with the clearing away of the remains of the buildings formerly located on the ground, and grading and filling, all of which is planned to have done with FERA labor.

The newly formed Charlevoix Boat Club has come forward and enthusiastically offered to stage a real spectacle second only to the Pageant itself. It will be in the form of a Venetian Boat Parade and Sham Battle and will be displayed on Round Lake with fireworks of various kinds being used and the boats decorated with Chinese lanterns.

The Popularity contest to select a Queen for the Pageant is well under way throughout the county with committees at work in East Jordan, Boyne City and Boyne Falls. With the next issue of the paper the nominations will have been closed and the names of the contestants and their standings published.

Nominations up to the present time include the following:

Grace Belding, Cleo Bonney, Arlene Bissell, Jeanne Campbell, Marjorie Jean Carey, Betty Cartier, Ernestine Chew, Marguerite Chew, Eloise Davis, Anna Davorak, June Fairbanks, Helen Foster, Esther Lou Foehtman, Julia Glados, Esther Goldstick, Beth Heise, Leoln Henly, Marguerite Hull, Dorothy Ikens, Igma Isaaksen, Ruth Johnson, Mildred LaBlanc, Bernice Lamphenr, Marguret McCann, Alice Myers, Marjorie Miller, Marie Novak, Esther O'Neill, Shirley Partridge, Hilda Roen, Betty Ross, Annabell Reinhardt, Doris Solomon, Evelyn Seymour, Dorothy Smith, Evelya Sneathen, Marjorie Webster, Frances Withers, Dorothy Withers, Hilda Whitley, Carol Whitley, Rachel Whitley, all of Charlevoix; Dorothy Malloy, Winifred Lafreniere, Anna Martin, Rosemond Martin, Irene Shiell, of Beuver Island.

The advance sale of Pageant tickets will begin next Monday morning and they will be available at Pageant Hendquarters, the drug stores and the Public Library. The contestants will also sell tickets.

The public is urgently requested by the committee to take advantage of the reduced price of tickets prevailing during the advance sale, thereby furnishing the necessary funds to carry on the work of the huge undertaking and insuring its success.

All members who have participated in this extension program last fall and this spring are already making their plans to attend.

A feature of the day will be exhibits displayed by each of the various groups, showing the type of work that has been carried on in this clothing project. Another feature will be the main address given by Professor Cecil Nickles of the M. S. C. speech department. His topic is "Our Play Life." He, in his capable manner, will present a discussion on music and dramatics that should be an activity participated in by the many rural communities scattering throughout this county. Already, plans are being made for a county contest, at which time, the various granges, community clubs and other organizations may put on one act plays, the winner to represent this county at the Top O'Michigan district contest.

In addition, Mr. Henry Clay, director of the Rural Housing Administration, will speak for 15 minutes explaining this new program. Other numbers include musical and humorous sketches. Community singing will be enjoyed as well as a report of the results of last year's project by Miss Irene Taylor, specialist in charge, and our representative for the Michigan State College.

The forenoon program will begin promptly at 11 o'clock, followed by dinner given by the ladies of the Methodist church. The entire public is cordially urged, and invited to attend this Achievement Day. It is expected that fully 200 ladies will be present to receive their Certificates of Achievement. Won From Otsego County Team 29 to 1 Here Tuesday Afternoon

Defeating Gaylord by a top-heavy 29 to 1 score here Tuesday afternoon, Charlevoix remained unefeated in the Northern Michigan High School Baseball League.

The Kipmen combined 16 hits, 11 passes on balls and numerous Gaylord errors to produce 29 runs in seven innings. They scored in all but the second stanza, while Gaylord tallied their lone count in the fourth inning.

CITIZENS URGED TO JOIN IN SUMMER PREPARATION

Mayor Issues Proclamation Proclaiming Effort—City Street Department Will Assist

Charlevoix's annual house cleaning campaign will start Monday, May 13th, and continue through Saturday, May 18th.

The city council has designated that period for the annual "Clean-Up" week and health and fire officials and citizens generally are behind the movement to properly dress up the community for the coming season.

The following proclamation has been issued by Mayor L. P. Adams:

PROCLAMATION

The City Council has designated the week of May 13-18, inclusive, as Annual Clean-Up Week. We are going to have a good summer this year so let everybody CLEAN UP, PAINT UP, and CHEER UP. The City street department will remove all cans and rubbish placed in convenient places on streets and alleys. We urge everyhody to join in this Clean-Up movement so that we can live up to our slogan, "CHARLEVOIX-THE-BEAUTIFUL."

Signed:

L. P. ADAMS, Mayor.

The immediate purpose of the Clean-Up Week is to clear the yards, alleys and vacant property of the city of all refuse and rubbish and garbage piles; it will reduce the fire hazard by removing piles of inflammable materials and it will give the city a cleaner appearance.

Chief Charles Marshall of the local fire department urges people to burn the rubbish which will burn but to do it reasonably and safely. Keep the fires under constant control and away from all buildings or fences which might ignite.

Dr. R. H. Armstrong, city health officer, urges everyone to see that the accumulation of rubbish in the yard or in the home is burned or removed as a measure for preventing the outbreak and spread of any epidemic.

The good citizens urge all other citizens to see that their home grounds are made clean and attractive, not only for the summer visitors but for the enjoyment of home folks.

Firestone

FIRESTONE TIRES STOP YOUR CAR 15% TO 25% Quicker

Firestone Manufactures Truck Tires for Every Trucking Service at Lowest Prices

GIVING LONG MILEAGE AND GREATEST ECONOMY

FIRESTONE pioneered the ship-by-truck movement in 1918, and ever since has consistently led in anticipating every requirement in the design and construction of truck and bus tires for every tranaportation condition. To accompliah thia, FIRESTONE has consiatently followed the fundamental principle of its founder and active head, Harvey S. Firestone, "Always to find the way to build tires better than anyone else."

While there are many reasons why FIRESTONE Tires are safer and more economical, there are two reasons that stand out above all others. One is Gum-Dipping; and the other is two extra layers of Gum-Dipped cords under the tread.

By Gum-Dipping, every strand in every cord is soaked in liquid rubber, preventing friction—adding extra strength and long mileage. By having two extra layers of Gum-Dipped cords placed between the tread and cord body, it is practical to use with a higher, more rugged shoulder and a deeper non-skid with flatter contour.

All this provides more rubber on the road, giving longer wear, greater traction and quicker atops. These two extra construction features are patented and used only in FIRESTONE Tires. Take a forward step in maintaining schedules and reducing operating costs. Call on the FIRESTONE dealer liated below. He will be glad to serve you.

The meeting is one of a series of meetings which are to he held in various localities throughout the state where there are settlements of Indians. This series of meetings is sponsored by the Michigan Indian Defense associntion, which is trying hard to bring an understanding among the Indians as well as those who have volunteered their service in behalf of the Indian cause.

DISTRICT HEALTH UNIT BULLETIN

Measles—A Dangerous Disease

Contrary to popular belief, measles is a dangerous disease. It has killed more children in Michigan during the last five years than any other acute contagious disease, except diphtheria. Nor are the deaths caused by measles the entire measure of the damage done by this disease. Measles seems to prepare the lung tissues for the bacteria that cause broncho-pneumonia. This pneumonia is particularly fatal to young children. Many cases of tuberculosis date back to a prior case of measles. Infections of the middle ear and mastoid are frequently found to follow measles.

Measles should not be confused with German measles or so-called "three day measles."

If your child shows signs of measles—running nose, sneezing, eyes red and watery, put him to bed at once and call your family physician. This disease requires medical attention. The measles rash of small red spots, starts in about four days, first on the face and then it spreads over the whole body.

There have been 56 cases of measles so far this year in District Health Unit No. 3, constituting the counties of Antrim, Charlevoix, Emmet and Otsego, of which 53 cases occurred in April. The morbidity of measles has totaled a large figure in this area every year since 1930, with the exception of last year. The following table illustrates the incidence of measles in our district:

1930	103 cases
1931	122 cases
1932	282 cases
1933	112 cases
1934	6 cases

From a study made of the fatality of measles, it was found that the longer a child can be prevented from having measles, the better his chance for recovery. Therefore, it is best to take precautions in protecting your child from this disease as long as possible.

OF INTEREST TO FARMERS

By B. C. Mellencamp

300 Bushels of Katahdins Distributed Last Week

Not alone producers of potatoes, hut all consumers as well, will he interested in the development of the new variety of potatoes named Katahdins, which is being developed throughout the state. This variety, during the last three years has shown up exceedingly well in competition with our established varieties, and indications point to its increasing popularity. In the first place, it is white skinned, shallow eyed, bright in appearance, and somewhat larger than the Russet potato.

These potatoes were certified last year, and are being handled through the cooperation of the Charlevoix County Bank, W. P. Porter, East Jordan, and County Agent B. C. Mellencamp, Boyne City. The committee's viewpoint is, that we should give this new variety a fair trial in competition with the other popular varieties.

Under this program, these potatoes will he grown in every community in the county, and at the end of the year we will be in a position to judge its relative merit. If they develop and meet the approval of the producers and consumers, then we will have a sufficient amount of good seed to take care of next year's requirements. For this reason only a small number are being secured by individual farmers. If they do not turn out according to expectations, there is no great loss. If they do, Charlevoix county will be all set in 1936 to grow these commercially.

Our appreciation is extended to Mr. Russell Eggert, Smith-Hughes teacher at East Jordan, and the Smith-Hughes boys for the cooperation in giving these potatoes the seed treatment. Also to the Kiwanis Club of Charlevoix for their help in developing potato club work in their locality. During the year further comments will be published regarding the development and progress of this new variety in this county.

Roscoe Karns adds a comedy touch to the otherwise melodramatic scenes as the loyal but somewhat dumb pal of Talbot, while Frankie Darro lends a novel touch to the picture in a midget auto racing sequence. CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCH

Sunday morning service, 10:45.

First Wednesday of month, 7:45 p. m.

Reading room Saturdays, 3 to 5 p. m.

We cordially invite the public to our service and reading room.

"Adam und Fallen Man" will he the subject lesson of the Lesson-Sermon in all Christian Science Churches throughout the world on Sunday, May 12.

Among the Bible citations is this passage (Rom. 5:17): "For if by one man's offense death reigned by one; much more they which receive abundance of grace and of the gift of righteousness shall reign in life by one, Jesus Christ."

Correlative passages to be read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science und Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (p. 470): "The relations of God and man, divine Principle and idea, are indestructible in Science; and Science knows no lapse from nor return to harmony, but holds the divine order or spiritual law, in which God and all that He creates are perfect und eternal, to have remain unchanged in its eternal history."

Sees Value of Milk Tests

The milk test association idea has never seemed to "take hold" in Canada. Many associations have been organized but few of them have been long lived. The cost of maintaining a tester for each unit of 26 herds seemed to be the great stumbling block. In the United States, on the other hand, such associations are now numbered by the thousand and the number is still increasing. Last year there were 85 such associations in Pennsylvania and 30,691 cows were under test. The average production of milk per row was 8,081 pounds and 312.8 pounds butterfat. This is the second year that the average milk production has exceeded 8,000 pounds and the fifth consecutive year that the average butterfat has exceeded 300 pounds. No dairy farmer will need to be told that this is an exceptionally good showing. It is results such as this that have made for the improvement associations a secure place in the estimation of United States farmers.—Montreal Family Herald.

FOR FULL MOTOR PROTECTION

Modern cars must have oil with extra oiliness

THE development since 1931 of motors of 80 to 180 horsepower has brought about correspondingly increased bearing pressures and crankcase temperatures. Motor manufacturers have turned to new alloy metals of extra strength and durability to meet these new conditions.

For full protection of such motors, you must have oil with enough extra oiliness and film strength to get safe lubrication under extreme pressure and heat.

Yet motor oils generally have no more oiliness and film strength now than they had ten years ago. Some oils have less, because over-refining to eliminate carbon and sludge has robbed them of oiliness and film strength.

There is one exception—Conoco Germ Processed Motor Oil. It, too, is free from carbon and sludge troubles, as its users know after millions of trouble-free miles of driving. But more important, Almen and Timken machine tests prove it has more oiliness and 2 to 4 times the film strength of any straight mineral oil! That added oiliness and film strength protect your motor under all conditions.

Germ Processing—adding concentrated oily essence to highly-refined oil—gives other valuable advantages. Because Germ Processed Oil penetrates and combines with metal surfaces, a "Hidden Quart" stays up in your motor and cuts down starting-period wear. Germ Processed Oil gives longer mileage with greater motor protection, as proved by the famous Indianapolis Destruction Test.

Say "O.K.—Drain"—fill with Conoco Germ Processed Motor Oil and get full motor protection!

MANY SEED LOANS ARE TAKEN OUT BY FARMERS

A larger number of farmers have applied for government seed loans than any previous year. The money can be only used for crop production needs, such as: seed, fertilizer, spraying materials and other incidentals that are needed in crops harvested. The interest is 5½ per cent, and the notes are supposed to be paid by August 31.

We also find more interest is being shown in the Production Credit Association loans which are obtained from the Gaylord office. Both the seed loan applications and production applications are made out at the county agent's office, and represents a very great service to farmers who are in need of credit to efficiently carry on their farming operations.

It is interesting to note that farmers who have borrowed money in the past are paying up their loans very nicely. In fact, only 7.9 per cent is unpaid on the loans granted in 1932, and only 24.7 per cent in the case of the 1933 loans. This pretty largely shows that the farmers appreciate this assistance and are meeting their obligations to the best of their ability.

HOUSE PASSES GAYLORD SANATORIUM MEASURE

The House last week passed the Faircloth bill, appropriating $250,000 from the general fund for construction of a state tuberculosis sanatorium at Gaylord. A similar appropriation was made in 1931 but the funds were to have been produced from the malt tax which failed to provide the funds. The Faircloth bill goes to the Senate.

AUTO TRADE BOOM FELT AT CAPITOL

Recording of Title Transfers For Ahead of Last Year

Thousands of automobile owners are writing to the Department of State at Lansing, all asking the same question: "Where is my car title?" Orville E. Atwood, secretary of state, is, through Herman E. McConnell, director of the title division, answering the queries as fast as a 50 per cent increase in personnel in the information branch of that division, will permit. Correspondence of this division has doubled in the past few months.

The answer to the situation is that the almost unprecedented activity in the purchase and transfer of automobiles, has flooded the Department of State, for each such transaction must be recorded in the title division. Extra help has been added; there are now 38 persons working a "night" shift, and the mass of work is gradually being caught up with.

From January 1, this year, to and including April 27, a total of 150,414 title transfers were recorded — the largest number for an equal period, in the history of the title division. For the corresponding period of 1934, the total was 100,353 transfers.

RAISE QUALIFICATIONS OF SCHOOL INSTRUCTORS

After September 1, 1935, students in all teacher-training departments must attain a scholarship average of "C" in all courses prior to admission to practice teaching work, according to action at the April meeting of the state board of education. The board also ruled that after September 1, 1935, no candidate whose practice teaching accomplishment is less than "C" grade shall be eligible for any certificate.

The board also recommended that colleges should employ teaching aptitude tests in making recommendations of candidates for certification.

STATISTICS SHOW LIVING EXPENSE INCREASE

The cost of feeding a Michigan family increased 17.7 during April as compared with April of last year, the State Department of Labor and Industry reports.

Meats showed the most substantial cost increase and the report asserts that the average working family now is spending 34 cents of its food dollar for dairy products and only 22 for meats.

ASSN. OF COMMERCE ACTIVITIES
By F. V. Tyler

The Charlevoix Association of Commerce met on Friday evening, May 3rd, at the Odd Fellow Hall and enjoyed a delicious fish supper served by the Ladies of the Maccabees.

Following the meal, the members were called to order by Second Vice President Joseph M. Foster, officiating in the absence of the president, Dr. C. J. Winder, whom illness forced to be absent. Mr. Foster explained that the program for the meeting outlined by President Winder would have to be dispensed with on this account, and then called upon various chairmen and members of the sub-committees of the Fourth of July pageant-homecoming organization to relate what progress had been made to date in preparations for the affair. Messrs. Bulow, Meggison and Hamlin spoke briefly on this subject, Mr. Hamlin inviting the members of the association present to attend the meeting of the general pageant committee which was to be held shortly thereafter in the Hotel Charlevoix. Messrs. Bulow, Hirken and Mayor L. P. Adams stated that the board of supervisors, the city council and the merchants of Charlevoix were solidly behind the pageant-homecoming and would do all in their power to make it a success.

The secretary then brought up the matter of the Safety Week Campaign during the period of May 12th to 18th, sponsored by the Michigan State Police organization and the American Legion. W. P. Hicken moved that the chair appoint a committee of three to represent the Association of Commerce in this matter, and A. Livingston was made chairman, with Floyd Brown and Robert Bonthron as the other two committeemen.

The guest of the evening, Wilson McDonald, secretary of the Petoskey Chamber of Commerce, was then introduced by the chairman and delivered a very interesting address on the work of building up a resort community. Secretary Tyler of the association followed Mr. McDonald with the reading of an address delivered before the Inland Press Association by the president of the Portland Cement Association in 1934, entitled "A Personality for Every Town."

Mr. McDonald brought up the matter of the bill recently introduced in the Michigan Legislature by Representative Douglas Tibbetts, making the elimination of rag weed compulsory. This bill, Mr. McDonald said, was especially directed at the northern tier of counties engaged principally in the resort business, and urged that a committee of the Association of Commerce go before the board of supervisors and urge their support of this bill and aid in carrying out its provisions, if enacted. He further stated that, in his belief, the board of supervisors should appropriate at least a thousand dollars in Charlevoix county to be used in the various resort projects and in advertising the tourist business — our mainstay, which should not be allowed to fall behind for lack of funds.

It was moved by A. Livingston and supported by Rev. Hurd that the chair appoint a committee of two to go before the board of supervisors and bring the matter of the rag weed elimination bill to their attention. The motion carried and Mr. Cartier and Mr. Bulow were named by the chair as a committee of two for this purpose.

Mr. Livingston announced that negotiations are under way to secure the Michigan Professional Golf tournament this year. If held, it will precede and tie into the Michigan Amateur Tournament during the week of July 14th, the open starting Sunday and running to the 18th, and the amateur finishing out the week. This should bring pros and amateurs from all over the state and will give us a full week of interesting golf activities.

Councilman Leo Carey, commenting on the Tibbetts bill to turn over the local tract of woodland on Lake Michigan, known as the Burns property, to the Conservation Department for state park purposes, stated that the land in the shape it was now in presented a serious fire hazard. He believed it would be possible, through the instrumentality of the Association of Commerce, to have a CCC camp located in this district whose task it would be to clean up this tract and eliminate the fire hazard.

Councilman Fred E. Cartier moved that the secretary be instructed to write Hon. William J. Pearson, commissioner of conservation, and ascertain what procedure is necessary to secure the location of a CCC camp near Charlevoix.

Several other members addressed the meeting and the assemblage went on record as heartily in favor of supporting the Michigan Open Golf Tournament as an attraction for Charlevoix visitors this season. Mr. McDonald, in his closing remarks, offered the whole hearted support of the business men and other citizens of Petoskey for the Charlevoix Fourth of July pageant and homecoming celebration. Petoskey, he stated, was not planning an official celebration of the Fourth this year, but expected to lend a neighborly hand to her sister city.

MERMASH Wins Again

In the Famous

"Pen Against Pen Test"

Harry Van Sickle, a poultryman living near Grand Ledge, has been feeding a widely used mush in this district for the past two seasons.

Observing the results his neighbor was getting on Farm Bureau Mermush 18%, he decided to make the "Pen Against Pen" test.

He built a wire partition across the middle of the house, and allowed the hens to go to roost as they chose. It was necessary to remove 10 hens from one side to the other to make an equal number (90) in both pens.

The hens on one side of the house were changed over completely to the Mermash 18% at the start of the test. (Note gradual change as recommended by some feed concerns.) The palatability of Mermash Rations is shown by the rapid pick-up in production of the hens in this lot.

The records as given below tell the story better than we can: hens in each pen—90.

	No. of Eggs Mash	Mermash 18%
3/25/35 Mon.	28	25
3/26/35 Tues.	35	26
3/27/35 Wed.	32	31
3/28/35 Thurs.	35	36
3/29/35 Fri.	34	33
3/30/35 Sat.	33	49
3/31/35 Sun.	34	53
4/ 1/35 Mon.	44	45
4/ 2/35 Tues.	42	58
4/ 3/35 Wed.	37	57
4/ 4/35 Thurs.	44	54
4/ 5/35 Fri.	40	65
	427	532

Note: 105 more eggs on the Mermash 18% in 12 days after putting on Mermash.

3⅛ dozen eggs on ——— Mush during the 12 days, under 22 ounce per dozen, and only 1½ dozen eggs on Mermash 18% during same period under 22 ounce per dozen.

Conclusion: Mermash 18% produces more and larger eggs.

COW FAMILY MAKES HIGH RECORD MARK

Half-Sisters Lead Class in United States.

By S. J. BROWNELL, New York State College of Agriculture.—WNU Service.

Two New York State Holsteins, half sisters, broke the state record that has stood for five years as junior four year olds on ten months' test and three daily milkings. The cows were bred by E. J. Chaffee of Wassaic and owned by James Stark of Pawling. Mr. Chaffee is vice president of the New York Holstein association.

Oldong Valley Kobo Sadie Boon, the youngest of the half sisters by seven days, gave 20,297 pounds of milk containing 650.8 pounds of butterfat to displace the five years' champion, Cassa Columbia Blossom, owned by H. H. Loughouse of Cassadaga. This record placed the Stark cow third in the United States for the present year and fifth in the all time list.

The half sister, Oldong Valley Kobo Ikke Ladora, completed her record a few days later of 20,284 pounds of milk containing 630.8 pounds of fat. This record placed the older of the two cows first in her class in the United States for the year and second for all time class list with the highest such record reported within the past five years.

Mr. Stark's herd of 23 cows led the larger herds in New York dairy herd improvement associations for the past year with an average of 15,583 pounds of milk and 521 pounds of fat to the cow.

HARD WORK WAY TO TAME UNRULY BULL

All Viciousness Eliminated in Short Order.

By PROF. W. H. ALL, Extension Specialist, Iowa State College.—WNU Service.

Bulls kept in small pens or stalls soon become vicious and mostly mad do not stay in the best breeding condition. Neither is it wise to keep the animals in the pasture with the cows. Usually they become actually dangerous.

At Vanceboro the other day, however, I found a man who had solved the problem of handling an unruly bull to good advantage. This farmer owed a bull that was getting more vicious each day. Finally, when the owner's patience had about become exhausted and he was ready to sell the animal for meat, he decided to make a yoke and put the bull to work. After about two weeks of training, the bull was well broken and now works every day. The owner said he had even used the animal in logging and that he was stronger than any mule on the farm. After a few weeks of hard work, the bull lost all signs of viciousness.

This man not only kept a valuable animal but also got an extra dividend from the labor performed. The bull got plenty of exercise, as he was placed in the pasture each night.

It is essential in these days of low farm profits that only sires from high producing cows should be used. Sometimes such sires get bread before the owner knows the record of the daughter cows, and it often happens that a valuable bull is sold for beef before his true value has become known. No bull should be sent to the butcher just because he is hard to manage. Work out some suitable plan for controlling him. Give him plenty of exercise and green grass, and study a system of management which will correct any tendency to viciousness.

Do not keep a scrub bull because he is gentle and don't kill a good purebred bull because he is mean.

Visualize Better Cows, First Step to Success

If you expect to build a house you begin by making a mental picture of the kind of house you want. Similarly, if you are going to build a high producing herd of dairy cows you should begin by forming a mental picture of how you expect to accomplish that task. One is not likely to succeed very well at any undertaking unless one first visualizes the completed job as well as the intermediate steps required to bring it to completion.

Here is a statement, which with variations has been made thousands of times by different people: Starting with a herd of ten common cows, the man who uses good purebred bulls and selects the best heifers to keep, can in five years be producing as much milk and butterfat with ten cows as his neighbor is producing with fifteen ordinary cows.

This and similar statements have not only been repeatedly made, but they have also been proved true in practice. We all know that it can be done, because it has been done by thousands of farmers. Furthermore, it can be done without the expenditure of a lot of money.—Wisconsin Agriculturist.

Herd's Earning Power Increased by Culling

One means of reducing the surplus milk and at the same time increase the earning power of the herd is illustrated by Leonard Summey, explains Samuel Frazee, Allen county tester, in the Indiana Farmer's Guide. Three cows in the Summey herd, representing 800 pounds of fat annually were sold to a butcher for almost sufficient cash to purchase one cow of known production. This animal returned 430 pounds of fat at a feed cost of $56.40 per year as compared to a feed cost of $121 for the three cows. This was a saving of $64.60 for feed with less labor and investment. The owner also disposed of 370 pounds of so-called surplus milk. An offspring from this one cow could easily be valued, when six months of age, at $15 more than one from each of the low-producing cows.

Inheritance Factors

Experiments aimed at fixing the inheritance factors in dual-purpose cattle are to be undertaken by the Minnesota agricultural experiment station at its Waseca branch. Dr. Andrew Boss, vice director of the Minnesota experiment station, and Supt. Robert E. Hodgson of Waseca, will carry on the work. They are now studying pedigrees of milking Shorthorns with a view to buying a number of high-producing females for a foundation herd.

More interest is being manifested by farmers in dual purpose or milking Shorthorns now than ever before, says Horton Boss. This has probably been accentuated, he says, by the recent high beef prices and the present low prices for dairy products. While it is known that many individual animals of the dual purpose type have the capacity to produce both beef and milk efficiently, one of the big drawbacks is that such cattle cannot be depended upon to transmit these qualities to their offspring. The present series of experiments will be designed to correct this deficiency.

Guarding Against Bloating

Losses through turning the dairy herd on legume pastures have already been reported. These losses may be largely eliminated if a little forethought is exercised. A nearby dairyman who has pastured his cows largely on alfalfa for the past 30 years, has yet to lose the first cow by bloat. He never turns them to pasture when the clover is wet with dew or rain. For the first week or so the cows are on pasture only a few hours daily, and are always turned on after they have had a full feed of hay and are not hungry. After a few days of this treatment the cows are left on the pasture except at milking time. If it should happen at any time during the season that the cows are on permanent pasture for a few days or weeks, and are then turned back to clover pasture, they are again filled with dry feed before being allowed on the clover, and the clover must be dry.

"Poor Quality" Losses

Poor quality causes much loss (or a lower price, which amounts to the same thing) of milk and cream in summer. The words "poor quality" cover a multitude of sins. One of the big ones is sour milk or cream, and another is bad flavor.

Losses due to poor quality can be stopped in this way: As soon as the milk is drawn, put it through a strainer equipped with good cotton filter disk; cool the milk immediately to check the growth of bacteria; keep the milk below 50 degrees Fahrenheit until it goes to market. If you are selling cream or making butter separate the milk before cooling.—Farm Journal.

Guard Against Bloating

Bloating of dairy cows on pasture is, and apparently always will be, a serious problem in herd management wherever legumes are used as pastures. This is perhaps more particularly true when the legume is alfalfa.

At the Dominion experimental station, Summerland, British Columbia, alfalfa is used as a base in all pastures, and in spite of the best of care being taken, considerable trouble arises from bloat. It is possibly more severe at that particular period when the first crop of alfalfa would be approaching the blossoming period.

Herd Averages 400 Pounds

For the third consecutive year the Rock River farms, Ogle county, Illinois, herd of Holsteins topped the 400-pound butterfat mark. The average for 83 cows in the herd was 12,532 pounds of 3.6 per cent milk and 433.8 pounds of fat. Fifty-one of the cows produced more than 400 pounds of fat. The best cow produced 24,900 pounds of milk and 902.2 pounds of fat. Fifty three of the cows were milked three times daily and 30 twice daily, according to the Prairie Farmer.

The quantity of current consumed by the average electric clock is so small that it does not register on the meter when all other electrical devices and lights are turned off, writes I. KS Thomas, Ithaca, New York, in Collier's Weekly. Thus about 10,000,000 of these clocks in homes, stores and offices—operate during part of the night at the expense of the central electric stations.

LOW GRADE FEEDS CAUSE FLOCK LOSS

Access to Fertilized Fields Dangerous Practice.

By R. E. Dearstyne, Head of Poultry Department, North Carolina State College.—WNU Service.

Most of the dangers of food poisoning of chickens can be attributed to the use of low grade materials in home-mixed feeds or allowing mashes to become damp and decompose.

Feeds mixed from the best materials, particularly ingredients known to be good chicken food, will not poison the birds.

Birds, however, may be poisoned by eating fertilizers or feeds which have come into contact with fertilizers. Hence, a warning is issued against permitting chickens access to freshly fertilized fields or to buildings where fertilizer is stored.

Many causes of high mortality are found in chilling, overheating, crowding, poor sanitation, and germ diseases, and not so frequently in poisonous foods as some poultrymen seem to think.

When bothered by a heavy loss of birds, the poultryman should check every possible cause for the high death rate. Then if he cannot determine the cause, he should send several specimens of his flock to the poultry disease laboratory in the state college. With the birds should be a careful description of the trouble and the way he has been managing his flock.

There is little use for a poultryman to send a recently-dried mash to the state laboratory for testing to see whether it has a detrimental influence on chicks. In the mixture the various ingredients lose their identity and it would be almost impossible to tell which element, if any, is causing trouble.

The only practical way to test a feed is to give it to chickens for some period of time. This is rather slow, and when done in the laboratory it is also expensive.

Healthy Pullets Will Be Worth Poultryman's Time

A successful poultryman made the following statement: "The success of a poultryman is determined largely by his ability to grow thrifty, healthy, vigorous, and efficient producing pullets."

If pullets are not thrifty and healthy, says a correspondent in the Wisconsin Agriculturist, the percentage of mortality is going to be high.

Every time a hen dies in a poultry flock she raises the cost of producing a dozen eggs. In some cases the cost per dozen has been as high as 1 to 7 cents from mortality in laying flocks. This cost can only be reduced by producing thrifty, healthy pullets with greater vigor and greater vitality. Clean ground seems to be a very important factor in producing pullets.

If pullets can be grown upon good blue grass sod they will be growing under what seems to be the most desirable conditions.

This is particularly an opportune time for the farmer and poultryman to give thought to a definite plan of range for the growing of his pullets.

Care of Breeding Geese

Geese may lay when one year old but it is seldom that a year-old goose will be a successful breeder, partly because mating is not always successful the first year and the eggs would be infertile in such cases. Those are better breeders if not overfed or too fat and should have opportunities for exercise. One gander to one goose is the best arrangement and it is advisable to allow the gander to choose his own mate if possible. Two geese, at most, should be the limit. Some geese, after the age of two years will lay enough for two settings and the first dozen should be set under hens, six under each of two "broodies," the goose can be set on the others when she is ready to sit. Ten or 12 eggs are enough to set under a goose. Over that number should be given to another goose or broody hens.

Bumblefoot

Bumblefoot is the result of bruises or other injury to the feet, commonly caused by the birds jumping down from high perches to hard floors or ground. The matter should be let out of the swellings with a sharp knife and antiseptics applied to prevent infection and hasten healing. During treatment the birds should be kept in a pen with clean straw, chaff or other soft litter spread over the floor. Meanwhile lower the roosts or remove stones, sticks or anything that could cause injury.

Mash Feeding

From the time of the first feed to maturity keep the mash mixture constantly before the chicks. Feed in such amounts that it will be possible to give fresh mash twice daily. Provide plenty of feeding space. Use shallow boxes or trays about one and one-half inches deep for the first week, then change to the covered or reel-type troughs which keep chicks out of the feed. After ten weeks the mash should be fed in regular outdoor hoppers.

DAIRY HINTS

The first-prize calf is usually a well-trained calf.

• • •

The seventh annual dairy industries exposition will be held in Detroit, Mich., October 17 to 22.

• • •

Herds in testing associations for six years show three times as much increase in butterfat content of the milk as those that tested for only three years.

SUNDAY DINNER SUGGESTIONS
By Ann Page

The market news this week is somewhat more favorable from the housewife's standpoint. Butter is cheaper and will probably stay so. Many vegetables are low or relatively low in price, including spinach and asparagus. New potatoes, cabbage, and onions are lower.

Oranges are plentiful and cheap. Puerto Rican pineapples are approaching the peak of their season. Bananas have never been finer or cheaper. Strawberries are a little less plentiful. The real cantaloupe season opens with the arrival of fruit from the Imperial Valley although Mexican cantaloupe has been in market several weeks.

Veal, lamb, and poultry offer the best meat values though forequarter beef is slightly lower. Fish is unusually plentiful and cheap.

Here are three menus made up of reasonably priced foods adapted to different budget levels:

Low Cost Dinner
Stuffed Pork Chops Mashed Potatoes
New Cabbage
Bread and Butter
Banana Cream Cake
Tea or Coffee Milk

Medium Cost Dinner
Roast Loin of Veal

Green Beans
Bread and Butter
Jellied Fruits

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE— WITHOUT CALOMEL

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

If you feel sour and sunk and the world looks punk, don't swallow a lot of salts, mineral water, oil, laxative candy or chewing gum and expect them to make you suddenly sweet and buoyant and full of sunshine.

For they can't do it. They only move the bowels and a mere movement doesn't get at the cause. The reason for your down-and-out feeling is your liver. It should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily.

If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas bloats up your stomach. You have a thick, bad taste and your breath is foul. Your skin often breaks out in blemishes. Your head aches and you feel down and out. Your whole system is poisoned.

It takes those good, old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get three pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." They contain wonderful, harmless, gentle vegetable extracts, amazing when it comes to making the bile flow freely.

But don't ask for liver pills. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Look for the name Carter's Little Liver Pills on the red label. Resent a substitute. 25c at drug stores. ©1931 C. M. Co.

HOT BUT DESERVED

Gov. Fitzgerald did not mince words in relieving his mind about the obstructive contingent in the Legislature. He spoke with much plainness and with more heat than he usually displays.

What the Governor said is doubtless highly unpalatable also to those who were hit. Some of them probably are very angry. But the greater part of the hurt they feel is born of an inner knowledge that Mr. Fitzgerald uttered no more than the truth. And they will be wise in taking the Executive rebuke to heart.

It is not too late for the destructive contingent to redeem itself, and the future attitude of those comprising it will be a test of their fitness to hold responsible office.—Detroit Free Press.

ACTED WISELY

Mount Pleasant is the latest Michigan city to reject a bonding proposal for a municipal lighting plant. Had the proposal carried the city would have awakened some morning to find a half-million dollar plant on its hands, with no definite assurance that rates would be permanently lowered. The taxpayers of the city wisely decided to sidetrack the project.

It is rumored that state-wide plans for gradual lowering of utility service costs are under way. With reduction will come a lesser desire for municipalities to embark in the lighting business at the expense of their citizens, regardless of equipment salesmen who are always present in great numbers to boost their own game. Speaking of present day electrical costs the subject is ably discussed by Schuyler L. Marshall in a recent issue of the Clinton County Republican-News:

"Going back to 1913 (but who wants to go back?) one can take prices then and now and make some interesting comparisons. Beginning that year we heard about the HCL (high cost of living) and perhaps that started the initial craze. At any rate, living costs started to sky-rocket that year and reached an all-time peak in 1920 — an increase of 115 per cent over the 1913 living costs.

"It is interesting to look at the chart showing the cost of electricity over the same period. In contrast to living costs, of which electricity has been a part, the cost of this service has decreased steadily except in 1918. In 1920 when general living costs had increased 115 per cent, electricity had decreased about 25 per cent. There has been a steady decrease since. Today the average electric costs the country over are 80 per cent below the 1913 level. Living costs, while down from the 1920 peak, are still 40 per cent above those twenty-two years ago."

BLOSSOM TIME

Michigan citizens will heartily join in the Chicago Tribune's praise of Western Michigan during the blossom season of the year. After reading this splendid tribute from an outsider why not plan to visit this section now and see for yourself what a paradise of beauty we have right here at home:

"To those who think of the eastern shore of Lake Michigan only as a summer vacation resort, presumably the landscape is taking on its spring clothing just as are Chicago's parks, but what a surprise is in store for those who arrange a visit during the month of May. The refreshing spring green forms only a background for the variegated blossoms of the myriad of peach trees that bloom during the first two weeks of May.

"Years ago the scene inspired the early settlers to welcome the coming of the blossoms with ceremony. Each village and hamlet selects its peach blossom princess to journey to St. Joseph and Benton Harbor, where the annual queen is selected, a rite as sacred to the neighboring state of Michigan as is the Mardi Gras to New Orleans or the rose festival to California.

"The beauties of the Michigan countryside at this time of the year certainly will prove a generous reward to those who visit the state. If more Chicagoans were aware of its splendor, thousands would make annual trips to this nearby fairyland."

THE PUBLIC SCHOOL

School relief has remained a major issue during the entire session of the present Legislature. Agreement as to the exact amount of State aid necessary to keep the schools open has been hard to reach. Whatever sum is finally agreed upon Governor Fitzgerald can be depended upon to continue our educational system as a going concern. Before the collapse of the tax structure we heard very little about State aid. During the past five years it has developed into a burning issue. Some people believe our present system too costly. They think of the days of the little Red schoolhouse, without taking the trouble to inquire about the changes that have been gradually taking place through the years. It should be adequately clear that education costs more now than it did in pioneer days because schools are better and more children attend them for longer periods. In proportion to the magnitude of its helplessness, the number of children, the number of hours, the variety of activities, the care of each individual child, the preparation necessary for teaching, the high responsibility,—the school is relatively inexpensive.

STILL HEROES

Not all the frontiers of life have been explored. Most of the world may be mapped, most of the high mountains may be scaled, the wide rivers crossed, the air conquered and the stratosphere yielding, but there is still a need for heroes. Exploring the deadly frontiers of germ-fighting, such as the tuberculosis research financed with Christmas Seals sold by the Michigan Tuberculosis Association, still calls for fortitude and a singular devotion to humanity. And—it is getting them. Every year, more of science's quiet heroes devote themselves to this task, that others may be happy and well.

THIS WAY LIES DISASTER . . . .

Excessive Federal restrictions, unregulated competition, the depression, have had their way with America's railroads.

Today the public views the plight of the lines with awakening understanding and broadening concern, and there is growing alarm that close by may be stalking the ominous specter of government ownership.

Disastrous as would be federal usurpation of rail control, might it not be the signal for that final economic calamity—the socialization of all industries?

Under present policies and conditions could government have done better with the railroads than has private management? Could government, in the future, do as well?

Memories of America's War-Era rail management are too fresh, too painful; the strangely similar results of like policies in other countries are too current, too repugnant to blind the thinking to government ownership's deficiencies and undesirabilities.

Simple sanity in transportation policies will solve the railroads' problems, while their seizure will only breach the walls which guard private industrial initiative against all-engulfing socialization.

Michigan's delegation in Congress should so be advised.

BOYNE CITY FAMILY GO TO ALASKA

LEAVE SATURDAY TO LOCATE IN NEW HOME.

Mr. and Mrs. Newville, Daughter, Selected Among 67 Other Families for FERA Colonizing

The state relief administration has set Saturday, May 11, as the date on which 67 Michigan families will begin their 3,000 mile trek to Alaska and new homes.

According to officials of the Charlevoix County Relief Commission, a Charlevoix county family will be among those making the journey. The family is Mr. and Mrs. Irving Newville and daughter, Dorothy, of Boyne City. They leave St. Ignace for Seattle next Saturday by special train. The sailing from Seattle will be May 18.

In the way of contributions to the family, the local Literary and Sewing Club presented them with two magazine subscriptions and they were outfitted with clothing for one year.

The 60 Michigan families form part of a contingent of 200 farm families being sent by the FERA from this state, Minnesota and Wisconsin to farm in Alaska under the federal relocation program.

The last stage of the group's journey into the Alaskan territory will be over the government-owned Alaskan railway.

All Are Farmers

The families were selected from the Upper Peninsula and the northern counties of the Lower Peninsula. All are farmers who have worked in severe northern climatic conditions.

They are permitted to carry with them 2,000 pounds of tools, household goods and baggage. Their stock will be taken over by the RHC and disposed of for them. Those who own their own land may dispose of it through the same channels.

Coldest weather in the Matanuska valley last winter was 15 degrees below zero. The mercury frequently goes to around 30 below in northern Michigan.

Dr. William Haber, state emergency relief administrator, who has been handling the "emigration," said the group would settle on 8,000 acres of public land in the Alaskan development and would "seek an independent living for themselves."

The migration is a New Deal effort to help colonize Alaska and to help farm families that are on welfare rolls to start a new life in a new land.

Single Men Precede

About 400 single men were selected from the Pacific coast and preceded the colonists to erect the necessary buildings.

The summer no-frost season in Alaska is about three months long, with sunlight 20 hours a day, just as there is night 20 hour a day in the winter. Plants grow rapidly under these conditions. Oats, barley, peas, potatoes, carrots, rutabagas, currants, strawberries and gooseberries are possible crops.

The 40-acre farms to be given to the colonists will be in a valley bounded by mountains, tempered by the Japanese current and abounding with spruce and birch trees. Soil is of silt, loam and sand underlaid by gravel. Rivers and lakes exist in the vicinity.

Location of the farms was determined by lot and divided as equally as possible regarding fertility of soil. The plots are checker-boarded about the valley among the 117 settlers already there.

All Near Town

No plot will be more than seven miles from Palmer, where the federal agricultural experiment headquarters is located, along with a school, warehouses, a creamery, an undenominational church and recreational facilities.

The school is a community building also. A heating and electric plant will take care of the central buildings. Individual houses are of log cabin construction, with builtin furniture, heated by stoves and lighted by kerosene lamps. Snowplows will clear the roads in winter, and busses will transport children to and from school.

Each family will pay approximately $3,000 for the farm and home. The Alaska rural rehabilitation corporation, sponsor of the project, will own all farms until the settlers complete contract payments over a period of 30 to 35 years. Interest will be 3 per cent of the government's investment.

SLUMP REPORTED IN CORN-HOG REDUCTION

Reduced Benefits Seen As Cause for Decrease in Signers

A decisive slump of the government's corn-hog program in Michigan for the current year was indicated today in an official report to Washington from the state crop reporting office.

Verne H. Church, agriculture statistician, estimated on the basis of incomplete returns from the counties that signers will aggregate 15,000 for this season compared with 24,000 who participated in the production control program last year. Reduced benefits under the AAA were contributed as main cause for the slump in signers, Church pointed out.

OFFER INDIANS EDUCATION OPPORTUNITY

Federal Assistance Provided for Deserving Indian Youths

Details of plans for educational loans and working scholarships for worthy Indians have been made public by Jere Charlow, chairman of the Committee on Education Loans, In-Service Training and Employment.

According to John Collier, commissioner of Indian affairs, the plan is "to enable Indians who cannot otherwise do so to pursue training courses equipping them to serve their people in positions of leadership or to achieve success in vocations for which they are naturally suited."

Educational loans may be made to worthy Indian youths of one-quarter or more Indian blood to enable them to take educational courses. Need of assistance must be shown and all loans shall be limited to the amount required in addition to personal and family resources. Applicants must furnish satisfactory references as to ability, character and performance. Security for loans is required in the form of a demand note with agreement to repay.

For working scholarships at non-reservation schools, an average of "B" or better during the last two years of high school is necessary. Students must pay tuition and fees. The University of Michigan, however, offers five scholarships to outstanding Indians which cover tuition and fees.

Indian vocational schools offer high school courses to students who have completed the ninth grade. Indians interested in any of the projects should contact the Committee on Educational Loans, In-Service Training and Employment immediately. Headquarters are at 215 Federal building, Lansing.

VACATION DIRECTORY CIRCULATED

PUT OUT BY TOURIST AND RESORT ASSOCIATION

Charlevoix Has Double Page Spread Featuring City's Attractions and Three Larger Hotels

Charlevoix holds a prominent place in the West Michigan Vacation Directory, a beautiful book advertising the resort attractions of the western side of Michigan.

The book was published and is circulated by the West Michigan Tourist and Resort Association. It is profusely illustrated with a four-color cover and numerous scenes artistically arranged throughout its 56 pages.

Charlevoix is advertised by a two-color double page spread. The right hand page is occupied by advertisements of The Inn, Belvedere Hotel and Charlevoix Beach Hotel. The left hand page is devoted to the city of Charlevoix. It shows a bird's eye view of the city and surrounding three lakes, fishing, tennis, sailing, horse back riding and motor boating scenes, all artistically and effectively arranged, together with a write-up of the city's attractions.

Charlevoix's two summer camps, Camp Charlevoix and Kamp Kair-phree, are given mention, historic Beaver Island is taken into account, the city's two golf courses, its tennis courts and numerous other attractions for the summer vacationist.

Included with the booklet, which will go to 50,000 families making inquiries about resort facilities in Western Michigan, are a large map of the west side of the state, and smaller maps of each county.

ONE-HOUR PARKING ON BRIDGE STREET VOTED

Council Acts to Enforce Regulation This Summer for First Time

Contrary to earlier expectations, the annual city budget, although taken under discussion, was not adopted at Monday night's council meeting. This matter will in all likelihood be disposed of next Monday night, to which time the council adjourned.

Following decision of the council Monday night, a parking limit on Bridge street will be invoked during the summer months this year. A one-hour limit will be enforced in the business district. Signs will be posted on boulevard lamp posts. The matter has been placed in the hands of the committee on streets with power to act.

The appointment of Robert F. Sloan to succeed himself as city engineer was made by Mayor L. P. Adams and unanimously confirmed by the council. A payroll aggregating $1,992.19 was approved.

CHARLEVOIX LEADS BASEBALL LEAGUE

TEAM HAS SCORED FOUR CONSECUTIVE VICTORIES

Won 15 to 5 Friday at Pellston; Defeated East Jordan 3 to 1 Tuesday—Meet Gaylord Next

Scoring victories in two contests played in the past week, Charlevoix now leads the Northern Michigan High School Baseball League with four consecutive wins.

Playing at Pellston last Friday afternoon, the Kipmen turned in an impressive 15 to 5 victory in seven innings. They scored in all but the final inning, collecting four two-base and three three-base hits.

Pellston led 3 to 2 after the first frame, but Charlevoix's 10-run barrage in the fourth inning put the game on ice. Pellston scored one run in the fifth and another in the seventh.

Following is the box score:

Charlevoix .....2 0 0 10 1 2 0—15
Pellston ..... 3 0 0 0 1 0 1— 5

Charlevoix 3, East Jordan 1

In the closest game of the season so far, Charlevoix won 3 to 1 at East Jordan, Tuesday afternoon.

Summerville scored for the losers in the opening inning, but from then on the Kipmen had the game well in hand. They counted one run in the first frame and added one in each of the fifth and seventh innings. Cellner scored two of Charlevoix's runs and Shapton accounted for the third.

Curey turned in a fine performance on the mound, striking out 11 East Jordan batters. He allowed four bases on balls as compared to six by the East Jordan hurler, who was credited with six strike-outs. Charlevoix's victory gave East Jordan their second defeat of the season.

Considering the fact this is the first baseball team representing Charlevoix High school in nine years, Coach Kipke is pleased with the performance of his team. Petoskey is the only other undefeated league team at the present time. The Kipmen play at Gaylord, Saturday.

TAX COMMISSION MET HERE MONDAY

ADJOURNED SESSION UNTIL FRIDAY, MAY 17TH

Work of Allocation Delayed Until Pending State Legislation Affecting Schools, Welfare Determined

The Charlevoix county tax commission convened at the court house here Monday in annual May session and, lacking necessary budgets from all governmental units for allocation of the 15 mill tax, adjourned until Friday to continue its work.

Commenting on the work confronting the group, County Clerk Fenton R. Bulow, clerk of the commission, stated little could be done towards tax allocation until pending state legislation affecting schools and welfare was forthcoming from Lansing. He stated it was probable only a tentative allocation would be made at the present time and a final one in July after adjournment of the Legislature. If state aid is provided for schools, their allotment from the county would be smaller. Likewise the welfare situation is an uncertain one and the amount to be allocated for county purposes will depend entirely upon how much of the welfare load the county will be asked to assume in the future.

Members of the tax commission are Howard C. Stephens, chairman, representing the board of supervisors; J. M. Harris, representing city schools; William C. Palmer, county school commissioner; John Porter, member at large appointed by the judge of probate; County Treasurer Lillis M. Flanders, and County Clerk Fenton R. Bulow.

INDIANS ORGANIZE FOR FEDERAL AID

MEETING HELD AT THE LEGION HALL THURSDAY

Benefits to Come from Wheeler-Howard Act Explained—Legion Assisting in Movement

Opportunities afforded to Indians of this district by the Wheeler-Howard Act, which is being enacted by Congress, were outlined to the local Indian council at a meeting held Thursday evening at the American Legion hall. A group of 42 interested persons was present.

The meeting was conducted by Levi McClellan, chairman of the council, and the principal speaker was Miss Olive Gwinn of Lansing, school and social worker for Indian Service.

Miss Gwinn told of the opportunity for higher education and improved living conditions through funds made available through the Indian Service Department. One thousand dollars is the maximum and the college student has eight years in which to repay the loan. For immediate betterment and education, Miss Gwinn urged all Indian parents keep their children in school. This action, she explained, was the best and only way to maintain interest to such an extent that the children would acquire a desire to seek higher education. Orphan Indian children will be taken care of and sent to school by application to the Indian Service Department.

Supervisor Howard L. Stephens of Hayes township assured the Indian Council cooperation in their efforts.

The local American Legion has offered its services to the Indian council which, Thursday night, voted unanimously to accept the aid proffered to assist the movement

SETS THE PACE WHEN IT COMES TO QUALITY IN TIRES

That's the all-important feature of a tire—QUALITY—for without it no tire will give its owner the service he expects. But with FIRESTONE Tires no autoist has ever found cause to complain about quality. He always got plenty of service from his tires and found that they wore evenly and smooth right to the last, and in the final analysis gave him even more mileage than he ever expected. That's because QUALITY is built into FIRESTONE Tires. Every piece of substance used in the manufacture of a FIRESTONE must be of the very highest quality or it is thrown out. Consequently with such rigid requirements the manufactured tire is perfect.

MICHIGAN CROPS IN BETTER CONDITION

Report Indicated Betterment Over April of Year Ago

Crop conditions on May 1 were decidedly better than on the same date last year, according to the Federal-State crop report released by James F. Thomson, commissioner of agriculture, and Verne H. Church, U. S. agricultural statistician for Michigan.

April was colder and considerably drier than usual which slowed up the growth of meadows, pastures, and fall-sown grains, but good rains since May 1 have provided ample surface moisture and all vegetation is now making rapid advancement.

Grain and hay stocks are low, and livestock has been turned onto pastures earlier than usual. Oats and barley seeding was practically completed under favorable soil condition during April in the southern and central portions of the state. Considerable ground was prepared for other spring crops during the month. Sub-soil moisture has been greatly depleted in recent years which will seriously affect crops in the latter half of the season unless rains are ample and frequent throughout the summer.

EARLY CLOSING HOUR BEER PLACES MISTAKE

Commission Chairman Acted Without Authority on Ruling

The Liquor Control Commission's midnight curfew that Chairman John S. McDonald inaugurated Saturday, May 4, has proven a "mistake."

The closing hours are 2 a. m. once more. In fact they have been 2 a. m. all along. The commission admitted this when it voted to "retain" the closing hours it had never officially or otherwise revoked.

Disclosure that the commission had never taken any official action to clamp a midnight deadline on beer gardens and night clubs outside of Wayne county came recently at a joint session of the House and Senate liquor control committees with three members of the commission.

Indignant licensees who had come from every section of the state to protest the "discriminatory" ruling demanded to know the grounds for it.

"MOST OF US KNEW NOTHING ABOUT IT"

In his article on "Alcohol and Motors" in the April Atlantic Monthly, Curtis Billings, a member of the staff of the National Safety Council, emphasizes the dangers in even "a glass or two" of liquor, and declares, as have other Council leaders, that "The many drivers who have merely been drinking as distinguished from the few who are patently drunk, present the real menace to safety on the highways today."

Mr. Billings continues: "A large number of us looked forward to repeal as a means of correcting a multitude of obvious abuses. * * * We failed to consider the body of knowledge developed by workers in the medical and associated sciences on the inescapable physiological and psychological effects which ethyl alcohol has on man. Most of us knew nothing about it. We are finding it out now."

Emphasizing that he is not discussing "a quantity of alcohol such as most prudent people would not think of drinking," Mr. Billings says, "Unfortunately, I am talking about the effects of an ounce and a half of ethyl alcohol or less, such as is contained in no more than three ordinary high balls." Then this safety authority goes into detailed discussion of many scientific tests which have recently been made proving that it takes only a small quantity of alcohol to show up the reactions necessary in driving an automobile.

CHURCH OF GOD

Rev. C. A. Stewart, Pastor

The revival meeting closes Thursday night, May 16. Evangelist Featherston has preached every night for the past two weeks. The attendance has been very gratifying and the results very satisfying. The evangelist is pleasingly different. There is nothing sensational about his preaching. He makes the truths he preaches so plain that children can easily understand. Hear him Thursday night, his last service.

The Northern Michigan Ministerial Convention of the Church of God met here last Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday. There was a full attendance of ministers and a number of laymen from various points.

Delegations were in the services last Sunday from Alpena, East Jordan, Detroit, Lowell and Torch Lake.

Regular services next Sunday. Sunday school at 10 o'clock. There have been between 140 and 150 present each Sunday for the past three weeks. We have room for more.

Preaching at 11 o'clock a. m. and 7:30 p. m. The pastor will fill the pulpit.

The young people will meet at 6:30 Sunday evening. Topic: "The Invincible Good Will of Jesus."

The young people's chorus will meet Tuesday night at 7:30 at the chapel.

The mid-week service of the congregation is held every Wednesday night at 7:30.

ISLANDERS ARE FINED ON DISORDERLY CHARGE

The Traverse City Record-Eagle carried the following article:

"State police invaded Beaver Island early this week to clean up two cases which occurred early in April.

"Charles O'Donnell, 62, was arrested on the island on a disorderly charge as was Elmer Floyd, 22. Both were taken to the mainland where they pleaded guilty. O'Donnell paid a fine of $15 and costs and Floyd was fined $10 and $15 costs and sent to jail for 30 days.

"Island justices will not try islanders, preferring to have them taken to the mainland for sentence."

BLESS BLOSSOMS AT TRAVERSE ON SUNDAY

Annual Religious Ceremony to Be Held Near Old Mission

Blessing of the Blossoms, the annual religious ceremony held in the Grand Traverse Region during the peak of the cherry blossoms each May, will be held in the Peninsula orchards on Sunday, May 19.

In charge of arrangements this year is a committee consisting of Gladwin Lewis, Rev. Franklin H. Clapp of the Central M. E. church, Revs Wmren E. Jackson of the First Baptist church, and Frank Ashton.

The ceremony will be held in the heart of the Peninsula orchards, a mile south of Old Mission on the newly built Center Road where orchards stretch away on both sides. This location will not only furnish a lovely setting for the ceremony but will also give those attending a wonderfully fine trip through the 17 miles of orchard roads from Traverse City to the scene of the services.

The Traverse City High school band, under direction of Dewey Kalember, will furnish the music and an outstanding speaker is now being sought to deliver the Blessing of the Blossoms sermon.

"Scarlet Pimpernel" Is Fine Entertainment

Handsomely mounted and lavishly produced, "The Scarlet Pimpernel," Alexander Korda's filmization for London Films of Baroness Orczy's internationally famous novel of Regency England during the Reign of Terror, comes to the Palace Theatre Saturday and Sunday, May 18 and 19.

All England is intrigued over the identity of the mysterious "Scarlet Pimpernel," head of a small band of adventurous Regency bloods, who have taken their name and their symbol from a small English roadside flower, and are confounding the French Republican terrorists by their repeated rescues of French aristocrats from the very jaws of the guillotine.

Burns-Allen Laughs Top New Picture

George Burns, Gracie Allen, Joe Morrison and Dixie Lee head the cast of Paramount's "Love in Bloom," the romantic comedy about young lovers who try to find a way and dizzy honeymooners who were always in their way, which comes Wednesday and Thursday, May 22-23, to the Palace Theatre.

The central plot of "Love in Bloom" deals with two romantic youngsters in New York who are madly in love but who haven't even got the price of a marriage license. Joe Morrison is the boy, a shy young composer who left his village to seek fame in the big city, and Dixie Lee is the girl, a "right" girl who is running away from the cheapness of her father's carnival.

Only the man who can impose discipline on himself is fit to discipline others or can impose discipline on others.

SUNDAY DINNER SUGGESTIONS

By Ann Page

The housewife's job of selecting foods calls for constant alertness to today's rapid price changes. Butter is no longer the problem it has been, nor are new potatoes, cabbage, beets and spinach. Cheese is the most dependable and consistent food bargain on the list. Eggs, while slightly higher, still give excellent value for your money.

All meats have gone higher. The present price range makes veal the most reasonable meat and lamb next. New crop duckling is also moderate in price.

Pineapples are very plentiful. Bananas and citrus fruit are plentiful. Cantaloupes are high. The strawberry season is moving north into Virginia and the first blackberries, dewberries, and huckleberries have arrived.

Here are three menus made up from seasonable foods adapted to different budget levels:

Low Cost Dinner

Swiss Steak Baked Potatoes
Creamed Carrots
Bread and Butter
Fruit Cup Small Cakes
Tea or Coffee Milk

Medium Cost Dinner

Fried Chicken Gravy
Boiled Rice Green Beans
Bread and Butter
Banana Cream Pie
Tea or Coffee Milk

Very Special Dinner

Cantaloupe
Baked Ham Candied Yams
Braised Celery
Shredded Cabbage and Carrot Salad

ECONOMY OF FAMOUS AMERICAN CAR WINS FOREIGN MARKETS

"New Dodge saves money every mile it travels"

IN foreign markets, the high cost of petrol (gas) is one of a number of reasons for Dodge increased popularity.

American sales of the New-Value Dodge are humming, too—setting new high records—as thousands of owners spread the news of its amazing economy in gas, oil and upkeep.

Mr. W. E. Flook, of Olathe, Kansas, writes, "My new 1935 Dodge saves me money every mile it travels. It has big-car luxury, comfort, and performance—yet I am getting 20 miles to the gallon of gas. That's economy!"

Who can afford to overlook a car that gets 3 to 5 more miles per gallon than even the smaller, competitive makes? Big, roomy, luxurious—with the safety of all-steel bodies and perfected, dual-cylinder hydraulic brakes—vibrationless power from the Dodge "Red Ram" engine with patented Floating Power engine mountings. Drive a Dodge. See what a remarkable automobile you can have for only a few dollars more than lowest-priced cars. Now . . . $645 and up, f. o. b. factory, Detroit.

MAROLD II UNDAMAGED WHEN GROUNDED IN FOG

Freed from Big Rock Point After Several Hours of Effort

Combined efforts of Charlevoix coast guards in their power boat and the U. S. engineering boat Manitowoc were necessary to free the Charlevoix-Beaver Island mail boat Marold II from a rock shoal near Big Rock Point last Thursday.

The Marold II went on the reef at about 11 a. m. while returning from St. James in a dense fog. The ship was undamaged and returned to the Beavers the same afternoon.

The accident, which might have been more serious, recalls recent unsuccessful efforts of local boat captains and the Association of Commerce to have a fog whistle installed on the pierheads here as a protection to vessels making this port in foggy weather.

ELMER BARBER SIGHTS SEAL IN L. MICHIGAN

Aoimal Seen Swimming Off Boulder Park Last Thursday Morning

A seal, sighted on several instances at points along the Lake Michigan coast line, was seen about 300 feet off Boulder Park last Thursday by Elmer Barber, local resident.

Sighting the animal swimming leisurely toward South Point, Mr. Barber went home and brought back his family to witness the unusual incident. He later notified Capt. Oscar Smith of the coast guards, who made an unsuccessful attempt to get a close-up view of the animal from a boat.

Some time ago the seal was reported seen by workmen constructing a lighthouse at South Manitou Island. It is believed the seal escaped from a Chicago zoo.

The World at Your Elbow

FROM any telephone of this company you can talk not only to localities throughout Michigan, but also to distant cities, ships at sea, many foreign lands—to thirty million telephones distributed all over the world. You can do this because the Michigan Bell Telephone Company is a component part of the Bell System.

In addition to wider service, that relationship enables us to give you better service; for it places at our disposal thousands of valuable patents and the most efficient methods of operation; it secures for us the benefits of constant research by hundreds of scientists in the famous Bell Laboratories, specialists whose only mission year in and year out is to develop means of improving the service—to find "a better thing or a better way." It assures us assistance in financing; it provides us with the world's finest telephone equipment, produced by the Western Electric Company, manufacturing division of the Bell System. It permits us, in short, to share in every progressive step in the evolution of the telephone.

And it enables us to render cheaper service; for all these assets—the fruits of a long-sustained policy of good management—come to us under our contract with American Telephone and Telegraph Company at a cost much lower than would be possible without our association in the Bell System.

America today holds undisputed world supremacy in telephonic communication. That leadership grew out of the facilities and the forward-looking policies of the Bell System.

And it is because the Michigan Bell Telephone Company is a part of that system that we are now supplying the people of this State with a service never surpassed in quality, and reaching to most civilized areas of the globe.

The first treatment should be given the ewes just before they are turned out to pasture. If this is done, many of the parasites will be expelled and the pastures will become less infested with the eggs from these parasites.

The exact directions for this treatment can be secured from your county agricultural agent.

USING POISON BAIT STOPS LOSS OF SEED

Some Treatments With Repellants Injure Germination

The treatment of seed with coal tar, creosote, and similar substances as a means of preventing mice and birds from removing the seed and eating it, delays germination and frequently results in a serious loss, according to G. C. Oderkirk, of the U. S. Biological Survey, who is cooperating in this state with Michigan State College.

Using a poisoned bait in the areas infested with mice before the seed is planted is the most practical method of preventing damage. Good results will be had by placing teaspoonful quantities of a strychnine coated wheat bait at intervals along mouse runways that are found under matted grass at the edge of the garden. Small containers can also be used to provide mice with bait and prevent birds and pets from obtaining it.

Farmers' Bulletin 1397 entitled "Mouse Control in the Field and Orchard" gives directions for preparing a poisoned bait and illustrates the use of bait stations. The bulletin is available at any county agricultural agent's office.

Birds that remove corn, and other seed can be kept away from gardens and fields by utilizing various scaring devices. Colored paper, shiny tin or glass, twine string stretched on poles, and human effigies are usually effective but they must be alternated frequently to obtain the best results.

DEPARTMENT OF STATE NEWS BULLETIN

Bill Would Require Locked Auto Plates

For the second time in as many years, the Legislature has had placed before it a measure involving the use of locking devices for automobile license plates. Each such plan has contemplated issuance, by the secretary of state, of lock nuts or similar devices, which, once installed, could not be removed without ruining the license plate. Several patents have been issued for devices of this character.

Orville E. Atwood, secretary of state, has not taken any official interest in this proposed legislation, but those who favor the measure have pointed out to him that the state would collect far more revenue, through stopping the transfer of plates from one car to another, than would ever be involved in the cost of supplying locking devices to plate purchasers.

Records of the Department of State show that about 300 persons have been convicted thus far under the Financial Responsibility act, of driving automobiles bearing plates issued to other cars. Just what percentage of actual violation of this law is represented by convictions, is not known, of course. Other records show that in 1934 motorists of the state paid $28,703 for duplicate license plates, to replace those lost or stolen. Most of this would be saved to motorists if their plates were affixed with a locking device, friends of the measure have urged.

As to means for compelling use of the locking devices after issuance, one patented lock involves use of a thin metal disc, several inches in diameter, over the front head of each bolt; if the bolt were sawed off for removal of the plate, this would fall out and its absence would be detected almost as far as the plate could be seen. Insurance firms have indicated their enthusiasm for the bill as a means of reducing car thefts which involve the changing of license plates.

For a nation so devoted to fact-finding bodies of one sort or another, it is surprising how few facts are uncovered and how many words are employed to conceal these few.—Barron's.

Infant Mortality An Index of General Intelligence

"Infant mortality is the best index of the intelligence of a community" according to Dr. John Sundwall, director of the Department of Public Health and Hygeene of the University of Michigan. In large part, the death rate is influenced by pre-natal intelligence and hygiene. Where the general intelligence is low the infant death rate is high.

Infant hygiene is a matter of life and death. Approximately 200,000 babies die in the first year of life in the United States. Fifty-two per cent of these deaths occur during the first month. In addition, there are 100,000 stillbirths each year, the babie being born dead.

There are four groups of diseases which claim the greater share of victims. The gastro-intestinal diseases diseases affecting the stomach and intestines, the respiratory diseases, the contagious diseases, and the congenital diseases diseases which are present at or before birth.

Of late years there has been a considerable reduction of the number of deaths in the gastro intestinal, respiratory and contagious groups. In the near future there will be an even greater reduction along these lines. The particular bugbear in the infant mortality situation is the congenital group.

In District Health Unit No. 3, composed of the counties of Antrim, Charlevoix, Emmet and Otsego, the infant mortality was influenced, for the most part, by the following six causes of death which totaled 34 of the 54 infant deaths during 1934:

Premature birth	11
Pneumonia	10
Other diseases of infancy	5
Congenital malformations	3
Diarrhea and enteritis	3
Congenital debility	2

Comparing this tabulation with 1933, it is interesting to note that the sum total of these six causes averages the same. Comparing the causes individually, we find: premature birth increased by one this year; pneumonia increased nine; other diseases of infancy remained the same; congenital malformations decreased four this year; diarrhea and enteritis increased two; and congenital debility was decreased three during 1934.

In our attack to reduce the infant mortality from congenital causes, it is first necessary to interest and impress the importance to expectant mothers in hygienic care that their children may be brought into the world well fitted to survive.

First Wednesday of month, 7:45 p. m.

Reading room Saturdays, 2 to 5 p. m.

We cordially invite the public to our service and reading room.

"Mortals and Immortal," will be the subject of the lesson-sermon in all Christian Science churches throughout the world on Sunday, May 19.

Among the Bible citations is this passage (Ps. 51: 10-12): "Create in me a clean heart, O God; and renew a right spirit within me. Cast me not away from thy presence; and take not thy holy spirit from me. Restore unto me the joy of thy salvation; and uphold me with thy free spirit."

Correlative passages to be read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health With Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (p. 118): "Neither anatomy nor theology has ever described man as created by Spirit, as God's man. Anatomy and theology reject the divine Principle which produces harmonious man, and deal the one wholly, the other primarily with matter, calling that man which is not the counterpart, but the counterfeit, of God's man."

IF YOUR BREATH HAS A SMELL YOU CAN'T FEEL WELL

When we eat too much, our food decays in our bowels. Our friends smell this decay coming out of our mouth and call it bad breath. We feel the poison of this decay all over our body. It makes us gloomy, grouchy and no good for anything.

What makes the food decay in the bowels? Well, when we eat too much, our bile juice can't digest it. What is the bile juice? It is the most vital digestive juice in our body. Unless 2 pints of it are flowing from our liver into our bowels every day, our movements get hard and constipated and ¾ of our food decays in our 28 feet of bowels. This decay sends poison all over our body every six minutes.

When our friends smell our bad breath (but we don't) and we feel like a whipped tomcat, don't use a mouthwash or take a laxative. Get at the cause. Take Carter's Little Liver Pills which gently start the flow of your bile juice. But if "something better" is offered you, don't buy it, for it may be a calomel (mercury) pill, which loosens teeth, gripes and scalds the rectum in many people. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name and get what you ask for—25¢. ©1934, C.M.Co.

Wheat Farmers to Decide on Continuance Wheat Adjustment Program

Charlevoix county, along with all of the counties in the United States, will conduct a referendum vote on the wheat program as it has been conducted by the A.A.A. This vote will decide whether or not the Wheat Adjustment Program will be continued.

We would be glad to hear from all wheat growers in the county who would like to express their opinion in regard to this program. Full particulars and the necessary ballots will be glady sent to all who will inform us by postal, or telephone call, that they would like to vote.

It is well known that as a result of the floods of the past and the drought, that the surplus wheat has been taken off the American market, and that parity prices have resulted. It is up to the wheat men themselves to decide if protection should be extended to all wheat producers for the next two or three years to prevent the occurrence of the past two years.

All wheat contract signers will receive their ballots and details by mail very shortly. An urgent request is hereby asked of all non-contract signers to send their name to the county agent's office so that they might also have the opportunity of expressing their opinion by vote. All ballots must be sent to arrive at the office not later than May 25, so please mail your name in at once.

Drench Your Lambs When One Month Old

Drenching lambs at one month of age is becoming a common practice in Michigan. Results in the Wolverine Lamb Production Project show that the winning flockmasters and those making the highest records in lamb production have drenched their lambs when one month old, and at monthly intervals thereafter.

Lambs less than six weeks old have been found to be badly infested with both stomach worms and tapeworms. Thus, if parasite lambs at this age are to be helped, they must be drenched when they are young. The regular copper sulphate and nicotine sulphate treatment is recommended, but only one ounce of the solution should be given to a young lamb one month to six weeks of age, weighing about 25 pounds. Lamb weighing 50 pounds can be treated with two ounces. In some cases, lambs less than one month old have been treated at our demonstrations, but only a small amount of the drenching solution has been given them. The early treatment of lambs will prevent trouble later in the year, as lambs that have been treated are healthier, make a faster growth, are ready for the earlier markets and will sell at higher prices.

Sheep men are also encouraged to treat their flocks at monthly intervals throughout the grazing season.

TOOK OFF 17 LBS. OF UGLY FAT

HEEDED DOCTOR'S ADVICE

Mrs Robert Hickey, Roseville, Calif. writes: "My doctor prescribed Kruschen Salts for me—he said they wouldn't hurt me in the least. I've lost 17 lbs. in 6 weeks. Kruschen is worth its weight in gold."

Mrs. Hickey paid no attention to gossipers who said there was no safe way to reduce. She wisely followed her doctor's advice. Why don't YOU?

Get a jar of Kruschen to-day (lasts 4 weeks and costs but a trifle). Simply take half teaspoonful in cup of hot water every morning. All druggists.

EVENTUALLY

Our whole social fibre with its technological processes, its trusts and monopolies, is face to face with a condition similar to that which confronted the old feudal aristocracy when gunpowder was invented. That invention, in making the castle worthless as a center of power, lessened the need for thousands of independent fighting men and many more thousands who worked in the fields and about the castle. The soldiers who were discharged and the serfs who were evirted were no longer needed by the lords, and went to the cities where they were utterly helpless without tools and without the means to make their living. The best informed men of that period had little or no knowledge of the economic causes that affected their well-being. Today, thanks to education with its higher levels of learning, men and women are analyzing those economic causes which, in their effects, have brought our social order to its present plight. Out of their thoughts will eventually come a solution.

May has been the coldest ever recorded. May, not Mae.

GRUESOME REMINDERS

Placing large white crosses wherever a person has been killed in a traffic accident, is to be part of the Michigan Safety Education Week, May 12-18, says a Lansing dispatch. Some have suggested that the crosses be retained permanently as a reminder to motorists that death lurks just around the next bend in the road when carelessness sits enthroned behind a steering wheel. So numerous have fatalities become in recent years if this plan were carried into effect many spots along the highways would look like a section of Flanders Field. It is doubtful if even a gruesome warning of this nature would serve a practical purpose. Ohio gave the plan a trial several years ago but abandoned it as a useless gesture. There is but one answer to the reckless driving menace — search them out and ban them from the highways. Drunk or sober they are potential killers as deadly as any denizen of the underworld. Careful drivers will add to their knowledge of safe driving during Education Week. The reckless driver apparently refuses to conform to any set of rules laid down to protect human life. He remains a menace to the end.

In general it seems to be true that men build cities and large municipal buildings more representative of their own character than they like to believe. Those of true beauty and worth live on, becoming more loved and appreciated.—Raymond Buskirk.

TEMPERANCE

Are we traveling a vicious circle on the question of liquor control? Advocates of prohibition contend that no step was too drastic to outlaw the evils that had appeared in the liquor problem, and that prohibition would solve the whole matter once and for all. This did not turn out to be true. Then the people were asked to repeal the Eighteenth amendment, for it was argued that the amendment was destroying respect for law, that expense of enforcement was enormous, that the bootleggers were growing wealthy at the expense of the government. But the hurried and haphazard methods of liquor control that were put in effect after repeal have neither eliminated the illicit sale of alcoholic beverages or increased respect for law. The great bulk of the American people are not fanatical about this question. They are interested in eliminating abuses of the present as well as of the past. They want adequate control. More than anything else, they want temperance in the true sense of that word.—Herman Roe in the Northville (Minn.) News.

Schools and colleges will soon complete another year and launch new groups in the world's activities. As the year unfolds we hope for new opportunities that will afford places of use for many young persons who will be looking for favorite niches.

RESPECT TO WILDWOOD

This is the season of the year when the wildwood calls to every lover of the beautiful. The woodland trees have taken on their green garb for the summer months, wild flowers are beginning to spring into variegated colors over hill and dale. As you pass among them let admiration for Mother Nature still all thoughts of vandalism in your breast. Leave the flowers and plants and shrubs for others to admire after you have passed them by. It is true that many of us long to possess a bouquet of wild flowers, but torn from their original setting they quickly wither and die and their beauty and fragrance soon are lost. May and June are lovely months out on the hillsides. Enjoy quiet walks down quiet lanes as often as possible. There you will find peace and contentment away from a weary world. Do not spoil it for yourself or those who follow after by unconsciously taking the things that are not yours to take.

BATTLING PLANTS

By the Christmas Seal Reporter

If man's wars are measured in terms of the death and destruction they cause, then his greatest has been and still is, a war with plants!

Lord Joseph Lister, a Scotch surgeon, has been outstanding among natives of the British Isles, in his contribution to the fight against one of man's deadliest plant enemies, the germ that causes tuberculosis.

Prior to Lister's time—shortly before our Civil War—surgery was a dangerous practice. The operation might be "successful," but the patient would die—of infection. Lister is responsible for changing all that. He introduced carbolic acid washes and sprays that killed germs and advocated spotlessly clean operating rooms that have found their perfection in modern-day hospitals.

Lister made it possible to perform safely the various types of tuberculosis surgery — one of the "modern weapons" with which can be treated many cases of tuberculosis formerly thought hopeless.—Michigan Tuberculosis Association.

A pioneer is a fellow who can remember back when the boys sang, "My Nellie Was A Lady."

THE EMPIRE REJOICES

The mighty British Empire recently celebrated the Jubilee Anniversary of the reign of its beloved ruler, King George V. America rejoices with the English people that they have had the vision and courage to carry on through many a darkened day to the safe position which the Empire now occupies among the nations of the world.

Of all the great nations, the United States and England alone have been at all successful in maintaining democratic principles. Today, all over the world, there is an undoubted trend toward dictatorship. The defeatest wails we are in the "twilight of democracy." That is not true. Only the weak and the unthinking will subscribe to any doctrine seeking to end the liberties of the people.

Democracy is but in the morning time of its existence. It came to us through countless generations of struggle and sacrifice. It will not be carelessly cast aside because of a few short years of economic reverses. The one clear call today is for America to awaken to its opportunity — to lead the world to still greater emancipation of all mankind. If we but remain strong and steadfast in both thought and deed there are great and glorious years yet to come.

There is no permanent success in tricky methods.

ADVERTISING MICHIGAN

Insofar as ink and paper can present the attractions of Michigan as a summer resort and touring state, the publications of the West Michigan Tourist and Resort Association tell the story more vividly this year than ever before. They are certain to be sought by local people as eagerly as by residents of other states.

A well written vacation directory illustrated in color invites strangers to visit Western Michigan this summer. The variety of its scenes and recreations are described and pictured along with special information on hotels, parks, resorts and garages and tips on things not to miss. Accompanying the general directory is a pamphlet on the counties of this region containing road maps and notes on points of interest.

Perhaps most interesting of all is a large map of the western half of the state done in several colors and illustrating with small figures all of the possible activities a visitor may engage in: fishing, camping, boating, bathing, golfing, dancing, riding and so on. The three publications handsomely advertise this region thoroughly and should do much to attract tourists and resorters to Michigan.—Grand Rapids Press.

AN IDEAL LOCATION

Time and legion, the site of the Northern Tuberculosis Sanatorium, to be constructed at Gaylord, has been called the "highest point in the southern peninsula." The same thing was said in 1905 about the hill on which the present state sanatorium stands at Howell. But altitude — except enough for drainage—has little or nothing to do with treating tuberculosis, says a report from the Michigan Tuberculosis Association. What is most important about the Gaylord site is its accessibility in the center of a large area burdened with tuberculosis death rates higher than the state average the area the Institution is intended to serve. That factor will save lives.

The total movement in the railroad of the U. S. is $25,942,000,000.

To protect your car fully, your motor oil must do two things:

1. It must be on duty during the starting period!

More than half of all motor wear occurs in the five minutes after you start, because straight mineral oils drain away, leaving parts dry. Even in warm weather your motor makes at least a thousand revolutions before the quickest-flowing oil can reach all parts.

Only Conoco Germ Processed Motor Oil cuts down costly starting wear. It is the only oil that penetrates and combines with metal surfaces, forming a "Hidden Quart" that never drains away. Your motor is lubricated before you touch the starter! You know your motor is protected!

2. It must withstand unusual driving stresses!

Cars built in 1932 and since have greatly increased power and speed. Bearing pressures and crankcase temperatures have increased in proportion. Flashing pick-up and high speeds make it necessary to have an oil with enough extra oiliness and film strength to withstand the increased load.*

Conoco Germ Processed Motor Oil protects modern motors better because it has 2 to 4 times the film strength of any oil not Germ Processed! It maintains this high film strength at high temperatures. Say "O. K.—Drain"—fill with Germ Processed Oil and get full protection for your motor!

*Motor oils generally have no more oiliness and film strength now than they had 10 years ago. Many new refining methods now used to make oils free from carbon and sludge have lowered instead of increased oiliness and film strength, the very qualities on which depends an oil's lubricating value!

Germ Processed Oil is free from carbon and sludge troubles. But more important, the Germ Process puts into it 2 to 4 times the film strength of straight mineral oil, as Timken machine tests have proved!

CHARLEVOIX LOSER SUNDAY'S BALL GAME

Dropped 6 to 5 Decision at Kegomic in 10-Inning Contest

Opening the summer baseball season last Sunday at Kegomic, Charlevoix's Red Sox were defeated 6 to 5 in a hard-fought 10-inning contest.

Denemy started on the mound for Charlevoix. He struck out nine men before relieved in the seventh inning by A. John, who was charged with the defeat. John was credited with five strike-outs, making 14 for the two hurlers during the game. Tokolo enught for the local team. Ball and Jepson shared the mound duties for Kegomic, with Saller at catch.

While Charlevoix connected with 18 hits to best Kegomic, they were not timed to produce runs, and this fact, coupled with four errors, spelled defeat. Charlevoix had men on base in every inning, but could not get them home. The locals scored in the fifth and eighth innings. Kegomic counted in the third, fourth, seventh and tenth innings, winning in the final stanza after Charlevoix had tied the score in the eighth frame.

Playing for Charlevoix were Marsh, Shores, John, J. Walker, Tokolo, Richardson, Lord, Kirby and Denemy.

The Red Sox will open the home season next Sunday afternoon, May 19, when they meet the fast East Jordan club at the Legion diamond. The game will be called at 3 o'clock.

CHARLEVOIX FOURTH AT REGIONAL MEET

Scored Three Firsts in Invitational Affair at Petoskey

Charlevoix placed fourth on points in the annual Northern Michigan invitational track meet held Saturday at the Petoskey High school stadium.

Manerlona's Class C team won the meet with 32 1-3 points. Other scores were: East Jordan 24 1-3, Kalkaska 21 1-3, Charlevoix 19, Petoskey 6, Ellsworth 5.

Jack Foster captured the 100 and 220-yard dashes and Ed Radle won the mile event to give Charlevoix three firsts. Foster's time in the 100 was 10.7 and 24.9 in the 220. Radle ran the mile in 4 minutes 43 seconds.

Bob Emrey and Shapton scored Charlevoix's other points. Emrey placed third in the 440-yard dash and Shapton won second place in the broad jump.

This is the first time in many years that Charlevoix has placed a track team in regional meets and the showing made was an encouraging one.

FEDERAL AID ADDS 750 MILES IN STATE

Highways Taken Over Boosts Michigan's Federal Allotment

State Highway Commissioner Murray D Van Wagoner received word from Washington today that 750 miles have been added to the federal aid trunkline system in Michigan.

The announcement, contained in a telegram from Thomas H. MacDonald, chief of the Bureau of Public Roads, advanced this state's hopes for a larger share of the federal road building funds than the $23,000,000 originally estimated. It also brought virtual assurance that important construction plans launched by Commissioner Van Wagoner will be continued under the public works program.

METHODIST "PRIZE BANQUET" WAS AN ENJOYABLE AFFAIR

The "prize banquet" put on by the local Methodist Sunday school last Wednesday was a great success, an innovation here. A cash prize was offered for the best decorated table, and judges were brought in from outside the school to judge.

Each class had a table, and the skill and ingenuity shown was quite remarkable. The table representing "Life's Railway to Heaven" took first prize. This had the rocks and mountains, bridges, the railway with electric trains running, the pearly gates with St. Peter standing on guard, and in the dim distance the white, glistening towers of Heaven! This was arranged by Mrs. Chew's girls. The girls in Mrs. Hurd's class took second place with their table, Kewpies winding the May Pole. Mrs. Poole's boys received honorable mention, with a clever baseball diamond and all the players. The primary class had a double table, very dainty in coloring. Much interest was shown, and there was a large attendance.

The pastor had suggested this novelty, and it probably will become an annual affair.

Barnard Ladies' Aid

A lively Ladies' Aid was held at the home of Mrs. Frank Matchett last Wednesday. All went well until they threatened to penalize the hostess for having too many good things to eat. The pastor, who was present, tactfully recommended leniency, thinking such a practice too beneficial to be discouraged by a too rigid adherence to rules.

STATE MEETS HALF OF M'NITT MONEY

Charlevoix County Receives Check in Amount of $16,186.43

Half of the state's $3,500,000 obligation to the counties for 1935 under the McNitt township road law was ready for distribution today by the State Highway Department, nearly two months ahead of the deadline for final settlement.

The department prepared vouchers for $1,750,000 for the eighty-three counties and transmitted them to Auditor General John J. O'Hara, who agreed to cooperate by making immediate payment to the counties. Final settlement of the entire amount of $3,500,000 is not due until July 1 but Highway Commissioner Murray D. Van Wagoner decided upon an early advance "because the counties need the money at this time." Maintenance and improvement operations by the county road commissions are at their peak now, he explained.

The money is returned to the counties under the 1931 McNitt law authorizing the counties to take over the maintenance of all township roads by 1936 at the rate of 20 per cent a year. The counties now have 80 per cent of the township roads. The allotment to each county is based upon the amount of township road mileage.

Payment to Charlevoix county, which represents half of this year's McNitt refund, was $16,186.43.

BON TON ANNOUNCES NEW WHEAT PRODUCT NAMED HONEY KRUSHED

An announcement of interest to housewives in Charlevoix and throughout this region is being made today by the Bon Ton Baking Company, in placing on sale a new loaf called Honey Krushed Wheat Bread. The new product is said to have not only a special appetizing flavor and energy-giving qualities, but assists in relieving bowel disorders.

An exclusive formula has been obtained, it was stated by Thomas Travis, manager of the company, consisting of whole crushed wheat, pure honey and karmahax. The latter was perfected by a noted college professor, dean of pharmacy in a nationally known university. It is composed of carbohydrates and proteins, and while absolutely harmless produces benefits which are immediate and effective.

The Bon Ton company, one of Petoskey's chief industries, has recently installed new equipment at a cost of several thousand dollars to produce this new bread and other items in the complete line of baked goods which are distributed by grocers and dealers throughout all Northern Michigan.

HOMECOMING COMMITTEE ANNOUNCES FEATURES

Reports from Down State Indicate Large Attendance at Local Homecoming and Centennial

At the regular Friday evening meeting of the Homecoming Committee at the Hotel Charlevoix, Mayor L. P. Adams gave a report of his recent trip to Detroit, where he attended the annual Charlevoix-Detroit Club meeting and banquet to personally extend an invitation to former Charlevoix residents to attend our Homecoming and State Centennial to be held here July 4, 5 and 6.

The Mayor reported that the Charlevoix delegation was most cordially received and was assured that everything possible would be done by the club to bring a large group from the Detroit and Flint clubs. Plans were discussed by the club for the contemplated motor caravan, which will start from Detroit, be joined at Flint by other cars, proceeding to Charlevoix by way of Boyne City where a welcoming delegation from Charlevoix will meet them the evening of the third, and escort them into the city. Upwards of fifty cars are expected to join the caravan before reaching its final destination.

Committee reports revealed plans of the Water Sports Committee, William Bellinger chairman, for the construction of a permanent diving platform just off the north shore of Round Lake, with springboards at 10, 20, 30 and 40 foot heights. It is expected to be the best one in Northern Michigan when completed.

The Fireworks Committee, Arthur Ranger, chairman, reports an elaborate selection of fireworks ordered, including pieces to be used in the Venetian Boat Parade on Round Lake. It is understood that the company will send a trained man to direct the display for the occasion.

A synopsis of the pageant has been received by the committee, which is being revised and corrected and will be returned to the company for use in writing the parts for the various characters. The talent chart has already been received and work of the Talent Committee will start soon with the selection of personnel for the pageant.

Contracts have been signed for balloon ascensions on the fifth and sixth, and for a complete broadcasting hookup for the downtown district, which will keep the public informed of the various features under way with band and other music being broadcasted during intervals between events. The balloon ascension has been omitted from the program on the Fourth due to the parade, which is taking on proportions of being the largest ever witnessed in Charlevoix, with floats expected from as far south as Grand Rapids. The parade will also include the entire cast of the pageant dressed in the costumes they will wear in the pageant.

At a meeting of the Executive Committee and chairmen of other committees with H. A. Perry, state program director of the Michigan Centennial Celebration, held last Thursday evening, the plans for the entire Homecoming and Centennial were submitted to the state director for suggestions and criticism. Mr. Perry was enthusiastic over plans for our celebration, had no criticisms but gave the committee some valuable suggestions and advice, also promising whatever assistance possible in obtaining statewide publicity, especially over the radio on the Michigan network.

Mr. Perry was on his way to Lansing after a tour of the state in a check-up on the various celebrations scheduled for this year and reported that the Charlevoix County Celebration was the largest of its kind in Northern Michigan and from reports throughout this district, and inasmuch as there are no other celebrations on the same dates, we should have an attendance of around 25,000 during the three days.

The popularity contest is getting away to a good start throughout the county with over a hundred contestants from five communities vieing for the honor of being Queen of the Pageant. Due to the interest shown in this contest, it is up to Charlevoix to get busy and elect a "Miss Charlevoix" for this honor that will win the judges' decision for Queen of the Pageant.

CITY WILL IMPROVE BASEBALL DIAMOND

Vote Memorial Day Appropriation at Session Monday Night

Authorization of a program of improvements at the Legion baseball diamond to place it in shape for the summer season was voted by the city council Monday night.

Bleachers will be erected from material furnished by the city with FERA labor. The grounds will be leveled and improved and a public drinking fountain, long a necessity, installed.

The matter of purchasing a truck for use in connection with the sewage disposal plant resulted in considerable discussion and was referred to the street committee for report at the next meeting.

An appropriation of $25 to the Baxter Relief Corps to finance Memorial Day decorations was approved, as was also a request that the city furnish electric current and water for the U. S. engineering department scow which provides offices and quarters for workmen on the pier repair work now under way here.

The public is cordially invited to attend the concert programs.

ANNUAL J-HOP WAS BRILLIANT AFFAIR

Belvedere Casino Decorations Unique for Party Friday Night

The annual J-Hop was held at the Belvedere Casino Friday evening, May 17.

It was reported to be one of the most enjoyable social occasions ever held in Charlevoix.

The Junior class officers, Thad Pearl, Maurice Foster, Ernestine Nickerson, and Christinia Withers, under the direction of Miss Anderson, the class sponsor, were in charge of arrangements. Chaperones for the evening were: Mr. and Mrs. J. Foster, Mr. and Mrs. A. Fochtman, Miss Anderson and Mr. Bingham, Mrs. Dowd, and Mr. Monatsagonian.

MEMORIAL DAY PROGRAM READY

MEMORIAL SERVICE SUNDAY AT ST. MARY'S CHURCH

Services at Memorial Park and Program at Cemetery Arranged for Observance Thursday

Sunday, May 26, has been designated as Memorial Sunday and on that day, in churches all over the land, living veterans of the country's wars will meet to render homage in divine service to their comrades who have fallen.

In Charlevoix, members of Leslie T. Shanton Post, American Legion, of the Spanish-American War Veterans' Association and of the American Legion Auxiliary and Woman's Relief Corps have been invited to attend services at St. Mary's church at 10 a. m. Members of the Legion and other veteran bodies, unattached ex-servicemen and women's organizations will assemble at the Legion Home on Garfield avenue at 9:30 o'clock preliminary to the march to the church.

Those responsible for the program on Memorial Day have announced the details, which will conform closely to the ceremonials of previous years. The parade, as usual, will form on Park avenue at 9:30 a. m., preparatory to the march to the city memorial park and the cemetery. Order of parade will be as follows: Colors, bugle and drum corps, band, veterans, auxiliary and Woman's Relief Corps, school children on trucks, cars. Floyd Black will be marshal of the day, mounted.

The ceremonial of casting a wreath on the water for the sailor dead will take place in the memorial park and will be conducted by the ladies of the Woman's Relief Corps and the Legion Auxiliary. Taps will be played and then the march will be resumed to the cemetery, where Judge Parm C. Gilbert, of Traverse City, will give the address as part of the usual program. There will be the usual ceremonials — salute to the dead, taps, following the floral tribute, the ritual of the Woman's Relief Corps, and music by the Legion quartette.

TB X-RAY CLINIC HERE NEXT WEEK

FRIDAY, MAY 31, AT GRADE SCHOOL BUILDING

Positive Reactors Found in Recent TB Tests to Be Given Advantage of Additional Tests

From time immemorial, tuberculosis has been present, and in a much lesser degree is still present. Tuberculosis is caused by a germ from a person who has contracted the disease. Fortunately, this germ cannot live outside the body as long as was formerly believed possible, and thus, tuberculosis almost always comes from tuberculous persons.

While tuberculosis attacks mostly the lungs, other parts of the body too may be damaged by it. In young people especially, the bones and joints may suffer. The kidneys, bladder, the eyes, the ears, in fact any part of the human body may be attacked by tuberculosis. Whatever organ is attacked the general treatment is rest for the whole body.

Contrary to a rather common belief, tuberculosis is never inherited but is always acquired. The problem that confronts mankind is the prevention of the spread of infection. Medicine has made great strides in the early recognition of tuberculosis. By a thorough examination with the aid of the X-rays the disease can be recognized in its very inception at a stage when a cure is most easily obtained.

For the patient diagnosed as tuberculous, rest and preferably rest in a sanatorium is still the most reliable form of treatment and probably the greatest weapon available for the control of disease. A general principle is that the patient should never be overfed. He should eat just enough to gain gradually in weight. A good diet consists of:

Milk.

Eggs or meat at one or two meals.

Plenty of vegetables (some fresh) including one that grows above the ground, such as cabbage, and another that grows beneath the ground, such as potatoes.

Leafy salads, raw fruits.

Desserts that are easy to digest.

During the past two months an extensive tuberculin testing program has been carried on in Antrim, Charlevoix, Emmet and Otsego counties in order to find any early cases of tuberculosis. Miss Winnifred Golley, Charlevoix county nurse, and Dr. Dean of the District Health Department, have been actively engaged in this program, having tuberculin tested 1,002 children in Charlevoix county and finding 51 positive reactors.

All positive reactors to the tuberculin test and all contacts to tuberculosis will be offered the advantages of an X-ray which will be given at the Boyne City school house on Wednesday, May 29, and at Charlevoix Grade Building on Friday, May 31.

Be sure to come early! Clinic will be held from 9 a. m. to 3 p. m. This X-ray service is made possible through the Michigan Tuberculosis annual Christmas Seal sale.

RED SOX BEAT EAST JORDAN HERE SUNDAY

Victors in First Home Tilt of Season by 8 to 5 Count

Charlevoix Red Sox made their first home appearance of the season at the Legion diamond Sunday afternoon and turned in an 8 to 5 victory over the strong East Jordan Canners.

Charlevoix got to Summerville, East Jordan hurler, for 12 hits, while the visitors collected nine off the offerings of Amos John, who went the route for the Red Sox. John kept East Jordan's hits well scattered. He was credited with six strike-outs as compared to eight for Summerville.

The visitors led after the first inning 2 to 1. Charlevoix scored four in the third inning and the visitors tied the count at 5-all in the next inning. A three-run rally by the Red Sox in the sixth tied up the game. Every Charlevoix batter scored except Denemy. Marsh, Lord and Denemy hit two-baggers.

Charlevoix plays at home again next Sunday. They meet Kegomic, by whom they were defeated in their opening contest, a 11-inning game played at Kegomic.

PART NORTH PIER WILL BE REBUILT

U. S. DEPT. OF ENGINEERING STARTED WORK MONDAY

Six Hundred Feet New Concrete Structure Will Confrom With the South Piers—Require 10 Weeks

Additional beautification of the channel between Round Lake and Lake Michigan will result from a project started Monday by the U. S. Engineering Department.

Approximately 600 feet of the north pier will be rebuilt of concrete to conform with the south piers which were rebuilt several years ago.

A crew of approximately 35 men, including some local unskilled labor is under the direction of Isaac Vandenburg, in charge of the project. H. S. Reese is the engineer.

The project includes removal of the old timbers, super structure and rock filling. This will be replaced by new 12x12 timbers, bolts and tie rods and new concrete super structure. Equipment being used on the job includes two derricks, flat scow with concrete mixer, flat scow with office and living quarters, and tow tug which are being quartered in Round Lake.

The project is financed from the regular harbors and rivers appropriation by Congress, and is not any part of the new federal welfare program, according to the engineer connected with the job. The work will require approximately 10 weeks for completion.

Further harbor work will be done here about the middle of July, it is understood, when the U. S. Meade comes for dredging operations.

SATURDAY IS POPPY DAY IN CHARLEVOIX

Sons and Daughters of War Vetcraps Will Canvass City

Saturday, May 25, will be Poppy Day in Charlevoix and plans have been completed for the local campaign.

Headquarters have been established at Sternberg's beauty parlor for the sale of the little red flowers made by disabled veterans in the hospitals, who depend for their trifling comforts on the returns they receive from the sale of their handiwork.

During the day teams of boys and girls—sons and daughters of the Legion — will canvass the city, selling poppies from house to house. Veterans who have sons and daughters of ages of 12 to 18 are urged to have them participate in the canvass. The young folks should meet at Sternberg's beauty parlor as early as possible Saturday morning to receive poppies and instructions.

FIRST HOUSING LOAN APPROVED

COUNTY STATE BANK GETS FIRST COMMITMENT

Local Officials Lending Efforts to Housing Administration Campaign Hope for More Results

First results of the Federal Housing Administration campaign inaugurated in Charlevoix several weeks ago by local officials cooperating with the Administration, were announced Tuesday afternoon.

In a telegraphic communication from Administration headquarters in Detroit, Robert Bridge, cashier of the Charlevoix County State Bank, was notified of commitment on the mortgage loan application of K. A Usher. It is believed the commitment is the first approved in Northern Michigan and, while many loans have been made under Title I of the Housing Act for repairs, etc., in small amounts, this is the first under Title II, which provides for loans up to $16,000 for a period up to 20 years for refinancing, alterations, new construction, etc.

In making the announcement, Mr Bridge stated that approval of other applications which will total in the neighborhood of $20,000 was expected within a very short time. Mr Bridge has put forth considerable effort to get the financing details of the housing program under way in Charlevoix. At the outset of the campaign here, he made a trip to Detroit to obtain first hand information regarding loans in order that applicants might be given proper service.

Local officials who are lending their efforts to the Housing Administration campaign in order to bolster the building trade locally are hopeful that completion of the first loan here will provide impetus to others to make application for loans and thus increase activity along lines of home improvements, alterations, repairs, etc.

START WORK ON M-131 SCENIC LOOKOUT PARK

Highway Department Building Paved Turnout Near Walloon Lake

The State Highway Department has started construction of its first observation park on M-131 near Walloon Lake as another phase of its roadside development program.

Located four miles south of Petoskey, the new park will afford motorists a distinct view of Walloon Lake, one of the most beautiful in this section of the state. The site was personally selected by Highway Commissioner Murray D. Van Wagoner.

A paved turn-out will be constructed on M-131 to permit motorists to view the lake from a point off the trunkline. The area between the turnout and the 20-foot trunkline will be landscaped with grass and plants native to this section of the state.

The paving of the turn-out and the seeding will be completed this spring, according to Commissioner Van Wagoner. Planting, however, will not be completed until next year, in view of the late start on the project.

Similar projects may go forward on other scenic drives of the state, Commissioner Van Wagoner said. "It is part of the broad program for the development of the tourist industry," he explained.

FARMERS BUY STOCK IN LOCAL NATIONAL LOAN ASSOCIATION

Capital stock amounting to more than $6,000 has been subscribed by the farmers of Charlevoix county in the Springvale National Farm Loan Association, says Ben R. Gardner, secretary-treasurer of the association. This is at the rate of 5 per cent of each member's Federal Land Bank loan made through the association.

The Springvale association covers all of Charlevoix county, but is not the only association operating in this county. The Charlevoix county association, with headquarters at Charlevoix and under the direction of William F. Johnson as secretary-treasurer, also makes loans in the western part of the county.

Where such overlapping of territory occurs, a farmer desiring a Federal Land Bank loan joins whichever association he chooses and applies for his loan through it. Only one loan can be obtained upon any one farm, but a farmer owning land in the territory of another association may join the other association for the purpose of obtaining a loan, and thus the same farmer might be a member of two or even more associations.

MICHIGAN HAS SHARE IN BETTER BUSINESS

Increased Buying in South Benefits Manufacturing, Other Industries

Michigan manufacturers have a substantial share in the increased purchases of southern farmers in the past year, according to Henry A. Wallace, secretary of agriculture.

Waybills from four railroads in southeastern states show that shipments of furniture over those lines increased substantially in the period from July 1, 1933, to June 30, 1934, as compared with the corresponding 12-month period. Shipments of stoves and heaters grew from 6,251,271 pounds to 11,181,799 pounds. More than twice as many pounds of refrigerators went over the lines, and shipments of tables and chairs increased 1,010 per cent and 121 per cent, respectively.

Electrical appliances and woolen blankets were two other commodities which southern housewives bought in larger quantities.

Children shared in the new purchases with an increase in shipments of roller skates of more than 18,000 pounds. Purchases of toilet preparations for women were greater by 877,996 pounds.

Many other manufactured goods were bought in much larger quantities during the second year. The points of origin for all these shipments were in 16 northeastern states, one of which was Michigan.

Michigan has an interest not only in factory payroll in the state but also in lumber, iron, and wood used in manufacturing plant in other states. Increased buying of manufactured articles in any section of the country helps many concerns in Michigan industry.

CONDITIONS IMPROVE IN DAIRY INDUSTRY

Herd Owners Have Chance to Get Back Money Spent for Feed, Labor

Further evidence that Michigan dairymen are in an improved position is furnished by the latest reports from state herd improvement association records which show that only one to ted herd in four Michigan counties failed to return feed costs or more.

This does not mean that all of the owners of the herd were making a profit on their dairy enterprise, as feed costs are only about one-half of the total costs of milk production. It is apparent, however, that the higher receipts from sales of dairy products are enabling the owner of high class cows to be a little more optimistic.

Only two per cent of the 12,186 cows tested were culled out because of low production during the month. The decrease in the culling rate due to the fact that higher prices enable the border line cows to bow greater return for the feed and labor expended upon it.

Seven per cent of all the cows tested produced 50 pounds or more of butterfat last month. Cows of that quality enable their owners to buy feed without having heart failure.

Use of pasture will also enable dairymen to produce milk and milk products more cheaply than has been possible with the cows on dry feed. Pasture conditions for the state have been almost ideal during the early months. Cool weather and plenty of rainfall have helped pastures which were seriously injured by last year's drought.

FOREST FIRE MENACE IS HERE ONCE MORE

More Than Two Hundred Fires Reported So Far This Spring

Forest enemy No. 1—the lighted match—is on the loose again.

More than 200 forest fires have occurred so far this spring in Michigan, reports Arthur E. Elmer, assistant chief of the Field Administration Division, Department of Conservation. Most of them are blamed on the lighted match as the direct or indirect cause.

"Michigan has a reminder, in its fire record of 1934, of what could happen again this spring," Elmer states. "The memorable drought of May and June last year set a new mark for spring fires. During that drought nearly 25,000 acres of Michigan's forest land and game cover were devastated."

Cooper and Sten in "Wedding Night"

Tall, lanky Gary Cooper and blonde, exotic Anna Sten are paired for the first time as a new romantic team in "The Wedding Night," which comes to the Palace Theatre, Saturday and Sunday, May 25 and 26. It is a Samuel Goldwyn production, directed by King Vidor, and features Ralph Bellamy, Helen Vinson and Siegfried Rumann.

"Living On Velvet" Unique Romance, at Palace

More thrill and unique situations are said to have been packed into the Fox National Picture, "Living On Velvet," which opens at the Palace Theatre Tuesday and Wednesday, May 27 and 28, than any picture that has been shown here for some time.

There are unusual air maneuvers with some of the maddest stunting imaginable by an airplane pilot, who plays the role of an airman supposed to be somewhat "cracked" after a terrific accident in which he is the only one who escapes alive.

Romantic New Film Comedy Stars Colbert

"The Gilded Lily," the new Claudette Colbert starring vehicle which comes to the Palace Theatre Thursday and Friday, May 30 and 31, is a romantic and frothy comedy that boasts a totally new and unconventional approach on the romantic angle.

Assisted by Fred MacMurray and Ray Milland in the principal supporting roles, Miss Colbert is cast as a pretty stenographer who is dead set against marrying a millionaire. Her idea of connubial bliss is a husband who is poor and struggling, someone who'e hardships she can share.

BAD CURING METHODS LOWER VALUE OF HAY

Leaves of Alfalfa Contain Large Part of Food Nutrients in This Forage

Prospects of an approaching haying season brings cheer to Michigan farmers who carried livestock on short forage rations through the past winter, but, unless care is used in curing hay, the feed supply in the mows again will be lower than it should be according to the farm crops department at Michigan State College.

The leaves of the alfalfa plant contain one-half of the total weight of the hay and two-thirds to three-fourths of the total protein content. Curing methods which sacrifice more leaves than necessary lower the production of hay per acre and decrease the food value of the portion secured.

Curing alfalfa, or other hay, in the swath is certain to result in a poor quality of forage. The leaves dry too quickly and shatter from the stems when the hay is loaded. Over exposure to the sun also bleaches the hay and reduces its value if it is to be sold. Permitting hay to remain in the swath 24 hours after cutting usually results in damaging the hay for feeding. Alfalfa can be cured satisfactorily in cocks but the cost is higher than when the curing takes place in windrows.

Hay should be raked immediately after cutting or left only three or four hours before raking. The hay is permitted to cure for several hours in the windrow and is then turned over with a side delivery rake. The rake also can be used to turn windrows which have been rained upon.

It is sometimes advantageous to turn a few windrows of nearly dry hay just before loading is started. Not many windrows should be turned or the hay will become too dry before it can be drawn.

TALK ON TAXES HEARD BY TEMPERANCE GROUP

Mrs. R. B. Armstrong Presented Topic at May Meeting

Mrs. R. B. Armstrong presented the topic, "Taxes and Taxation," at the W. C. T. U. meeting last Friday.

Taxes have increased in recent years until there is no longer a margin of safety for the man with the average income, and yet there is a demand for more revenue and new sources of tax income.

Everyone realizes the cost of administering government in general and welfare in particular (with its attendant grafts) is getting beyond us, but there seems no way open to go back. We just await the climax.

Mrs. A. J. Hamilton was hostess to the meeting and Mrs. Minor conducted the devotionals. Mr. Kelderhouse, chairman of the welfare committee, reported that 305 articles of clothing had been given out by Mrs. Dick at the school house during the winter.

Firestone

Stop 15% to 25% Quicker with Firestone Non-Skid Tires

For winter driving over streets and highways made slippery with rain, snow or ice, you need the extra margin of non-skid safety built into the rugged, deep-cut Firestone tread.

Last year more than 27,000 accidents were caused by skidding, alone. With the higher speeds of today it becomes increasingly important that you equip your car with tires into which is built the greatest possible non-skid efficiency. The difference between safety and an accident is but a matter of inches.

Recent tests made by a leading State University show

Firestone

Tires stop from 15 per cent to 25 per cent quicker than other new tires. Millions of dollars are spent each year for accident insurance without preventing a single accident, but Firestone non-skid tires, with their 15 per cent to 25 per cent greater reserve margin of non-skid safety, prevent accidents.

See for yourself what a rugged yet luxurious automobile you can get for only a few dollars more than the lowest-priced cars. Now . . . $645 and up, f. o. b. factory, Detroit.

THREAT TO FREEDOM

When the NRA was brought into existence under the stress of a more abundant life, the press of the nation vigorously pro[tested] the [de]liberate attempt to [re]gimentation. The [su]ggested method of newspaper publishers to be placed under price control domination from Washington through licenses brought forth an [out]cry from Press to Radio. [Ev]en editors themselves were [ap]parently willing to [sa]crifice a point when open warfare would have resulted.

Today the ridicule is exploited by the politicians. The more the American people realize the evil to be found in the political domination of our broadcasting systems the quicker will the nation be saved from one of the most dangerous threats freedom has faced since the day of the Civil War. Under the constitution constructive criticism of government policies has always been recognized as an inalienable right of the citizen, a guaranteed right which must be preserved at any cost. Yet so cleverly have these great avenues of air communication become regimented through intimidation by political racketeers and demagogs, to the exclusion of the voice of honest business attempting to avoid a very existence, that it constitutes a threat to the most sacred liberties of the people.

The radio has the same constitutional rights as the press. Owners of broadcasting systems should insist upon having the right taken from them returned. In the struggle to regain their full measure of freedom they can be sure of active support from every loyal newspaper regardless of its political complexion. The administration was too politically smart to openly oppose the press, but since that time has exhibited a persistent urge by gathering to the vacation department a horde of the brightest new paper minds in the country willing to be seduced by government gold. Right now they are engaged in propagandizing the nation on a scale never before dreamed of by a free people. Not a day passes but that several of them take to the air to put over their destructive ballyhoo.

The American people should insist that bureaucracy keep its puppets off the air. They are threatening our entire economic system with destruction. It's high time the battle lines were boldly drawn and the command given to begin a fight to regain the radio freedom now [ru]thlessly handed over to a [mo]nument of wast[e] [an]d self seeker.

FRESH TROOPS

By the Christmas Seal Reporter

In the past, disease was usually vanquished in one of two ways, by economic progress or the brilliant gift of individual genius, but that was in the past.

The disease left to fight the world today, tuberculosis, heart disease and cancer are three outstanding examples, are not yielding readily to the old formula. But they are weakening, albeit slowly, under the application of a third education and cooperation.

Education of the great majority of the people to "make sure" about these diseases, to have examinations and to follow their doctor's advice on matters of rest, play, and diet and exercise. Education in the ways of living and then cooperation that more and more may live rightly.

There are the new troops of public and private health. Financed by public grant, or volunteer contribution, they are replacing disease fighters grown old and weary in the struggle. — Michigan Tuberculosis Association.

ADVERSITY

Men are gold in the rock, and God plays miner and blasts them out of the rock; and then he plays stamper and crushes them; and then he plays smelter and melts them; and then they are gold free from the rock by the grace of God's severity to them. AN OLD ROMAN LAW

AND ITS PRESENT DAY SIGNIFICANCE

There was an old Roman law relating to bank deposits to the effect that a depositor who left his money only for safety ranked before a depositor who received interest for his money.

Today, in America, each of those depositors is protected against loss in insured banks. Whether or not their funds earn interest makes no difference. All depositors of an insured bank, share in the benefits of Deposit Insurance.

Deposits up to $5,000 in these banks are insured by The Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation.

179 Extension Ladies Received Certificates on Achievement Day

The Achievement Day for the extension ladies in the county, held last week Thursday in the Methodist church, at Charlevoix, has now taken its place along with the many other successful Achievement Days This year the weather was fine, the exhibits splendidly arranged and displayed, the program greatly appreciated by the audience, and all the other appointments carefully and diligently completed

Without a doubt, the big feature of the program was the address by Orcel Nickle, from the Michigan State College, who selected for his topic, "Our Play Life." In addition, Mr. Nickle led the group in several community songs, and as a special favor sang a solo as the concluding number on the program He possesses a beautiful voice which is seldom equaled

Under the able Chairmanship of Mrs. Verna Hartnell, of Boyne City, other numbers presented were: An organ selection by Mrs. W H White, Boyne City; a song by the Boyne River group; a solo by Mr Countis Maiche; a demonstration on "Good Grooming"; and the presentation of certificates by B C Mellencamp, county agent. In addition, the style show supervised by Miss Irene Taylor, clothing specialist of the Michigan State College, proved to be a feature that was greatly enjoyed. At least 15 ladies participated in this, and displayed dresses from morning to night.

At the business session held in the forenoon, the most important transaction was the election of officers for the new year. This resulted in the selection of Mrs. Countis Maiche, Charlevoix, as chairman; Mrs. Mildred Burns, Boyne City, as county recreation leader; and Miss Irene VanHoosen, Boyne City, as county secretary. The ladies selected the project work for the coming year and had a careful review of the lessons to be covered in the new project. Indications point to at least 10 ladies attending Farm Women's Week at the Michigan State College The program is already being developed for this fall, and an earnest plea is extended to all communities to participate in the extension activity. Kindly notify us if there is any interest in your community, and we will cooperate fully in organizing the locality so that it might also participate in the county project.

Top O' Michigan Potato Show to Initiate a Dramatics Contest

At a largely attended meeting held last Thursday night, Professor Cecil Nickle outlined the statewide program to representatives from many farm communities Not alone Charlevoix county, but several attended from Emmet, Antrim and Otsego counties

The representatives decided to participate in the program, and already committees have been appointed in charge of the program in the district

It is expected that from 20 to 25 applications will be received for the contest Northern Michigan will be divided up into several districts, each district being eligible to name one play to come and play at the Potato Show at Gaylord. This is the first time that this activity has been accepted in Northern Michigan and, judging from the interest and enthusiasm shown by those in attendance, this section will give a splendid account of itself in state wide competition

Rule and regulations governing the contest will be gotten out very soon, and sent to all known farm community organizations existing in the county Full detail will be gladly furnished anyone interested in this locality. These plays will afford recreation and amusement to many people who enjoy this type of activity. The one-plays are short productions, usually not taking more than 30 minutes.

Dipping Sheep Pays Big Dividends

All sheep should be dipped each year regardless of whether ticks or lice are present. The best time is usually one month to six weeks after shearing, as the wool will then hold more of the dipping powder used in the solution The powder remains in the wool after the fleece dries and will help eradicate ticks and lice that hatch out from the eggs and nits that were present at the time of dipping. It will also act as a preventive against reinfestation until the fleece is shorn After that reinfestation may take place unless the sheep are dipped Michigan sheep men, for that reason, prefer to use the arsenical dipping powder as they find that one application gives them complete and satisfactory result

If your sheep also considerably rubbing and scratching, and when the wool hangs in straggling hot on the side of the sheep, it likely that they are infested with lice In one case, men have tried to control ticks and lice by dusting powder into the wool. Best results are received when sheep and lambs are dipped in specially constructed metal or concrete tanks. In connection with tank, you will be interested in the announcement that a dipping tank will be constructed on the farm of E K Pendock, Charlevoix, on June 13. This tank is economical to construct and will make the job of dipping sheep a relatively easy one While it is not the policy for extension workers to recommend products to use, in the past we have had most satisfactory result with the use of "Cooper's Powder Dip." This is an arsenical, and meets all the requirements expected of a dip, very nicely. Don't fail to carry out the practice on your sheep four to six weeks after shearing

4-H Club Summer Projects Being Initiated

At this particular time of the year, considerable interest is being noted in many communities in the summer 4-H Club program The outstanding accomplishments up to the present is the organization of the Charlevoix 4-H Club, sponsored by members of the Charlevoix Kiwanis Club, and consisting of about 20 boys In the majority of cases, the members have selected potatoes as their project Other crops, such as corn and beans, are likewise represented in the membership.

An appeal is hereby made to the various communities in the county to arrange for meetings at which time your county agent will be delighted to meet with you and assist in the organization. For the boys, it is expected that crop projects and livestock activity will be the most attractive For the girls, food preparation and canning club work are available, and it is hoped that Charlevoix county will have at least 10 canning clubs this year, and at least four dairy clubs, two or three potato clubs, and other projects in lesser number.

It is tentatively planned to have the summer Achievement Day in connection with the County Picnic, on Labor Day, to be held at Whiting County Park. Premium money will be available to recognize the winners. Will be pleased to hear from the various communities in the county in regard to the date for their organization

Mr. Smith is one of millions who have found this easy way to prompt relief. He says:—

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE— WITHOUT CALOMEL

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

If you feel sour and sunk and the world looks punk, don't take a lot of salts, mineral water, oil, laxative candy or chewing gum to expect them to make you wonderfully well and happy and full of sunshine.

For they can't do it. They only move the bowels and a mere movement doesn't get at the cause. The reason for your down-and-out feeling is your liver. It should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily.

If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas bloats up your stomach. You have a thick, bad taste and your breath is foul, skin often breaks out in blemishes. Your headache and you feel down and out. Your whole system is poisoned.

It takes those good, old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." They contain wonderful, harmless, gentle vegetable extracts, amazing when it comes to making the bile flow freely.

But don't ask for liver pills. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Look for the name Carter's Little Liver Pills on the red label. Resent a substitute. 25c at drug stores. ©1931 C. M. Co.

EDITORIAL

A SENSIBLE PLAN

During 1934 a proposition was before the people of Michigan to reduce the gasoline tax. Proponents claimed that 2 cents "was enough." Opponents showed that the obligations, as now allocated by law, use up all the revenue so produced.

We have progressed rapidly in the past decade in the improvement of our highways. There is still much to be done. Which roads should be improved first? What do the state, counties and cities need in the way of highways and streets in the next ten years? What is the fair portion of the weight and gas taxes that should go to state roads, county roads, city streets? Obviously there is a correct and fair answer to each of these questions. But the answers should not be based on prejudice or guess work!

Senate Bill 378, introduced by Senators Potter (R) and Doyle (D) provides that proper and fair studies be made of this entire problem. The work would be done by a 12 man committee who would serve without compensation and would enlist the cooperation of the U. S. Bureau of Public Roads.

The whole idea is sound, sound and business like. Highway transportation is too important to Michigan not be treated on any but the most thoroughgoing manner. Let's get the fact. Senate Bill 378 should pass.

Capitalistic America is coming to the conclusion that to far-off Alaska to start life anew under favorable circumstances. In the worker's paradise of Soviet Russia they ship them to Siberia to die of starvation.

ARE BEING MISLED

We are astonished to find that some sinister agency has succeeded in generating opposition to the Baldwin-Dunckel anti-Communist bill in many parts of rural Michigan. Almost without exception it appears that the local leaders of the objectors are acting in good faith and on the belief that their position is in defense of the traditional American right of free speech.

Some agency has succeeded in hiding from them the fact that the bill penalizes only such acts as are designed to overthrow the government by force, violence or other unlawful means. If the bill were passed, Socialists and Communists, as well as Democrats and Republicans would still be at liberty to advocate any changes they might desire in our government. They would be subject to penalty only if they advocated illegal and revolutionary measures in furtherance of their ideas.

We confess that the bill does not appeal to us as a vital necessity, since there are other laws for the control of treason and the inciting of, or participation in, riots. However, the success with which misinformation concerning the bill is being circulated is evidence that the usual propaganda methods of the Communist group are already well organized in this State. We consider the present situation a warning that farther misleading ideas concerning our government may be expected to emanate from the same sources.

We confess we have no idea as to what small handful of malcontents is creating this activity. We are sure that most of those who have listened with favor to their statements are totally ignorant of the true facts.

THE NEW STRUCTURE

The problem of creating a program for the nation's welfare is in some respects like the building of a ship. At different points on the coast where rich forests grow builders have built great seagoing ships. When one of these ships is under construction and the steel frame have been set in the keel it is difficult for a person who does not know ships to tell how it will finally look when it is sailing the high seas. It may seem confused to some, but out of the multitude of detailed parts that go into the making of the structure the creation of a useful instrument for man ultimately comes. It is that way with the making of a national policy. The objective of the nation has greatly changed in three years. Before that time individual self-interest and group selfishness were paramount in public thinking. The general good was at a discount. Three years of hard thinking have changed the picture. More and more people, because of clearer thinking and a better understanding, are considering the whole rather than a mere part relating to one section or one crop, or one industry, or an individual private occupation. This is a tremendous gain for principles of democracy.—President Roosevelt.

This is Safety Education Week in Michigan. Drive Carefully Today.

PUTTING IT OVER

It is the general understanding that the government proposes to remain in the lending business. It will continue to loan money to home owners.

Such a statement may not seem so assuring to many taxpayers. Here in Michigan the Home Owners Loan Corporation has about a 30 per cent delinquency in its accounts. It has only been in business for a trifle more than a year.

One of the reasons for the condition is that everyone tries to see what he can put over on the government. Building and loan associations and other organizations unloaded oats to Uncle Sam everything that they possibly could. If a person had a loan that he thought was poor, he began immediate negotiations with the government to have them take it. "The government in countless number of instances" was unusually accommodating. The taxpayers will pay the cost of that generosity.

Uncle Sam is trying to help many, many people. He is getting many a dirty deal. Many of the people who put over the deals will be the first to criticize when the facts become known.

Psychologists tell us that if the scale of social maturity is not retarded Santa Claus is completely disavowed by the time a child reaches the age of seven. Quite a contrast to the millions of grown ups on relief who firmly believe in a Santa Claus in Washington.

A FUTILE SESSION

The Michigan Legislature has been in session since the beginning of January and proposes to continue into June before adjourning.

That is five months instead of the 90 days which Gov. Fitzgerald considered long enough for the Legislature to attend to all the public business that might be brought to it.

And the worst part of it is that much of this time has been wasted in political wrangling and log-rolling, with a minimum of effort devoted to intelligent deliberation and legislation.

If obstructionists in Lansing are moved by personal antipathy to Gov. Fitzgerald they are forgetting an important thing. They were elected by their constituents to serve the State; not to vent their spleen on the Executive. If they neglect their duty to the public in order to indulge in political revenge they show themselves faithless to the trust reposed in them.

The Governor and Legislature have distinct parts to play in the State government. They should both look with a single eye to the public good. The present Legislature can scarcely be said to have done that.—Detroit Free Press.

WELL, WHY NOT?

The German Reich is stirred over the question of religion. Why not take the recipe suggested by Rev. Mr. Jones, of Detroit, who says: "Get religion like a Methodist; experience like a Baptist; be sure of it like a Disciple; stick to it like a Lutheran; be proud of it like an Episcopalian; conciliate it like a Congregationalist; pay for it like a Presbyterian; propagate it like a Roman Catholic; glorify it like a Jew; practice it like a Christian Scientist; work for it like The Salvation Army; enjoy it like a Negro." Minneapolis Journal.

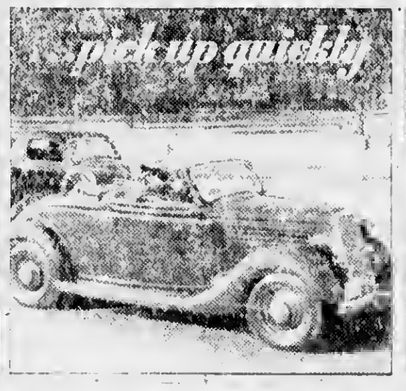
To prevent motor damage when you



...you must have oil of high film strength!

MOTORISTS WHO KNOW THESE FACTS WILL SAVE MONEY!

Motor oils refined by the usual methods have some oiliness and film strength, but they may form carbon and sludge, which lead to expensive motor repairs.

Other oils may form almost no carbon and sludge, but are so over-refined that they are robbed of oiliness and film strength they need to prevent motor wear.

Germ Processed Oil is refined to eliminate carbon and sludge troubles and then the Germ Process adds extra oiliness and 2 to 4 times more film strength than any straight mineral oil, as tests on Almen and Timken machines have proved.

DID YOU know that idling along at 10 miles an hour or picking up suddenly can cause as much motor wear as high-speed driving?

All three put extreme pressure on your connecting rod and crankshaft bearings. If your oil does not have enough oiliness and film strength to withstand these high pressures, your motor parts suffer damaging wear. That's why you need oil with the greatest possible oiliness and film strength.

Straight mineral oils have no more oiliness and film strength than they had 10 years ago. Some, because of over-refining, have less!

Conoco Germ Processed Motor Oil has more oiliness and 2 to 4 times more film strength than straight mineral oils! The Germ Process—adding concentrated oily essence to highly-refined, paraffin-base oil—puts into this oil more film strength and oiliness than any oil possesses naturally, no matter what crude oil it is made from!

That extra film strength and oiliness enable Germ Processed Oil to stay on the job and prevent wear under the most extreme pressure and heat. It helps Germ Processed Oil give long mileage with greater motor protection, as proved by the famous Indianapolis Destruction Test.

Germ Processed Oil protects your motor another way. Because it penetrates and combines with metal surfaces, it forms a "Hidden Quart" that stays up in your motor and cuts down wear during the starting period.

Conoco Germ Processed Motor Oil is the oil you need in this day of slow city driving, speed on the highway and sudden acceleration everywhere. It protects your motor and saves you money!

Hung Up Fifth Win by 10 to 2 Score Friday Afternoon

Charlevoix scored a 10 to 2 victory at Gaylord last Friday afternoon to hang up their fifth consecutive win in the Northern Michigan High School Baseball League.

While the teams were even on hits with three each, Gaylord errors paved the way for most of Charlevoix's scores. Gaylord scored one run in the first and seventh innings.

Carey was credited with 12 strikeouts, while Glasser of Gaylord struck out 14.

The box score:

Gaylord	1	0	0	0	0	0	1	—	2

The Kipmen play Thursday at Harbor Springs. They take on Petoskey here on Monday, May 27, in a game likely to decide the league championship, Charlevoix and Petoskey have both won five games. Other contests will be East Jordan here on Tuesday, May 28, and the final game at Petoskey on June 7.

RADLE SETS MILE RECORD AT REGIONAL MEET

Charlevoix Will Send Team of Four to State Track, Lansing, Saturday

Charlevoix High school will be represented by four athletes in the state Class C track meet Saturday at East Lansing.

Coach Ray Kiplo announced today that Ed Radle will run in the mile event, Jack Foster in the 220-yard dash, and Bob Emery and Leslie Shapton in the 440-yard dash.

At the regional track meet held last Saturday at Cadillac, Charlevoix scored 15 points in Class C competition. Ed. Radle set a new Class C record in the mile, running the distance in 4 minutes 54.6 seconds, to beat the former mark of 4 minutes 56 seconds. Jack Foster placed second in the 220 and fourth in the 100. Emery and Shapton placed second and third, respectively, in the 440.

Livingston in the low hurdles, and Fairbanks and Hansen in the half mile, failed to place. Radle's time in the mile was considered exceptionally fast in view of a strong wind.

Tie Up Your Dogs

Dogs running at large over the Belvedere Club grounds have become such a nuisance that we are asking owners to keep them under leash. Flower beds and small hedges are being ruined by their depredations. If you care anything for your dog, keep him off the Club grounds, otherwise we will be compelled to do away with them. WHEAT LOAF FAVORED BY THE LOCAL PUBLIC

Honey Krushed Bread Has Increasing Demand in Charlevoix

A remarkable feature of the recent introduction of Honey Krushed Wheat Bread, a new product from the ovens of the Bon Ton Baking Co., has been its immediate acceptance by housewives.

Almost overnight hundreds of shrewd, careful buyers have accepted Honey Krushed Wheat Bread. A few tried it, recommended it and now insist on having no other. The pleasing formula of whole crushed wheat kernels, the sweetening with pure honey, the regulating, harmless effect of the secret ingredients and the appetizing flavor, met with instant success.

One food shop reports that customers walk out if his supply is exhausted before reorders can be delivered. Other grocers state that on phone orders this bread is specified and positively demanded and that sales have increased 300 to 500 per cent in a single week.

This is all very gratifying to Bon Ton Baking Co., who made an exhaustive search before securing this secret formula which they control exclusively in this locality.

Next Lord's Day is known as Memorial Sunday. An everlasting memorial is found in Matt. 26:13:

"Verily I say unto you, Wheresoever this gospel shall be preached in the whole world, there shall also this, that this woman hath done, be told for a memorial of her."

While we are talking about building memorials, it were well to take note of the memorial which Christ set up to Live while the world stood. It had no element of sacrifice. Such Service, it was a service of personal love for a Personal Lord.

PROTECT YOUR LIFE AND THE LIVES OF OTHERS!

THERE are three questions you should ask yourself about the tires you buy:

1—"Will the non-skid tread give me the greatest traction and protection against skidding?"

2—"Are they built to give me the greatest blowout protection?"

3—"Without sacrificing these two important safety features will they give me longer mileage, thus making them the most economical tires I can buy?"

Answer No. 1—Harvey S. Firestone early realized the value of tire traction and safety and was the first to design an All Rubber Non-Skid Tire. Through the years Firestone has led the way in the design and development of tires with most effective non-skid treads.

Firestone does not depend solely on traction and non-skid tests made by its own engineers—it employs a leading University to make impartial tests for non-skid efficiency of its tires, and their most recent report shows that Firestone High Speed Tires stop the car 15% quicker than the best of all popular makes of tires.

Answer No. 2—Blowout protection must be built into a tire. Friction and heat within the tire is the greatest cause of blowouts. Firestone protects its tires from friction and heat by a patented process which soaks every cord and insulates every strand with pure liquid rubber. This is an additional process known as Gum-Dipping, by which every 100 pounds of cotton cords absorb eight pounds of rubber. This extra process costs more and is not used in any other make of tire.

Leading race drivers investigate the inbuilt qualities of the tires they use, because their very lives depend upon their tires, and they always select Firestone Tires for their daring speed runs. In fact, Firestone Tires have been on the winning cars in the gruelling Indianapolis 500-mile race for fifteen consecutive years, and they were on the 5,000-pound car that Ab Jenkins drove 3,000 miles in 23½ hours on the hot salt beds at Lake Bonneville, Utah, at an average speed of 127.2 miles per hour, without tire trouble of any kind. These amazing performance records are proof of the greatest blowout protection ever known.

Answer No. 3—Thousands of car owners reporting mileage records of 40,000 to 75,000 miles, is proof of the long mileage and greater economy by equipping with Firestone High Speed Tires. Let these unequaled performance records be your buying guide.

Go to the Firestone Auto Supply and ServAire Store or Firestone Tire Dealer and let him equip your car with Firestone Tires, the safest and most economical tires built.

Chevalier Plays First Dual Role

Maurice Chevalier has his first dual role as star of "Folies Bergere," 20th century's lavish sophistication of the famous French musical comedy institution, which comes to the Palace Theatre Saturday and Sunday, June 1 and 2.

Chevalier plays both a carbon thin gay, straw-hatted, singing star of the Folies Bergere, and the bemonocled, be-mustached French Baron Casimir, noted for his amorous escapades. Thus, the personable French actor is both the hero and the "heavy," of this Darryl F. Zanuck production.

Mammoth New Musical Opens at Palace Tuesday

"Go Into Your Dance," First National's latest musical spectacle, opens at the Palace Theatre Tuesday and Wednesday, June 4 and 5, with Al Jolson and his wife, Ruby Keeler, co-starring.

This is the first time Jolson, the famous Broadway singer who introduced talking pictures to the public, and Miss Keeler, one time musical comedy star who rose to fame in two years of the screen, have ever played together before. Their team work is said to be remarkable.

The picture is based on a story by Bradford Ropes, author of "42nd Street." It is intensely dramatic as well, with hilarious comedy interpolations and a glowing romance.

Humor, Romance, Tense Drama in "Mary Jane's Pa"

By picking humor, pathos, heart and intense dramatic action, romance all are said to be contained in the Warner Bros. production, "Mary Jane's Pa," which comes to the Palace Theatre on Thursday and Friday, with that unfailing team of screen players, Aline MacMahon and Guy Kibbee in the stellar roles.

A HISTORIC CIGAR WRAPPER

"HALT!"

E. W. Mitchell of Muncie, Ind., a private in Company F of the Twenty-seventh Indiana Volunteer infantry in the Army of the Potomac, heard that command with a feeling of relief. He was tired after the long march that his general, George B. McClellan, had ordered on that hot September day in 1862.

Then his eyes sparkled. A prize! It was his lucky day, though it happened to be the 13th. Three cigars, wrapped in a small piece of paper and tied with a string, lay at his feet. He ripped off the paper and started to throw it away. Then he swore softly . . . and ran quickly to his sergeant who made haste with him to the colonel. He took one look at the paper and a few minutes later it was in the hands of General McClellan.

It happened to be Special Order No. 191, signed by Gen. Robert E. Lee, who was leading his ragged hosts in gray north, singing "Maryland, My Maryland!" It revealed how Lee had divided the two wings of his army, and told of the routes over which they were moving. It was addressed to Gen. D. H. Hill, but some staff officer or courier had used it for a cigar wrapper, and then lost it.

George Brinton McClellan was a champion "staller," but this little piece of paper wrought a large change in him. Here was his chance to smash the invading army. For once he moved with incredible speed. Within two hours he had a division on the march toward South mountain as the first step toward driving a wedge between Lee's divided forces.

Just in the nick of time the amazed Confederate commander learned the reason for the Union leader's swift action, so he changed his plans. The result was that the gray "Army of Liberation" was forced to the defensive, Pennsylvania spared from invasion and there ensued the "bloodiest battle of the whole war," . . . that of Antietam. Lee lost 10,000 men and McClellan 12,000 . . . a total casualty list of 22,000, all because of a piece of paper wrapped around three cigars!

A CAPTAIN'S COMMISSION

IF, IN the summer of 1777, a young Pennsylvanian had been given the commission of captain instead of second lieutenant, many an American settler in the Ohio valley would probably have been saved from Indian tomahawks and Simon Girty would not have come down in history as the "White Renegade," a "monster," and a "wretched miscreant."

At the outbreak of the Revolution, Girty with most of the frontiersmen around Fort Pitt joined the Patriot cause. He served loyally and well until a disagreement with his superior led to his discharge. When Gen. Edward Hand took command at Fort Pitt Girty's enemies spread the story that he was plotting with the British. He was jailed on suspicion but, when brought to trial, proved his innocence.

Despite this injustice, Girty helped enlist men for the Continental army and hoped to be rewarded with a captaincy of a newly-organized company. But the command was given to John Stephenson and Girty was offered another second lieutenant's commission. To be slighted thus rankled in his heart so he made his way to Detroit and offered his services to Gen. Henry Hamilton, British commander there.

This was the beginning of the reign of terror which the "White Renegade," as leader of many an Indian war party, spread along the Kentucky and Ohio borders for nearly 20 years. How different frontier history might have been if Simon Girty, instead of Stephenson, had been made captain of a company in the Continental army in 1777!

AN UNWASHED SPOON

EARLY in 1800, a young Frenchman named Daguerre began to experiment with the "Camera." The reflected light from a scene was made to come through an aperture and make a picture on the opposite wall. Lenses were used for strengthening the images and here was a camera in almost working order.

Daguerre thought that nature should take her own pictures and that light could be made to record itself. He began many futile experiments, hunting for a chemical that would make a picture for-the-right. For more than two years he was a recluse, shut in his laboratory and refusing to see even his closest friends. He wanted to be the one lucky enough to make the discovery. One day, by a queer occurrence, he stumbled on the secret.

He had eaten his noonday meal and not waiting to wash his spoon, he tossed it in one of his cupboards. There was a metal plate coated with iodine on the shelf and the silver spoon lay on this until the next morning. The young man opened the cupboard door at breakfast time to get his spoon and found a clear picture of it on the metal plate.

Immediately he began to coat more plates with iodine of silver and then followed the experiments which resulted in successful photography.

BOTH HUMOR AND POETRY EVINCED IN PLACE NAMES

The southern mountaineer's whimsical humor is seen not only in some of his songs and hoedowns but in place names commemorating some josh, some episode, more or less grimly comical or tragic. Broke-leg creek, Tear-Breeches ridge, Chunky-Gal mountain, Seldom-Seen hollow, Rip-Shin ridge—ouch! How vividly that recalls certain scrambles through stony thickets—Burnt Shirt mountain, Jerk-Tail Flat, Hanging Dog creek, Headcrack-most mountain, Bare-Anger creek, Fiery Gizzard creek, the Devil's Courthouse, and so on.

In Cumberland county, Tennessee, two beautiful brawling streams unite whose names are No Business creek and How Come You creek. Undoubtedly, there is a story back of each name.

But the mountaineer is often poetic, too, and gracefully descriptive in his place names. The touch of melancholy in his nature is evidenced by the frequent recurrence of such names as Lonesome and Troublesome, Desolation, Defeated, Poor Fork, Kingdom Come, Falling Water and Lost creek are significant names of streams. Craggy Dome, Balsam Cone, the Black Brothers, Lone Bald, Thunderhead, Little Snowbird, Grandfather; Hawksbill; Graybeard and Wine Spring Bald are all mountains lyrically and descriptively named.

I asked a mountain man in North Carolina whether a certain bald promontory had a name, and I have a pleasant memory of the slow lift of his eyes to where it towered 1,000 feet above us, and the soft drawl of his mellow, low-pitched voice as he answered: "Yas, hit's called the Winter Star."—Alvin F. Harlow in the Saturday Evening Post.

MEMORIAL DAY

This week a grateful nation pauses in the memorable march of time to pay tender tribute to its heroic dead. Memorial Day was instituted sixty seven years ago by the Grand Army of the Republic, shortly following the close of the Civil War. Its purpose was to set aside one day in the year for patriotic thought—to visit the graves of comrades and there beneath the skies of Freedom rededicate themselves to the service of their country. Now most of that long line in Blue has disappeared from mortal sight. Only a pitiful few remain to remind us of the eternal debt we owe to those who fought and died that the Union might be preserved.

In the march of the Republic since that historic struggle between the North and the South the Spanish War veterans and the American Legion have become a living and breathing part of this hallowed day. Under their keeping the meaning and purpose of its originators will be carried forward into the coming years. There may have been time when under the stress of economic disturbance of American life we have forgotten for the moment the blessings Liberty has wrought, but only for a moment, because deep down in our very being there is loyalty and patriotism and love for those who gave the last full measure of devotion that any nation so conceived and so dedicated shall not perish from the earth.

LIFE'S OPPORTUNITIES

Rural and city schools, and soon high school institutions of learning will be closed for the summer months. In the period of the school year who is the youthful graduate will be faced for the first time with the necessity of discovering some place where he can be helpful in getting down to grips with the problem of earning his own way in the world that lies ahead.

To the young man or woman who looks upon the distorted picture of today as a challenge to their resourcefulness and who is willing to test their ability, years of intensive competition will not be their uppermost problem, waiting to be met and met by the competent. It is during the period when they are finding themselves that they need encouragement from the older people of the community. Commiseration is liable to have a deterrent effect upon them. What they need most is opportunity for real service in the world that lies ahead.

NEEDS A SPOKESMAN

Economic enterprise, free political institutions, and the free people who built the free press are in jeopardy. Only one thing can save them—an informed and militant public opinion. Only one thing can create that public opinion—the truth. The people will look for somebody to tell them the truth. Somebody will have to speak for himself independent of party, fearlessly to tell upon the tyranny of monopoly, or the tyranny of mob rule.—Harold L. Ickes, secretary of the interior.

FROGS MAY BE TAKEN LEGALLY ON JUNE 1ST

Season Extends Until October 31st Throughout Michigan

Bullfrogs and frogs of other varieties which are making themselves heard in a raucous chorus from the ponds and marshes, will become legal game in Michigan next Saturday.

The open season on frogs throughout the state begins June 1 and extends through summer and early fall to October 31, says the Fisheries Division, Department of Conservation.

Frogs may be speared in Michigan without the use of artificial light. Artificial light may be used, however, if frogs are being taken by any means other than the spear, the Fisheries Division says.

Bullfrogs may be captured easily and their legs are considered delicious by many who have eaten them after proper preparation and cooking.

CAMP PERIOD TO BE 18 MONTHS IN FUTURE

Age Limit Changed in New Federal CCC Expansion Program.

CCC men, technically known as junior enrollees, may now remain in camp a maximum period of 18 months instead of 12 months, according to the Director of Emergency Conservation Work, at Washington, D. C.

This regulation is a feature of the federal CCC expansion program under which the number of CCC camps in the United States and District of Columbia will be boosted from 1,640 to 2,916 and the enrolled personnel from 353,000 to approximately 600,000.

The Emergency Conservation Work office also changed the age limit of junior enrollees, the Department of Conservation states. Formerly, young men between the ages of 18 to 25 were known as junior enrollees; under the expansion program the maximum age limit is to 28 years.

Actual selection of men for the new CCC camps in Michigan under the federal expansion program is expected to begin about June 1.

WORLD'S GREATEST WASHER ENDURANCE TEST

Dexter Breaks All Records on Continuous Non-Stop Run

Running continuously day and night, week after week and month after month since April 5th, 1932, a regular stock model Dexter Defender washer has broken all records for continuous service.

Up until April 5th, 1935, it has run 26,280 continuous hours, or the equivalent of more than 3 years of washing service in the average home.

Apparently, it will still be running at the end of another year although it doesn't seem possible that a machine could continue to run for such a long period of time.

Without adjustment of any kind and without oiling since the day it was started.

Introduced by Senator Felix H. H. Flynn, R., Cadillac, the measure clarifies an old controversy started when farm organization sought to exempt products used in processing. The bill now extends to industry as well.

DEPOSIT INSURANCE

AN EXTRA MEASURE OF PROTECTION

The management of these Banks always has taken every possible precaution to safeguard the funds of depositors. In keeping with this traditionally conservative policy, deposits made here are now insured by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation.

The insurance thus provided applies to all deposits, including personal and corporate deposits, deposits of public funds, and trust funds awaiting investment.

At the present time, the maximum amount insured for each depositor is $5,000. This does not mean that a depositor with an account of, say $500, is guaranteed $5,000, but it does mean that his $500 is fully insured. Deposit insurance is for your protection. It is a permanent part of the Nation's law.

The public has been invited to attend a Bible study class to be organized by Mrs. Carl M. Hiffner at her residence, 702 Bridge street, on Tuesday evening, June 1, at 7:30. The class is aimed to be of mutual benefit to all, with no charge attached. Those attending are asked to bring notebooks and pencil.

Dorothea Belle Withers, of Charlevoix, is one of the 507 Michigan State College seniors scheduled to receive diplomas at commencement exercises Monday, June 10, according to a list of graduates just announced by Miss Elida Yakeley, registrar. She will complete the home economics course with a B. S. degree.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph King, of Chicago, are sojourning at the cottage on the Chicago Club. Other Club members who will be here for the Memorial holidays are John P. Wilson, Chicago, and Mr. and Mrs. Cyrus H. Adams, of Lake Forest, who go to the Wilson cottage on Lake Charlevoix. Mr. Wilson will be here for the launching Thursday of his screamer, the famous Malabar X, being outfitted for the season under the direction of Capt. B. F. Arlen.

Verl Crandall, now captain of a U. S. Bureau of Fisheries car out of Washington, D. C., spent from Wednesday until Saturday here visiting his father, L. E. Crandall, and sister, Mrs. Arthur Westaff. Mr. Crandall brought a consignment of brook trout fry into Michigan, of which 47 cans were left here for the Charlevoix Sportsman's Club and to individuals. The entire consignment was placed in the Stover Creek rearing ponds operated by the local organization for rearing to fingerling size.

This day evening, May 30, at 8 o'clock, there will be a home meeting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ward of Ironton. The neighborhood is cordially invited to this service. Sunday evenings at 7 o'clock, the young people have a service at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bennett. Last Sunday a group came to the service. We invite all those who can, to come to the next one. Eight o'clock, following the young people's service, come the regular preaching services. The Sunday evenings, the Students' Evangelistic party holds a service at the Isaacson home, 301 Mason street, Charlevoix. This meeting is given to short sermonettes by different individuals, testimonies and singing and prayer. A wonderful service.

New U. S. Destroyer Makes Test Run

1—U. S. S. Worden, first destroyer to be built at Puget Sound navy yard, entering San Diego habor on its shake-down cruise to the Atlantic coast. 2—Vice President Garner and Speaker Byrnes signing the $4,880,000,000 work relief bill. 3—Military parade passing the Capitol during the celebration of Army day in Washington.

Latest Craft Last Word in Efficiency

Although the United States is determined to keep out of any disputes that may be brewing in Europe, the Navy department is not going to be caught unprepared in case trouble should be forced on us. The newest sensation of the fleet, the destroyer Worden, shown above, is considered the last word in efficiency. She has been sent on her test cruise from the Puget Sound navy yard to the Atlantic coast.

The Worden is the first of its type to be built. It is speedier than other vessels of this class, and is equipped with guns and other fighting equipment of the newest design.

Naval expansion will proceed rapidly under present plans. The PWA has allotted $278,000,000 for new warships, and in addition to this, the navy's budget has been increased to more than half a billion dollars.

Mr. Garner Meets a Lord Mayor

Vice President John M. Garner is here seen with a distinguished visitor from overseas who stepped into the Capitol at Washington to chat with the gentleman from Uvalde. He is Rt. Hon. Alderman Alfred Byrne, lord mayor of Dublin, Irish Free State.

That the lord mayor is not suffering from an overdose of dignity was evidenced when he arrived in this country and was questioned by reporters as to how one in his position should be addressed. He rather astonished news hawks by telling them: "Just call me Alfie!"

This albino frog, said to be a greater rarity than quintuplets, is being raised at the American Museum of Natural History in New York. It was found on a farm in St. Lawrence county, New York, and sent to Dr. G. Kingsley Noble, curator of herpetology and head of the department of experimental biology at the museum. The frog's color is saffron instead of green, and its large bulging eyes are pink. It is being nursed with the greatest care by the museum officials.

Indian Village De Soto Visited Believed Found

Almost 400 years ago Hernando de Soto visited the "town of Chasiff" in the North Carolina mountains.

Dr. John R. Swanton, of the Bureau of American Ethnology and the Smithsonian institution's leading authority on Indians of the Southwest, declared the site of the long-lost village has been "rather definitely" located at the site of the old Indian mound near Murphy, N. C.

Smithsonian institution scientists have been excavating the mound, almost certain for weeks it was the lost village. According to the institution, De Soto's visit was in 1540.

It was described at that time as a town of 300 wooden houses—probably an exaggeration—capital of a province of the same name, where the hungry Spaniards were given a hearty welcome. Its occupants may have been Cherokee, since this was in territory later held by the Cherokee tribe.

The people of this town were visited in 1566 by the Spanish official, Juan Pardo, who "held conference with them in interest of his holiness and his majesty and they replied that they wished to be Christians and have his majesty for their masters."

Today the place is marked by a large mound. The excavation was undertaken under the direction of J. D. Jennings, of the University of Chicago, representing the institution.

NEATLY TRAPPED

Recently a railroad, which was sued for $500,000 by a negro who falsely claimed that his legs had been paralyzed in an accident, sent two negro detectives to his town to expose him. They set up a crystal gazing parlors and, after several weeks, subtly arranged to tell the victim's fortune in his home. The crystal "revealed" that the only way he could win his suit was to carry a log over the railroad track the next morning, hopping across on one leg and back on the other several times. So he did. And a movie cameraman, hidden in a bush, "shot" the act and killed the action.—Collier's Weekly.

Sleep EIGHT Hours a Night

The trouble with most of us is we don't get enough exercise and we eat the wrong foods. We haven't any respect for our stomachs until they start to kick up a rumpus. My doctor advised taking Milnesia Wafers to get rid of the acids and now I sleep soundly all night.

DEPARTMENT OF STATE NEWS BULLETIN

New Law Clarifies Tax on Diesel Oil

Enactment by the Legislature, the day before adjournment, of Senate Bill No. 290, cleared away all possibility of legal difficulties which might have arisen in the future over collection of the state's three cents a gallon tax on motor fuel. Under the present law, representations have to be made to the secretary of state that the type of oil, when used as a motor fuel, should be exempt from the gas tax. The bill passed and sent to the governor for his approval removes the term "motor fuel", so that diesel oil is clearly taxable. The bill was drawn because of the increasing use of this oil as a motor fuel.

There are 216 people to whom the secretary of state will pay some money, if he can locate them. Their names are the residue of a long list of more than 4,000 at one time, whose owners were entitled to a refund under the state's present weight tax law. In 1934, the Legislature reduced the license plate tax rate from 55 cents per hundred pounds to 35. Motorists who had already bought their 1934 plates, were entitled to a refund in accord with the lowered rates. A few months after the act became effective, more than 4,000 checks were still undelivered; mail sent to last known addresses being unclaimed. The Department of State sent out some 5,000 letters in trace of motorists entitled to their refunds. More than 4,000 letters were returned, but ultimately claims were made, with the reduction of the list to its present state. Among the claims made for refund, some were, strangely enough, from a few motorist who had not purchased their plates until the rate was lowered. The secretary of state was not, however (as they discovered), looking for them.

An increase of nearly $2,500,000 in the collection of revenue from the sale of 1935 license plates and stickers up to April 20, as compared with the same period of 1934, has been recorded by the motor vehicle division of the Department of State. The greatly increased demand for bookkeeping services, reflected during the month of May, required hiring temporary employes in the department, largely for that month only, however. From January 1 to April 20, last year, the plate and sticker collections totalled $8,672,241.77; the same period this year showed a total of $11,162,402.38, or an increase of $2,190,204.61.

Miss Sylva Wixson, Club Leader, to Visit County

Miss Sylva Wixson has been scheduled to work in Charlevoix county in the interests of club work, Thursday afternoon, June 6, and all day Friday, June 7.

Already several groups have been organized, and at this time a plea is being sent out to all other groups in the county who are interested in a canning club, to immediately contact their county agent, so that the organization work may be completed before the visit of Miss Wixson.

Plan call for at least 10 community, organizing canning clubs. This type of work has proven to be very popular in the past, and some excellent results have resulted from the program. More and more, we appreciate having a large quantity of canned products to afford a greater variety of foods during the long winter months. All girls between the ages of 10 and 14 years, inclusive, will can 30 quarts of fruits and vegetables. From 15 to 20, 50 quart is the allotment.

Let's hear from any community in the county, or any group of girls who would like to participate in this type of 4-H Club activity this summer.

SUNDAY DINNER SUGGESTIONS
By Ann Page

All meats but pork are somewhat cheaper this week, with lamb still the best value. Broiling and frying chickens are comparatively inexpensive. Eggs are moderate in price and continued cool weather has kept their quality unusually fine. Summer sausages are in season.

There are many excellent values available in vegetables including spinach, string beans, carrots, beets, new potatoes, cucumbers, white turnips, summer squash, and asparagus. Cabbage and onions are again a bit higher. Lettuce and tomatoes are rather high.

Cantaloupe and watermelons are cheaper. A watermelon is just the thing for a holiday picnic. Blackberries and cultivated huckleberries are in market, supplementing the supply of strawberries. Lemons are cheap. Peaches are in market but are expensive and not yet really good.

Here are three menus made up from seasonable foods adapted to different budget levels:

Low Cost Dinner

Chuck Roast Browned Potatoes
Beets and Beet Tops
Bread and Butter
Banana Tapioca Cream
Tea or Coffee Milk

Medium Cost Dinner

Baked Broiling Chicken
Creamed Potatoes Green Beans
Bread and Butter
Strawberry Shortcake
Tea or Coffee Milk

Very Special Dinner

Jellied Bouillon
Fried Chicken with Cream Gravy
Parsley Potatoes Carrots and Peas
Tomato Salad

Strawberry Ice Cream Sponge Cake
Coffee Milk

PROCLAMATION
Memorial Day, 1935

Seventy-two years ago our country began the formal observance of an occasion devoted to the memory of its heroic dead, who had given their lives that the priceless privileges of free government might be established and perpetuated for the citizenship of the Republic.

A growing zeal should make the annual observance of this day, because of the additional sacrifices that have been made since then, and because, from the ever deepening well prime of property, arise those proud ideals which keep alight the fires of patriotism and form the very foundation upon which our future as a people must rest. Lest we forget, lest we forget.

It is most fitting that in observance of Memorial Day should ever come to include in the bestowal of flowers and tears the sacred graves of all of our loved ones who have passed from earth to the Grand Encampment where God reigns in infinite love and understanding. They, too, in the homes and the quiet pursuits of peace, have earned the undying gratitude of our nation.

Therefore, by virtue of the authority vested in me as Governor I hereby proclaim Thursday, May 30 Memorial Day, and request its traditional observance by the people of the commonwealth.

IF YOUR BREATH HAS A SMELL YOU CAN'T FEEL WELL

When we eat too much, our food decays in our bowels. Our friends smell this decay coming out of our mouth and call it bad breath. We feel the poison of this decay all over our body. It makes us gloomy, grouchy and no good for anything.

What makes the food decay in the bowels? Well, when we eat too much, our bile juice can't digest it. What is the bile juice? It is the most vital digestive juice in our body. Unless 2 pints of it are flowing from our liver into our bowels every day, our movements get head and constipated and ¾ of our food decays in our 28 feet of bowels. This decay sends poison all over our body every six minutes.

When our friends smell our bad breath (but we don't) and we feel like a whipped tomcat, don't use a mouthwash or take a laxative. Get at the cause. Take Carter's Little Liver Pills which gently start the flow of your bile juice. But if "something better" is offered you, don't buy it, for it may be a calomel (mercury) pill, which loosens teeth, gripes and scalds the rectum in many people. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name and get what you ask for—25¢. ©1934, C.M.Co.

MACKINAW TROLLING TO BE BUSINESS HERE

Raff & Clothier Open Charlevoix Mackinaw Camp on Round Lake

Deep water trolling for mackinaw trout will take on a business aspect in Charlevoix this season with the location here of what will be known as the Charlevoix Mackinaw Camp.

The camp will be in charge of Don Clothier, member of the partnership of Raff & Clothier, operators of a similar, well famed camp at North port. The Wilcox property on the south bore of Round Lake harbor will be the site. Camping ground accommodations and boat equipment will include from 6 to 20 craft, depending upon demand, including a cabin cruiser for parties.

Establishment of the camp here will bring to Charlevoix the fame that Northport and Elk Rapids have gained for their mackinaw trout trolling. Conditions in Lake Michigan off Charlevoix are claimed to be equally as good as any other location, the only lack here being the notoriety ever to be had that Charlevoix and welcomes this new industry operated by Animals experienced in the game.

"Ancient and Modern Necromancy, alias Mesmerism and Hypnotism, Denounced" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Christian Science Churches throughout the world on Sunday, June 2.

Among the Bible citations is the following (Eph. 6:11, 12): "Put on the whole armour of God, that ye may be able to stand against the wiles of the devil. For we wrestle not against flesh and blood, but against principalities, against powers, against the rulers of the darkness of this world, against spiritual wickedness in high places."

Correlative passages to be read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scripture," by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (p. 23): "Evil thoughts and aims reach no farther and do no more harm than one's belief permits. Evil thoughts, lust, and malicious purposes cannot go forth, like wandering pollen, from one human mind to another, finding unsuspected lodgment, if virtue and truth build a strong defense."

BACCALAUREATE A SUNDAY EVENT

GRADUATING CLASS HEAR REV G. R. PARKER

First of Series of Events Preceding Commencement Exercises Wednesday Evening, June 5

Selecting as his subject, "The Kingdom's Challenge," from the text: "I am come that they might have life, and that they might have it more abundantly," John 10:10, the Rev. G. R. Parker, pastor of the Congregational church, addressed the fifty Charlevoix High school graduates, their parents and friends, Sunday evening at the gymnasium.

He said to the students in part:

"I do not wish to give you any advice, but if I can lift your eyes to a higher level, leave in your hearts an inspiraton that will stay with you for an hour, a few days or, by chance, years, I will have accomplished the purpose of my speaking this evening.

"I am confident this evening that the moving force that should prompt your future is religion. You are upon the threshold of adventurous times. With the agitation of a change in our National Constitution, new and radical discoveries in the field of science and especially medicine, and the rumblings of changes in our social order. Together with these we have begun to rediscover the basis of our religious life.

"In the very first paragraph of one of the latest books, written by Dr. John C. Bennett, 'Social Salvation,' we find 'There seem to be an inherent wrongness in human life which corrupts and destroys. If the individual looks into his own soul without self-deception he will find there traces enough of this evil.' Dr. Walter Marshall Horton in his book, Realistic Theology, gives us chapters upon Human Predicament, Providence of God, Christ and the Church, Realistic Salvation, Decline of Liberalism. Our religious conferences, state and national, are shot through and through with a rediscovery of the fundamentals of the Christian religion.

"You think this strange that in this day one should discover what we have preached for 2,000 years? Yes, indeed! especially when you take into consideration that many of these men were in that group of liberals that a short time ago scoffed at these fundamentals. When our thinkers and philosophers begin to discover the things that the ordinary minister has been preaching for years, is it not significant?

"As you stand upon this threshold you may go through the door to a great usefulness if you first tie yourself to that religion that Jesus came and gave to us through His death upon the cross. Because the solution of our social, political, economic and international problems rests within that influence that is genuinely Christian. And my message to the class of 1935 and to the world is this: Our only hope is in the conscience and hearts of men touched by an All Wise God made known to us by that Man of Galilee whom we call Jesus.

"Our text gives us one reason for the coming of Jesus into the world. He sets Himself up as a shepherd and His followers as sheep. He feeds, waters and protects, and He says 'I am come that they might have life and that they might have it more abundantly.'

"What is an abundant life, just spiritual? just praise? just salvation? just creed? just Doctrine? This is what we have been preaching too much for the past two thousand years. Don't misunderstand, these are important but the abundant life is something more than just spiritual. Jesus planned for mankind an abundant life but if he is cold, hungry and homeless, if his children cannot have necessary care can he experience an abundant life? The preaching of the spiritual things have not softened the hearts of business men and financiers who call themselves Christians and we have miserably failed. We have hammered at a few surface sins but have not lifted a restraining hand against that force that enriched itself and robbed and panperized others. We have scoffed too long the Social Gospel. A salvation that does not include one's responsibility to another is only a half salvation. James says, "Show me thy faith without thy works, and I will show thee my faith by my works.'

"What has this to do with a graduating class? Just this: religion is necessary but that religion should put you to such tasks that will help to contribute an abundant life to all. What one does, does not make him Christian, but what he does proves whether or not that he is a Christian.

"We can be either builders or wreckers. Sometimes we must wreck to build a better building. Our abilities are the hammers we use. The Christian should be that builder that creates and lifts a better and greater civilization.

"H. G. Wells tell us that a great man is judged by what he leave to grow. We cannot all be one of the three greatest men but we can tie ourselves to those living forces that are making for the abundant life of all.

"One says: 'I am going to get what I am after, if by fair means well and good.' Another says: 'I will bear my burdens but woe to that one who tries to shift his burdens to me.' A third says: 'I want to make a contribution, which life guarantees an abundant life to the world.'

"Jesus came that we might have an abundant life. But is it Christian that my abundance should impoverish another? Class of 1935 so live and act that your lives will bring that abundant life that is for all."

Commencement exercises, the program for which was announced last week, will be held tonight. Tomorrow the class and sponsor make a trip to Tahquamenon Falls, the closing event of their school careers in Charlevoix.

INCREASE MICHIGAN'S CCC QUOTA

BOOST ENROLLMENT TO 22,250 IN THIS STATE

Charlevoix County Will Send Approximately Fifty — Enrollments Will Start June 15th

The President's Civilian Conservation Corps will swell to 22,250 in Michigan this summer as 50 new camps are constructed and places made available for 15,300 new enrollees.

William Haber, state relief administrator, announced that quotas are now being assigned to counties on the basis of population and relief case load as of February.

Enrollments will begin June 15 and extend into August because few of the new CCC camps have yet been constructed. The 59 existing camps will be filled first after which enrollees will be assigned to the new camps as fast as they are opened.

As in the former selections, the men must come from families on relief or where it is not possible to fill the quota from relief rolls, applicants from "borderline" families or those classed as "needy employed," may be considered.

Under the new regulations single men from 18 to 28, inclusive, who are in good physical condition, are eligible. Previous age limits were 18 to 25. Former CCC men who have served not more than 12 months and have been honorably discharged, may reenroll. The pay remains at $30 a month, of which $25 must be sent home.

Michigan's new quota compares with a former quota of 9,750 men.

The Charlevoix county quota will be approximately 50 men.

THREE ISLANDERS INJURED BY ACCIDENTS

Francis Left, 6, Run Over by Truck; Richard Martin, Jnhn Power Hurt

Boats were pressed into emergency service Sunday night to bring three victims of automobile accidents Sunday at St. James to Charlevoix Hospital for treatment.

Richard Martin and John Power, seriously injured when their automobile crashed into a tree, were brought over on the Charlevoix-Beaver Island mail boat Marold II. The tug Evstonia, Capt. Larson, brought Francis Left, 6, injured when a truck backed over him while at play. It was said playmates released the brakes on the vehicle.

None of the victims are believed fatally injured.

STATE SALES TAX COLLECTIONS REACH PEAK

Sales tax collections for April reached an all time peak since the law went into effect, the State Board of Tax Administration reported today. April collections totalled $3,891,782 compared with $3,183,333 for April of last year.

The difference between getting somewhere and nowhere is the courage to make an early start.

CONG. BROWN BACKING WARREN BILL

WOULD PROVIDE REGULATION POTATO MARKET

Congressman Will Be Governed by Views of Potato Growers — Sees Benefits for This Region

The Warren potato bill for regulating the amount of potatoes that may be marketed per year, in order to enable farmers to receive a higher price per bushel, and a higher net return, has the approval of Congressman Prentiss M. Brown.

In a letter to the Courier he said:

"I am informed that there is a considerable demand for the bill. Personally, I am inclined to believe it will be helpful. Certainly, the potato situation in our part of the country has been bad, and I think this is worth trying. However, my course of action in the matter will be mainly determined by the views of the potato farmers."

He would like to know the sentiment of local farmers. If they evidence a strong demand, he will throw his support actively behind the bill.

The bill would give the Secretary of Agriculture power to decide the amount of potatoes to be grown in any year, an amount that would give potatoes a purchasing power with respect to articles that farmers buy equivalent to the purchasing power of potatoes in the period in August, 1919-July, 1929. He would allot the amount to the states, and each potato-growing farmer would be assigned his share of the state allotment. The percentage of basis for the allotment would be uniform for all growers.

The secretary of agriculture would issue, on application, tax exemption stamps to each farmer for an amount of potatoes equal to his apportionment.

The allotment plan would become operative in 1936, if enacted. A tax would be levied on the first sale of potatoes, to be paid by the seller, at the rate of three-fourths of one cent per pound, the money to be used for administrative expenses.

After the first year, the farmers would be asked by a referendum to vote whether they favor continuation of the tax for the succeeding allotment year. Each producer would be entitled to one vote for each 60 pounds of potatoes apportioned to him for the previous year. A one-third vote would be sufficient to cancel the tax.

CUT WORK RELIEF IN ALL COUNTIES

STATE ORDER MAKES STEPS MANDATORY HERE

Don Martindill, County ERA Director, Explains Situation in Letter to the Courier

In order to reduce the welfare load by releasing clients for seasonal employment in the resort and rural areas of the state, Don Martindill, director of the Charlevoix County ERA, has explained in the following letter, a state order directing that work relief be discontinued in this district:

"In adhering to orders from the State Emergency Welfare Relief Commission at Lansing, which is a state-wide order, it becomes mandatory that, because of seasonal employment in the resort and agricultural areas of Michigan, that we discontinue the granting of work relief to clients who are adapted to agriculture and those of special qualifications and skill that should enable them to obtain employment in the resort areas. This does not mean that those removed shall be subjected to privation and want, but if in these cases employment is not readily obtained, we shall take care of their necessary essentials through our social service division with direct relief orders, such as each case may require.

"It is hoped that the majority of those necessarily removed from work projects may readily obtain gainful employment and become self-sustaining.

"In order to facilitate our work projects in the rural areas, such as the county road projects, it now becomes necessary to assign those in the urban area remaining eligible for work relief to the county road projects. These men will be transported to and from their rural assignments by truck and will report for work as their assignment cards indicate.

"For the public's information, I will quote excerpts from state order contained in Letter No. 353,

"'In order to encourage those families on relief to avail themselves to the fullest extent of each chance for employment, you are requested to lay off at once everyone now employed on a work relief project whose previous experience indicates a chance for employment in one of the seasonal industries. In general, persons with farm labor experience should be dropped from work projects. When private work is not found immediately, direct relief should be given those families until they are able to find work.

"'In addition to the above procedure of dropping individuals from work projects, you are also directed to reduce to a minimum or discontinue entirely for the next few months all work relief projects in agricultural and resort areas.'

"We are taking action on this order effective immediately and if we may ask your cooperation in the publishing of this information, I believe it will relieve much apprehension among those of our clients whom we find it necessary to remove from our work projects.

"Yours very truly,
"DON M. MARTINDILL,
"Administrator,
"Charlevoix Co. ERA."

ROBERT MACDONALD DIED LAST SATURDAY

Resident Here 50 Years Succumbed After Extended Illness

Funeral services were conducted Tuesday afternoon from the Dixon avenue residence for Robert MacDonald, well known resident here fifty years, who died Saturday after an extended illness. Rev. G. R. Parker officiated and interment was at Brookside cemetery.

Deceased was born February 1, 1863, in Chicago, to Mary and Thomas MacDonald. His early boyhood was spent with his uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Donnelly, at Saugatuck, Mich., where he attended elementary and high school. Later they moved to Northport where, with several tugs, they engaged in the fishing business. At an early age Mr. MacDonald received his captain's papers and worked with his uncle. In 1885 they came to Charlevoix, continuing in the fishing business.

For the past fifty years Mr. MacDonald had resided at 310 Dixon avenue. In 1900 he was married to Evangeline Cheney, who, together with a daughter, Mrs. Nyle Jessup, and granddaughter, Carol Shirley, survive.

CITY WILL DUST-PROOF STREETS

AUTHORIZED PROGRAM AT SESSION MONDAY NIGHT

Purchase Grader Blade for the City Truck — Resurfacing Burns, Nettleton — Provide Dock Regulation

Provisions for dust-proofing Charlevoix streets were made Monday night at the regular meeting of the city council.

Lengthy discussion of the matter resulted in direction of the street committee to make a survey of the city's needs and authorization to purchase sufficient calcium chloride to cover thoroughly all gravel streets. In connection with the street situation, it was brought out that Burns and Nettleton streets on the north side are being resurfaced and will later be treated with dust-proofing.

Work of the street department will be simplified by the purchase of a ten-foot grader blade for the city truck. The equipment is a hydraulic unit costing $604. Authorization for purchase was made Monday night. The blade will eliminate necessity of using the large wheel grader which required two men for operation.

Due to sanitary conditions on Lot 80 of Upright and Hurlbut addition, the council by resolution directed sewer be constructed and connected. A penalty of $100 fine or 60 days' imprisonment was included in the resolution.

The bid of the Charlevoix County State Bank of $2,010 for the $1,987 issue of Newman-Sheridan sewer bonds was accepted, also the bid of Emerson Hull for painting parking lines and traffic notices on Bridge street.

As the result of congestion at the city docks below Memorial Park, due largely, it is understood, to local residents using the slips for home-owned craft, the council gave Harbor Master William Bellinger police power to deal with the situation. His remuneration will be fees of the office.

The matter of providing office facilities for the justice of the peace was referred to committee with instructions to report at the next meeting.

BAPTIST BIBLE CLASS WILL OPEN MONDAY

Large Enrollment Anticipated for Seventh Year of School

With enrollment and interest growing each year since the school was inaugurated, this promises to be the best on record. The lessons taught the boys and girls are according to II Timothy 2:15: "To rightly divide the word of truth." Every boy and girl from the kindergarten through high school is welcome. Some of the subjects taught are synthetic Bible study, Bible stories, character stories, sword drills.

The hours of classes are 9:15 to 11:15 every morning except Saturday for two weeks.

SPORTSMAN CLUB PROGRAM STARTED

HAVE 100,000 FINGERLINGS AT REARING PONDS

Caretaker Employed at Full Time to Superintend Operations—Stock Best Ever Obtained

With the best lot of fingerlings ever obtained in Stover Creek rearing ponds and an experienced man in charge of the ponds for the summer, the Charlevoix Sportsmans' Club is anticipating one of its most successful seasons this year.

Nearly 100,000 fry, fingerlings and advanced fingerlings are being reared in the pond at the present time. There are 10,000 Mackinaw trout, 10,000 brook trout fingerling, 13,750 advanced brook trout fingerlings, about 25,000 German browns all told. They require at the present time approximately 100 pounds of ground liver as feed.

The feeding situation will be simplified this year by the installation of "bug lights." The lights, installed over the ponds, attract insects upon which the fish feed. The city council has agreed to erect the pole and string the wire, while the club will furnish material.

Herbert Yarrow, experienced in fish propagation work in state and federal hatcheries, has been employed by the club in full time to take care of the pond this year. Previously this work has been volunteered and in times of heavy rains many fingerlings were lost. With a man on the job at all times, the ponds will receive proper attention, predators will be kept away, with the result few, if any, fish will be lost.

The Mackinaw trout this season are being reared in the round tube fountain. In other years, placed in the running water of the rearing ponds, propagation of this species was unsuccessful. In addition to the fish outlined above, the club has 75,000 steelhead eyed-in process at hatching at the federal fish hatchery.

In a statement to the Courier representative today, Mr. Yarrow mentioned the fact he was experiencing difficulty with dogs breaking through the wire covering on the ponds and otherwise creating a nuisance. He warned the animals would be killed if not kept away.

GOVERNOR APPOINTS A FARM DEBT GROUP

Committee of Four Named to Work Out Farm Debt Adjustments

Appointment of a farm debt advisory committee for Charlevoix county was announced today by Governor Frank D. Fitzgerald. The county committee will cooperate with the Michigan Agricultural Advisory Credit Committee in an effort to solve rural debt problems.

Sabin Hooper, Boyne City, has been designated by the Governor to act as secretary of the committee. Other members are Wesley Dillworth, Boyne City, George Mayne, Charlevoix, and C. B. Bice, attorney-at-law, Charlevoix.

The governor has asked the committee to meet at once in order that the program of farm debt adjustment can get under way as soon as possible.

The debt adjustment work is being conducted in cooperation with the Rural Rehabilitation program of the FERA. James F. Thomson, commissioner of agriculture, is chairman of the Advisory Credit Committee. C. H. Wright is executive secretary with offices in the State Department of Agriculture, Lansing.

SIX MORE DAYS FOR 1936 TROUT FISHING

Season Extends from April 25 to Monday, September 7

In setting the last Saturday in April as the opening day of trout fishing, instead of May 1, the 58th State Legislature gave the trout angler of Michigan six additional days of fishing for 1936, says the Department of Conservation.

Opening of trout season next year comes on Saturday, April 25, under the new law. Several years ago the Legislature extended the season from September 1 to Labor Day and in 1936 Labor Day falls on Monday, September 7, affording seven days in September for trout fishing. The 58th Legislature also placed white bass in the list of fish that may be caught the year around in designated pike lakes.

DEPARTMENT OF STATE NEWS BULLETIN

Drivers Affected by Two New Acts

Two bill of the recent Legislature are of particular interest to automobile drivers of the state. One, Senate Bill No. 188, Senate Enrolled Act No. 131, provides that anyone whose operator's license has been suspended as the result of an accident, must, if he seeks reinstatement prior to the time set by the revocation order, apply to the circuit court of the county in which the accident occurred. The measure was drawn to guarantee to circuit judges the privilege of reviewing their own revocation orders.

The second measure, House Bill No. 150, House Enrolled Act No. 148, raises the offense of driving while improperly registered, or while not registered at all, from the list of violations for which conviction automatically brings the operator under the point system of the financial responsibility act of 1931. Since the latter act became laws nearly 2,000 operators have been brought under its provision, the "teeth" in the act being that the operator must prove financially to meet accident claims up to $11,000, which requires the posting of cash, securities or insurance policies in connection with the Secretary of State.

Officials of the Department of State believe that with this future possibility eliminated, the penalty for the misdemeanor of driving while improperly registered, is made somewhat more proportionate to the offense. There are, at present, approximately 100,000 persons operating automobiles in the state, without chauffeurs' licenses.

ADDITIONAL HOME MORTGAGE RELIEF

Explanatory Statement by Congressman Prentiss M. Brown

The legislation just enacted by the Congress makes three important changes in the Home Loan Law.

The first is that the time for filing applications for home loans has been extended for a period of thirty days beyond the date when the new bill becomes law by signature of the President. Applications will be considered from all persons whether or not they have heretofore applied.

Secondly, the bill provides an additional $1,750,000,000 for home mortgage relief and authorizes relief to home owners whose property is used in part for business purposes. This has been a subject of considerable controversy and difficulty and the amended act makes it clear that semi-business property, which is used in part by the owner as a home, is eligible for loans.

Third. It provides extension of aid to those who will improve apartment houses and other similar properties, and aid for repair and improvement of machinery in industry, such as, for example, the installation of equipment, either new or second hand, in a laundry, printing shop, or similar business. This aid is extended by way of insuring, up to 20 per cent of the total amount of such loans made by any bank or other lending institution. It is intended to encourage private capital to loan. Loans up to $50,000 are made eligible for such purposes.

AT THE MOVIES

Former Stars Back in Films for "Ruggles"

Few pictures in Hollywood are made today without their quota of old-timers, stars who were once accustomed to seeing their names up in lights on the principal streets of every city and who are now little more than memories to the first-nighters of today.

Sometimes, as on the sets of Paramount's "Ruggles of Red Gap," coming Saturday and Sunday, June 8 and 9, to the Palace Theatre, they get together and then the set buzzes with the names of Lillian Russell, Fritzi Scheff, John Drew and other idols of a past generation.

"Gold Diggers of 1935" Coming to Palace Theatre

"Gold Diggers of 1935," First National's latest mammoth musical spectacle, opens at the Palace Theatre Tuesday and Wednesday, June 11 and 12.

The picture is said to carry more unique and unusual numbers, greater song hits and more hilarious fun than any other musical produced by the company.

"Mississippi" Tuneful Film of Old Dixie

Bing Crosby, as Dixie's fiercest fighter and sweetest singer, heads the comedy, singing and romantic cast of Paramount's "Mississippi," which comes Thursday and Friday, June 13 and 14, to the Palace Theatre.

"Mississippi," a story of the Old South, stars Crosby with W. C. Fields and Joan Bennett, while Queenie Smith, John Miljan, Gail Patrick and the Cabin Kids are prominently featured in the supporting cast.

Among the Bible citations is the passage (Matt. 7:24, 25): "Therefore whosoever heareth these sayings of mine, and doeth them, I will liken him unto a wise man, which built his house upon a rock: And the rain descended, and the floods came, and the winds blew, and beat upon that house; and it fell not, for it was founded upon a rock."

TOOK OFF 17 LBS. OF UGLY FAT

HEEDED DOCTOR'S ADVICE

Mrs. Hobert Hickey, Roseville, Calif., writes "My doctor prescribed Kruschen Salts for me—he said they wouldn't hurt me in the least. I've lost 17 lbs. in 6 weeks. Kruschen is worth its weight in gold."

Mrs. Hickey paid no attention to gossipers who said there was no safe way to reduce. She wisely followed her doctor's advice. Why don't YOU?

Get in the Swim —in Michigan

WITH the passing of spring, everyone begins to think about vacation; and as you plan yours, you demand at least two features: It must be spent amid the kind of surroundings you like best. Its cost must not exceed the amount you have used as a maximum.

No matter what sort of vacation you prefer, the ideal site for it lies right in the State of Michigan. You need not go farther—and your money will!

If your favorite sport is fishing, you have in Michigan's tamed streams and myriad sparkling inland lakes the perfect angler's paradise. If you prefer golf, you can choose among hundreds of fine links throughout the State. If it is touring by automobile that appeals most to you, Michigan offers you alluring motor trails lined by an interesting variety of natural scenic beauties.

And if you are a lover of water sports, you will find your native State bountifully equipped to provide you with exactly the kind of vacation site you prefer. Here you can pick and choose among five thousand lakes, bodies of water ranging in size from a pond to a vast inland sea.

Spend your own vacation in Michigan. Call its unsurpassed facilities to the attention of your friends in neighboring states. By doing so, you will assure them of a pleasanter vacation. In addition, you will help to promote the popularity and prosperity of your native State.

It is for the purpose of doing our share in this promotion that this series of advertisements is being published by the Michigan Bell Telephone Company, an organization that prospers only as the citizens of Michigan prosper.

Correlative passages to be read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (p. 269): "The testimony of the material senses is neither absolute nor divine. Therefore plant myself unreservedly on the teaching of Jesus, of his apostles, of the prophets, and on the testimony of the Science of Mind. Other foundations there are none."

CHEVROLET CONTINUES TOP PRODUCTION

Will Continue Present Rate Through June, Possibly Longer

Production of Chevrolet passenger cars and trucks will continue at peak schedule throughout June, and probably considerably longer, W. E. Holler, vice president and general sales manager of the Chevrolet Motor Company, announced this week, following his return from a visit to the coast trip through the southwest, where he discussed with dealers and the wholesale organization in the field, the outlook for the next 10 days.

June factory projections, Mr. Holler said, are higher than in June of last year, and full capacity of the manufacturing units and the company's assembly plants will be required to carry out the program. This assures a wide spread of employment at a period when production normally begins to taper off. He added that it is the company's hope to maintain sales at such a level as to repeat the unprecedented achievement of last year, when Chevrolet sales in the second six months eclipsed those in the first.

TREMENDOUS TRIFLES

By ELMO SCOTT WATSON

GEORGE WASHINGTON, ASSASSIN

"GEORGE WASHINGTON, an assassin . . . Impossible!" you exclaim. But it's true, if we can believe a document that Washington himself signed.

On May 28, 1754, his Virginia militia made a surprise attack on a party of Frenchmen at Great Meadows in western Pennsylvania. They killed ten, including the leader, Coulon de Jumonville, and took twenty-one prisoners who claimed that Jumonville was an envoy sent to warn the English off the French lands. Since England and France were not at war, they said the attack was a violation of international law. Papers found on the dead proved that they were also scouts for a French force sent to drive the English out of that country.

Five weeks later, that force, commanded by Jumonville's brother, Coulon de Villiers, besieged Washington's little army at Fort Necessity. Rejecting two demands for a surrender, Washington held out until they put into writing the articles of capitulation.

It was a soggy, rainy day and the French note was "written in a bad hand on wet and blotted paper." In it Villiers twice stated that the French were not attacking the English, with whom they were at peace, but were only punishing "L'assassinat du Sieur de Jumonville." This was read to Washington by the light of a candle, which was blown out again and again by the rainy gale. The man who read it was Jacob Van Braam, a Dutchman, whose knowledge of French was meager. The word "Passassinat" he translated simply as "death or loss." So Washington signed the articles, not realizing that he was thus confessing to an "assassination."

It was a trifling error of interpretation but the French, who welcomed an excuse for war with "perfidious Albion," seized upon the young colonial officer's "confession." It played no small part in bringing on the conflict which raged in both Europe and America for seven years and resulted in France's losing all of her territory in North America to England.

POLKA DOT

DO YOU like to wear polka dot dresses, or, if you're a man, is a polka dot scarf your favorite necktie? If so, you can thank two men. One of them was a Hungarian dancing master and the other was the first "dark horse" in American political history.

In 1830 that dancing master—history has not preserved his name—was on a walking tour in Poland. In a small village he saw a peasant girl doing a folk dance which pleased him. He brought the new steps back to Prague, where it immediately won great popularity, and gave it the name "Polka" for the land of its origin.

Fourteen years later over in America, the Democratic party was trying to nominate a candidate for President at Baltimore. There was a deadlock.

Suddenly 44 votes were announced for James Knox Polk of Tennessee, who had served as speaker of the house of representatives but otherwise had a colorless political career.

This started a stampede which resulted in the first selection of a "dark horse" in convention history. When the news of his nomination was flashed from Baltimore to Washington over that new-fangled instrument, the telegraph, amazed citizens in the Capital exclaimed, "Who is Polk?"

As it turned out, he was the next President. For he defeated Henry Clay, the Whig nominee. During the campaign, the Hungarian dancing master's new dance came into this country. Because of the similarity of its name to that of the Democratic nominee, it became the official campaign amusement. Articles of various kinds were named for it and for him . . . and that's why we wear polka dot designs today.

A CIGARETTE

LOOK over a cigarette the next time you smoke one. It's not so very long, nor very thick. Probably the fraction of a cent that it costs you will never be missed. But such a trifle as a smouldering cigarette costs the United States—three billion dollars in fire losses every year! Experts estimate that the average smoker throws away at least a third of the cigarette, and if the little trifle is not put out . . . !

In 1620 the Puritans tried to pass a law against the planting of tobacco. This decree was the forerunner of the whole code of prohibitive laws. It was a losing fight however. So Massachusetts set a tax on its use.

"Any persons or person who shall be found smoking tobacco on the Lord's day, going to or coming from the meetings, or within two miles of the meeting house, shall pay 12 pence for every such default." As almost the whole community lived within the two miles limit, this caught them all.

Even today there are still some states in the Union that forbid the sale of tobacco on Sunday. Well it all depends on what you like. And if you like to smoke, remember the three billion dollars and put out your stubs.

GREAT FEATS OF MEMORY PUT ON HISTORIC RECORD

Unless there is something unusually difficult in memorizing figures quickly, the young Serb of Belgrade who claims to have set up a world's record by committing to memory in ten minutes a number containing more than eighty figures does not seem to have done anything remarkable. He would at any rate have had a formidable rival in James Milnes Gaskell, a cousin of Lord Houghton (Monckton Milnes), who once repeated the tellers in every house of commons division for the preceding sixty years and suggested an "amusing game" which consisted in each player giving the name of a parliamentary borough and the persons who had represented it during the same sixty years. Gaskell said that he and his father once played at that game nearly a whole day without stopping. What prodigies of useless knowledge they must have been!

Another remarkable feat of memory is recorded of a soldier who served in the New Zealand expeditionary force during the war. He claimed that he could remember the name and number of every soldier in his battalion, and his claim was unexpectedly put to a test when the battalion headquarters were blown up and all the records were destroyed. But the soldier, who is now a professor at Edinburgh university, was as good as his word and supplied the missing details.—Montreal Herald.

Task for Scholar

A great Greek scholar, when visiting a woman's college in the United States, was asked whether he would do the institution the compliment of translating their college motto into Greek. He courteously agreed and then asked what the motto was. It was placed before him and he read the words: "Deo without purpose is piffle."

Big Army of Hunters

Nearly 6,000,000 hunters paid close to $9,000,000 for state licenses in 1933, the latest year for which records are available, says the biological survey in summarizing reports from state conservation departments.

ISLE ROYALE

Not alone the midwest but the whole nation should be alive to the value of establishing Isle Royale in Lake Superior as a national park. There are few, if any, places left in America which match this island for wilderness and rugged beauty. Michigan, Minnesota and Wisconsin are now united in a movement which has the support of the Izaak Walton League and other nature lovers to acquire funds for a park which already has been authorized by Congress. Activity has been stimulated by the news that the private owners of much of the island's timber are contemplating a logging program which, with its ally fire, would destroy in a year a forest wilderness which centuries alone can replace.

Isle Royale lies about 200 miles northeast of Duluth and fourteen miles east of the Canadian shore. It is nearly fifty miles long, from five to nine miles wide, and comprises 229 square miles mostly virgin forests of spruce and fir. It is dotted with beautiful small lakes, has more moose than any other area in the land, a vast variety of smaller wild life, and innumerable birds. In the winter it is almost unoccupied and inaccessible. In the summer it is a much sought resort by those who know of it here, and it contains some fine cabins.

Michigan owns some 2,200 acres which it will transfer to the national park authorities, and public spirited private owners have promised to yield most of their holdings. It is the opportunity to create for all people such a park as only nature can create.

It is only to the state's interest to protect it but a serious menace to the best [illegible] before the coming of the white man and before the day of exploitation by industrial people were pretty much out of copper. Although much nearer the Canadian than the United States, it was opened to the country in the early day of midwest history.

There is every reason why its natural character should be preserved, and it is hoped the movement will meet with prompt success.—Chicago Tribune.

SAFETY WEEK BENEFITS

Michigan has just concluded its annual safety education week, a period set aside for the purpose of arousing public opinion to a realization of the responsibility that goes with the operation of a motor vehicle. NOT SURPRISING

After spending tax money for the purpose of bringing summer visitors to Michigan from all parts of the country it would seem poor business to spoil their visit by compelling them to drive over poor roads. That is why we are in sympathetic agreement with an editorial appearing in the current issue of the Belleview Herald:

"The Upper Peninsula Development Bureau reports that the American Automobile Association and a certain large midwest city is advising tourists to stay away from Upper Michigan because of flood conditions here. The AAA claim is one of the complaints have been made by motorists who have made trips to the Upper Peninsula at the suggestion of their travel information bureaus.

"These reports are not in the least surprising. In fact they are a long time coming. The tourist knows as well as the Upper Peninsula resident that our main trunk lines, US-2 and US-41, are terrible road over considerable stretches.

"Imagine tourists driving on Lower Michigan fine concrete roads and heading for the famed outdoor vacation spots in Upper Michigan. After leaving the state ferry at St. Ignace and driving over a few miles of concrete, the bewildered tourists virtually enter the Upper Peninsula on US-2 over miles of wretched road. If it's raining, they plow through inches of mud. If it's dry, they drive through continual clouds of dust that are always present when the traffic is heavy. Right off the bat the tourist's impression of the Upper Peninsula is anything but favorable and all because of the poor roads.

"You can promote the tourist business until doomsday but you won't succeed without good roads. Despite the primeval beauty of its virgin forests, its splendid lakes and rivers, its many resort centers, its famed fishing and hunting, the Upper Peninsula will never take its rightful place among the leading vacation spots of the land. No one despises poor roads more than the tourist and he will only come here once if he doesn't hear from someone else beforehand about our roads.

"Immediate paving of our main trunk lines is imperative. It is high time our politicians, both above and below the Straits, come across with something more than promises for good roads for the Upper Peninsula."

THE NEBRASKA CHEOPS

Graft, in the personal, peruniary sense, is not always the supreme weakness of the politician. Even the enemies of Senator Norris of Nebraska concede his personal honesty. Yet in the twilight of his career he has succumbed to venality and the cost to the nation is greater than had he given way to avarice.

Besides the hundreds of millions being wasted on Senator Norris' resettlement daydream, the Tennessee Valley Authority; Boss Tweed' construction of the New York courthouse was a petty cash transaction. We have to go back to Gizeh and its pyramids to find a parallel.

Cheops and Chephren plunged Egypt into poverty for a century, taxed their subjects from needful years on the gold to go into their huge personal monuments. Cheops, Herodotus said, prostituted his own daughter to obtain funds for his vast and useless project, and that enterprising maiden built a small pyramid with stones donated by her lovers. So Senator Norris and those of his ilk are prostituting the credit and draining the resources of the nation to which they render lip service that they may have funds for Norris dam and the other paraphernalia of a socialized state.

Cheops' great pyramid had an advantage over the Norris dam. Once it was finished the Egyptians were quit of their misery. Completion of Norris dam, expensive as it is, will but signal the start of the drain which its sponsor's vanity has placed upon the public purse. Subventions to operate an uneconomic project will continue in perpetuity.

Senator Norris has monumentized his cost to the nation would be unimportant if the TVA commissioners would be content to prepare his sarcophagus within its recesses and let it stand forever, as idle and useless as the pyramids.—Chicago Tribune.

AN EXCEPTION

Not all college professors are to be put in that class of abortive idealists currently employed by the brain trusters now in government employ in Washington. An outstanding example of the cool headed, clear thinking type we refuse to subscribe to idiotic innovations is to be found in our own University of Michigan in the person of Prof. Ralph W. Aigler, member of the law faculty of that great educational institution. Thinking Americans can do themselves no greater constructive service than by writing Prof. Aigler requesting a copy of an address he delivered a few days ago before the Economic Club, Chicago, entitled "The Twilight of Democracy." It is safe to say that much of your present contact regarding college professors will disappear once you have read his keen call for a national return to old-fashioned ideals and ideals in the conduct of government. Be sufficiently thoughtful to include postage stamps with your request.

A GRAVE PROBLEM

Two persons were reported to have lost their lives in traffic accidents during "Safety Education Week," prompting comment that something more drastic than educational coercion is needed to weed these potential killers from the highways. Right now no body claims to have found the right solution to the problem, but eventually a way will be discovered for their elimination. Human life is too precious to let such ghastly slaughter continue much longer. It is a common occurrence for the motorist driving at moderate speed to have cars whizz past that are just a short step removed from the junk pile, tires worn to the fabric, yet being driven at blinding speed by some harebrained idiot unable to evince an accident in the making. That more fatalities do not occur from such recklessness is the wonder of those who daily witness such occurrences. Unless the death toll is shortly reduced to a minimum we are going to find the old speed limit laws being dug out of the ash heap and once more made a part of our motoring code. Probably the sooner the better.

THE FINAL CHECK

At the time this is being written the 1935 regular session of the Michigan Legislature is drawing to a close. It would be a simple matter to engage in general condemnation of its labors, but that would not be fair. Scrutiny later of its accomplishments will no doubt reveal a number of timely measures enacted into law, while perhaps other and necessary matters, particularly Governor Fitzgerald's economy program, were shelved for reasons mostly known to the individual legislators.

The better way will be to wait until sufficient time has elapsed following adjournment before passing final judgment. At that time a systematic check on those who have been charged with hamstringing the governor's program for purely selfish reasons will be easier to determine. In fact, the governor has indirated doing that very thing. Mr. Average Citizen has made it plain in recent years that he is thoroughly satiated with candidates who refuse to keep their campaign pledges. And that is as it should be. Unless punishment is meted out to the guilty there can be no hope of cutting down the tax load by administering government in a businesslike way.

THE CARFLESS DRIVER

Almost upon the eve of "Michigan Safety Education Week" eleven persons lost their lives in week-end traffic accidents. A careful checkup of these fatalities places the cause of the majority at the door of the careless driver. State Police realizing the menace of the motorist who ignores the rules of the road are engaged in the task of sorting them out and recording their driving history at Lansing where it will be available when license renewal is necessary. Too many adverse notations will require considerable explanation as to their fitness to operate a motor vehicle. Eventually the careless motorist will eliminate himself from the highway. During Education Week there are three words that should be firmly implanted in the minds of every driver of an automobile. "DRIVE CAREFULLY TODAY."

A SHORT WORD

The story is told of a young man who was about to become a partner in the family store. He met an old farmer who gave him some advice.

"Well, Sid, I hear your father is going to take you into the business. Of course he'll give you a lot of advice, and your uncle, who owns the bank, will lend you all the money you need. But I can tell you something that you'll find mighty useful. Just remember that the answer to most propositions is 'Hell, No.'"

That advice was mighty sound.

Many of the troubles that we have today are due to the fact that business men of a few years ago did not say "no" in the emphatic manner that the old farmer suggested.

Much of the trouble that the nation may have in the future will be due, to the fact that the taxpayer cannot say it today.—Grand Rapids (Minn.) Herald Review.

FRESHENING BREEZES

General Jornson says the NRA is a red hot poker. So that's the reason the old boy grabbed hold of it so suddenly, eh?

A pioneer is a fellow who ran off and married the girl back when farm neighbors meant marrying off the old maid daughter to the hired man.

An Indiana sow, has just pushed Secretary Wallace's birth control program out of shape by farrowing 24 pigs. How moon iberate.

A hick town is a place where some of the good folks of the hamlet have to go out on a vacation whenever they feel the need of shedding some of their robes of inhibition.

A march on Washington by 150 industrialists to boost for the NRA is being planned. And all the while we were laboring under the delusion that the Blue Eagle was what was ailing industry.

Let the brain trusters sneer at rugged individualism, but what this nation needs today is more of the rugged individualism displayed by Washington and Lincoln during the long dark nights of American freedom.

And Now In Closing

When you reverently pause on Memorial Day to appraise its significance, remember there are those in our midst who counsel exchange of this Liberty gained at so costly a price for the rule of the proletariat. Has the time not arrived when these termites boring at the foundation of government be destroyed lest we awaken some morning to find that the pillars of the Republic have fallen into dust?

Honor 25th Anniversary of Coronation

All Britain is looking forward to the silver jubilee celebration to be held this year on May 6, commemorating the twenty-fifth anniversary of King George's accession to the crown. Many splendid fetes have been planned.

One of the most unusual projects to commemorate the event is the acquisition of a new forest which is to be known as "The King's Forest." Some 6,000 acres will be named after the monarch, who recently gave his permission. In the forest a three-mile beech avenue will also be planted. It will be called "Queen Mary's Avenue."

Unique Hospital Ship Takes Plunge

Builders Launch Unusual Vessel at Camden

"The St. John's Guild," hospital ship, left, is seen sliding down the ways into the water at Camden, N. J. An elaborate arrangement of 25 water-tight compartments makes this ship the true "unsinkable" craft. She is 181 feet, 4 inches in length, and has a beam of 49 feet. Accommodations are provided for 1,500 persons, and there are special arrangements for children. The upper terraced deck can be converted into either a dance floor or a theater, and there is a 10-foot promenade all around her deck that is glass enclosed forward to provide a sun deck in cold weather. She is said to be the only vessel of her kind in existence.

RUSSIAN THOROUGHNESS

For several years Russia has been collecting samples of wheat from a number of countries in order to find the kind which will grow best in each of its great variety of climates. Today, writes D. V. O'Connell, Leningrad, U. S. S. R., in Collier's Weekly, it has 30,000 samples labeled and stored in Leningrad, a supply large and varied enough to resow the entire wheat crop of the world.

WHEN LIVES ARE AT STAKE

You need the same protection that race drivers demand

KELLY PETILLO ON MAY 30, WON the 500-Mile Indianapolis Race on Firestone Tires, breaking the track record and driving the entire distance at a rate of 106.24 miles per hour.

This record is an outstanding demonstration of tire efficiency. To go 500 miles in less than five hours on this rough and humpy 26-year-old brick track, without tire trouble of any kind, demonstrates the strength and blowout protection that Firestone builds into their Gum-Dipped Tires.

AB JENKINS ALSO RECENTLY demonstrated the stamina, efficiency, and blowout protection built into Firestone Gum-Dipped Tires. He drove his 5000 pound car over the hot salt beds at Lake Bonneville, Utah, 3000 miles in 23½ hours. This was an average speed of 127.2 miles per hour, and although temperatures were as high as 120°, he had no blowouts or tire trouble of any kind.

These records are made possible by special construction features built into Firestone Tires.

Take no chances—protect your life and the lives of others by letting us equip your car with Firestone Tires and give you the Safety and Blowout Protection that race drivers demand.

Before you buy new tires ask yourself these three questions

1—"Will the tread give me the greatest traction and protection against skidding?"

2—"Are they built to give me the greatest blowout protection?"

3—"Without sacrificing these two important safety features will they give me longer mileage, thus making them the most economical tires I can buy?"

ANSWER No. 1—Leading university tests show Firestone High Speed Tires stop your car 15% quicker than the best of all popular makes of tires.

ANSWER No. 2—Unequaled performance records for sixteen consecutive years prove that Gum-Dipping gives you the greatest blowout protection ever known.

ANSWER No. 3—Thousands of car owners report unequaled mileage records—evidence of the longer wear and greater economy of Firestone High Speed Tires.

1 University tests show Firestone tires stop cars 15 to 25% quicker.
2 Gum-Dipped cords give greater blowout protection. Gum-Dipping is not used in other tires.
3 Wider, flatter tread gives more than 50% longer non-skid wear.

The county was divided into one group, instead of [illegible] as was the case last year. The election of a member of the board of directors resulted in the following five being chosen with the following duties: William A. Shepard, East Jordan, president; Robert F. The members of the allotment committee selected, in addition to the president and vice-president, were: William H. Mayne, Charlevoix, and Carl Prohaska, Boyne City.

Other business conducted was the adoption of the articles of association, of a budget covering the entire 12 months, and the determination of the county average yield of corn, which is necessary in all contracts [illegible] county [illegible] as large as last year when we had 68 farmers who signed the movement, but it is a good average as compared with other counties in the state. Sheep Dipping Vat to Be Constructed

On Thursday, June 13, at the farm of R. K. Paddock, a sheep dipping vat will be constructed as a demonstration. This will be the second one to be built. Following the recommendations of the Michigan State College, and it is hopeful that it will be the means of having more constructed. The demonstration will take place at the farm of R. K. Paddock, Charlevoix, located just west of the Barnard road. The public demonstration will be held during the afternoon, as the vat is nearly completed, so that all sheep owners can actually see it construction. Mr. Bell will discuss the various features incorporated in its design.

This vat is 14 feet in length, including the exit from the tank. It is 34 inches wide at the top, and 22 inches at the bottom, which permits all sheep being dipped to be completely immersed. In leaving the vat itself, the sheep walk onto a draining platform, approximately 10 feet square. This takes care of the liquid that runs off the sheep and allows it to run back into the tank itself, thus saving a large amount of the solution that otherwise would be lost.

A cordial invitation is extended to all sheep owners in the county to be present during the middle of the afternoon to see the completed tank, and to hear about its cost of construction. The vat itself is made out of concrete, which makes it permanent and useful, over an indefinite length of time. Don't forget! Thursday, June 13. Hope to see you there.

DISTRICT HEALTH UNIT BULLETIN

Sunshine and Cod Liver Oil Prevent Rickets

The care of a baby is a great privilege. His is a new life given a mother to mold in the way she would have him grow. He is dependent on his mother not only for his very being, but also for his care and guidance during his early years—years so precious because every day means new growth of body and new development of mind and personality.

Every mother who wishes her baby to have robust health should give him regular sun baths from early infancy until he is old enough to play in the sun himself. Sun baths may begin when the baby is three or four weeks old, in warm weather outdoors, in cold weather indoors at an open window. Sunshine has a great deal to do with the proper development of the baby's bones. Make use of all there is available. Protect the baby's eyes, but have the sun shine on his body while he sleeps outdoors.

The ultraviolet rays of the sun must reach the skin if the baby is to get the beneficial effects. These rays do not pass through ordinary window glass, so the child must either be out of doors or before an open window.

During the winter, sunbaths should be given indoors, with the baby placed in sunlight coming through a window open at the top. The room should be well heated so that he will not be chilled. The face, hands and legs should be exposed daily for increasing periods. As the weather moderates, more of the body may be uncovered until by the first of June the entire surface is exposed. By summer time the sunbaths should be given one hour in the morning and one hour in the afternoon. A good tan is evidence that the baby has received the ultraviolet rays of the sun.

Among diseases of infants, we find rickets a very common one. This is a disease that affects the whole body, but most strikingly the bones, which may become greatly deformed. It is caused by lack of sunlight and of a special substance found in foods, called Vitamin D. The food that contains the most Vitamin D is cod liver oil. In the temperate zones cod liver oil as well as sunlight is needed to prevent rickets. Even though a baby is born in the spring and receives sun baths throughout his first summer, he should also be given cod liver oil. A winter baby cannot get enough sunshine, so he especially needs cod liver oil. It should be given to every baby throughout his first two years of life, beginning at two weeks of age, whether he is breast-fed or artificially fed.

Through the aid of the cooperative counties, Antrim, Charlevoix, Emmet and Otsego, the District Health Department has distributed several cod liver oil to infants and small children during the past year. The "bootleg sunshine" has, in many cases, prevented the development of rickets which would have resulted in bone deformities and poor teeth.

EDITORIAL

FARM INCOME

How many times we hear agitators making the statement that our economic ills are the result of 2 per cent of the population possessing 80 per cent of the wealth. Sounds good over the radio, or from a convenient soapbox, but it is far from being the truth. From a report of the Brookings Institution on "America's Capacity to Consume" we glean the following relative to the distribution of farm incomes:

The richest 20 per cent of the farmers receive almost 50 per cent of all the farm income, while the richest 20 per cent of the non-farmers receive over 58 per cent of the non-farm income. On this basis it appears that the concentration of wealth among the more wealthy farmers is almost as excessive as it is among the more wealthy people in the industrial and commercial groups of our population. Moreover the concentration of poverty shows a somewhat similar condition at the other end of the economic scale. Among farmers the poorest 20 per cent of the families receive less than four per cent of the farm income, while among non-farming families the poorest 20 per cent receive just over four per cent of the income."

Most of the recent and current discussion in advocacy of the redistribution of wealth and income assumes that the problems involved are primarily related to wealth in the form of corporate securities, and to special privileges, vested interests, and unfair advantages secured by the employment of skilled legal advice. The distributions as shown in the report afford little support for these popular assumptions. They show there are grave practical difficulties to be overcome in the task of securing and maintaining a more nearly equal distribution of wealth and income.

The farmers have not until recently enjoyed special privileges, and exploited vested interests at the expense of the rest of the population. Certainly they enjoyed no such exceptional advantages in 1929, the year covered by the report. They conducted their business without the aid of corporations and stocks and bonds, and they did not have the help of expensive legal aids. Nevertheless they somehow managed to divide up their total income among themselves in just about as distorted fashion as did the rest of the population. Apparently there must exist some factors to account for this that have not commonly been taken into account. Perhaps there are inherent differences of ability, energy, and thrift which enter into the matter, and which the new legislation of equalization must devise means for leveling out.

LEADING THE WAY

Most of the business recovery that we have had in this country in the past two years has been contributed by three industrial corporations. They are the three leading producers of automobiles who manufacture most of the cars and trucks that are made in this country. All of the net gain in the volume of industrial production from 1933 to 1934 was equal to that made by the automotive industries, and the suppliers of its materials, and the gain over 1934 in the production of 1935 over 1934 has been mostly due to the same factors.

These astonishing results are a striking tribute to the ability of the producers to improve the quality of their goods, and to decrease their prices, in spite of higher wage rates and shorter hours. They also form a vivid testimony of the desire of the American people for new and better individual and family transportation. Nevertheless the optimism of automobile manufacturing does not furnish an adequate basis for gain at business recovery. We need an expanding economy spreading from one industry to another. Like a helicopter or rocket in that we cannot rely on [illegible] to employment.

It seems likely [illegible] automobile production for the next [illegible] five years, but it is probable that it will hold up relatively well during the rest of the year. Another helpful additional factor in the outlook is to be found in the current reports for new construction which are showing increases. If the coal mining industry could offer increasingly better value at progressively lower prices, so that each purchaser would be entitled to feel he had secured a real bargain, as the automobile industry normally is doing, our recovery problems would find rapid solution.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE— WITHOUT CALOMEL

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

If you feel sour and sunk and the world looks punk, don't remain a lot of salts, mineral waters, oil, laxative candy or chewing gum and expect them to make you suddenly sweet and buoyant and full of sunshine.

For they can't do it. They only move the bowels and a mere movement doesn't get at the cause. The reason for your down-and-out feeling is your liver. It should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily.

If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas bloats up your stomach. You have a thick, bad taste and your breath is foul. Your skin often breaks out in blemishes. Your head aches and you feel down and out. Your whole system is poisoned.

It takes those good, old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get those two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." They contain wonderful, harmless, gentle vegetable extracts, amazing when it comes to making the bile flow freely.

But don't ask for liver pills. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Look for the name Carter's Little Liver Pills on the red label. Resist substitute. 25c at drug stores. © 1981 C. M. Co.

NATIONAL HOUSING DAY IS NEXT WEEK

Quota of 2,000 Homes Set for Observance June 15th

Report from various sections of Michigan indicate that National Housing Day, June 15, will be observed in at least a hundred communities by breaking ground for a new model home.

The quota set for the nation is a whole 2,000 model homes.

One community, Wyandotte, has set 15 model houses as it goal. It is expected that ground will be broken for at least 50 model homes in Detroit on that date.

Raymond M. Foley, state director of the Federal Housing Administration, sent a memorandum to Better Housing Program chairmen in some 100 Michigan communities and it is expected that, within the next week, entries from out-state will start to arrive.

This will be the first occasion of the kind in the history of the country and is expected to call dramatically to the attention of prospective home owners and the public generally the benefits to be derived from Title Two of the National Housing Act and to serve notice that home building is going forward again after five years of virtual paralysis of the building industry.

Under Title Two of the National Housing Act prospective home owners with assured incomes may secure, from qualified financial institutions, government-insured mortgages up to $16,000, with a maximum of 20 years to pay and may borrow up to 80 per cent of the total investment, including site.

SUNDAY DINNER SUGGESTIONS
By Ann Page

The list of available summer fruits is longer each week and more of them are available to the average consumer. Cherries and peaches are lower as are cantaloupes and watermelons. Excellent values are to be found in oranges and bananas. Pineapples are somewhat higher. Blueberries, blackberries and huckleberries are fairly high.

New potatoes are the outstanding vegetable value though spinach, peas and cabbage are also cheap. Also on the low priced group are green beans, beets, carrots, white turnips and summer squash. Tomatoes are much lower though not yet cheap. Boston type lettuce offers better value than Iceberg.

Butter and eggs are moderate in price. Forequarter cuts of beef, veal and lamb are the best meat values obtainable.

Here are three menus made up from reasonable foods adapted to different budget levels.

Cold Cuts Potato Salad
Pickled Beets
Hot Gingerbread Lemon Sauce

OPEN SEASON ON CATS IN MICHIGAN PROVIDED

Michigan has declared an open season on cats—be they Angora, wild or alley cat.

Governor Fitzgerald has signed a measure amending the general hunting laws to include the felines in the predatory class. Cats may be killed the year round.

The only protection afforded the felines are city and village ordinances precluding the use of firearms within corporate limits, and prohibiting use on farm lands.

CHARLEVOIX COURIER

VOLUME 40. NUMBER 24 — EIGHT PAGES — THE CHARLEVOIX COURIER, WEDNESDAY, JUNE 12, 1935 — PRICE $2.00 PER YEAR

PUBLIC WORKS PROGRAM ON HIGHWAYS

TWENTY MILLION OUTLAY OUTLINED BY VAN WAGONER

Twenty-five Per Cent of Federal and State Funds Will Be Spent in Northern Michigan

State Highway Commissioner Murray D. Van Wagoner has drafted a public works construction program of $20,000,000 for Michigan highway and railroad grade separations.

The new program to be rushed to Washington for federal approval includes $13,000,000 in a work relief grant and $7,000,000 in federal aid projects. The latter will be expended on a matched-fund basis under the state law with the federal government and the state funds being $3,500,000 each.

The new program was created during an all night session of Commissioner Van Wagoner and his staff. It was whipped into shape less than twelve hours after the commissioner and Vainum B. Stemhough, deputy commissioner and counsel, returned from Washington by airplane where they received new word of federal regulations. Immediate action was possible because the commissioner had anticipated general provisions of the program two months ago and had expanded his drafting force.

Significant features of the new program mean:

1. Expenditure of federal funds on county roads for the first time.

2. General exclusion of highway construction projects of municipalities under the works relief phase of the program.

3. Probabilities that much of the road construction fund will be used at this time for grading with surfacing to be applied later under the federal aid program.

4. Selection of projects requiring 90 per cent relief labor.

5. Expenditure of the $7,000,000 of federal aid money under the state law. This requires that 50 per cent of the fund be allocated below Town Line 12 (south of the city of Saginaw, east and west), 25 per cent above this line, and 25 per cent in the Upper Peninsula.

6. A division of the $13,000,000 work relief grant into $6,300,000 for roads and $6,700,000 for railroad grade separations.

Commissioner Van Wagoner said he hoped to start advertising for bids under the new program within two weeks after final federal approval.

County roads are brought into the federal relief picture for the first time. New regulations require that 75 per cent of the road fund shall be expended on state and federal aid trunklines and 25 per cent on county roads. Commissioner Van Wagoner hopes to build low-cost oil aggregate surfaces that are dust proof on county roads.

Labor requirements preclude any general trunkline street development through municipalities. The only type of road projects available in the cities is surfacing. Cost of materials and equipment, however, will prevent surfacing projects to qualify under the works relief program. City streets, on the other hand, will qualify under the federal aid phase of the program.

Grade separation projects may be selected without limitation as to location except that not less than 25 per cent of the funds must be spent on crossings off the federal aid system. Respective mileage of the various railroads must also be taken into consideration.

Labor regulations call for an 8 hour day and 5 days a week. Rates are expected to range from 30 to 40 cents an hour for unskilled, 44 to 60 cents for intermediate, and 60 to 80 cents for skilled labor.

Commissioner Van Wagoner pointed out that a number of projects which had been tentatively proposed "must necessarily be discarded in view of the revised regulations."

Capt. Allers also reported taking five trap nets from Lake Huron earlier in the week. Value of the seven nets is estimated at $3,000.

HOTEL CHARLEVOIX DESTROYED FRIDAY

FLAMES REDUCE STRUCTURE TO COMPLETE RUIN

Hotel Established Over Fifty Years Ago; Operated Ten Years by Dr. and Mrs. C. J. Winder

In the most disastrous fire this city has experienced in many years, the Hotel Charlevoix was reduced to ruins last Friday.

Flames, thought to have been caused from chimney spark of an adjoining building, ignited the south roof and soon spread throughout the upper structure, crept through partitions and floors until practically the entire building was a mass of flames. The conflagration, starting at around 10 o'clock in the morning, was not extinguished until late afternoon. The local fire department played a half dozen lines of hose on the flames in addition to chemical, and the East Jordan department, responding to a call for assistance, operated two lines from its pumper fed from Round Lake at the rear of the structure.

The hotel, valued at $37,000, was built over fifty years ago. It has been operated the past ten years by Dr. and Mrs. C. J. Winder, who had greatly improved the property. Partial insurance was carried. Dental equipment owned by Dr. Winder was destroyed. A portion of the hotel furniture was carried to safety, but many items of a valuable collection of curios which adorned the lobby and were a lifetime collection of the owners were lost.

Destruction of Hotel Charlevoix removed one of Northern Michigan's best known hostelries and is an irreparable loss to the owners.

HIGH SCHOOL BASEBALL SEASON CLOSED

Kipmen Lost Final Game to Petoskey 12 to 1 Friday—Finish Second

Charlevoix High school completed its competition in the Northern Michigan High School Baseball League last Friday, losing by a 12 to 1 score to Petoskey.

Weinrich, the best high school hurler produced in the league this season, limited Charlevoix to one hit. The Kipmen scored in the last inning when Ager, shortstop, walked, stole second and scored on two passed balls.

Carey was ineffective against Petoskey. The winners made nine hits, stole eleven bases, were given six walks and had three batters hit by pitched balls.

Petoskey's victory gave them the league title with eleven win and one defeat. Charlevoix finished in second place with three defeats charged against them, two by Petoskey and one by Harbor Springs.

Notice!

A sum of money was found in the gymnasium following graduation exercises Wednesday evening. The owners should communicate with Supt. O. P. North.

Other events of the three day program are well under way with the pageantorium scheduled to receive considerable attention the coming week.

The historical program, an elaborate 76 page booklet, containing around 30,000 words of history of Charlevoix county and the program of events for the entire three days including a detailed program of the pageant itself, will be off the press the last of the month. Inasmuch as the issue will be limited, those wishing to be certain of securing one or more copies should place their order in advance with the secretary of the Homecoming Committee, Miss Florence Gibson.

GRADUATION PROGRAM IMPRESSIVE

WONDERFUL ADDRESS GIVEN BY DR. S. PARKES CADMAN

Fifty Charlevoix High School Seniors Awarded Diplomas at Commencement Wednesday Night

Fifty members of the Charlevoix High school graduating class of '35 were awarded diplomas at the commencement exercises held last Wednesday evening at the high school gymnasium.

An attendance estimated at 1,500 persons, the largest, it is believed, ever present at a similar function here, packed the gym to capacity. Other than the desire of parent and friends to pay homage to the graduates, the drawing magnet was Dr. S. Parkes Cadman, of New York City, who lived up to its reputation as one of the country's outstanding orators. Persons who for years had read his published orations and heard his radio addresses came from distant points to hear the good man in person.

The commencement program in its entirety was in outstanding success. Jack Withers and Charles Levinson very ably gave the salutatory and valedictory address. Musical selections included two offerings by the high school band which, incidentally, was being organized by Dr. Cadman, a vocal solo by Miss Ruth Dowd, a companion at the piano by Alta Lynn Mace, a bass solo by John Bloch, and a violin solo by Warren Shapton, all [illegible] numbers.

Harry E. Baughan, high school principal, presented the class and [illegible] were awarded by Harlan C. Kiser, president of the board of education. Rev. W. W. Hurd gave the invocation and benediction.

The gymnasium was artistically decorated with flowers. Members of the junior class acted as ushers.

Activities of the graduates were brought to a close last Thursday with a trip to Fabius on Fabius Fall in the Upper Peninsula.

For the lower school grades, class parties were held Thursday afternoon and certificates of promotion were awarded Friday morning, thus closing the school year.

RED SOX WON SUNDAY FROM MANCELONA "9"

Charlevoix' Red Sox turned in another baseball victory Sunday, winning 9 to 3 at Mancelona.

The Red Sox converted 10 hits into nine runs, scoring two in the first, five in the fourth and two more in the sixth inning. They were charged with two errors, I. Denemy and S. Lord were the winning battery.

Mancelona made seven hits and three errors. They failed to make a count until the last half of the ninth inning, then scoring three. Wood and Miller were the battery for the losers.

"Stub" Lord, who is second in team batting since the season opened, hit a three-bagger, while Shores and Denemy connected with two-base hits.

Charlevoix made two double plays during the contest. The Red Sox play away from home again next Sunday when they meet Manistee on their home diamond.

CITY MAY ACQUIRE WINDER PROPERTY

MATTER UP AT ADJOURNED MEETING THURSDAY

Acquisition Would Provide Continuation of Plan to Park East Side of Bridge Street

Acquisition of the Winder property to continue the city's plan of parking the east side of Bridge street fronting Round Lake harbor will be a special order of business before the common council at an adjourned session to be held Thursday evening.

Purchase of the property, made available by destruction of the Hotel Charlevoix in Friday's disastrous fire, was a question which occupied the council at its regular session Monday night. Following considerable discussion, the council unofficially went on record favoring purchase provided the price was on a par with that paid for property already acquired by the city.

At the present time the city has under way a program of landscaping the Boak and Washburn properties which adjoin the Winder frontage on the north. In event of purchase the city would continue the program to the south line of the Winder property, which would transform the greater portion of the block between Clinton and Mason streets into a park.

Three special summer policemen were appointed by Mayor Adam and confirmed by the council. They were Ivan Falconer for Moonlight Gardens, Dell Provost for the Chicago Club, and Dell Dutcher for the beer garden operated by Mrs. Della Jeffery. The appointees have police power only on the premises designated.

The regular two weeks' payroll aggregating $1,300.92 was approved and ordered paid.

WROTE THEIR OWN TICKET

Following repeal of prohibition in Indiana two years ago licenses were granted to the sale of beer and other intoxicants in bottles to taverns and similar places outside incorporated communities much the same as exists in Michigan today. At the time licenses were issued owners and operators were virtually given to understand they were to write their own ticket, the Indiana liquor control board's slogan at its first meeting and adhered to ever since being "Moderation and decency." Without the past month the board governing the sale of liquor in the state has been confronted with the task of revoking the licenses of 1,200 places, ultimately calls will be made to wipe out the entire number. It took just a little more than a year for them to discover a few bad boys had made and the list will be lost no time in making a start. The retail dealers in Indiana who are now out of business can blame their own greed for their plight. Instead of accepting the legal right to operate as a privilege to be carefully protected they soon went into high pedal down the road of unbridled license and now find themselves permanently out of the picture. The people of Indiana were willing to give them a fair trial, but the sale of intoxicants to persons under the legal age limit; operation of their places at all hours of the day and night, seven days in the week; cabin camps and dance halls in connection with places where liquor was being dispensed; with no attempt at decency or to protect society, all brought a feeling of disgust and eventually a ban on such open defiance of the law. In Michigan very little complaint is heard concerning the liquor business within incorporated communities, especially in the smaller cities and villages. It is the unscrupulous operator in the out-of-the-way spots who is responsible for the gradually growing demand that Michigan follow the Indiana policy in wiping them out of existence. When that happens the good will suffer along with the vicious. If the rural retailers are wise in their day and generation they will begin immediately to set their house in order. There is plenty of time remaining before another general election to bring about reformation. It is to the interest of the decent retailer to seek out habitual offenders who are causing all the discontent and adverse criticism and see that their licenses are revoked. The people as a whole have no desire to return to prohibition, but that is exactly what is going to happen if the handwriting on the wall is not deciphered in time.

QUACK, QUACK

By the Christmas Seal Reporter

The federal wars which make up the largest part of the Great American lottery the nation mobilizes today may not be harmful in itself, but by falsely inspiring the confidence of the credulous sick, it can and does do untold injury.

By claiming that it can cure or treat cancer or tuberculosis, to take only two examples, it delays life-saving, surgical and medical treatment for weeks, months, oftentimes until it is too late.

Present federal laws, and state laws where they exist, are inadequate to cope with the "secret potion" mixing quack who claims anything he may imagine in advertising his tenant preparation for $2. But the education and cooperation of the buying public can stop him.

To prevent quackery from harming you, or your loved ones, follow this general rule: "Do not take medicines unless told to do so by your physician and then only in the quantities which he says—from actually knowing your health conditions—are necessary."

Remember, "He who prescribes for his own ailments is a fool's physician." —Michigan Tuberculosis Association

HIGHWAY STUDY

A "white collar" public works project to inquire into Michigan's highway and traffic requirements is contained in one of the bills awaiting the governor's signature. It was sponsored in the Legislature by the State Highway Department.

The proposed act creates a highway planning board of twelve members to consist of three senators appointed by the lieutenant governor, three representatives chosen by the speaker of the House, three citizens selected by the governor, state police commissioner and chairman of the State Planning Commission acting ex officially. This board will have authority to draft a complete highway improvement program after making a scientific study of such problems as the construction, widening, relocation, improvement and maintenance of roads and bridges and the construction of grade separations at railroad crossings. Collecting this data will require the services of scores of clerks, stenographers and technicians.

Surveys of this nature were given priority recommendation by the State Planning Commission in its public works program submitted to Washington. See the highways to Pictures have been prepared for information [illegible] Detroit Free Press

ANOTHER REASON

The Michigan Tuberculosis Association has announced that, during March 7,050 persons in 11 Michigan counties obtained thorough-going examinations for tuberculosis by the tuberculin test—X-ray method. By such modern means, made possible in Michigan with tuberculosis Christmas Seals funds and the cooperation of Children's Fund units and local physicians, over 7,000 persons were given a definite answer about their condition in one month. In the days of the old stethoscope chest clinic, such a task would have taken approximately three years! Even then, many would have been kept in suspense by further examination because it could not be determined accurately whether they were infected or not. Another reason why those who know say: "Fight Tuberculosis With Modern Weapons!"

UNEMPLOYMENT

We still have about 11 millions of unemployed workers, and the number has not greatly changed during the past year and a half. Under normal conditions something more than half of them would be busy producing goods, while the rest would be engaged in providing services. The key to our depression problem of unemployment is in the idleness of the producers of goods, for it is because there has been a great reduction in the output of goods that there is much unemployment among the providers of services. One half of the unemployment causes most of the other half of it. If we could put all the producers back to work, and keep them profitably employed, the problems of the providers of services would solve themselves, and the depression would be over.

Often an unfortunate experience on a by-path is just what is needed to keep us on the main road

Watch the Preschooler!

When the baby gets through his "second summer," even though he is still less than two years old, the mother usually feels that her worst job is over. After he passes his second birthday, she is likely to think that she can at last relax her vigilance a bit — that he has safely weathered the storms of babyhood and may now be left to "just grow," like Topsy. For this reason the period from 2 to 6 the preschool age has been called the neglected age.

Because of the swift changes taking place between the period of infancy and the school age, it is important that the preschool child should have careful supervision. Physical examinations of school children have shown that defects are common in the lowest grades. Recent studies made by public health authorities reveal that enlarged tonsils and adenoids were most prevalent at six to seven years of age as were adenoids at this age. Poor nutrition was found to be common in children from two to six, and visual defects are found in children four to seven. These facts all indicate that the preschool age is a fertile field for the growth of physical defects.

The child from two to six years should have a physical examination at least every six months and should be taken to the dentist quite as often. The baby teeth should be well cared for and any defect due to decay should be repaired. A good dentist will not extract these teeth unless he feels obliged to, because he knows the child needs them for proper mastication, and that the second set of teeth will suffer from the premature loss of the first teeth.

The feeding of the little one from two to six should be carefully controlled as that of the infant. He should receive an adequate amount of starches, fats and proteins, and the vitamins and minerals must occupy their proper place in the diet. Milk, butter, fruits and vegetables especially green leafy vegetables with eggs, and a little meat, fish or poultry, all belong to the diet of this age period. Since he need in three meals a day, do not let the child acquire the habit of going without breakfast.

The proper amount of rest is just as essential as watching the child's diet. Do not forget that the little rascal in child needs rest as well as exercise. Keep up the daily nap habit through the age period, and see that the child goes early to bed. Let sunshine and rest and diet do their part in bringing health to the preschool child.

The Parent Teacher Association and other agencies in the district are making an experiment to examine the children who are about to enter school and arrange for their examination so that many defects possibly may be corrected before entrance. Watch for further notice of the preschool clinic to be held in your community, and if in the meantime, watch your Preschool Child.

DEPARTMENT OF STATE NEWS BULLETIN

New Law Affects Border Car Sales

Secretary of State Fred M. Alger announced today automobile dealers and others who sell cars in this state will be required, beginning on July 1, to obtain a certificate of title before they can sell a car in Michigan. Mr. Alger said that heretofore Michigan dealers could buy cars in border states and bring them into Michigan without certificates of title. Under the new law, however, they will be required to obtain a certificate of title before they can sell a car in Michigan.

Unlicensed Sleuth Snared by Old Act

Everybody now pretty much knows that no private detective agency in the state may be licensed by the Department of State. While the law was passed by the 1927 Legislature, the first person to be prosecuted for doing business without such a license was recently convicted in Detroit. The offender was placed on six months probation and restrained from applying for a license within that period.

AT THE MOVIES

Shirley Has Finest Role in New Film

Shirley Temple, most sensational screen discovery of the year, at last has "the perfect screen vehicle." That, at any rate, is the gist of the enthusiastic advance accounts which precede Fox Film's "Bright Eyes" to the Palace Theatre, where it will begin an engagement on Saturday, June 15.

Stage Favorite Makes Screen Comedy Debut

Walter C. Kelly, a vaudeville and stage favorite for almost thirty years, makes his motion picture debut in Paramount's "McFadden's Flats," which comes Monday and Tuesday, June 17-18, to the Palace Theatre.

Phyllis Bottome's widely read and engrossing story of a woman who learned to cast aside the dream of love for reality, "Private Worlds," has been filmed by Paramount and comes Wednesday and Thursday, June 19-20, to the Palace Theatre, with Claudette Colbert in the starring role.

FITZGERALD'S ACCOUNTINGS

As a gesture, the Legislature [illegible] Gov. Fitzgerald, in a radio address, [illegible] doing what the Legislature should have done—reckon the appropriations to meet the probable income of the State. Instead the law makers took the weak course of yielding to demands in the treasury and then asking the Governor to pare down the appropriations to balance the budget.

In his recent radio talk, the Governor said that the $82,895,000 voted by the Legislature would have to be reduced by $3,800,000 to keep up with the Senate's prospective income. That means either that the 132 members of the Legislature proved bad financial managers for the State, or they were guilty of a shabby political trick in pretending to give what the State could not afford and leaving the Governor to take what blame may attach to making the necessary reduction.

The people will be [illegible] to the Governor's declared policy of making monthly radio accountings. "You will know from month to month," said he, "how much your State has spent, how much it has collected, and other plain facts that will keep you posted on what is being done with your money." — Detroit News.

THE TIME IS HERE!

The Baldwin-Dunckle bill, making it a felony to publicly advocate overthrow of government by force, has been signed by Governor Fitzgerald and is now a part of Michigan's criminal code. We seem to have traveled a long way down the road when it becomes necessary to enact that sort of legislation, but to anyone who has taken the trouble to search into "Red" activities in the State the need for such legislation becomes adequately clear to the average mind. Michigan is one of the great States of the Union. It was founded by a liberty-loving people who sought here a real, no Inland Sea, a place where the greatest expression of freedom for the individual might be found. In each succeeding struggle to maintain the liberty of a people Michigan has given freely of her son and her resources. Her record stands supreme among the sister states. With such a proud past it is but small wonder that we are evident of those patriotic elements as the American Legion to activities of every sort. It is only when we ignore the danger of infiltration by institutions the support of which is anathema to those who have fought and bled to make our country safe for Americanism that we are truly blind. E. Pexell, in Independent.

LIFE'S REAL VALUES

No thoughtful man ever came to the end of his life, and had time and a little space of calm from which to look back upon it, who did not know and acknowledge that it was what he had done unselfishly and for others, and nothing else, that stood him in good stead in retrospect, and made him feel that he had played the game. That alone seems to me the real measure of success in life, the real standard of manhood. And so now, as I say, I have no cordiality but such as fits the humblest and poorest people among

Eight 4-H Canning Clubs Already Organized

The visit of Miss Sylva Wixson, assistant state club leader, to Charlevoix county 4-H Thursday and Friday, resulted in meeting eight different communities regarding their 4-H Canning Clubs. In the program, each will can from 30 to 75 quarts of fruit and vegetables, jellies, jams, marmalades and meats. In addition, they will study the value of foods, preparation of menus, and proper food budgets.

At the present time, the following communities will have a club organization. East Hudson Community, Boyne River, South Arm, Ironton School, East Jordan, Marion Center, Murray School and Bay Shore. Within the next week no doubt, there will be two more communities that will organize to carry on the program. This enrollment is a decided increase over last year, and indicates the deep interest that the girls have in preparing and canning fruits and vegetables for the winter needs.

In addition to the activities above mentioned, there will be several groups of boys, either already organized, or in the process of organization. There will be Dairy Calf Clubs at Chandler, Barnard, East Hudson, Boyne River and Hilton School community. Three Crop Clubs will be located in the Tanner School community, on the Peninsula, and at Charlevoix where the Kiwanis Club is sponsoring a most splendid program in which 22 boys are participating. This year the potato project is the most popular. Twenty-five boys are already entered in this competition, each one having at least one-quarter acre and some up to one acre. Fourteen of the boys are raising a new variety potatoes recently established in the county. They are, the Katahdins, and are a white skin potato, which we hope will prove somewhat more profitable than the Russet Rural which are so commonly raised.

WHOSE WORD WILL YOU TAKE FOR BLOWOUT PROTECTION?

LOW wheels, larger tires, and the high speeds of today make blowout protection in your tires vital to your safety as never before. Are you accepting exaggerated and unsupported advertising and sales claims—or are you accepting the judgment of men who risk their lives on their tires and know from experience the tire that gives them the greatest blowout protection?

Thirty-three race drivers and their mechanics lined up for the dangerous, gruelling grind of the 500-Mile Race at the Indianapolis Speedway May 30th. Firestone Tires were purchased and used on every one of the thirty-three cars.

Kelly Petillo won the race at an average speed of 106 miles per hour. Wilbur Shaw was second, flashing across the finish line just behind the winner. Both drivers broke the track record without tire trouble. In fact, not one of the thirty-three drivers had tire trouble of any kind.

Gum-Dipping is one of the outstanding reasons why Firestone Tires give such amazing performance. By this process every cotton cord is soaked and every strand is insulated with pure liquid rubber, preventing internal friction and heat, the main cause of blowouts. Gum-Dipping is a patented extra process not used in any other make of tire.

When you consider that there were 882,000 automobile accidents in the United States last year, and of these, 43,000 were caused by blowouts, punctures, and skidding, you will more fully realize how very important it is for you to protect your life and the lives of others by equipping your car with Firestone Gum-Dipped High Speed Tires—the safest tires built.

It will be worth your time to read these three questions and their answers:

QUESTION 1—"Will the tread give me the greatest traction and protection against skidding?"

ANSWER—Leading university tests show Firestone High Speed Tires stop your car 15% quicker than the best of other popular makes of tires.

QUESTION 2—"Are they built to give me the greatest blowout protection?"

ANSWER—Unequaled performance records for sixteen consecutive years prove that Gum-Dipping gives you the greatest blowout protection ever known.

QUESTION 3—"Without sacrificing these two important safety features will they give me longer mileage, thus making them the most economical tires I can buy?"

ANSWER—Thousands of car owners report unequaled mileage records—evidence of the longer wear and greater economy of Firestone High Speed Tires.

Volume—Direct Purchasing—Straight Line Manufacturing and Efficient and Economical System of Distributing to 500 Stores and to 30,000 Dealers, enables Firestone to give greater values at lowest prices

1 University tests show Firestone Tires stop cars 15 to 25% quicker.
2 Gum-Dipped cords give greater blowout protection. Gum-Dipping is not used in other tires.
3 Wider, flatter tread gives more than 50% longer non-skid wear.

FARM LOAN ASSOCIATION OFFICERS CONFER

Annual Meeting of County Group at Court House Here June 18

The secretary-treasurer and directors of several National Farm Loan Associations gathered in conference at Cadillac on June 7 with directors and officers of the Federal Land Bank of Saint Paul, to discuss various matters of mutual interest including the problems involved in the efficient and economical administration of the large volume of business built up during the past two years.

William F. Johnson, secretary-treasurer of the Charlevoix County National Farm Loan Association, reported that the association has 82 members with loans outstanding aggregating approximately $145,800. President Roy A. Nelson stated that the assets of the Federal Land Bank of Saint Paul combined with the commissioner's loans now approximate $500,000,000, loans having been made to approximately 117,000 borrowers. This is believed to be about 40 per cent of the total farm mortgage debt in the four states of the Seventh Land Bank District.

Messrs. William Withers and Henry L. Francisco, and directors of the Charlevoix County National Farm Loan Association, with Mr. John Orr, secretary-treasurer, were present at the conference. The annual meeting of the association will be held at the court house on June 18, 1935, according to official notices which have heretofore been sent to all members.

POST OFFICE IN NEW LOCATION ON MONDAY

Opened in Remodeled Quarters in S. M. See & Sons' Building

The Charlevoix post office opened Monday morning in new quarters in the S. M. See & Son building, corner Bridge and Antrim streets.

The office staff is now busy arranging equipment, in filling boxes and otherwise getting acclimated in the new building. Practically all new equipment has been installed. Lock boxes will replace the former combination boxes, it is understood.

From a standpoint of room, the new quarters have a greater advantage over those formerly occupied. All mail is handled on the one floor where formerly the basement was used for rural carriers. Patrons located centrally on Bridge Street, however, miss the accessibility of the office.

MANY ATTENDED FREE MOVIE SHOW MONDAY EVENING

About 500 people attended the free movies at the gymnasium Monday evening and enjoyed the program which included an explanation of the plans for the Honeymoon and State Centennial celebration, July 4, 5, and 6.

The audience was surprised when it was announced that a prominent candidate for the part of "King Strang" in the pageant was using his hair tonic on his face to promote a strangely beard for the occasion.

Other candidates for the honor need not be unduly alarmed, however, as the cranial portion of said candidate is sparsely settled with hair, which does not speak very highly for the brand of hair tonic used.

According to Mr. Carey, the Charlevoix-Detroit Club will assemble between 8 and 8:30 a. m. on July 3rd, on State Fair avenue and Woodward, for the start. The remainder of the trip schedule is as follows:

9:30 a. m., Pontiac, no stop.

11 to 11:30 a. m., Flint, Durant Hotel, where Charlevoix-Flint Club will join.

1 p. m., Saginaw, Bancroft Hotel, stop 15 minutes.

2 p. m., Standish, 30 minute stop for lunch.

Through West Branch, Roscommon and Grayling.

5 p. m., Gaylord.

6 p. m., Boyne City. Meet escort from Charlevoix.

Plans of the homecoming committee for reception of the caravan call for a delegation to meet them at Boyne City and act as an escort to Charlevoix. A short program will be presented at Boyne City with greetings from the officials of the city and county, and response from the guests. Upon arrival in Charlevoix, the ceremonies in connection with crowning of the Pageant Queen and presentation of her court will be held. Details of the ceremony are still in the making.

The motor caravan should provide a fine opening feature and the fine cooperation of the group from Detroit, Flint and other points along the route will give the celebration a splendid start.

WELFARE GARDEN PLAN UNDER WAY

OVER FIVE HUNDRED GARDENS IN THE COUNTY

Seeds and Plants Provided, Also Poison for Protection Against Grasshoppers and Cut Worms

With over five hundred subsistence garden project under way, the Charlevoix County Welfare Commission is looking forward to a successful year in this division of its program.

Sam King, the commission's supervisor of garden projects, reports 147 gardens at East Jordan, 139 at Boyne City, 108 at Charlevoix, 71 at Boyne Falls, 21 at Bay Shore, 17 at Chaffon, and 20 miscellaneous, or a total of 513. Forty of the gardens in the Charlevoix district are located on the plot of ground south of the Legion quarters.

Seed this year was furnished by the federal government and dispensed by the Welfare Commission through its surplus food distribution agency. An estimate places the expenditure for seed potatoes, plants, etc., at $400, furnished by the county commission.

As an added safeguard for gardens of welfare clients and the public generally, poison bait to kill grasshoppers and cut worms has been made available. Anyone desiring the bait may apply for same at the Charlevoix Cooperative Co. warehouse in Charlevoix, or at the potato warehouse at Boyne Falls. There is no charge for the poison. It has also been announced that anyone having their garden destroyed by cut worms may obtain seed for re-planting upon application to Mr. King, garden supervisor.

The exact value of vegetables used during the summer or canned for winter consumption from subsistence gardens projects this year is to be determined through a system of forms upon which clients are to keep a record of produce grown and consumed. Through this system, to be put in state-wide use, welfare authorities hope to learn whether or not the federal outlay for gardens is a paying proposition. Credit for inauguration of the system falls to Don Martindill, resigned Charlevoix county director, who drew up the forms.

WELFARE ROAD PROJECTS DISCONTINUED

WELFARE COMMISSION VOTES SHUT-DOWN DUE TO ROAD COMMISSION'S FAILURE TO MEET PLEDGE

Approximately 150 Men Used on County Road Projects from Welfare Lists Thrown Out of Work—Order Effective Until Arrangements Are Made to Meet Pledge

According to an announcement by Harold Lamb, county FERA director, approximately 150 men working on county road projects through assignment from the Charlevoix County Welfare Commission will be removed from relief payrolls as a result of a decision reached Tuesday night at a Welfare Commission meeting held at the offices on Petoskey avenue. Work will be stopped Thursday night.

The action, resulting from failure of the county road commission to meet a pledge to furnish a stipulated sum for work relief, affects 13 approved road projects, six of which have been worked upon and one now active. The order will be effective until a definite arrangement is made to turn over the money pledged. The County Welfare Commission's vote to discontinue road work is in conformance with instructions from state headquarters. It is understood the road commission has used $1,032 of a pledge of $15,268 up to the present time.

The situation which brought about Tuesday night's action is fully explained in the following letter from Don Martindill, resigned county FERA director:

"The Charlevoix Courier

"Gentlemen:

"In anticipation of many questions relative to the closing down of our work projects as applies to the Charlevoix county road program, I feel that an explanation is justified as to why this action was taken.

"Early in the year of 1935, the various political subdivisions of the county pledged themselves for a stipulated amount of money to be contributed towards the emergency welfare relief program in this county to supplement the funds allocated by the Federal and State governments. This was mandatory in order to assure the county of the continuation of our work program. Ten thousand dollars was pledged outright by the road commission and the Charlevoix county board of supervisors made available to the road commission an additional $5,268 to be spent by that commission through their road program for relief purposes. This supervisors' allotment to be paid to the road commission starting February 1st, at the rate of $1,000 each month until the total was paid in.

"During the months of February and March of this year, we were going through a re-investigation of all relief cases in the county, which necessitated the closing down of all work projects and we were unable to reopen and furnish labor to our work projects until April 1st. After reopening the works division as of April 1st, we made available to the road commission all labor they could absorb on their projects and, in order to facilitate their work and ours, we set up an employees' time card system, that the road commission might draw eligible labor from any of our approved road projects and divert same to projects of their own for which they would receive credit on their pledge for any labor so chosen. As far as I know, the road commission never placed or asked for any of this available labor for their maintenance work as provided for.

"In making our monthly request to the State Emergency Relief Administration for funds to carry our relief load, it also was necessary in each request that we apprise the State as to the amount we could expect to be furnished from the county as a portion towards their pledged contributions. Because of this, it became necessary to call this to the attention of the road commission at several of their meetings and urge them to make known to this department what might be expected each month. During the month of May, we went before the road commission and asked that they accept for payment two of our payrolls covering labor furnished on road projects in May, and also requested that they inform us of the amount we could expect them to contribute for June and succeeding months. They did accept the two May payrolls for which they received a credit of $2032. They declined, however, to make any definite commitment for the month of June, but we were advised that they would do their best and I assumed they would contribute in June as much as they had for May and possibly more.

"On June 7th, I received a telegram from the Finance Section of the State Emergency Relief Commission, stating that 'On a proportionate basis, your county should contribute $6,000 during June.' On this basis, proportionately, the road commission's contribution for the month should have been $3,000. I also received a request that I contact the road commission and that they furnish this office in writing, the amount we could definitely expect for the month of June and the succeeding months until their pledge has been fulfilled. Failure to comply with this request was accompanied with the further notice to close down all road projects, effective June 12th, until such time as definite commitments would be made.

"This matter was brought before the members of the road commission and on Wednesday, June 12th, Mr. McHugh of this office and I attended their meeting, at their call, in an effort to reach a decision as requested. It was brought up at the meeting, that most of their work was done either in the spring or the fall and that in the summer, because the type of work they were carrying on, it would not be practical to use inexperienced labor but in the fall, during the period of snow removal, installation and other road work, they would gladly use the bulk of our labor. It was brought out at the meeting by one member, of the necessity of the road commission's contributing to the program during the summer months and to make available to us funds for that purpose, rather than attempt to take up most of the pledge in the fall. The other two members were not in such agreement, but did consent to contribute whatever they felt they could and should, but they would not bind themselves to any definite amount. This is not satisfactory to the State and, because of the lack of a definite agreement, it became necessary to discontinue work relief so that phase of the program until such time as other and definite arrangements are made.

"Irrespective of what may be said, we in this office know that we have done our utmost to cooperate with the road department and have complied with their request for labor and projects in practically all instances. We made available for the month of June, 147 relief cases balanced into daily crews aggregating about 50 men per day. In order to do this, it necessitated drawing these men from the urban areas, at a lesser pay rate than these men would have been paid had they been retained on city work. If we have failed in cooperation, I shall accept the blame, but in so doing it was done unwittingly.

"I sincerely hope this situation may be clarified for the good of the community and for the benefit of those of our clients who remain eligible to receive work relief.

"Yours very truly,

"DON M. MARTINDILL."

TRANSPLANT WALL-EYES FROM CHEBOYGAN RIVER

NEW PENSION LAW EFFECTIVE JULY 1

NEEDY PERSONS 70 OR OVER TO BE AIDED

Estimated 20,000 Are Eligible to Receive $30 a Month Under New State Provision

The new Michigan old age assistance law, which provides pensions for resident 70 years old or more, will become effective July 1. After that date investigations will be made. Those who have filed applications under the head tax law need not reapply unless requested to do so by the Old Age Assistance Bureau.

To be eligible for a pension, a person must meet the following requirements:

1—Must have attained the age of 70 years or upwards; after January 1, 1940, this age limit will be reduced to 65.

2—Must be a citizen of the United States.

3—Must be a resident of Michigan for 10 years immediately preceding date of application.

4—Must be in need, and have no child or other person responsible under the laws of the state who is able to support him.

Any person having an income of $30 per month or real estate which together with that of husband or wife is valued at $3,500; or whose personal property is valued at $1,000 or more is ineligible for assistance under this act.

The maximum amount which can be allowed is $30 per month. This does not mean that a person who is eligible is entitled to, or will, receive $30 per month, as the amount of relief which is given will depend upon the individual and the conditions found in each case.

Arrangements will be made to assist applicants in making out the necessary application blanks, and it is not necessary that they employ an attorney or any other person to assist them in receiving this aid.

The director of the State Welfare Department is in charge of the administration of this law; applications for assistance should be filed with the county welfare agent of the county in which the applicant lives. At the present time approximately 5,000 people are receiving assistance under the pension law. It is estimated that 20,000 are eligible to receive aid under the old age assistance law.

CITY TAKES LEASE WINDER PROPERTY

EXTEND PARKING EAST SIDE BRIDGE STREET

Two Special Summer Policemen Appointed and Confirmed at Monday Meeting of City Council

Provisions for policing the city during the busy summer resort months was made Monday night by Mayor Adams and the city council at a regular meeting.

The appointments by Mayor Adams of Harry Glossenger and Arthur Nettleton as special policemen received council approval. Glossenger goes on duty June 20th, and Nettleton goes on the north side district, July 1st.

The application of O. Gatti for license to sell beer, wines and spirits at the Colonial Club was approved, also placing the city's liability insurance with the Michigan Mutual Liability Co.

The matter of providing offices for the justice of peace was referred to committee with power to act and will result very soon in disposition of the proposition.

The Winder property fronting Bridge street and Round Lake, made available by fire which destroyed the Hotel Charlevoix, was acquired by the city at a special council meeting last Friday afternoon.

Under provisions of the deal the city acquires the 66-foot frontage through lease from John Koch, who purchased the property from the Winder interests at a price of $6,800. The city made a $500 down payment on the lease and will take up the balance in five $1000 yearly payments and a final payment of $1,300 six years hence. Parking plans, now under way on the recently acquired Boal and Washburn properties will be continued.

A contract for razing the ruins of the Hotel Charlevoix was awarded John Zeitler in a competitive bid basis. The contract provides removal of the ruins down to the first floor by June 30th, and the remainder by July 20th. The work of cleaning up the site is now under way.

RED SOX DROP CLOSE CONTEST AT MANISTEE

Defeated 6-5 in Hard-Fought Game—Mancelona Here Next Sunday

The Charlevoix Red Sox dropped a close decision to the Manistee Eagles at Manistee, Sunday afternoon, by a 6 to 5 score in a hard fought game.

The locals scored one in the first and three in the fifth inning for an early lead which was wiped out by Manistee's three-run rally in the seventh frame. The Eagles had previously scored one run in each of the second, third and fourth innings. Charlevoix rallied in the final stanza scoring one, but the tying run was called out at the home plate on a questionable decision with the bases full.

Amo John teamed with "Stub" Lord to form the local battery and did fine work until relieved by Denemy in the seventh. Denemy held the Eagles scoreless for the next two innings. Linderman and Kruses were the winning battery.

Russell hit a homer in the fourth for the winners. J. Walker led the Red Sox in batting with four hits in five trips to the plate. "Chuck" Carey made his initial appearance with the Red Sox. His double in the fifth with two on produced as many scores. Charlevoix out-hit Manistee 10 to 8 and both teams committed two errors.

The Red Sox play at home next Sunday, meeting Mancelona at the Legion diamond.

DISTRICT HEALTH UNIT BULLETIN

Bacterial Count as an Index to the Quality of Milk

It is widely accepted that the bacterial count of milk is the most significant index of the sanitary quality of milk.

A high count does not necessarily mean that disease organisms are present, and a low count does not necessarily mean that disease organisms are absent. But a high bacterial count does mean that the milk has either come from diseased udders, has been milked or handled under uncleanly conditions, or has been kept warm enough to permit bacterial growth. This means, if the cows have diseased udders or have been milked or handled under uncleanly conditions, that the chances of infection have been increased. If the milk has been allowed to become warm enough to permit of bacterial growth it means that an infection which has reached the milk has been permitted to grow to more dangerous proportions. In any case, a high count means a greater likelihood of disease transmission.

In brief, a high count means increased danger and a low count means a more desirable product.

Michigan Colt Development Contest Announced

A very recent contest announced by the State College will be of great interest to many Charlevoix county farmers. This contest is open to all farmers who have colts, and who are interested in their development. The Michigan Colt Development project is sponsored by the Michigan Horse Breeders' Association, the Michigan Live Stock Improvement Association, and the State Department of Agriculture. It's purpose is to stimulate interest and the proper development of colts through breeding, feeding, exhibition and management practices.

These colts may be either grade or purebred, and a farmer may enter one or more. Enrollment must be made upon blanks which will be provided by the county agricultural agent. The enrollment must be made right away, as the initial weights of the colts must be made between July 1st and July 20th. On the application will be a certified report showing the date of birth, sex, color markings, of foal, breed name, color of dam, registry number, license number, color, name of owner of sire, and weight of each animal nominated on a special blank provided for the purpose. The initial weights must be taken between July 1st and July 20th. The final weight will be taken one year after date of initial weight.

All entries of the contest should keep a record of the ration fed, and management practices following from the time of the initial weight to the end of the year. Any colt that receives the winner's or an award, must have been sired by a registered draft stallion that has complied with the requirements of the Michigan Stallion Licensing Law.

The contest colts will be shown at a community, county, district, or state show. The Michigan Horse Breeders' Association will offer ribbon and medal to the owners of colts winning first, second and third respectively. In addition, certificate of achievement will be awarded upon the same basis of competition.

This contest should be very attractive to many Charlevoix county farmers. If you have a colt that you would be interested to place in this competition, kindly notify your county agent at once. Full and complete details will then be given, and all of the preliminary step taken. Remember that the first weight must be taken between July 1st and July 20th.

SUNDAY DINNER SUGGESTIONS

By Ann Page

Meats are lower this week with the exception of smoked pork. Lamb offers most for your money but beef, veal and fresh pork are all lower, particularly forequarter cuts. Eggs and butter remain unchanged at their recent price levels. Seafood and fish continue to be a boon to the thrifty shopper.

There are several new crop arrivals, among the fruits sweet Bing cherries, sour red cherries, honeydew and honeyball melons, apricots and plums; in the vegetable field broccoli, cauliflower, kale, kohl-rabi and rutabaga turnips. Freestone peaches are promised for next week. Watermelons are said to be better than in years.

Here are three menus made up from seasonable foods adapted to different budget levels:

NOT ALL ARE BAD

The government is engaged in waging a campaign of warfare against holding companies. It is part of a plan to control the power industry of the nation. So voluminous has been the flood of propaganda out of Washington that it is rapidly becoming more and more difficult to convince the ordinary public that holding companies are virtuous institutions.

In most instances they serve a most excellent function. In other instances, they have been the betrayal of financial and public confidence. A generation or more ago society seemed to be afraid of corporations. It was soon seen that a corporation was necessary to carry on large business enterprises. People now accept corporations as inevitable. But corporations have not and are not today always the best of institutions. It all depends upon the people, the management and the ideals back of them.

The holding companies, controlling the stock of many corporations, have been considered another step in business organization that has been made necessary by the expansion of business. It is a question how to separate the sheep from the goats in holding companies. Some of these organizations have been created primarily for the purpose of unjustified speculation. Others are a natural development in the expansion of business. Whether or not the holding company should be outlawed by law, the agitation against some of the organization has been a very good thing from the standpoint of both the holding company and the public. The prospect that some of them may be legislated out of business will make them operate themselves in order to avoid legislation. If holding companies behave themselves as they should, there will be very little agitation against them and the atmosphere becomes cleared.

A SENSIBLE SUGGESTION

"Less than fifty miles of improved road remains on highway 131, the central route to Northern Michigan recreation centers for visitors entering the state from the southwest. Inasmuch as the tourist and resort business is the state's second largest industry, self-interest demands that this important trunk line be made equal to the best.

"The stretch of rough and dusty gravel road lies between Fife Lake and Williams Lake, and travelers preferring a paved highway are forced to 'go a roundabout way and take to US-31, which many have used in one direction in order to reach Petoskey and points beyond. Effort are being made through petition to interest [illegible] and the highway commissioner in completing the paving and not merely with a temporary surface dressing. Federal relief money granted to Michigan for highway development is now being allocated. Here is a project of genuine usefulness and lasting benefit that should not be delayed longer. The two routes, east and central, should be of a good standard, so that travelers will recommend them to the West as Michigan roads and not [illegible] Grand Rapids Press.

TO THE LEFT

"Miss Lucy Ellis, who contributes to Parke Sinclair and the New Republic, says that those who [illegible] western experimental area of a modernistic would contribute to 'left' thought usually do not [illegible] moderists at all. Here is a topic for the energy that is always in good time to remember.

"Don't drive on the left side of a center line on a highway in order to avoid another car proceeding in the same direction only the roadway ahead clearly visible and free from obstruction, traffic law enforcement declares, to permit such overtaking and passing to be done safely."

MODERN YOUTH

Fundamentally, the youth of today are just as idealistic, just as courageous, just as loyal as they ever were. What they need, though they are not always aware of that fact, is wise leadership, and one of the main causes of their unrest is that upon [illegible] around the world they do not find enough of that type of leadership. If we of the older generation are wise, we will not waste time in deploring youth's spirit of adventure and change; we will sympathize with its [illegible] with it, and seek to guide it. Walter D. Head.

WHAT IS TUBERCULIN?

Perhaps many "tuberculin" will [illegible] tuberculin test in the Michigan Tuberculosis Association tuberculosis [illegible] "a fake cure for tuberculosis." Tuberculin is neither. It is a perfectly harmless fluid, containing no germs, dead or alive, which is used as the first step in a modern thorough examination for tuberculosis. It appears in a test which hurts about as much as a half hearted mosquito bite. It is efficient, but harmless. And it is not a "violent disease" or a "fake cure for tuberculosis."

BEDWIN-SEVREY MARRIAGE LAST SUNDAY

Local Couple United by Rev. W. W. Hurd of Methodist Church

A quiet ceremony took place at 205 Dixon avenue, Sunday, June 16, 1935, at 12:30 o'clock, when Albert W. Bedwin of Detroit and Lois L. Sevrey of Charlevoix were united in marriage by the Rev. W. W. Hurd of the Methodist Episcopal Church of Charlevoix.

Mr. Bedwin was a former Charlevoix boy but is now engaged as district manager for the B. & H. Industries of Foxboro, Mass., Detroit and Charlevoix, and Lois Sevrey has been acting as regional representative for the same company.

Miss Grace Elliot of Rochester, Mich., friend of the bride, was maid of honor, and Ray Bedwin, of Rochester, brother of the groom, was best man. Mrs. Gene Bedwin of Grand Rapids, mother of the groom, Mrs. Charlie Graves of Charlevoix, life long friend of the family, and Corabell, daughter of the bride, were the only guests. After the ceremony a nice dinner was served by Mrs. Graves and the eldest Mrs. Bedwin.

The happy couple are at home to their friends at 205 Dixon avenue, where they will make their home indefinitely.

INTEREST LOWERED LAND BANK LOANS

Will Be Reduced to 3½ Per Cent on July 1, It Is Announced

Interest will be temporarily reduced on all land bank loans July 1, according to information received by the Federal Land Bank of St. Paul from Washington, and announced today.

The new rate will be three and one half per cent on all loans made through National Farm Loan Associations for all interest payable in the one-year period following July 1, and four per cent for all interest payable in the two-year period commencing July 1, 1936.

On loans made directly by the bank to individual borrowers, the rate will be reduced to four per cent for the first year and four and one half per cent for the two-year period.

These interest reductions are provided in the farm credit act of 1935 which was approved by President Roosevelt on June 3. The act does not make any change in the interest rate on commissioner's loans which remains at five per cent.

DEPARTMENT OF STATE NEWS BULLETIN

No Summer Let-Down at the State Capitol

While summer is frequently regarded as a season of relative light business activity because of the prevalence of the vacation habit, departments of state government are, almost without exception, preparing for their customary activity attendant upon compilation of reports for the fiscal year which ends June 30.

The Department of State's mailing volume will shortly enter one of its two peak periods of each year. Added to the increase of activity necessitated by fiscal year reports, the volume of work necessary to handle reports from managers of branch offices of the secretary of state is still at high tide due to the favorable automobile sales business still being recorded throughout the state. Daily report from each of the 132 branch offices, as to license plate and half year license permits sold, are received for compilation.

With the expiration of the 1935 year license on July 31, many additional thousands of motorists will be flowing through the branch offices, receipts of the department as to these buy the 1935 license plate.

The corporation division of the Department of State will shortly place in the mail some 22,000 forms on which annual corporation reports are to be made. These reports, together with corporation fees, are due and collectible by August 31. Of the approximately 22,000 corporations in the state obligated to the annual reports, more than 16,000 are classed as "profit" corporations, the balance as "non-profit" corporations. Both classes are required to make annual reports, however.

AT THE MOVIES

Thrill Film Drama Stars Barthelmess

"Black Fury"

Heralded as the greatest picture in the career of the First National Production, "Black Fury" will open June 25 at the Palace Theatre. The picture is based on the dynamic story, "Dan Volkanik," by Judge M. A. Musmanno, and the play "Redrock" by Harry R. Irving and is packed with tremendous scenes, a number of which were screened in the interior of a secret Pennsylvania coal mine.

WHEAT GROWERS VOTE FOR FUTURE CONTROL

Ask to Continue Basing Production Upon Domestic Market Demands

A seven to one vote in the United States favor of continuing a wheat crop control plan has been accepted by the Agricultural Adjustment Administration as a clear expression of the farmers' wishes, and a crop control plan will be offered for future crops, according to Chester C. Davis, administrator.

The vote in Michigan was 6,440 in favor of a wheat control program and 2,551 against. These votes were cast by Michigan farmers who now have wheat contracts. The vote by farmers who have not signed contracts was 163 in favor and 1,104 against.

The only county in Michigan in which the vote of contract holders was against the plan was Oceola county, where a total of 10 votes was cast, four in favor and six against. Clinton county farmers cast the greatest number of ballots, 408 favoring a control program and 184 voting negatively. Ionia county farmers turned in the greatest majority for the plan, 143 yes and 148 no.

Total benefit payments to Michigan farmers on wheat contracts up till May 1, 1935, have been $1,394,977.80.

REPEAL-FAILURE SUBJECT W. C. T. U. MEETING

Figures and Statistics to Support Contention Were Given

At the W. C. T. U. meeting held last Friday at the home of Mrs. [illegible] Bartholomew, Mrs. Hurd presented the topic "A Day of Reckoning."

Facts and figures were given with authority showing the failure of repeal to do what was promised the public when they voted for it.

Tax collections not reached anticipation by many millions and have not repaired the loss. Beer gardens have not been successful means of moderation. Automobile accidents as a result of drinking have increased alarmingly. Liquor advertising on radio, billboard and periodicals was intended to make drinking popular. Efforts to have the laws revised to eliminate some of the demoralizing conditions have only met with failure.

The daily papers received later in the day published the news that the day before a referendum petition had been submitted to the attorney general for approval. The would give the people a chance to vote in November, 1936, on many desired changes, such as midnight closing, sale of liquor by the glass only in incorporated cities and villages, etc.

THE WAGNER BILL

The Wagner labor dispute bill presents an issue in which there is a great difference of opinion. It is believed that the outcome of the bill, if put into law, will mean the domination of all labor by the American Federation of Labor or by a similar union. In view of these possibilities, all those interested in the problem of labor organizations are for the bill. All those who do not believe in increased unionism are against it.

There is no intelligent person who will not admit the necessity for labor organization. Without the organization of labor, workers would be crushed under the domination of selfish employers. On the other hand, there are intelligent people who believe that unionism is capable of false idealism and bad leadership. We doubt if society is yet ready for the complete domination of workers by any one union organization.

It is certain that many employers do not wish such a condition and the attitude of the employer is still one of great importance in the establishment of industrial stability and the maintenance of industrial peace. More employers are in sympathy with union labor today than were in sympathy with it 10 or 25 years ago, but unionism has not yet convinced many employers that its aims or accomplishments are always the best.

It is doubtful if labor is ready for the domination of any one particular union organization. If labor, by and large, had thought as well of the American Federation as many believe it should, that organization would have dominated the field of industry a generation ago. One of the surprising things is that unionism has such a small proportion, ten or twelve per cent within its fold. Unionism still has the task before it of selling itself and its purpose to the rank and file of workers.

It is very doubtful if the American Federation of Labor is ready to assume the many more responsibilities than those which will naturally accrue to it in a sound process of expansion and growth. A labor movement need found leader has just as much as does any other movement. The American Federation of Labor might well avoid too many new responsibilities in too short a time. If it is too ambitious for immediate result, it may have the same experience that has befallen organizations which thought they could control the world of finance or industry.

The time may come in which all labor will be enrolled in a great organization which will represent its interests in dealing with employers. Such a condition should not be thrust immediately upon the nation by act of government. It can come about only as society, consumers, capital and labor all advance to a higher degree of intelligence and judgment. Grand Rapids Herald Review

THE RISING OPPOSITION

There is one infallible measure of the rise and fall of human liberty throughout the world.

That measure is the freedom and untrammelled independence of the press in regard particularly to the governmental policies under which they press function.

In America the newspaper still remains sane, fearless and autonomous in spite of threats and innuendos from the babbling hierophats of totalitarianism in Washington.

In a poll of 514 leading newspapers in 38 states made by "newsdom," 48 PER CENT opposed the major acts and program of the New Deal, 33 per cent approved of them wholly, and 19 per cent in part.

In a similar poll in 1934 a majority of 62 per cent approved the New Deal.

FARM CREDIT

While the United States Supreme Court's condemnation of the Frazier-Lemke act has been generally expected, removal of the so-called farmer's relief measure from the statutes is important news. So long as the illegal enactment remained unscathed it served as a serious embarrassment to farm financing in many sections of the country.

Politicians insisted that impairment of farm security such as was contemplated in this act would hit only the mortgage bankers. It did not occur to them that many farmers who have need of money make a practice of borrowing from individuals.

Practically all bankers were of the opinion that the Frazier-Lemke bill was invalid. They felt sure it could not be employed to defeat or obstruct for any considerable length of time contracts which they made with farmers.

This, however, was not the understanding of the farmer's neighbor who had money to loan. Interested in the legal principles involved, he regarded the bill as effective. Therefore he decided to take no more chances with farm loans. The blow to farm credit was none the less severe because little was said of the quiet withdrawal of private money formerly available for use of the farmers. Illinois State Journal

Maybe the reason why modern brides don't insist on a trip to Niagara Falls is because they can't afford to go both there and to Reno during the same year.

PRINTING PRESS DOLLARS

Who that has any real intelligence believes that a government can grind out paper money and not affect the pocketbook of all of the citizens? Every new dollar that goes into circulation makes every dollar already extant just that much less valuable. Otherwise, why not meet all federal obligations by resort to the printing press. Several nations, yielding to a popular delusion, tried the idle scheme and not only came to suffer economically, but ruined their people untold suffering.—Boston Transcript.

And Now In Closing—

"It must be remembered that the purpose of education is not to fill the minds of students with facts; it is not to inform them, or amuse them, or make them expert technicians in any field. It is to lead them to think, if that is possible, and to think always for themselves. Democratic government rests on the notion that the citizens will think for themselves. It is of the highest importance that there should be some places where they can learn to do it."—Robert M. Hutchins, President University of Chicago.

STEERS GAIN FASTER ON CORN FROM SILO

Produce More Pounds of Meat Per Acre of Grain; Eat Less Alfalfa

Three years of feed comparisons the amount of beef that can be produced from an acre of corn placed in the silo and from an acre of corn in the husk prove that silage is the better and cheaper form to use in fattening beef, according to the animal husbandry department at Michigan State College.

CHANGES MADE IN FALL GAME LAWS

FAVOR THE HUNTERS, BUT MAY HARM GAME BIRDS

Liberal Bag Limits and Extended Open Hunting Seasons Are Established on Upland Species

Governor Frank D. Fitzgerald signed Michigan's new general game law and the regulations go into immediate effect.

Perhaps of greatest importance to the licensed hunters in the state are the extended open hunting seasons and increased bag limits established on Chinese ring-necked pheasants, ruffed grouse, prairie chickens and sharp-tailed grouse. The season on these four game birds in the Upper Peninsula remains as last year, October 1 to 12th, inclusive, but in Lower Michigan the season is designated to run 30 days, from October 15 to November 14. While the daily bag limit on pheasants remains at two cock birds, the season's limit has been changed from four to six, with four in possession at one time. Ruffed grouse is five in one day, ten in possession and 25 during the season. This also applies to prairie chickens and sharp-tailed grouse.

Cottontail and snowshoe rabbits may be hunted in the Upper Peninsula from October 1 to January 31, and in Lower Michigan from October 15 to January 31, with five in one day, ten in possession and 50 over the season.

The open season on waterfowl, including ducks, geese, brant, coots and jack snipe, is set for the Upper Peninsula for October 1 to December 15, and in Lower Michigan, October 31 to December 30. The bag limit on ducks remains at 15 in a day, 30 in possession and 50 in season, while three in a gross, brant, coots, sandhill cranes and snipe are the same as last year.

The woodcock season has been changed also, running for 30 days each month from October in the Upper Peninsula and from October 15 to November 14 in Lower Michigan. The daily bag limit [illegible] remains at 10.

The fox squirrel remains on the protected list and may be hunted at any time. To the squirrel is now protection, with an open hunting and trapping season from November 1 to January 31. The deer season [illegible] remains the same, but it cannot be hunted only during the open season.

Pheasant hunting is prohibited throughout the state for a period of five years.

Dog owners may train their dogs on game birds and animals 10 days before the season opens on the respective game [illegible] may [illegible] to following May 1.

The [illegible] Upper Peninsula [illegible] may [illegible] deer [illegible]

Non-[illegible] [illegible] deer and bear, but grey and black squirrels have been added to the fox squirrel as huntable species this year.

The majority of upland bird hunters are convinced that pheasants, particularly, cannot stand a 30-day open hunting season and it is more than possible that some action tending toward the reduction of the season will be taken by the Conservation Commission before hunting begins. The regulations as a whole this year in bag limits and length of open season are far more liberal than at any time since 1921.

BOUNTY SYSTEM SETS RECORD PELTS TAKEN

State Pays Trappers Bounty on 1290 Pelts to June 1

The bounty system of predator control has set a new record for the total number of pelts taken in Michigan.

Up to June 1 the Department of Conservation had paid bounties to the aggregate amount of $8,819.37 on 1,290 wolf, coyote and bobcat pelts.

This total, representing the first five months of the current year, exceeds by 16 pelts the previous high record of 1,274 set during 1931.

The pelts on which bounties have been paid are as follows: Bobcats, 215; male coyotes, 53; female coyotes, 239; coyote pups, 79; male wolves, three; female wolf, one.

GRANT LOWER RATES ON LAND BANK LOANS

Farmers Will Save on Interest Payments Beginning July 1, 1936

Michigan farmers who owe a portion of the $72,502,000 in Michigan mortgages held by the Federal Land Bank will benefit by the reduction of interest rate granted for the period between July 1, 1936, and June 30, 1939, according to Governor W. I. Myers, farm credit administration.

Installments on loans obtained through local loan associations which are payable in the one-year period beginning July 1, 1936, shall be at the rate of 3½ per cent, and installments due in the next two-year period, July 1, 1937 June 30, 1939, shall be at the rate of 4 per cent.

Installments on loans obtained directly from the land bank due during the first period shall be at the rate of 4 per cent, and those due during the two-year period shall be at the rate of 4½ per cent.

This means a temporary reduction of interest on all Michigan Federal Land Bank mortgages written at an interest rate higher than those set temporarily by this new regulation. The reduced interest charge will also apply on the installments of new loans made and becoming due within the three years for which interest rates are lowered.

Another change in loan regulations is the permission given to borrowers from the loan commissioner to use such loans for the purchase of land. This has been impossible before. Land bank commissioner loans can be made upon the security of a first or a second mortgage and may be for as much as 75 per cent of the fair appraised value of the land. This will make possible the purchase of land by tenants or young men who formerly could not finance land buying.

Plans to increase the membership of the Michigan Railroad Employes and Citizens League from its present 312,000 to 500,000 by January 1 next were announced today by Floyd E. Drake, executive secretary.

Drake also announced the reelection of the following executive committee who will direct the membership drive commencing June 15: David A. Bodary, Owosso; T. F. Cary, Saginaw; Patrick C. Howard, Battle Creek, and Hurdis M. Ready, Jr., Bay City.

A unit of the league is in Charlevoix.

F. D. I. C. PAYS DEPOSITORS CLOSED BANKS

Prompt Payments Received by 99 of Every Hundred Depositors

A report just released by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation reveals that twenty thousand depositors of closed insured banks have been paid their insured deposits in the first seventeen months of deposit insurance.

They were depositors in seventeen closed banks which the Insurance Corporation had taken over up to May 31, and their insured claims totalled more than two and a quarter million dollars. In all there have been 25,000 depositors in these banks whose estimated insured funds amount to about two and one-half million dollars.

Payment of claims by the FDIC has started within an average time of a week of the day the banks closed, the report shows. It further reveals that in the last batch to be taken over by the Insurance Corporation all but sixty dollars of insured money has been paid to depositors. The pay-off began on May 1 and all but twelve of the depositors had received a settlement of their claims by the last day of the month.

GENERAL FISHING SEASON JUNE 25

ALL STATE INLAND LAKES TO OPEN ON THAT DATE

Bass, All Species of Fish May Be Legally Taken—Season Dates Are Completely Outlined

Tens of thousands of Michigan fishermen are busying themselves with plans for opening of the inland lakes to bass, sunfish and bluegill fishing Tuesday, June 25.

Opening of bass, sunfish and bluegill fishing season Tuesday means that more than 5,000 inland lakes of the state will be accessible again to the anglers in total of the 300 designated pike and trout lakes to which they have been restricted since May 1 for their spring lake fishing.

Every species of fresh-water fish in the inland waters—except grayling and sturgeon which are protected the year around—may legally be taken. These include brook, brown and rainbow trout, landlocked salmon, great northern, grass pike or pickerel, wall-eyed pike, yellow perch, rock, calico and strawberry bass, crappies, muskellunge and non-game species in addition to black bass, warmouth bass, bluegills, sunfish and white bass on which the ban goes up next Tuesday.

The open season on the species of which become legal game for the angler next Tuesday are as follows:

Black bass, large and small-mouth: June 25 to December 31.
Bluegills: June 25 to April 30
Sunfish: June 25 to April 30.
Warmouth bass: June 25 to April 30.

Except for the recent act of the Legislature placing white bass on the list of fish which may be taken the year-around in designated pike lakes, there are no changes in the general fishing regulations. Size and creel limits remain the same as last year.

The minimum-size limit on large and small-mouth black bass is 10 inches, on bluegill and sunfish, six inches, but there is no size limit on warmouth bass. No more than five large or small-mouth black bass can be taken in one day and no more than 25 each of bluegills, sunfish and warmouth bass or 25 of a combination of these species may be caught legally in one day.

A resident fishing license costing 50 cents is required of all Michigan fishermen over 18 years of age, but a man and wife, who are residents of the state may fish under one license, the latter's identification for the wife being issued without additional charge.

The non-resident annual fishing license fee is $2 and required of all non-residents over 18 years of age for fishing in the inland waters. The wife of a non-resident fisherman may obtain a similar license for 50 cents.

In addition to the annual non-resident license there is available to non-residents at reduced charge a special 10-day license at a fee of $1, the wife being able to obtain a similar license for 50 cents. The special 10-day license is distributed especially for accommodation of transient fishermen who visit Michigan from other states.

PAGEANT TO BE BIG PRODUCTION

Selection of Cast Nearly Completed and Rehearsals Under Way

Clever acting and effective symbolic presentation of early Charlevoix county life will be the feature attraction of the Homecoming and State Centennial to be held here July 4, 5, 6, 1935.

Miss Lucille M. Boire, director, representing the John B. Rogers Producing Company of Ohio, is in charge and she will endeavor to portray, through the medium of the stage, the most important historical events and happenings of Charlevoix county.

The cast for the production is nearly complete and rehearsals are being held regularly in the gymnasium. Over 250 people, from the ages of five to 90, will take part in the production, a complete synopsis of which will be given in a future issue of the Charlevoix Courier.

Work on the scenic front of the pageantorium is progressing with the construction of the blockhouse completed and the stockade front under way. Grading on the water front of the site is also being done, while plans for the staging and lighting effects are in readiness and work will start on these as soon as the grounds are ready.

The work of the antique window display committee, composed of Mrs. Mina S. Dawson, chairman, Mrs Anna Campbell and Mrs Lota Coulter, gives promise of this part of the celebration being one of the feature attractions.

Windows of various merchants have been secured by the committee for display of antique collections, such as lamps, furniture, clothing, dishes, pictures, tools, bottles, stamps and a most unusual collection of buttons.

Those merchants and organizations contemplating entering a float in the parade can secure the services of representatives of the Wolverine Flag and Decorating Company of Grand Rapids, the company the homecoming committee has engaged to decorate the streets.

The representative of this company are C. M. Hoskins, of Grand Rapids, and Herbert Moulton, of Traverse City, and a merchant needing any assistance should notify the secretary, Miss Florence Gibson, phone 51, at once, so that these men can call and give the benefit of their experience, which includes the construction of floats for the Tournament of Roses for the annual race festival out in California.

In the opinion of out-of-town traveling men and visitors, Charlevoix will have a crowd on July 4, 5, and 6, that will tax the housing capacity to its limits. So, to be on the safe side, F. V. Tyler, chairman of the housing committee, has requested that anyone having spare rooms for rent list them with him immediately at the information office, telephone 105, and later placards will be furnished for posting the houses having such rooms.

The reception committee for the occasion of the Governor's visit has been appointed and efforts are being made to have the coast guard cutter, Escanaba, here during his visit.

Announcement has been made by W. H. Wallace that the services of the Mobiloil Sound Car that made Charlevoix a visit last summer, have been secured and will be at the disposal of the committee for the entire three days of the celebration. It may be possible to have the sound car lead the motor caravan from Detroit on July 3rd.

The concession committee reports that concession space is going fast and local people or organizations who contemplate using space should reserve it immediately.

Among the Bible citations is this passage (Ps. 97:1, 2): "The Lord reigneth; let the earth rejoice; let the multitude of isles be glad thereof. Clouds and darkness are round about him: righteousness and judgment are the habitation of his throne."

Correlative passages to be read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (p. 209): "Mind, supreme over all its formations and governing them all, is the central sun of its own systems of ideas, the life and light of all its own vast creation; and man is tributary to divine Mind."

CONSERVATION DEPT. NOTES

Stronger "teeth" have been given Michigan's fish laws in an effort to suppress the dynamiting or poisoning of fish and the netting of brook, brown and rainbow trout. A Hoeve bill which became law when signed by Governor Frank D. Fitzgerald, increases the maximum fine for the above-named offenses to from $100 to $500 and the maximum jail term from 90 to 120 days.

Michigan's first fish law, which prohibited the fouling of waters and the killing of "speckled" trout with any kind of net in any inland lake, river or stream, became effective in 1865.

A timber wolf pelt measuring six feet, eight and one-half inches in length, was brought to Ewen headquarters of the Department of Conservation during June. Although subject to stretching in removal from the carcass, the pelt is believed to be the largest of its kind taken in the Upper Peninsula in recent years.

The state board of fish commissioners, now the Fisheries Division of the Department of Conservation, was established in 1873.
